Summary of Results in the year ended 30 June 2013

- The turnover of the Company increased by 77% to £240,000 (2012: £135,306).
- The operating loss reduced by 5% to £548,342 (2012: £577,922).
- On 30 June 2013 the surplus of shareholders' funds was £255,821 (2012: £734,570).

This year, Physiomics has cemented its commercial relationships with a number of large and mid-size pharma companies, continued to extend its product range and crucially started to develop its flagship Virtual Tumour Clinical platform.

In summary we have

- Signed up our first commercial customer for VT Clinical.
- Won further projects from our existing large pharma customer base and started discussions regarding licensing of the existing platform.
- Started significant talks with one academic and one large pharma partner to help further develop Virtual Tumour Clinical via access to more extensive clinical data.
- Started to extend the reach of the pre-clinical Virtual Tumour platform, in particular to model emergence of drug resistance.
- Won an important Technology Strategy Board ("TSB") Feasibility grant for development of Virtual Tumour Clinical, which could lead to more significant funding in future.
- Launched our cardio toxicology platform and signed up our first customer.
- Continued to develop the DrugCARD database product which allows users to rapidly search through pre-clinical and clinical dosing regimens. This product is expected to be launched in 2013
- Made further progress with the search for M&A partners, identified relevant partners and had several discussions. Identified a number of potential partners with the opportunity to join forces to increase the scope of the company's offerings.

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer's Statement

Introduction

Drug discovery and development uses tried and tested procedures and processes to design and select the most appropriate molecule and then to determine its safety and efficacy. A single drug development programme costs many millions of dollars (US) to complete and many fail along the way, adding to the overall discovery cost of the ones that succeed. Whilst new technology designed to improve decision making, especially in the early phases of the programme, which reduce cost and more importantly, save time are very attractive, there is a risk. Will implementing new decision making testing and modelling be as accurate and predictive as current methods? It is a bold development team that will adopt new ideas without being really sure that they can deliver all the benefits without misdirecting the discovery process.

Pilot studies and proving studies therefore become a fundamental part of building confidence in the Physiomics models and the team's ability to make accurate predictions, which can be tested out against classical in vitro and in vivo methodologies. It is through these relationships that the Company sees more clearly what the client's needs are and it is as a result of this unique position that we have directed the development of existing models into new areas of forecasting and added wholly new models to our portfolio of products.

Good progress has been made this year in further developing our relationships with large pharma and developing our new products, in particular Virtual Tumour Clinical. The Company has identified that the clinical market is significantly larger than the pre-clinical market which its current models address, and the unmet need is also greater. The Company won its first Virtual Tumour Clinical customer in the period, demonstrating a substantial level of interest even though the technology is still in development.

The relationships with two of our large pharma customers in particular have progressed. The first of these is looking at further individual projects in the near future with a view to ultimately licensing the technology if benefit is shown over these projects as it has been in the past. The second is poised to do further pre-clinical work and is looking to extend the collaboration to encompass Virtual Tumour Clinical, helping to develop the platform at the same time as applying the emerging technology to commercial clinical projects.

Physiomics' scope of services has been increased with the launch of our cardiotoxicity model and development of our DrugCARD database, which is nearing conclusion. Together with grant income, these services will serve to increase incremental revenues and support the company through development of its flagship Virtual Tumour Clinical platform.

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer's Statement - continued

Finally the Company has increased its efforts to find an appropriate partner to enhance critical mass through M&A. These efforts are focused in two main areas; increasing the scope of services and adding therapeutic assets to our portfolio. The latter search is primarily focused on companies where Physiomics' modelling platforms could have a significant impact on internal as well as external projects.

Technology Development

(i) Virtual Tumour product improvements

One of the critical stumbling blocks in cancer treatment is the development of resistance to drug treatments. Physiomics has noted an increase in experimental combination therapies being pursued by customers in an attempt to combat this problem, in some cases involving triple combinations. Regimens of drugs combinations and dosing schedules emerge largely through trial and error and will vary according to the sort of cancer being treated. The Virtual Tumour platform already adds more value to projects where combinations are involved. For example in a recent pilot study we determined the optimal regimen for a DNA repair inhibitor combined with irradiation. We successfully predicted an improved regimen giving complete growth inhibition with negligible toxicity. This regimen was better than predicted by expert opinion, showing at the same time that the Virtual Tumour could help to reduce by up to 50% the number of animal experiments and accelerate the discovery of optimal drug regimens. However, in order to enhance its usefulness by a further step, we have embarked on a research project to specifically incorporate the development of resistance into our cell-based model.

(ii) Virtual Tumour Clinical

The first pilot version of Virtual Tumour is now up and running using literature data as calibration inputs. Within the next year, data from customers and academic sources in addition to the TSB funding should allow us to launch a fully validated platform. If successful this technology would initially improve the success rate of cancer drugs proceeding through clinical trials. And in the long run, if applied directly to patients, it would lead to real improvements in overall survival rates.

(iii) DrugCARD database

Our Drug Combinations and Regimens database is close to completion. The database itself is approaching completion and the web interface is completed. The database compiles clinical and pre-clinical data from both literature and proprietary sources. This should allow subscribers to rapidly compare drug regimens relevant to their targets and help them to make better decision about their regimens and combination partners. We anticipate that this platform should be launched soon.

(iv) Cardiac toxicity prediction service

This model was launched in the period and we now have our first commercial deal. The model uses readily available lab-based data to predict the risk that drugs in development with cause serious cardiac side effects which could lead to withdrawal. Three versions of the model are now available, two to predict outcomes in animal experiments and a third one to predict cardiac liability in humans. Benchmarking tests against state of the art models were presented at the 13th Annual Meeting of the Safety Pharmacology Society. The results show that Physiomics' model is more predictive in all of its three versions. Also given that the same structural model is used for making predictions in different species the model is ideally placed to make translational predictions, i.e. from animal to human. The Company is now looking at whether these platforms can be extended to web-based applications thereby greatly simplifying access for customers.

Business Development Strategy

Physiomics continues to build incremental revenues from its growing pipeline of pre-clinical platforms. In addition, its established pre-clinical Virtual Tumour is now more firmly entrenched with some large pharma customers. We believe that the next step will be for these customers to sign longer term contracts or licensing deals.

Virtual Tumour Clinical remains the flagship product development, with comparable products in other therapeutic areas suggesting that significant revenues could be gained, probably from a licensing and subscription business model.

The Company continues to use workshops and conferences to target Virtual Tumour customers, with face-to-face meetings on site when relationships have progressed. Additionally in the period the Company started to broadcast technology update webinars on all of its platforms, and these have proved to be quite productive in terms of lead generation.

Our decision last year to appoint David Jobes, based in the US, to undertake business development has shown a number of positive results. He has managed to access companies that had before been resistant to approaches from Physiomics from the UK or via biopartnering conferences.

For its other platforms the Company will look to develop web-based approaches where possible and then use direct/e-marketing in the main to target customers. Once set up, such platforms are relatively easy to maintain and become their 'own advert' for the modelling services provided.

M&A activities during the year

Physiomics has for some time been pursuing M&A opportunities. We concluded that a broader and more vertically integrated offering to client companies would be attractive and in many cases beneficial to our delivery of high-quality modelling applications. Alternatively, joining forces with a company pursuing its own therapeutics would provide strong synergies where Physiomics' models could be applied to internal projects. We appointed an agent in the US to assist with identifying US-based companies where collaboration or more would provide valuable synergies. We identified a number of possibilities and initiated preliminary discussions. Some led to no useful outcome but a number are on-going. We have set down a series of criteria that collaboration must meet and it is a measured process to move discussions forward because of the need to make confidential disclosures.

Outlook

The directors believe that the pharmaceutical industry is still facing rapid change which poses a continuing challenge for suppliers. In particular, cancer treatment is undergoing a radical advance. The requirement for more tailored or personalised treatments is leading customers to investigate more complex combinations, using diagnostics to choose which combinations are appropriate. This emerging market should be ripe for technologies such as Virtual Tumour to rapidly assess the outcomes of different combinations, where doing the same experimentally would not be feasible in terms of timelines and economics. Physiomics is looking to deepen the relationships with large pharmaceutical customers to apply the technology as routine tool in drug discovery but as noted earlier, they need to be certain that tactical use of modelling is a sound alternative to current methodologies. Once this is achieved, and we are close to that point with a number of customers, then this could lead to a licensing and subscription business model, with the Company providing support functions and developing new updated versions of the platform on an annual basis.

While sources of financing have been tight, the Company signed a SEDA structured equity deal with Yorkville LLC in the period and also won a TSB Biomedical Catalyst feasibility grant. The SEDA has been used sparingly so far and the Company intends to aggressively pursue sources of more substantial grant funding, in particular the larger second stage Biomedical Catalyst awards.

Finally, the prospect of increasing the scope of the Company's offerings via M&A remains a real opportunity and one that the Company is pursuing with some vigour.

Directors' Report

The Directors submit their report and the audited financial statements of Physiomics Plc for the year ended 30 June 2013.

Principal Activities and Performance Review

The Company is principally engaged in providing services to pharmaceutical companies in the areas of outsourced systems and computational biology.

There was a loss for the year after taxation amounting to £500,571 (2012 loss: £539,577). In view of accumulated losses, and given the stage of the company's development, the Directors are unable to recommend the payment of a dividend.

Performance Indicators

The Directors consider that the key performance indicators are those that communicate the financial performance and strength of the company as a whole, these being revenue, profitability and shareholders' funds.

- The turnover of the Company increased to £240,000 (2012: £135,306)
- The operating loss was £548,342 (2012: £577,922)
- At the 30 June 2013 the surplus of shareholders' funds was £255,821 (2012: £734,570)

The Company faces many risks on the way to building shareholder value. The process of winning major contracts in a competitive environment is rarely simple and can be delayed for reasons outside the Company's control. This means the Company faces major uncertainties in its cash flow.

Addressing the Risks

The Board addresses the financial uncertainties by careful budget monitoring and by quickly responding to variations. If there are delays in signing contracts then recruitment and capital expenditure is frozen until the anticipated income is achieved.

Interest rate risk

The Company finances its operations by cash and short term deposits. The Company's policy on interest rate management is agreed at board level and is reviewed on an ongoing basis.

Other creditors, accruals and deferred income values do not bear interest.

Interest rate profile

The Company had no bank borrowings at the 30 June 2013.

Liquidity risk

The Company seeks to manage financial risk by ensuring that sufficient liquidity is available to meet foreseeable needs and to invest cash assets safely and profitably.

Fair values

Fair values of financial instruments equate to the best value as disclosed in the financial information. There are no material differences between the fair value of financial instruments and the amount at which they are stated in the financial statements.

Directors

The Company supports the concept of an effective Board leading and controlling the Company. The Board is responsible for formulating and approving the strategy of the business and meets at least six times per year. Various matters are specifically reserved for Board decision, ensuring that the Board maintains full control over strategic, financial, organisational, risk and compliance issues. Management supply the Board with appropriate and timely information, while the directors are encouraged to seek any further information they consider necessary.

The Board comprises two executive directors, who fulfil the main operational roles in the Company, and a non-executive Chairman. Due to the size of the Company, the Board does not consider the appointment of a senior non-executive director to be necessary. A full list of the directors is shown above.

Accountability

The Board endeavours to present a balanced and comprehensible assessment of the Company's situation and prospects in all of its published statements, including interim reports, price-sensitive announcements, reports to regulators and information supplied to comply with statutory requirements.

The Audit Committee consists of Christophe Chassagnole and Roger Jones and is chaired by Paul Harper. The Committee meets at least three times per year to consider matters relating to the Company's financial position and financial reporting. The Audit Committee reviews the independence and objectivity of the external auditors, as well as the amount of non-audit work undertaken by Shipleys LLP to satisfy the Committee that this will not compromise their independence. Details of the fees paid to Shipleys LLP during the current accounting period are given in note 3 to the accounts. There are no areas of work where Shipleys LLP are prohibited from carrying out work.

Remuneration Committee

The Remuneration Committee has been established primarily to determine the remuneration, terms and conditions of employment of the executive directors of the Company. The Committee comprises Mark Chadwick and Roger Jones and is chaired by Paul Harper. It meets at least twice a year.

The primary concern of the Committee is to establish a system of rewards and incentives that aim to align the interests of the executive directors with the long-term interests of the share-holders. These are based on the achievement of both scientific and commercial milestones while taking no account the financial position of the Company at this stage in its development. Any remuneration issues concerning non-executive directors are resolved by this Committee and no director participates in decisions that concern his own remuneration.

Going Concern

After making appropriate enquiries, the Directors have a reasonable expectation that the Company will safeguard the Company's assets. The risk management process and internal control systems are designed to manage rather than eliminate the risk of failing to achieve business objectives and can only provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance against material misstatement or loss. The key features of the Company's system of internal control are as follows:

- a clearly defined organisational structure and set of objectives.
- the executive directors play a significant role in the day to day operation of the business.
- detailed monthly management accounts are produced by an independent third party for the Board to review and take appropriate action.

Internal Control

Notes on the Financial Statements

Basis of preparation

Physiomics Plc has adopted International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”), IFRIC interpretations and the Companies Act 2006 as applicable to companies reporting under IFRS.

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis. The significant accounting policies are set out below.

Accounting policies

Revenue recognition

The revenue shown in the income statement relates to amounts received or receivable from the provision of outsourced systems and computational biology services to pharmaceutical companies.

Revenue from the provision of its principal activities are recognised when the Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership, has no continuing managerial involvement or control to the degree normally associated with ownership and can reliably measure the economic benefits of the transaction.

Segment reporting

A business segment is a group of assets and operations engaged in providing products or services that are subject to risks and returns that are different from those of other business segments. A geographical segment is engaged in providing products or services within a particular economic environment that are subject to risks and return that are different from those of segments operating in other economic environments.

Going concern

The accounts have been prepared on the going concern basis. The Company primarily operates in the relatively defensive pharmaceutical industry which we expect to be less affected by current economic conditions compared to other industries.

The Company had £179,162 of cash and cash equivalents as at 30 June 2013 (2012: £690,950). The Board operates an investment policy under which the primary objective is to invest in low-risk cash or cash equivalent investments to safeguard the principal. The Company’s forecasts, taking into account likely revenue streams, show that the Company has sufficient funds to operate for the foreseeable future.

After reviewing the Company’s forecasts, the Directors believe that the Company is adequately placed to manage its business and financing risks successfully despite the current uncertain economic outlook. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the annual report and accounts.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately from third parties are recognised as assets and measured at cost.

Following initial recognition, intangible assets are measured at cost or fair value at the date of acquisition less any amortisation and any impairment losses. Amortisation costs are included within the net operating expenses disclosed in the income statement.

Notes on the Financial Statements - continued

---

Intangible assets are amortised over their useful lives as follows:

	Useful Life	Method
Software	15 years	Straight line

Useful lives are also examined on an annual basis and adjustments, where applicable are made on a prospective basis. The Company does not have any intangible assets with indefinite lives.

Property, plant and equipment

All items are initially recorded at cost.

Impairment of assets

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For purposes of assessing impairment, assets that do not individually generate cash flows are assessed as part of the cash generating unit to which they belong. Cash generating units are the lowest levels for which there are cash flows that are largely independent of the cash flows from other assets or groups of assets.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of an asset over its useful economic life as follows:

- Leasehold improvements - the remaining life of the lease
- Fixtures and computers - three years, straight-line basis

Research and development expenditure

Expenditure on research activity is recognised as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables are recognised and carried at the lower of their original invoiced value and recoverable amount. Balances are written off when the probability of recovery is considered to be remote.

Financial liability and equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Company after deducting all of its liabilities.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position comprise cash at bank and in hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less.

Foreign currency

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rate of exchange ruling at the date of the transaction. Exchange differences are taken into account in arriving at the operating result.

Leased assets and obligations

Where assets are financed by leasing agreements that give rights approximating to ownership (“finance leases”), the assets are treated as if they had been purchased outright. The amount capitalised is the present value of the minimum lease payments payable during the lease terms. The corresponding leasing commitments are shown as obligations to the lessor. Lease payments are treated as consisting of capital and interest elements, and the interest is charged to the profit and loss in proportion to the remaining balance outstanding.

All other leases are ‘operating leases’ and the annual rentals are charged to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Government Grants

Deferred government grants in respect of capital expenditure are treated as deferred income and are credited to the income statement over the estimated useful life of the assets to which they relate.

Government grants of a revenue nature are credited to the profit and loss account in the same period as the related expenditure.

Share based payments

The Company issues equity settled share based payments to certain employees. Equity settled share based payments are measured at fair value at the date of grant. The fair value determined at the grant date is expensed on a straight-line basis over an estimated vesting period. Fair value is measured by use of a binomial model.

Investments

Participating interests are stated at cost less amounts written off in the Company balance sheet.

Taxation

Tax currently payable is based on the taxable profit for the period which may differ from net profit reported in the income statement.

Deferred taxation is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date where transactions or events have occurred at that date that will result in an obligation to pay further tax, or a right to pay less tax in future. Timing differences are differences between the Company’s taxable profits and its results as stated in the financial statements that arise from the gains or losses in tax assessments in period different from those in which they are recognised in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that the directors consider that it is more likely than not that there will be sufficient taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying timing differences can be deducted. Deferred tax is measured at the average tax rates that are expected to apply in the periods in which the timing differences are expected to reverse.

The IASB and IFRIC have issued a number of Standards and Interpretations with an effective date after the date of these financial statements. The new Standards and Interpretations issued include:

Notice of Annual General Meeting

8. In the case of joint holders the signature of any one holder is sufficient. If more than one joint holder of any share is present at the meeting personally or by proxy, that one present whose name stands first on the register of members in respect of that share is alone entitled to vote in respect of that share.
9. To change your proxy instructions simply submit a new proxy appointment using the methods set out above. Note that the cut-off time for receipt of proxy appointments (see below) also apply in relation to amended instructions; any amended proxy appointment received after the relevant cut-off time will be disregarded.

Where you have appointed a proxy using the hard-copy proxy form and would like to change the instructions using another hard-copy proxy form, please contact the Company at its registered office.

If you submit more than one valid proxy appointment, the appointment received last before the latest time for the receipt of proxies will take precedence.

10. In order to revoke a proxy instruction you will need to inform the Company's Registrars, Capita Asset Services by sending a signed hard copy notice clearly stating your intention to revoke your proxy appointment and addressed to them at PXS, The Registry, 34 Beckenham Road, Beckenham, Kent, BR3 4TU. In the case of a member which is a company, the revocation notice must be executed under its common seal or signed on its behalf by an officer of the company or an attorney for the company. Any power of attorney or any other authority under which the revocation notice is signed (or a duly certified copy of such power or authority) must be included with the revocation notice.

The revocation notice must be received by Capita Asset Services no later than 13 December 2013 at 11.00am.

If you attempt to revoke your proxy appointment but the revocation is received after the time specified then, subject to the paragraph directly below, your proxy appointment will remain valid.

If you have appointed a proxy and attend the Meeting in person, your proxy appointment will automatically be terminated.

11. CREST members who wish to appoint a proxy or proxies by using the CREST electronic proxy appointment service may do so for the Meeting and any adjournment of it by using the procedures described in the CREST Manual. In order for a proxy appointment made by means of CREST to be valid, the appropriate CREST message (a CREST Proxy Instruction) must be properly authenticated in accordance with Euroclear UK & Ireland Limited's specifications and must contain the information required for such instructions, as described in the CREST Manual. The message must be transmitted so as to be received by Capita (ID RA10) not later than 48 hours before the time fixed for the AGM. For this purpose, the time of receipt will be taken to be the time (as determined by the timestamp applied to the message by the CREST Applications Host) from which Capita is able to retrieve the message by enquiry to CREST. After this time any change of instructions to proxies appointed through CREST should be communicated to the appointee through other means. Euroclear UK & Ireland Limited does not make available special procedures in CREST for any particular messages and normal system timings and limitations will apply in relation to the input of a CREST Proxy Instruction. It is the responsibility of the CREST member concerned to take such action as shall be necessary to ensure that a message is transmitted by means of the CREST system by any particular time. The Company may treat as invalid a CREST Proxy Instruction in the circumstances set out in Regulation 35(5)(a) of the Uncertificated Securities Regulations 2001.

12. In order to be valid, any form of proxy, power of attorney or other authority under which it is signed, or a notarially certified or office copy of such power or authority, must reach the Company's Registrars, Capita Asset Services, PXS, The Registry, 34 Beckenham Road, Beckenham, Kent, BR3 4TU not later than 48 hours before the time of the meeting.

13. A corporation which is a member can appoint one or more corporate representatives who may exercise, on its behalf, all its powers as a member provided that no more than one corporate representative exercises powers over the same share.

NOTES

- As a member of the Company you are entitled to appoint a proxy to exercise all or any of your rights to attend, speak and vote at a general meeting of the Company. You can only appoint a proxy using the procedures set out in these notes.
- Appointment of a proxy does not preclude you from attending the meeting and voting in person. If you have appointed a proxy and attend the meeting in person, your proxy appointment will automatically be terminated.
- A proxy does not need to be a member of the Company but must attend the meeting to represent you. To appoint as your proxy a person other than the Chairman of the meeting, insert their full name in the box. If you sign and return this proxy form with no name inserted in the box, the Chairman of the meeting will be deemed to be your proxy. Where you appoint as your proxy someone other than the Chairman, you are responsible for ensuring that they attend the meeting and are aware of your voting intentions. If you wish your proxy to make any comments on your behalf, you will need to appoint someone other than the Chairman and give them the relevant instructions directly.
- You may appoint more than one proxy provided each proxy is appointed to exercise rights attached to different shares. You may not appoint more than one proxy to exercise rights attached to any one share. To appoint more than one proxy you may photocopy this form. Please indicate the proxy holder's name and the number of shares in relation to which they are authorised to act as your proxy (which, in aggregate, should not exceed the number of shares held by you). Please also indicate if the proxy is one of multiple instructions being given.
- To direct your proxy how to vote on the resolutions mark the appropriate box with an 'X'. To abstain from voting on a resolution, select the relevant "Vote withheld" box. A vote withheld is not a vote in law, which means that the vote will not be counted in the calculation of votes for or against the resolution. If no voting indication is given, your proxy will vote or abstain from voting at his or her discretion. Your proxy will vote (or abstain from voting) as he or she thinks fit in relation to any other matter which is put before the meeting.
- Any alteration to the form of proxy should be initialled.
- All forms of proxy should be signed by the appointer or his attorney duly authorised in writing or, if the appointer is a Company, either under seal or under hand of a duly authorised officer or attorney of the Company and returned in the same envelope.
