PART I

VIE Structure and Risks Relating to Our Corporate Structure

X Financial is a Cayman Islands holding company conducting its operations in Chinese Mainland through Beijing WFOE, a wholly-owned subsidiary of YZT (HK) Limited, Shenzhen Xiaoying Puhui Technology Co., Ltd., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Beijing WFOE (“Shenzhen Puhui”), Shenzhen Xiaoying Information Technology Co., Ltd. (“Shenzhen Xiaoying IT”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Beijing WFOE, and the VIEs, including Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE), Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE) and their subsidiaries. The Company has equity interests in Beijing WFOE, Shenzhen Puhui, and Shenzhen Xiaoying IT, however, neither the Company nor its subsidiaries own any share in the VIEs. Instead, the Company control and receive the economic benefits of the VIEs’ business operation through a series of contractual arrangements (the “VIE Agreements”). To comply with Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, the Company does not have an equity ownership interest in its VIEs but rely on the VIE Agreements with VIEs to control and operate their businesses. The VIE Agreements are designed to provide the Beijing WFOE, with the power, rights, and obligations equivalent in all material respects to those it would possess as the principal equity holder of the VIEs, including absolute control rights and the rights to the assets, property, and revenues of the VIEs. As a result of these contractual arrangements, which have not been tested in a court of law in the Chinese Mainland, the assets and liabilities of the VIEs are treated as the Company’s assets and liabilities and the results of operations of the VIEs are treated in all aspects as if they were the results of the Company’s operations due to the satisfaction for consolidation of the VIEs under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (“U.S. GAAP”). The Company is the primary beneficiary of the VIEs, and, therefore, consolidate the financial results of the VIEs in our consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP. See “Item 4.C. Organizational Structure” for more information on these VIE Agreements.

Because of our corporate structure, we are subject to risks due to uncertainty of the interpretation and the application of the Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, including but not limited to the validity and enforcement of the VIE Agreements. We are also subject to the risks of uncertainty about any future actions of the Chinese Mainland government in this regard. Our VIE Agreements may not be effective in providing control over the VIEs. The contractual arrangements have not been judicially tested in the Chinese Mainland and there remain significant uncertainties regarding the ultimate outcome of arbitration should legal action become necessary. We rely on the VIE Agreements with VIEs to control and operate their businesses. The investors may never hold equity interests in such VIEs. We may also be subject to sanctions imposed by Chinese Mainland regulatory agencies including Chinese Securities Regulatory Commission, or CSRC, if we fail to comply with their rules and regulations. We may also be subject to Chinese Mainland laws relating to, among others, data security and restrictions over foreign investments due to the complexity of the regulatory regime in Chinese Mainland, and the recent statements and regulatory actions by the Chinese Mainland government relating to data security may affect our remaining business operations in Chinese Mainland or even our ability to offer securities in the United States. We are also subject to the risks and uncertainties about any future actions of the Chinese Mainland government that could disallow the VIE structure, which would likely result in a material change in our operations and/or a material change in the value of our securities, including causing the value of such securities to significantly decline or become worthless. See “Risk Factors-Risks Relating to Our Corporate Structure” for more information.

The following diagram illustrates our corporate structure as of the date of this annual report. It omits certain entities that are immaterial to our results of operations, business and financial condition and also omits certain trusts and limited partnership enterprises we consolidate (see “Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects—5.A. Operating Results—Critical Accounting Policies, Judgments and Estimates, Consolidated Trusts, Consolidated Partnerships”). The relationships between, on the one hand, each of Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE), Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), and Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE), and on the other, Beijing WFOE as illustrated in this diagram are governed by contractual arrangements and do not constitute equity ownership. The dissolution has been approved by Beijing WFOE pursuant to the relevant variable interest entity agreements. See “Risk Factors-Risks Relating to Our Corporate Structure” for more information.

(1) In December 2017, Beijing WFOE acquired 100% of the equity interest held by Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE) in Shenzhen Xiaoying Puhui Technology Co., Ltd. and Shenzhen Xiaoying Information Technology Co., Ltd.

(2) Mr. Yue (Justin) Tang and entities controlled by Mr. Yue (Justin) Tang hold 42.9838% and 57.0162% of equity interest in Shenzhen Xiaoying, respectively.

(3) Shenzhen Lelebu holds 100% equity interest in Shenzhen Xintang (VIE).

(4) Mr. Yue (Justin) Tang and Mrs. Jing Sun holds 51% and 49% of the equity interest in Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE), respectively.

* Entities in which the shareholders of X Financial own the interests.

 Entities in which the shareholders of X Financial do not own any interests.

Risks Associated with Being Based in or Having the Majority of our Operations in Chinese Mainland

We are exposed to legal and operational risks associated with our operations in Chinese Mainland. The Chinese Mainland government has significant authority to exert influence on the ability of a company with operations in Chinese Mainland, including us, to conduct its business. The Chinese government has exercised and continues to exercise substantial control over virtually every sector of the Chinese economy through regulation and state ownership. Our ability to operate in Chinese Mainland may be harmed by changes in its laws and regulations, including those relating to taxation, data information, antitrust, finance, environmental regulations, land use rights, property and other matters. The central or local governments of these jurisdictions may impose new, stricter regulations or interpretations of existing regulations that would require additional expenditures and efforts on our part to ensure our compliance with such regulations or interpretations. Any actions by the Chinese Mainland government to exert more oversight and control over offerings that are conducted overseas and/or foreign investment in companies having operations in Chinese Mainland, including us, could significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer securities to investors, and cause the value of our securities to significantly decline or become worthless. These Chinese Mainland-related risks could result in a material change in our operations and/or the value of our securities, or could significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer securities to investors in the future and potentially cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or become worthless.

The Chinese Mainland government may exert, at any time, substantial intervention and influence over the manner of our operations. Recently, the Chinese Mainland government initiated a series of regulatory actions and statements to regulate business operations in Chinese Mainland with little advance notice, including cracking down on illegal activities in the securities market, enhancing supervision over Chinese Mainland-based companies listed overseas, adopting new measures to extend the scope of cybersecurity reviews and new laws and regulations related to data security, and expanding the efforts in anti-monopoly enforcement.

The regulatory framework for the collection, use, safeguarding, sharing, transfer and other processing of personal information and important data worldwide is rapidly evolving in Chinese Mainland and is likely to remain uncertain for the foreseeable future. Regulatory authorities in Chinese Mainland have implemented and are considering a number of legislative and regulatory proposals concerning data protection. For example, the PRC Cybersecurity Law, which became effective in June 2017, established Chinese Mainland's first national-level data protection for "network operators," which may include all organizations in Chinese Mainland that connect to or provide services over the internet or other information network. The PRC Data Security Law, which was promulgated by the Standing Committee of PRC National People's Congress, or the SCNPC, on June 10, 2021 and became effective on September 1, 2021, outlines the main system framework of data security protection.

The amended Measures of Cybersecurity Review, which was promulgated by the Cyberspace Administration of China (the "CAC") in December 2021 and came into effect on February 15, 2022, requires cyberspace operators with personal information of more than one million users to file for cybersecurity review with the Cybersecurity Review Office ("CRO"), in the event such operators plan for an overseas listing. The amended Measures of Cybersecurity Review provide that, among others, an application for cybersecurity review must be made by an issuer that is a "critical information infrastructure operator" or a "data processing operator" as defined therein before such issuer's securities become listed in a foreign country, if the issuer possesses personal information of more than one million users, and that the relevant governmental authorities in the Chinese Mainland may initiate cybersecurity review if such governmental authorities determine an operator's cyber products or services, data processing or potential listing in a foreign country affect or may affect China's national security. In August 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress of China promulgated the Personal Information Protection Law which became effective on November 1, 2021. The Personal Information Protection Law provides a comprehensive set of data privacy and protection requirements that apply to the processing of personal information and expands data protection compliance obligations to cover the processing of personal information of persons by organizations and individuals in Chinese Mainland, and the processing of personal information of persons outside of Chinese Mainland if such processing is for purposes of providing products and services to, or analyzing and evaluating the behavior of, persons in Chinese Mainland. The Personal Information Protection Law also provides that critical information infrastructure operators and personal information processing entities who process personal information meeting a volume threshold to be set by Chinese cyberspace regulators are also required to store in Chinese Mainland the personal information generated or collected in Chinese Mainland, and to pass a security assessment administered by Chinese cyberspace regulators for any export of such personal information. Moreover, pursuant to the Personal Information Protection Law, persons who seriously violate this law may be fined for up to RMB50 million or 5% of annual revenues generated in the prior year and may also be ordered to suspend any related activity by competent authorities.

In November 2021, the CAC released the Regulations on Network Data Security (draft for public comments) and accepted public comments until December 13, 2021. The draft Regulations on Network Data Security provide more detailed guidance on how to implement the general legal requirements under laws such as the Cybersecurity Law, Data Security Law and the Personal Information Protection Law. The draft Regulations on Network Data Security follow the principle that the state will regulate based on a data classification and multi-level protection scheme, under which data is largely classified into three categories: general data, important data and core data. Under the current cybersecurity laws in Chinese Mainland, critical information infrastructure operators that intend to purchase internet products and services that may affect national security must be subject to the cybersecurity review. On July 30, 2021, the State Council of the PRC promulgated the Regulations on the Protection of the Security of Critical Information Infrastructure, which took effect on September 1, 2021. The regulations require, among others, that certain competent authorities shall identify critical information infrastructures. If any critical information infrastructure is identified, they shall promptly notify the relevant operators and the Ministry of Public Security.

Currently, the cybersecurity laws and regulations have not directly affected our business and operations, but in anticipation of the strengthened implementation of cybersecurity laws and regulations and the expansion of our business, we face potential risks if we are deemed as a critical information infrastructure operator under the Cybersecurity Law. In such case, we must fulfill certain obligations as required under the Cybersecurity Law and other applicable laws, including, among others, storing personal information and important data collected and produced within the Chinese Mainland territory during our operations in Chinese Mainland, which we are already doing in our business, and we may be subject to review when purchasing internet products and services. According to the amended Measures of Cybersecurity Review, we may be subject to review when conducting data processing activities, and may face challenges in addressing its requirements and make necessary changes to our internal policies and practices in data processing. As of the date of this annual report, we have not been involved in any investigations on cybersecurity review made by the CAC on such basis, and we have not received any inquiry, notice, warning, or sanctions in such respect. In addition, we have maintained a comprehensive and rigorous data protection program and implemented comprehensive and strict internal policies, procedures and measures designed to ensure our compliance with cybersecurity and data privacy laws and regulations:

- Data transmission and storage encryption: we have encrypted and stored all the collected sensitive user data as a whole. Strict decryption is required for queries or accessing this data. We have encrypted (State Secret Algorithm) the transmission of sensitive data (https), which can authenticate users and servers, ensure that the data is sent to the correct clients and servers, and prevent the data from being stolen in the middle of the process, maintain the integrity of the data, ensure that the data is not altered during transmission, and effectively guarantee the security of the data transmission between the client and us.
- Security of network architecture: we adopt hardware firewall to manage our network strictly, and divide our network according to the business requirement and policy. We adopt a white list and access control strategy for delicate management, and identify terminals through the 802.1X certification or portal online certification. Terminals meeting the access control and strategy implementation requirements will be allowed to enter the internal network of us, so as to conduct accurate security control at the network level over any terminal.
- Security of service application management: we use fortress machines to realize real-time collection and monitoring of system status, security events and network activities of every component in our network environment, so as to facilitate centralized alarm, timely processing and audit.
- Disaster recovery framework planning and deployment: the applications and data of our key business systems have been deployed across machine rooms and regions so as to ensure the availability of services and business continuity. For the business data, we have periodically implemented the backup strategy in accordance with the business timeliness requirements and conducted regular rehearsals and verification of data recovery in accordance with the plan.
- Intrusion prevention and web application firewall WAF deployment: we deploy intrusion prevention system, WAF in the business application portal, which can real-time, active, in-depth defense against application layer network attacks security defense.
- Terminal security protection: we deploy the anti-information leakage system for terminal data security, based on a unified policy, using deep content analysis, instant identification, monitoring and protection of static data, dynamic data and data in use. We adopt high-strength encryption algorithms to provide real-time and comprehensive encryption protection for electronic documents in various formats. At the same time, the system also provides terminal security management functions, including document security management, behavioral management, system management, asset management, external equipment control, and operation auditing, etc., so that the intranet security risks in terms of information security, terminal behavioral management, and asset operation and maintenance can be effectively controlled.

Security Compliance and Scanning: we will regularly conduct penetration tests on servers and application systems, i.e., non-destructive simulated hacking attacks on network servers and application systems using security scanning tools and manually to ensure the rapid discovery and repair of security threats existing in the user's system. We also regularly combine manual scanning with tool scanning to comprehensively dig into the code of general Web vulnerabilities, business logic vulnerabilities, application vulnerabilities, application configuration file insecurity, etc., to solve the existing security risks from the code level.

Based on the foregoing, we do not expect that, as of the date of this annual report, the current applicable Chinese Mainland laws on cybersecurity would have a material adverse impact on our business. However, any failure or perceived failure to comply with all applicable laws and regulations may result in legal proceedings or regulatory actions against us, and could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations, and we cannot assure you that the operators from the CAC or other relevant governmental authority will not introduce additional requirements or policies which may require significant changes in the way we operate our business.

On September 1, 2021, the PRC Data Security Law became effective, which imposes data security and privacy obligations on entities and individuals conducting data-related activities, and introduces a data classification and hierarchical protection system based on the importance of data in economic and social development, as well as the degree of harm it will cause to national security, public interests, or legitimate rights and interests of individuals or organizations when such data is tampered with, destroyed, leaked, or illegally acquired or used. As of the date of this annual report, we have not been involved in any investigations on data security compliance made in connection with the PRC Data Security Law, and we have not received any inquiry, notice, warning, or sanctions in such respect. Based on the foregoing, we do not expect that, as of the date of this annual report, the PRC Data Security Law would have a material adverse impact on our business.

On July 7, 2022, the CAC published the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures that took effect on September 1, 2022 and outline the potential security assessment process for outbound data transfer. Under the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, data processors that provide important data and personal information outbound that are collected or produced through operations within the territory of the Chinese Mainland, where a security assessment shall be conducted according to the law, shall apply to the provisions of these Measures. Under the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, data processors providing outbound data shall apply for outbound data transfer security assessment with the CAC in any of the following circumstances: (i) where a data processor provides important data abroad; (ii) where a critical information infrastructure operator or a data processor processing the personal information of more than one million individuals provides personal information abroad; (iii) where a data processor has provided personal information of 100,000 individuals or sensitive personal information of 10,000 individuals in total abroad since January 1 of the previous year; and (iv) other circumstances prescribed by the CAC for which declaration for security assessment for outbound data transfers is required. The Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures also provide procedures for security assessment and submissions, important factors to be considered in conducting assessment, and legal liabilities of a data processor for failure to apply for assessment.

On July 6, 2021, the relevant Chinese Mainland governmental authorities publicated the Opinions on Strictly Cracking Down Illegal Securities Activities in Accordance with the Law. These opinions require the relevant regulators to coordinate and accelerate amendments of legislation on the confidentiality and archive management related to overseas issuance and listing of securities, and to improve the legislation on data security, cross-border data flow and management of confidential information. These opinions emphasized the need to strengthen the administration over illegal securities activities and the supervision on overseas listings by Chinese Mainland-based companies and proposed to take effective measures, such as promoting the construction of relevant regulatory systems to deal with the risks and incidents faced by Chinese Mainland-based overseas-listed companies. As these opinions were recently issued, official guidance and related implementation rules have not been issued yet and the interpretation of these opinions remains unclear at this stage. As of the date of this annual report, we have not received any inquiry, notice, warning, or sanctions from the CSRC or any other Chinese Mainland government authorities. Based on the foregoing and the currently effective Chinese Mainland laws, we are of the view that, as of the date of this annual report, these opinions do not have a material adverse impact on our business.

On February 17, 2023, the CSRC promulgated the Trial Administrative Measures of the Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies, or the Trial Measures, and five supporting guidelines which took effect on March 31, 2023. Pursuant to the Trial Measures, Chinese companies that seek to offer and list securities overseas shall fulfill the filing procedures with and report relevant information to the CSRC, and that an initial filing shall be submitted within three working days after the application for an initial public offering is submitted, and a second filing shall be submitted within three working days after the listing is completed. Further, at the press conference held for the Trial Measures on February 17, 2023, officials from the CSRC clarified that the Chinese Mainland domestic companies that have already been listed overseas on or before the effective date of the Trial Measures (i.e. March 31, 2021) shall be deemed as existing issuers, or the Existing Issuers. The Existing Issuers are not required to complete the filing procedures immediately but shall carry out filing procedures as required if they conduct refinancing or are involved in other circumstances that require filing with the CSRC.

We are an Existing Issuer under the Trial Measures, as we were listed on September 19, 2018, which is before the effective date of the Trial Measures. As an Existing Issuer, we currently do not have any intention or plan of refinancing or being involved in any other circumstances that required filing with the CSRC under the Trial Measures. If we conduct refinancing or any other activities that are subject to filing procedures in the future, we will actively communicate with the CSRC and initiate the filing procedures as required in a timely manner. However, given that the Trial Measures were recently promulgated, uncertainties remain as to the implementation and interpretation, if we fail to complete the filing with the CSRC in a timely manner or at all for any future offering or any other financing activities which are subject to the filing requirements under the Trial Measures, our ability to raise or utilize funds and our operations could be materially and adversely affected.

On February 24, 2023, the CSRC, Ministry of Finance of the Chinese Mainland, National Administration of State Secrets Protection and National Archives Administration of Chinese Mainland promulgated the Provisions on Strengthening Confidentiality and Archives Administration of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies, or the Archives Rules, which took effect on March 31, 2023. Pursuant to the Archives Rules, Chinese Mainland domestic companies that seek overseas offering and listing shall strictly abide by applicable laws and regulations of the Chinese Mainland and the Archives Rules, enhance legal awareness of keeping state secrets and strengthening archives administration, institute a sound confidentiality and archives administration system, and take necessary measures to fulfill confidentiality and archives administration obligations. Such domestic companies shall not leak any state secret and working secret of government agencies, or harm national security and public interest. Furthermore, a Chinese Mainland domestic company that plans to, either directly or through its overseas listed entity, publicly disclose or provide to relevant individuals or entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators, any document and materials that contain state secrets or working secrets of government agencies, shall first obtain approval from competent authorities according to law, and file with the secrecy administrative department at the same level. Moreover, a Chinese Mainland domestic company that plans to, either directly or through its overseas listed entity, publicly disclose or provide to relevant individuals and entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators, any other documents and materials that, if leaked, will be detrimental to national security or public interest, shall strictly fulfill relevant procedures stipulated by applicable national regulations. The Archives Rules also stipulate that a Chinese Mainland domestic company that provides accounting archives or copies of accounting archives to any entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators and individuals shall fulfill due procedures in compliance with applicable national regulations. However, given that the Archives Rules was recently promulgated, there are substantial uncertainties as to the implementation and interpretation, and we cannot predict the impact of the Trial Measures and the Archives Rules on us, including but not limited to the maintenance of the listing status of our ADSs and/or other securities, or any of our future offerings of securities overseas at this stage.

As there are still uncertainties regarding these new laws and regulations as well as the amendment, interpretation and implementation of the existing laws and regulations related to cybersecurity and data protection, We cannot assure you that we will be able to comply with these laws and regulations in all respects. The regulatory authorities may deem our activities or services non-compliant and therefore require us to suspend or terminate its business. We may also be subject to fines, legal or administrative sanctions and other adverse consequences, and may not be able to become in compliance with relevant laws and regulations in a timely manner, or at all. These may materially and adversely affect its business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

In addition, according to the institutional reform plan of the State Council approved by the National People's Congress on March 10, 2023, the China Banking and Insurance Regulatory Commission, or the CBIRC, will no longer be retained. And Chinese Mainland will set up a national financial regulatory administration, which will be in charge of regulating the financial industry except the securities sector, coordinating the protection of the rights and interests of financial consumers, strengthening risk management and prevention and disposal, and investigating and dealing with violations of the law. And a local financial regulatory mechanism will be developed with agencies dispatched by central financial regulators as the mainstay. Also, Chinese Mainland has established the National Data Bureau on October 25, 2023 under the administration of the National Development and Reform Commission, or the NDRC. The National Data Bureau is responsible for advancing the development of data-related fundamental institutions, coordinating the integration, sharing, development and application of data resources, and pushing forward the planning and building of a digital Chinese Mainland, the digital economy and a digital society. Due to the enhanced supervision of financial industry and data protection, we may be under heightened regulatory scrutiny, which may increase our compliance costs and subject us to heightened risks and challenges.

As such, our business segments may be subject to various government and regulatory interference in the provinces in which they operate. We could be subject to regulation by various political and regulatory entities, including various local and municipal agencies and government sub-divisions. We may incur increased costs necessary to comply with existing and newly adopted laws and regulations or penalties for any failure to comply.

Risks Associated with the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act

The Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act, or the HFCA Act, was signed into law on December 18, 2020 and amended pursuant to the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2023 on December 29, 2022. Under the HFCA Act and the rules issued by the SEC and the PCAOB thereunder, if we have retained a registered public accounting firm to issue an audit report where the registered public accounting firm has a branch or office that is located in a foreign jurisdiction and the PCAOB has determined that it is unable to inspect or investigate completely because of a position taken by an authority in the foreign jurisdiction, the SEC will identify us as a "covered issuer", or SEC-identified issuer, shortly after we file with the SEC a report required under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the Exchange Act (such as our annual report on Form 20-F) that includes an audit report issued by such accounting firm; and if we were to be identified as an SEC-identified issuer for two consecutive years, the SEC would prohibit our securities (including our shares or ADSs) from being traded on a national securities exchange or in the over-the-counter trading market in the United States.

On December 16, 2021, the PCAOB issued a report to notify the SEC of its determination that the PCAOB was unable to inspect or investigate completely registered public accounting firms headquartered in Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong and our auditor was subject to that determination. The inability of the PCAOB to conduct inspections of auditors in China in the past has made it more difficult to evaluate the effectiveness of our independent registered public accounting firm's audit procedures or quality control procedures as compared to auditors outside of China that are subject to the PCAOB inspections. After we filed our annual report on Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2021 that included an audit report issued by KPMG Huazhen on April 28, 2022, the SEC conclusively identified us as an SEC-identified issuer on May 26, 2022. On August 26, 2022, the PCAOB signed an agreement with the China Securities Regulatory Commission and the Ministry of Finance of the People's Republic of China, allowing the PCAOB to inspect and investigate registered public accounting firms headquartered in mainland China and Hong Kong completely, consistent with U.S. law. After the execution of the agreement, the PCAOB had access to inspect or investigate the registered public accounting firms in mainland China and Hong Kong, and therefore, on December 15, 2022, the PCAOB removed Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong from the list of jurisdictions where it is unable to inspect or investigate completely registered public accounting firms. For this reason, we were not identified as an SEC-identified issuer under the HFCA Act in 2023.

Each year, the PCAOB will determine whether it can inspect and investigate completely audit firms in Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong, among other jurisdictions. If the PCAOB determines in the future that it no longer has full access to inspect and investigate completely accounting firms in Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong again and we use an accounting firm headquartered in one of these jurisdictions to issue an audit report on our financial statements filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, we would be identified as an SEC-identified issuer following the filing of the annual report on Form 20-F for the relevant fiscal year. In accordance with the HFCA Act, our securities would be prohibited from being traded on a national securities exchange or in the over-the-counter trading market in the United States if we are identified as an SEC-identified issuer for two consecutive years in the future. If our shares and ADSs are prohibited from trading in the United States, there is no certainty that we will be able to list on a non-U.S. exchange or that a market for our shares will develop outside of the United States. A prohibition of being able to trade in the United States would substantially impair your ability to sell or purchase our ADSs when you wish to do so, and the risk and uncertainty associated with delisting would have a negative impact on the price of our ADSs. Also, such a prohibition would significantly affect our ability to raise capital on terms acceptable to us, or at all, which would have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and prospects.

Transfers of Cash through Our Organizations

X Financial is a holding company with no operations of its own. We conduct our operations in Chinese Mainland primarily through our subsidiaries and the consolidated VIEs and their respective subsidiaries in Chinese Mainland. As a result, although other means are available for us to obtain financing at the holding company level, X Financial's ability to pay dividends to its shareholders and to service any debt it may incur may depend upon dividends paid by our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries and service fees paid by the consolidated VIEs in Chinese Mainland. If any of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries or the consolidated VIEs incurs debt on its own behalf in the future, the instruments governing such debt may restrict our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries' ability to pay dividends to X Financial or the consolidated VIEs' ability to pay service fees. In addition, our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries are permitted to pay dividends to X Financial only out of their retained earnings, if any, as determined in accordance with Chinese Mainland accounting standards and regulations. Further, our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries and the consolidated VIEs are required to make appropriations to certain statutory reserve funds, which are not distributable as cash dividends except in the event of a solvent liquidation of the companies. For more details, see "Item 5. Operating and Financial Review and Prospects—B. Liquidity and Capital Resources—Holding Company Structure."

Under Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries and the consolidated VIEs are subject to certain restrictions with respect to paying dividends or otherwise transferring any of their net assets to us. Furthermore, cash transfers from our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries and the consolidated VIEs to entities outside of Chinese Mainland are subject to Chinese Mainland government controls on currency conversion. Shortages in the availability of foreign currency may temporarily delay the ability of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries and the consolidated VIEs to remit sufficient foreign currency to pay dividends or service fees to us, or otherwise satisfy their foreign currency denominated obligations. For risks relating to the fund flows of our operations in China, see “Item 3. Key Information—D. Risk Factors—Risks Related to Doing Business in China—We rely to a significant extent on dividends and other distributions on equity paid by our principal operating subsidiaries to fund offshore cash and financing requirements” and “—We are subject to restrictions on currency exchange.”

Pursuant to the Arrangement between Chinese Mainland and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and Tax Evasion on Income, or the Double Tax Avoidance Arrangement, the 10% withholding tax rate may be lowered to 5% if a Hong Kong resident enterprise owns no less than 25% of a Chinese Mainland project. However, the 5% withholding tax rate does not automatically apply and certain requirements must be satisfied, including without limitation that (a) the Hong Kong project must be the beneficial owner of the relevant dividends; and (b) the Hong Kong project must directly hold no less than 25% share ownership in the Chinese Mainland project during the 12 consecutive months preceding its receipt of the dividends. In current practice, a Hong Kong project must obtain a tax resident certificate from the Hong Kong tax authority to apply for the 5% lower PRC withholding tax rate. As the Hong Kong tax authority will issue such a tax resident certificate on a case-by-case basis, we cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain the tax resident certificate from the relevant Hong Kong tax authority and enjoy the preferential withholding tax rate of 5% under the Double Taxation Arrangement with respect to dividends to be paid by the Beijing WFOE to its immediate holding company, YZT (HK) Limited. For PRC and United States federal income tax consideration of an investment in our ADSs, see “Item 10. Additional Information —E. Taxation.”

On March 26, 2024, pursuant to the semi-annual dividend policy, our board has approved the declaration and payment of a semi-annual dividend of US$0.17 per ADS for the second half of 2023.

Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry

We conduct our business in Chinese Mainland through our subsidiaries and the VIEs in Chinese Mainland. The operations of our subsidiaries and the VIEs in Chinese Mainland are governed by laws and regulations of Chinese Mainland. As of the date of this annual report, and except otherwise disclosed in this annual report, our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries and the VIEs have obtained the requisite licenses and permits from the Chinese Mainland government authorities that are material for the business operations of our holding company and the VIEs in Chinese Mainland, including (i) business licenses; (ii) financing guarantee license; (iii) online microcredit business operating license; (iv) network microcredit license; (v) value-added telecommunications service operating license, or VATS License.

However, given the uncertainties of interpretation and implementation of relevant laws and regulations and the enforcement practices by relevant governmental authorities, if the relevant governmental authorities consider that we were operating without proper approvals, licenses or permits, or if the relevant governmental authorities promulgate new laws and regulations that require additional approvals or licenses or impose additional restrictions on the operation of any part of our business and we are not able to obtain such approvals, licenses or permits or adjust our business model in a timely manner or at all, they have the power, among other things, to levy fines, confiscate our income, revoke our business licenses, and require us to discontinue our relevant business.

We have ceased the P2P operation business, but we cannot assure you that our operations were in full compliance with relevant legal requirements and would not be punished under relevant regulations

Due to the relatively short history of the online consumer finance industry in Chinese Mainland, a comprehensive regulatory framework governing our industry is under development by the Chinese Mainland government. Before any industry-specific regulations were introduced in mid - 2015, the Chinese Mainland government relied on general and basic laws and regulations for governing the online consumer finance industry, including the PRC Contract Law, the General Principles of the Civil Law of the PRC, and related judicial interpretations promulgated by the Supreme People’s Court. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Regulation—Regulations Relating to Online Lending Information Services.”

Since July 2015, the Chinese Mainland government and relevant regulatory authorities have issued various laws and regulations governing the online consumer finance industry, including, among others, (i) the Guidelines on Promoting the Healthy Development of Online Finance Industry, or the Guidelines, (ii) the Interim Measures on Administration of Business Activities of Online Lending Information Intermediaries, or the Interim Measures, (iii) the Guidelines on Online Lending Funds Custodian Business, or the Custodian Guidelines, (iv) Guidelines on Information Disclosure of the Business Activities of Online Lending Information Intermediaries, or the Disclosure Guidelines, (v) Notice on Rectification of Cash Loan Business, or Circular 141, (vi) the Notice on the Special Rectification and Inspection of Risk of Online Lending Intermediaries, or Circular 57, (vii) the Notice on Conducting Compliance Inspections of Online Lending Intermediaries, or the Inspection Notice, and (viii) the Compliance Checklist of Online Lending Information Intermediaries, or the Compliance Checklist. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Regulation—Regulations Relating to Online Lending Information Services.” In December 2018, the relevant Chinese Mainland regulatory authorities of the P2P lending industry issued the Circular on Making Efforts to Prevent Risk and Classify Online Lending Institutions, or the Circular 175. Circular 175 classifies the online P2P lending marketplaces into six categories, and except for large-scale peer-to-peer direct lending marketplaces that have not demonstrated any high-risk characteristics, which are generally referred to as Normal Marketplaces, other marketplaces, including shell companies with no substantive operation, small-scale marketplaces, marketplaces with high risks and marketplaces on which investors are not fully repaid or that are otherwise unable to operate their businesses, shall exit the peer-to-peer lending industry or cease operation.

The Guidelines formally introduced for the first time the regulatory framework and basic principles governing the online finance industry, including the provision of online lending information services in Chinese Mainland. Following the core principles of the Guidelines, the Interim Measures first time introduced a record filing and licensing regime, pursuant to which, online lending information intermediaries shall register with the local financial regulatory authority, update their business scope in their business license to include “online lending information intermediary” and obtain telecommunication business license from the relevant telecommunication regulatory authority after the completion of their registration with the local financial regulatory authority. In order to instruct online lending information intermediaries to rectify their business operations that are deemed as non-compliant with the Guidelines or the Interim Measures, the Interim Measures authorized the local financial regulatory authorities to conduct onsite inspections or inquiries from time to time. In March 2017, one of our consolidated VIEs, Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong (VIE) received a rectification notice from the Shenzhen Head Office for Special Rectification of Online Finance Risk, which required us to adopt certain rectification measures to certain aspects of our business operations which were not in full compliance with applicable laws and regulations, including the requirements for ceasing to facilitate loans exceeding RMB200,000 for one borrower and setting up custody accounts with qualified banks to better manage clients and funds. We have responded with our rectification plan with a schedule in March 2017 and have undertaken effective measures in response to the authority’s request.

Meanwhile, the Guidelines and the Interim Measures prohibit online lending information intermediaries from certain activities, including but not limited to, credit enhancement, illegal fund-raising, and setting up capital pool. The Circular 141 promulgated by the Head Office for Special Rectification of Online Finance Risk and Head Office for Special Rectification of Peer-to-Peer Online Lending on December 1, 2017 further specifies that certain types of cash loan may be subject to inspection and rectification. These types of cash loan have the following four characteristics: lack of specific scenes, designated purposes, targeted users and mortgage. Online lending information intermediaries shall not facilitate such cash loans without specific scenes and designated purposes. It is stipulated in Circular 57 that online lending information intermediary shall cease providing prohibited cash loans after Circular 141 has come into effect and shall gradually reduce the outstanding balance of prohibited cash loans within scheduled timetable in order to complete the record filing as requested by the Interim Measure. We do not believe any of the loan products that we facilitate is prohibited under Circular 141 and Circular 57, as none of our products has all of the four characteristics of cash loans as defined under Circular 141. For example, although some of our loan products, such as Xiaoying Credit Loan's credit card cash advance product, are lacking mortgage and specific scenes, we believe they target a specific user base with designated purpose for which the borrowers are required to specify at loan application. However, in the absence of authoritative interpretation of the key requirements or characteristics of cash loan, especially whether the definition of cash loan requires all of the four characteristics or any of the four characteristics, we cannot assure you that our existing practices would not be deemed to violate any relevant laws, rules and regulations that are applicable to our business practices. In addition, Circular 141 requires banking financial institutions that participate in the "cash loan" business to ensure that no third parties will charge borrowers any interest or expenses of loans to borrowers and not to accept any credit enhancement services or other similar services from third parties without qualification to provide guarantee. To comply with Circular 141, we cooperate with certain qualified institutional partners with the financing guarantee license to provide guarantees for certain loan products we facilitate. We cooperated with Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) to provide guarantees for certain loan products that we facilitate in the past. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. We settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) no longer guarantees any loan products. In 2023, one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin Financing Guarantee Co., Ltd. ("Tianjin Yuexin") that holds the financing guarantee license, started the financing guarantee business. In 2024, we expect to deepen our cooperation with other financial institutional cooperators to provide guarantees for the loans that we facilitate in the future. See "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial institutional cooperators." Moreover, Circular 141 prohibits banking financial institutions from outsourcing core businesses such as credit examination and risk control. Currently, we only provide initial screening, preliminary credit examination and technical services, but we cannot rule out the possibility that government authorities could consider our services to be in violation of Circular 141. If any of our services are deemed to be in violation of Circular 141, we may be required to cease or modify any such "cash loans" to comply with Circular 141, otherwise we may be ineligible for registration with the local financial regulatory authority, which may materially and adversely affect our business and prospects. While we are closely monitoring the regulatory development, as of the date of this annual report, we have not been informed by any regulatory authorities to cease or modify any of our current products due to violation of any rules with respect to cash loan under Circular 141 or Circular 57.

On January 19, 2018, the Shenzhen Head Office for Special Rectification of Online Finance Risk promulgated the Notice Regarding Further Implementing Rectification of Online Lending Information Intermediaries which required that all the online lending information intermediaries in Shenzhen, including one of our consolidated VIEs, Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong (VIE) shall close all the business operations that were not in full compliance with the Interim Measures before June 30, 2018. We have further submitted a self-inspection report to the Shenzhen financial regulatory authority regarding the current status on our rectification process on February 2, 2018 pursuant to the Notice Regarding Further Implementing Rectification of Online Lending Information Intermediaries.

In August 2018, the Inspection Notice further clarifies that the compliance inspection under the Interim Measures consists of self-inspection conducted by online lending information intermediaries, inspection conducted by local and national Internet Finance Associations, and verification conducted by the local online lending rectification office, all of which shall be completed by the end of December 2018. The online lending information intermediaries that are in compliance with the applicable rules and regulations then could be allowed to submit the record filing applications as requested by the Interim Measures. Pursuant to the Inspection Notice and the Compliance Checklist, we have further submitted a self-inspection report and certain self-inspection documents to the Shenzhen financial regulatory authority and the Shenzhen Head Office for Special Rectification of Online Finance in October and November 2018 respectively.

As of December 17, 2020, Xiaoying Wealth Management platform's P2P operation business had been cleared and ceased, and the principal and earnings of all individual investors had been fully settled. We are currently operating platforms connecting borrowers with institutional funding partners rather than individual investors. Since that date, we have not undertaken any activities related to the P2P operation. In this regard, the Interim Measures and other regulations that regulate P2P operation business are no longer applicable to us. However, uncertainties still exist in relation to the interpretation and implementation of the relevant laws and regulations relating to P2P operation business. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalties retroactively prescribed in the relevant laws and regulations relating to our previous P2P operation business, although we have already ceased the related business, and if we were punished, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

We have obtained an approval of online microcredit business operating qualification and have started online microcredit business. Any lack of requisite approvals, licenses or permits applicable to our business may have a material and adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

According to the Guidelines on Further Strengthening and Regulating Pilot Access and Auditing of Microcredit Companies (Trial) issued by Shenzhen Financial Services Office in April 2013, or the Trial Guidelines on Microcredit Companies, the Shenzhen financial regulatory authority temporarily restricts funders or related parties that are certain kinds of companies including, among others, financing guarantee companies, pawn investment companies or real estate development companies from establishing the online microcredit business. Shenzhen Xiaoying Technology Co., Ltd. ("Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE)"), one of our VIEs, has obtained a letter from the Local Financial Regulatory Bureau of Shenzhen Municipality on May 12, 2021, stating the approval of the business qualification of Shenzhen Xiaoying Microcredit Co., Ltd. ("Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE)"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE), for the microcredit business in Chinese Mainland. One of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin holds the financing guarantee license and started the financing guarantee business in 2023. However, it is uncertain whether the Trial Guidelines on Microcredit Companies restricts financing guarantee companies outside Shenzhen from establishing the online microcredit business as funders or related parties and it's also unclear about the Shenzhen financial regulatory authority's current attitude on temporary restrictions imposed by the Trial Guidelines on Microcredit Companies. As a result, it is unclear how Tianjin Yuexin's financing guarantee business will affect the online microcredit business of Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE). As of the date of this annual report, we have not received any inquiry, notice, warning, or sanctions from the Shenzhen financial regulatory authority.

Besides, the approved microcredit business qualification is subject to annual onsite inspections. We have started our microcredit business in July 2021. However, since the regulatory regime and practice with respect to network microcredit companies are evolving in recent years and subject to uncertainties, see "Item 4. Information on the Company—B. Business Overview—Regulations—Regulations Relating to Microcredit," we cannot assure you that we would not be subject to any rectification requirements or administrative penalties due to any non-compliance, nor can we assure you that we will be able to satisfy rectification requirements, if any, and maintain such license or renew the license. For example, in November 2020, the CBIRC and PBOC released the Interim Measures for the Administration of Network Microcredit Business (Draft), or the Draft Interim Administrative Measures, to solicit public comments. The Draft Interim Administrative Measures make it clear that a network microcredit business shall be carried out mainly in the provincial administrative areas to which the entity is registered and shall not be cross-provincial without prior approval. The registered capital of a company operating a network microcredit business within a province shall not be less than RMB1 billion and shall be a one-time paid-in monetary capital. The registered capital of a company operating a network microcredit cross-provinces shall not be less than RMB5 billion and shall be a one-time paid-in monetary capital. The Draft Interim Administrative Measures would establish a three-year transition period, and those operating cross-provincial network microcredit businesses without approval will be phased-out.

Further, pursuant to Regulations on Local Financial Supervision and Administration (Draft for Public Comments), or the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation promulgated on December 31, 2021, “Local Financial Organizations” refers to microcredit companies, financing guarantee companies, regional equity markets, pawn shops, financial leasing companies, commercial factoring companies, local asset management companies, and other institutions engaged in local financial business that are supervised and managed by laws, administrative regulations, and provincial-level people’s governments authorized by the State Council. The Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation specify that provincial governments shall perform their duties of supervision, management, and risk disposal of local financial organizations, and no individual or entity shall set up Local Financial Organizations without prior approval. The merger, division, reduction of registered capital, change of the business scope or operating area, the change of the shareholders holding more than 5% of its equity interests, as well as change of the actual controller of the Local Financial Organization shall be subject to the approval of the provincial local financial supervision and management department. Also, Local Financial Organization shall make filings to provincial local financial supervision and management department for setting up branches within the provincial administrative region, changing the name or address of business, increasing the registered capital, changing the directors, supervisors and senior management personnel. Penalties such as fines or criminal liability may be imposed if the Local Financial Organizations fail to comply with the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation. Both of the Draft Interim Administrative Measures and the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation were released for public comment only, there remains substantial uncertainty regarding the Draft Interim Administrative Measures and the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation, including with respect to their final content, adoption timeline or effective date. If we were considered that we have engaged in the online microcredit business and the Draft Interim Administrative Measures and the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation were issued, we may be subject to various regulatory restriction which may adversely affect our business operations. We cannot assure you that Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) will be able to maintain or renew its business qualification for microcredit business if the draft measures are implemented. Although we believe that Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) is only a supplementary funding source and we do not intend to rely on it as a major source for funding, if we need to obtain funding through Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) but are unable to maintain or renew the business qualification for microcredit business, or to obtain any other requisite approvals, licenses or permits, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected. Given the evolving regulatory environment, there is uncertainty as to how the requirements in the Draft Interim Administrative Measures or the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation will be interpreted and implemented. To the extent that we are not able to fully comply with the requirements, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. We will continuously make adjustments in our business to comply with evolving regulatory requirements, but we are unable to predict with certainty the impact, if any, that future legislation, or regulations relating to the online microcredit business industry will have on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

As of the date of this annual report, we have not been subject to any material fines or other penalties under any Chinese Mainland laws or regulations including those governing the online consumer finance industry in Chinese Mainland. If our previous or existing practice is deemed to violate any rules, laws or regulations, we may face injunctions, including orders to cease illegal activities, correction order, condemnation, fines and criminal liability, and may be exposed to other penalties as determined by the relevant government authorities. If such situations occur, our business, financial condition and prospects would be materially and adversely affected.

If our borrowers default their loans under our online microcredit business, our financial operation may still be subject to material adverse effect.

Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE) has obtained a letter from the Local Financial Regulatory Bureau of Shenzhen Municipality on May 12, 2021, stating the approval of the business qualification of Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE), for the microcredit business in Chinese Mainland. Since the loans provided by Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) is our own capital, defaults by our borrowers may have material adverse effect on our financial operation. As of December 31, 2023, 3.0% of our outstanding loans is issued by Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) through our own capital. We have no external insurance or guarantee protection for the loans issued by Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE), our financial operation may be subject to material adverse if our borrowers default their outstanding loans.

We have a limited operating history in a new and evolving market, which makes it difficult to evaluate our future prospects.

We started to facilitate investment products to individual investors in Chinese Mainland in August 2014 and commenced our loan facilitation business in July 2015 and thus have a limited operating history. We have limited experience in most aspects of our business operations, such as loan product offerings, data-driven credit assessment and development of long-term relationships with borrowers, investors and institutional funding partners. We seek to expand the base of prospective borrowers that we serve, which may result in higher delinquency rates of transactions facilitated by us. The delinquency rate for all outstanding loans on our platform that were 31-60 days past due increased from 1.02% as of December 31, 2022 to 1.57% as of December 31, 2023. In addition, our ability to continuously attract low-cost funding sources is also critical to our business. For example, we have completely ceased accepting funding to our loan products from individual investors since the end of 2019, and currently our primary funding source is our institutional funding partners. As our business develops or in response to competition and regulation, we may continue to introduce new loan products, make adjustments to our existing loan products and our proprietary credit assessment model, or make adjustments to our business operation in general. For example, our product mix changed since our launch of Xiaoying Card Loan in December 2016. In 2016, 0.9% of our total loan facilitation amount were Xiaoying Card Loan, while in 2021, 2022 and 2023, such proportion was 100%, 99.8%, and 100%, respectively. Furthermore, in May 2021, we obtained a network microcredit license from the Local Financial Regulatory Bureau of Shenzhen Municipality and started online microcredit business in July 2021 by providing loans funded from own capital. Any significant change to our business model not achieving expected results may have a material adverse impact on our financial condition and results of operations. Our historical financials during the limited operating history are not indicative of our future trends. As a result, it is difficult to effectively assess our future prospects.

You should consider our business and prospects in light of the risks and challenges we encounter or may encounter given the rapidly evolving market in which we operate and our limited operating history. These risks and challenges include, among other things, our ability to:

- offer personalized and competitive products and services;
- increase the utilization of our products and services by existing borrowers and institutional funding partners as well as new borrowers and institutional funding partners;
- offer attractive service fee rates while driving growth in size and profitability of our business;
- maintain low delinquency rates of loans facilitated by us;
- develop sufficient, diversified, cost-efficient and reputable funding sources;
- maintain and enhance our relationships with our institutional funding partners;
- broaden our prospective borrower base;
- navigate a complex and evolving regulatory environment;
- improve our operational efficiency;
- attract, retain and motivate talented employees to support our business growth;
- enhance our technology infrastructure to support the growth of our business and maintain the security of our system and the confidentiality of the information provided and utilized across our system;
- navigate economic condition and fluctuation; and
- defend ourselves against legal and regulatory actions, such as actions involving intellectual property or privacy claims.

Failure of other online lending platforms or damage to the reputation of the online consumer finance industry may materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We operate in the online consumer finance industry, which is a new and evolving industry. Negative publicity about this industry and the market segment may arise from time to time. Negative publicity about Chinese Mainland’s consumer finance industry in general may also have a negative impact on our reputation, regardless of whether or not we have engaged in any inappropriate activities. The Chinese Mainland government has instituted specific rules to develop a more transparent regulatory environment for the online consumer finance industry. Any players in Chinese Mainland’s online consumer finance industry who are not in compliance with these regulations may adversely impact the reputation of the industry as a whole. Negative developments in the consumer finance industry, such as widespread user defaults, fraudulent behavior, the closure of other online consumer finance platforms, or incidents indirectly resulting from the accumulation of large amounts of debt and inability to repay by any particular borrower, may also lead to tightened regulatory scrutiny of the sector and limit the scope of permissible business activities that may be conducted by market players in the consumer finance industry. Moreover, in the ordinary course of our business, we may need to bring lawsuits against certain borrowers for delinquent loans. If courts do not support our claims, such legal proceedings may also negatively impact our reputation and brand image. If any of the foregoing takes place, our business and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

The service fees we charge either borrowers or institutional funding partners may decline in the future due to factors beyond our control and any material decrease in such service fees could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We generated our revenues from service fees collected indirectly from borrowers through Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) or external financial institutional cooperators. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. We settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) no longer guarantees any loan products. In 2023, one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin that holds the financing guarantee license, started the financing guarantee business. In 2024, we expect to deepen our cooperation with other financial institutional cooperators to provide guarantees for the loans that we facilitate in the future. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators.” We also charge service fees directly to certain institutional funding partners. Any material decrease in our service fees would have a substantial impact on our revenues and profitability. In the event that the amount of service fees we collect from borrowers or institutional funding partners for loans we facilitate decrease significantly in the future, our business, financial condition and results of operations will be harmed. The level of service fees we collect from borrowers or institutional funding partners may also be affected by a variety of factors, including our borrowers’ creditworthiness and ability to repay, the competitive landscape of our industry, our access to funding sources of loans we facilitate and regulatory requirements. Our service fees may also be affected by changes in our product and service mix and changes to our borrower engagement initiatives. Our competitors may also offer more attractive fees, which may require us to reduce our service fees to compete effectively. Certain consumer financing solutions offered by traditional financial institutions may provide lower fees than our service fees. Although we do not believe such consumer financing solutions currently compete with our products or target the same underserved consumers in Chinese Mainland, such traditional financial institutions may decide to do so in the future, which may have a material adverse effect as to the service fees that we will be able to charge borrowers or institutional funding partners. Our service fees may also be affected by regulatory restrictions applied to our institutional funding partners. In August 2021, it was reported that some consumer finance companies received window guidance from regulators to keep the interest rate on personal loans within 24%. As the funding for loans we facilitated are partly provided by those institutional funding partners, the service fees we charge borrowers or institutional funding partners may be further affected.

In addition, our service fees are sensitive to many macroeconomic factors that are beyond our control, such as inflation, recession, the performance of credit markets, global economic disruptions, unemployment and fiscal and monetary policies. If the service fees we collect from borrowers decrease significantly due to factors beyond our control, our business, financial condition and results of operations will be materially and adversely affected.

Our service fees, to the extent that they are fully or partially deemed as loan interest, may also be subject to the restrictions on interest rates as specified in applicable rules on private lending. Pursuant to the Provisions on Several Issues Concerning Laws Applicable to Trials of Private Lending Cases issued by the Supreme People’s Court on August 6, 2015 (as further amended on August 19, 2020 and December 29, 2020), or the Private Lending Judicial Interpretations, if the services fees that we charge borrowers are considered as loan interest and we are deemed as a lender, and if the sum of the annual interest that lenders charge and our service fees exceed 36%, the portion of the service fees that exceeds the 36% limit is invalid, and even if the borrower has paid the portion of the service fees that exceeds the 36% limit, such borrower may request us to refund the portion of the service fees that exceeds the 36% limit and the Chinese Mainland courts will uphold such request. In accordance with Circular 141, the overall cost of loans, including the loan interest and other forms of fees charged by the institutions shall be included in an overall annualized interest rate and conform to the restrictions on interest rates as specified in applicable rules on private lending. The Compliance Checklist further specifies that interests and fees collected by any third party collaborator or charged offline shall form part of an overall annualized interest rate. In addition, the online lending information intermediary is also prohibited to deduct loan interest, service fees, administrative fee and deposit from a loan principal in advance. We have ceased deducting any service fees from a loan principal in advance and have complied with applicable regulatory requirements since December 7, 2017. On August 19, 2020, the Private Lending Judicial Interpretations was amended by the Supreme People’s Court, where a lender claims that corresponding borrower shall pay interest as per the interest rate contractually stipulated, relevant people’s court shall uphold such claim, except where the interest rate agreed on by both parties concerned exceeds four times the loan prime rate (“LPR”), for one-year loan when the contract is concluded. “LPR for one-year loan” refers to the LPR for one-year loan to be published on a monthly basis by the National Interbank Funding Center authorized by the People’s Bank of China as of August 20, 2019. On December 29, 2020, the Supreme People’s Court issued the Official Reply of the Supreme People’s Court to the Issues concerning the Scope of Application of the New Judicial Interpretation on Private Lending, or the Official Reply and further amended the Private Lending Judicial Interpretations. According to the Private Lending Judicial Interpretations and the Official Reply, for financial institutions and branches engaging in loan business and established upon the approval of the financial regulatory authorities, including but not limited to microcredit company, Private Lending Judicial Interpretations shall not apply to disputes caused by granting loans and relevant financial business. Therefore, currently, there is no clear regulatory guidance on the loan interest ceiling for the loans between the borrowers and the institutional partners.

On March 31, 2021, PBOC issued Announcement 2021 No. 3, or the Announcement 3, to clarify the calculation methodology of annual loan interest rate. Annual loan interest rate shall be the ratio, on an annualized basis, of all the loan-related costs charged on the borrower to the loan principal actually occupied. However, the Announcement 3 does not further interpret the constitution of the costs directly related to the loan. The calculation method is not clearly defined, and we are not sure whether our APR calculation method has fully complied with the regulatory requirements.

None of the loans we provided or facilitated in 2023, had an annualized fee rate exceeding 36%. We have reduced our annualized fee rates of all products which exceeded the 36% limit and have complied with applicable regulatory requirements since December 7, 2017. The annualized fee rates of all new loans that we facilitated since December 7, 2017 are below 36%. As a result, we do not believe that our current service fees and various other fees charged from our borrowers violate these provisions. However, due to the lack of the specific and clear regulatory guidance on the loan interest ceiling and the calculation method, if our current fee level is deemed to be excessive or constitutes usurious loans under any existing or future relevant Chinese Mainland laws, regulations and rules, parts or all of the fees we collected may be ruled as invalid by the Chinese Mainland courts, and we may face, among others, regulatory warning, correction order, or be required to reduce the fees and annual interest rate we charge our borrowers. In addition, any future changes on APR ceiling may affect our profitability. If such situations were to occur, our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects would be materially and adversely affected.

We face competition in the online consumer finance industry, and, if we do not compete effectively, our results of operations could be harmed.

The online consumer finance industry in Chinese Mainland is highly competitive, and we compete with other sizable online consumer lending marketplaces with a focus on prime borrowers. We also compete with other financial products and companies that attract borrowers, investors, or institutional funding partners. Our competitors may operate different business models, have different cost structures or selectively participate in different market segments. They may ultimately be proven more successful or more adaptable to consumer demand and new regulatory, technological and other developments. Some of our current and potential competitors have significantly more financial, technological, marketing and other resources than we do and may be able to devote greater resources to the development, promotion, sale and support of their product and services offerings. Our competitors may also have longer operating history, more extensive user bases, greater brand recognition and brand loyalty and broader relationships with business partners. Additionally, a current or potential competitor may acquire, or form strategic alliances with, one or more of our competitors. Our competitors may be better at satisfying user demand by developing tailored products, offering attractive service fees, strengthening risk management capabilities, introducing more advanced and effective data analytics technologies, obtaining funding sources at more favorable rates and undertaking more extensive and effective marketing campaigns. Furthermore, more players may enter into this market and increase the level of competition. In face of such competition, in order to grow or maintain the amount of loans facilitated to borrowers, we may have to lower our service fees, which could materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations. If we are unable to compete with such companies and meet the need for innovation in our industry, the demand for our products or services could stagnate or substantially decline, which could harm our business and results of operations.

The Administrative Measures for Credit Information Services may impose adverse effects on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In July 2021, according to media reports, the Credit Information Administration of the PBOC put forward requirements in a non-public manner to certain internet platforms engaged in financing business, requiring that the information voluntarily submitted by an individual, as generated from the platform or acquired externally, shall not be disclosed to financial institutions during the business cooperation with such institutions, or to be directly provided to the institutions in the name of application information, identity information, basic information, profile information, etc.

On September 27, 2021, the PBOC promulgated the Administrative Measures for Credit Information Services, or the Credit Information Services Measures, which took effect on January 1, 2022. Pursuant to the Credit Information Services Measures, Credit Information Services, shall mean the collection, sorting, retention, and processing of credit information of enterprises and individuals, and the provision of the foregoing information to information users. Credit information, shall mean the basic individual information, lending information and other relevant information used for identification and determination of creditworthiness status of enterprises and individuals, and collected pursuant to the law for the purpose of providing services for financial activities, as well as the analyzed and evaluated information formed based on the foregoing information. Entities engaging in personal credit information services shall obtain the personal credit information organization license pursuant to the Credit Information Services Measures. Financial institutions shall not carry out commercial cooperation with entities who have not obtained business qualifications for engaging in credit information services to obtain any credit information services.

In our current cooperation with financial institutions, we would directly provide financial institutions with the personal information of our users on our platform, including basic user information (such as name, age, etc.) and loan-related information (such as loan purpose, annual income, etc.), which may be deemed as credit information under the Credit Information Services Measures. As of the date of this annual report, we have not obtained personal credit information organization license, and our direct provision of such users' personal information to financial institutions may not be permitted. However, Our consolidated VIE, Shenzhen Xiaoying Microcredit Co., Ltd. ("Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE)"), and our subsidiary, Tianjin Yuexin, received notices from the Shenzhen Center of Credit Reference Center of People's Bank of China on September 29, 2022 and on February 29, 2024, respectively. The notices stated that Credit Reference Center of People's Bank of China had approved Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) and Tianjin Yuexin to connect to the credit reference system and to report business information relating to individual credit loan services. As of the date of this annual report, Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) has finalized technical preparation and internal system establishment for the official connection to the credit reference system. Tianjin Yuexin is currently working on completing its technical preparation and internal system establishment. Further, we have been collaborating closely with PuDao Credit Information Co., Ltd., a licensed personal credit information institution, to execute a plan that complies with the new regulation. We have entered into a collaboration agreement and a service agreement and have implemented a built-in data interfacing technology within our internal system to establish a connection with the PuDao Credit Information Co., Ltd.'s independent data domain. Meanwhile, as the Credit Information Services Measures is newly issued and there are no specific implementation rules with this regard, we are not sure how it will be interpreted and implemented and whether it will have an adverse impact on our business. Even if we made efforts and adjustments to comply with the evolving regulatory requirements, we cannot assure you that we are in full compliance with all of the relevant requirements and regulations as neither clear guidance nor implementation rules with regard to the Measures for Credit Reporting Business has been issued and the acceptance criteria of the regulators are uncertain. We will closely monitor the regulatory requirements and adjust the applicable measures in timely manner to ensure compliance. As of the date of this annual report, we have not been subject to any penalties from the PBOC or any of its branches related to our cooperation with the institutional funding partners.

If we are unable to maintain or increase the amount of loans we facilitate or if we are unable to retain existing borrowers or attract new borrowers, our business and results of operations will be adversely affected.

The amount of loans facilitated through our platform was RMB51,859 million in 2021, RMB73,655 million in 2022 and RMB 105,557 million in 2023. To maintain and increase the amount of loans we facilitate, we must continue to engage our existing borrowers and attract new borrowers, which may be affected by several factors, including our brand recognition and reputation, our products and services offered, our efficiency in engaging prospective borrowers, our ability to convert registered users to borrowers, the effectiveness of our credit analysis and risk management system, our ability to secure sufficient and cost-efficient funding, the service fees we charge borrowers, our borrower experience, the Chinese Mainland regulatory environment governing our industry and the macroeconomic environment. For example, although we do not believe any of the loan products we currently facilitate is explicitly prohibited in accordance with the requirements under Circular 141 and Circular 57, we have taken rectification measures, including adjusting the annualized fee rates not to exceed 36% and ceasing deducting service fees from a loan principal in advance, to better comply with the applicable requirements.

In addition, as of December 31, 2023, we collaborated with 60 channel partners to obtain borrowers for our various loan products. In 2022 and 2023, approximately 80.1% and 80.4% of our active borrowers for Xiaoying Card Loan were engaged through our channel partners. If these channels become less effective or less efficient, or if we are unable to continue to use these channels or work with less channel partners, or if we cannot expand our business partner base or work with more business partners, we may not be able to acquire and engage new and existing borrowers efficiently. In addition, we may also impose more stringent borrower qualifications to ensure the quality of the loans we facilitate, which may negatively affect the amount of loans we facilitate. If we are unable to attract borrowers or if borrowers do not continue to use our products and services, we may be unable to increase our amount of loans facilitated and corresponding revenues, and our business and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

We face risks related to natural disasters, public health emergencies, epidemic, pandemics and other outbreaks, which could significantly disrupt our operations.

We are vulnerable to natural disasters and other calamities. Fire, floods, typhoons, earthquakes, power loss, telecommunications failures, break-ins, war, riots, terrorist attacks or similar events may give rise to severe interruptions, breakdowns, system failures or Internet failures, which could cause the loss or corruption of data or malfunctions of software or hardware as well as adversely affect our ability to provide our products and services. Our business could also be adversely affected by the effects of diseases, including Ebola virus disease, Zika virus disease, H1N1 flu, H7N9 flu, avian flu, Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome, or SARS, COVID-19 or other epidemics.

On January 30, 2020, the International Health Regulations Emergency Committee of the World Health Organization (the “WHO”) declared the COVID-19 coronavirus outbreak a public health emergency of international concern and on March 10, 2020, declared it to be a pandemic. Actions taken around the world to help mitigate the spread of the coronavirus include restrictions on travel, and quarantines in certain areas, and forced closures for certain types of public places and businesses. Our borrowers may negatively impacted by COVID-19, including healthcare, travel, offline education, franchising, auto/transportation and real estate/home furnishing sectors, may reduce their liquidity to repay the loans, which may materially adversely impact our loan performance. The loan facilitation amount may also decreased as our institutional funding partners adjusted their strategies due to pessimistic expectations.

Our results of operations were adversely affected by the COVID-19 especially during the first half year of 2020. In the early onset of the third quarter of 2020, our business was already on track for a steady recovery and our business operation has returned to the pre-COVID-19 pandemic level. In 2021, 2022 and 2023, both our operational and financial results continued to show progress against our strategic objectives. In January, 2023, Chinese Mainland officially started to manage COVID-19 as a Class-B infectious disease. The implementation of Class-B management of COVID-19 emphasizes more scientific, precise and efficient epidemic prevention and minimizes its disruptions in the economy and society. As many of the COVID-19 prevention measures had been lifted, the economy continues its rebound from the pandemic. However, the potential impact brought by and the duration of the COVID-19 outbreak are difficult to assess or predict and the full impact of the virus on our operations will depend on many factors beyond our control. While it is unknown how long these conditions will last and what the complete financial effect will be to our company group, we are closely monitoring its impact on us. Our business, results of operations, financial conditions and prospects could be materially adversely affected to the extent that COVID-19 harms the Chinese and global economy in general, and the trading price of our ADSs may be adversely affected.

Our platform requires adequate funding and access to adequate lending capital on terms acceptable to us cannot be assured.

Our business involves matching of borrowers and funding sources for loans. The growth and success of our future operations depend on the availability of adequate funding to meet borrower demand for loans facilitated on our platform. In 2023, 97.2% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners and 2.8% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by our capital. In order to maintain the requisite level of funding for the loans we facilitate to meet borrower demand, we will need to optimize the investor funding composition of our platform and establish long-term collaboration with our institutional funding partners.

However, our cooperation with banking financial institutions may be subject to restrictions stipulated under Circular 141, according to which banking financial institutions shall not receive credit enhancement services offered by any third party that lacks qualifications to provide guarantee, and shall ensure that such third party does not charge fees from borrowers. Under our existing cooperation model with banking financial institutions prior to the promulgation of Circular 141, some of our entities lacking the qualifications to provide guarantee also provide guarantee to certain funding arrangements with banking financial institutions. As a result, our banking financial institution partners may cease our cooperation under such existing business model, which may adversely affect our funding capabilities. In light of this regulatory development, we have reviewed and adjusted our cooperation with banking financial institution partners, such as suspending certain cooperation, to better comply with the regulatory requirements. We ceased the online intermediary model in April 2017. The online intermediary model refers to the initial provision of loans to P2P borrowers using our own funds through an intermediary and subsequent sale of such loans to P2P lenders by us. We gradually reduced the volume of loans facilitated through the offline intermediary model with funding from banking financial institution partners after December 31, 2017 due to regulatory requirement and completely ceased such operations in February 2018. The offline intermediary model refers to the initial provision of loans to borrowers on our platform using our own funds through an intermediary and subsequent sale of such loans to institutional funding partners. We cannot assure you, however, that we will be able to adopt a compliant business model vis-à-vis institutional funding partners in a timely manner, or at all, or that such business model will be sufficiently viable, which in turn may adversely affect our ability to obtain adequate funding to grow our business.

Beginning from late 2018, the local Chinese Mainland governments gradually slowed down its acceptance and review of the application for the registration as an online lending information intermediary as required under the Interim Measures. We made a gradual shift with respect to funding sources from individual investors to institutional funding partners since early 2019 in response to the enhanced regulatory restrictions in the online consumer financing industry. In late December 2019, the government began to implement a regulatory policy encouraging companies that previously applied for the online lending information intermediary registration to obtain an online microcredit company permit instead. This change in policy has an implication that we will be no longer legally allowed to provide intermediary service to individual investors directly. At the end of 2019, we ceased funding our loan products from our individual investors through Xiaoying Wealth Management platform. We actively expanded institutional funding, such as banks, consumer finance companies, trust companies and other institutions, and achieved 100% institutional funding for the new loans facilitated by the end of the second quarter of 2020. Furthermore, after obtaining an approval for our microcredit business in May 2021, we started to fund some new loans by our owned capital. As of December 31, 2023, 3.0% of the outstanding loans were funded by our own capital.

If the provision of services by financial institutional cooperators, such as insurance companies and financing guarantee companies, becomes limited, restricted, or is rendered less effective or more expensive, our business may be materially and adversely affected.

85.0% of our outstanding loans were covered by financial institutional cooperators as of December 31, 2023. We collaborate with various external financing guarantee companies and insurance companies who provide guarantee/insurance services to protect institutional funding partners from losses. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators.” Although we have entered into a series of agreements relating to our ongoing business cooperation and service arrangement with our financial institutional cooperators, we cannot assure you that the provisions of services provided by such financial institutional cooperators will be renewed upon expiration of the agreements or continue to remain at the same level or on more favorable terms in the future. If any of such financial institutional cooperators ceases business collaboration with us, it may adversely affect our relationship with our users and institutional funding partners.

In addition, given that Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE) and Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) are our consolidated VIEs, and Tianjin Yuexin is our subsidiary, while we believe our past and current cooperation model with our financial institutional cooperators does not violate any prohibitive rules relating to Online Lending Information Services, including among others, provisions under the Interim Measures that prohibit providing any guarantee to lenders directly or in a disguised form by online lending information intermediaries or provisions under Circular 57 that prohibit setting aside risk reserve funds by online lending information intermediaries to protect investors against default, we cannot assure you that the regulators would hold the same view as ours. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Regulation—Regulations Relating to Online Lending Information.” If our agreements with financial institutional cooperators were terminated or to be altered to our disadvantage, our business, results of operations and financial condition will be materially and adversely affected.

The protections offered by our financial institutional cooperators on our loan products significantly enhance the confidence of our institutional funding partners. We cooperated with Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) to provide guarantees for certain loan products that we facilitate in the past. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. We settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) no longer guarantees any loan products, and In 2023, one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin started the financing guarantee business. In 2024, we expect to deepen our cooperation with other financial institutional cooperators to provide guarantees for the loans that we facilitate in the future. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators.” We may consider introducing other funding protection arrangements to our financial institutional cooperators or institutional funding. We cannot assure you that new arrangements would be perceived by them, which may have adverse impact on our business operations. If our financial institutional cooperators cease business collaboration with us, it may adversely affect our relationship with our institutional funding partners, who view on the protection offered by our financial institutional cooperators with importance.

We cannot assure you that our financial institutional cooperator will continue to provide its insurance or guarantee decision opinion, which is based on its credit analysis model, leveraging its resources and access to various databases, including PBOC CRC that is only available to licensed financial institutions. We are working with other partners with financial license on co-developing risk management capabilities. The denial of access to their insurance or guarantee decision opinion may materially and adversely impact our ability to assess the creditworthiness of prospective borrowers in the future. Any deterioration in our risk assessment capabilities may adversely affect the quality of transactions that we facilitate and we may experience higher delinquency rates, which may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

If we are unable to obtain adequate credit insurance under terms or conditions acceptable to us due to changes in the credit insurance regulations in Chinese Mainland, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected.

On May 8, 2020, the CBIRC promulgated the Measures for the Regulation of Credit Insurance and Guarantee Insurance, or the Measures for the Credit Insurance and Guarantee Insurance, as amended on June 21, 2021, which repeals the Interim Measures for the Supervision of Credit Guarantee and Insurance Business issued on July 11, 2017. Pursuant to the Measures for the Credit Insurance and Guarantee Insurance, the insurance companies carrying out credit insurance and guarantee insurance (together, the “Credit and Guarantee Insurance”) businesses are required to comply with the regulatory requirements on solvency and ensure the overall size of business is appropriate for the capital strength of the company. When carrying out financing Credit and Guarantee Insurance business, insurance companies are required to pay particular attention to the underlying risks, fully assess the impact of Credit and Guarantee Insurance business on the solvency of the company, and duly perform liquidity risk management. The insurance companies have to establish more stringent internal control measures to ensure the compliance of the Credit and Guarantee Insurance business. Furthermore, the Measures for the Credit Guarantee and Insurance Guarantee sets out specific rules regarding insurance companies carrying out Credit and Guarantee Insurance business via Internet, under which the insurance companies shall cooperate with the financial institutions with lending qualifications and is required to publish material information in relation to insurance products, policy query links, customer complaint channels, information security, cooperative Internet agencies, which shall also be published by the cooperative Internet agencies in a prominent position on their business web pages. In addition, the balance of self-retained liability of the insurance company cannot exceed the respective limits as set forth in the Measures for the Credit Insurance and Guarantee Insurance.

We have cooperated with insurance companies to develop Credit and Guarantee Insurance products to secure insurance protection for the loans we facilitated. If the insurance companies we cooperate are unable to continue to provide the Credit and Guarantee Insurance with same terms and conditions, we may not be able to remain adequate Credit and Guarantee Insurance for our loan products as before, or may have to incur additional cost in purchasing such insurance from them or other insurance companies. If we are unable to obtain adequate Credit and Guarantee Insurance for our loan products under terms or conditions acceptable to us, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected.

Our cooperation model with Institutional Funding Partners may be deemed to operate financing guarantee business by the Chinese Mainland regulatory authorities.

The State Council promulgated the Regulations on the Supervision and Administration of Financing Guarantee Companies, or Financing Guarantee Rules, on August 2, 2017, which became effective on October 1, 2017. Pursuant to the Financing Guarantee Rules, “financing guarantee” refers to the activities in which guarantors provide guarantee to the guaranteed parties as to loans, bonds or other types of debt financing, and “financing guarantee companies” refer to companies legally established and operating financing guarantee business. According to the Financing Guarantee Rules, the establishment of financing guarantee companies shall be subject to the approval by the competent government department, and unless otherwise stipulated by the state, no entity may operate financing guarantee business without such approval. If any entity violates these regulations and operates financing guarantee business without approval, the entity may be subject to penalties including ban or suspension of business, fines ranging from RMB500,000 to RMB1,000,000, confiscation of illegal gains if any, and if the violation constitutes a criminal offense, criminal liability shall be imposed in accordance with the law. We have cooperated with banks, trust companies, and other institutional funding partners who funded the loans for our borrowers. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Investors and Institutional Funding Partners.” Under our current business model, some of our entities lacking the qualifications to provide financing guarantee are obligated to repay certain institutional funding partners the full overdue amount in case the borrowers fail to repay, or purchase the creditor’s rights of the underlying loan from certain institutional funding partners under certain circumstances.

In addition, prior to September 2017, we, at our sole discretion, paid one of our financial institutional cooperators for a majority of the loan principal and interest default but have not been subsequently collected through some of our entities lacking qualifications to provide financing guarantee. In 2020, certain amount of deposits paid by Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) to one of our institutional cooperators were actually provided by Shenzhen Xiaoying Puhui Technology Co., Ltd., a directly wholly owned subsidiary of Beijing WFOE, which were used to compensate for such institutional cooperator's loss for the amount it had paid under investors' claims arising from borrowers' default to repay loans. Due to the lack of further interpretations, the exact definition and scope of "operating financing guarantee business" under the Financing Guarantee Rules is unclear. It is uncertain whether we would be deemed to operate financing guarantee business because of our cooperation model with our financial institutional cooperators, and our current arrangements with banks, trust companies and other institutional funding partners. As of the date of this annual report, we have not been subject to any fines or other penalties under any Chinese Mainland laws or regulations related to financing guarantee business. Furthermore, given that Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE) and Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) are our consolidated VIEs, and Tianjin Yuexin is our subsidiary, while we believe our past and current cooperation model with our financial institutional cooperators does not constitute providing any guarantee to lenders directly or in a disguised form by online lending information intermediary under Interim Measures or under Circular 57, we cannot assure you that the regulators would hold the same view as ours. Given the evolving regulatory environment of the financing guarantee business, we cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any fines, penalties or other liabilities, or be required in the future by the relevant governmental authorities to obtain approval or license for financing guarantee business to continue our collaboration with banks, trust companies and other institutional funding partners. If we are required to amend the current model or are no longer able to collaborate with banks, trust companies or other institutional funding partners at all, or become subject to penalties, our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

For the impact of Circular 141 and Circular 57 on our cooperation with institutional funding partners, see "Item 3. Key Information on the Company—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry—Our platform requires adequate funding and access to adequate lending capital on terms acceptable to us cannot be assured."

Failure in our proprietary credit analysis and risk management system may materially and adversely affect our products and service.

We offer our products and services based on risk assessment conducted by our proprietary credit analysis and risk management system, which is strengthened by our financial institutional cooperators' insurance or guarantee decision opinion based on their credit analysis models. Our system uses machine learning and modeling techniques to analyze transaction and repayment data from loans that we facilitated and data from applicants and other third party sources. Even though we have accumulated a large amount of applicant data and extensive credit analysis experience to perform risk management analysis in our system, our credit analysis and risk management system may not be continuously effective as we continue to increase the amount of loans we facilitate, expand our borrower base and broaden our funding channels in the future. If our credit analysis model contains inaccurate assumptions or inefficiencies through model updates, or if the credit data and analysis we obtain are inaccurate or outdated, our credit analysis could be negatively affected, resulting in inaccurate decision.

If we are unable to effectively and accurately assess the credit profiles of applicants based on their credit profiles, we may either be unable to offer attractive service fee rates and products and services to borrowers, or unable to maintain low delinquency rates for loans we facilitate or to attract institutional funding partners. In addition, our credit analysis may not be able to provide more predictive assessments of future borrower behavior and result in better evaluation of our borrower base as compared to our competitors. Furthermore, our risk management model and system may not optimally protect our business against systemic risk. If our proprietary credit analysis and risk management system fails to perform effectively, our business, liquidity and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

If we are unable to maintain low delinquency rates for transactions facilitated by us, our business and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. Further, historical delinquency rates may not be indicative of future results.

Our institutional funding partners may experience losses due to borrower defaults. The delinquency rate for all outstanding loans on our platform that were 31-60 days past due increased from 1.02% as of December 31, 2022, to 1.57% as of December 31, 2023.

Our ability to attract and retain borrowers and institutional funding partners is significantly dependent on our ability to effectively assess a borrower's credit profile and maintain low delinquency rates. To conduct this assessment, we have employed a series of procedures and developed a proprietary credit assessment and decision model. Our credit scoring model aggregates and analyzes the personal information submitted by a prospective borrower as well as the data we collect from a number of internal and external sources, and then generates a credit assessment result for the prospective borrower. If our credit scoring model contains programming or other errors or the information provided by borrowers or third parties is incorrect or stale, our loan pricing and approval process could be negatively affected, resulting in misclassified loans or incorrect approvals or denials of loans. If we are unable to effectively and accurately assess the credit profiles of borrowers, we may be unable to maintain low delinquency rates of loans facilitated by our platform.

If widespread defaults were to occur, institutional funding partners may lose confidence in our platform and our financial institutional cooperators may cease business collaboration with us or increase their fees collectible from new borrowers or raise some unfavorable terms in the future, which may materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations. We have been expanding cooperation relationships with various institutional funding partners and financial institutional cooperators to reduce our risk of heavy dependency on certain institutional funding partners or financial institutional cooperators.

Furthermore, for certain loan products that we facilitate in the past, we entered into a series of arrangements with various financial institutional cooperators and negotiate the upper limit of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE)'s compensation obligation prospectively at each quarter with these financial institutional cooperators based on the expected default rate. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. We settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) no longer guarantees any loan products. In 2023, one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin that holds the financing guarantee license, started the financing guarantee business. Tianjin Yuexin built a new business model by collaboration with external financing guarantee companies, where Tianjin Yuexin assumes 20% of the guarantee liability, and the external financing guarantee company assumes 80% of the guarantee liability. Under this business model, Tianjin Yuexin has the obligation to pay 20% of the defaulted principal and interest to our institutional funding partners and no obligation to pay to the external financing guarantee company. However, if widespread defaults were to occur, institutional funding partners may cease business collaboration with Yuexin. Moreover, they may increase their fees collectible from new borrowers, which would impact our results of operations in the event we are unable to pass on such increase to new borrowers. In addition, when the delinquency rates of our loan products increase, we may also need to increase the guarantee fees that we are entitled from new borrowers. In the event we are not able to raise the APR to capture such increase in guarantee fees, our results of operations would be adversely affected. See "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators—Credit Insurance and Guarantee Services" for more details. Therefore, if we are unable to maintain low delinquency rates for transactions we facilitated, our business and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

The data that we collect may be inaccurate due to inadvertent error or fraud. If we fail to detect inaccurate and false information, the performance of our credit analysis will be compromised, and our business, results of operations and brand and reputation will be negatively impacted.

We analyze data provided directly by applicants or with their authorization and data from third parties. The data we receive may not accurately reflect an applicant's creditworthiness because such data may be based on outdated, incomplete or inaccurate information due to inadvertent error or fraud. In addition, the completeness and reliability of consumer credit history information in the Chinese Mainland is relatively limited. The People's Bank of China, or PBOC, has developed and put into use a national personal and corporate credit information database which remains relatively underdeveloped.

The data provided directly by an applicant to us may become outdated and inaccurate, as he or she may have, after providing the data to us:

- become delinquent in the payment of an outstanding obligation;
- defaulted on a pre-existing debt obligation;
- taken on additional debt; or
- sustained other adverse financial events.

We conduct data screening to detect inaccurate information and improve the quality of the data input for our credit analysis model. However, our data screening and anti-fraud systems may be insufficient to accurately detect inaccurate and fraudulent information. Such inaccurate or fraudulent information could compromise the accuracy of our credit analysis and adversely affect the effectiveness of our control over our delinquency rates. We may not be able to recoup funds underlying loans made in connection with inaccurate or fraudulent data, which may materially and adversely affect our results of operations. To better assess a borrower's creditworthiness, we consult our institutional cooperators for their credit analysis and cooperate with third party credit agencies and databases for credit data of borrowers. However, due to the underdevelopment of an industry-wide information sharing arrangement, we are unable to determine whether applicants have outstanding loans through other online lending platforms at the time when they obtain a loan from us or the aggregate amount borrowed by a borrower through our platform and other online lending platforms. This creates the risk that a borrower may borrow money through us in order to pay off loans on other online lending platforms and vice versa. The additional debt may adversely affect the borrower's creditworthiness generally, and could result in the financial distress or insolvency of the borrower, impairing the borrower's ability to repay the loan and the investor and institutional funding partner's ability to receive repayment of such loan. In addition, if a borrower incurs debt on other online lending platforms in order to repay our loans, the borrower's ability to repay such loans is limited by the availability of funding sources subject to factors beyond the borrower's control, which may adversely affect our results of operations. For example, the release of Circular 141 and Circular 57 in December 2017 tightened industry regulations and resulted in an unexpected short-term volatility of borrower credit performance across our industry. Online lending platforms have ceased extending "cash loans" with the four characteristics as defined under Circular 141 and a number of online lending platforms significantly altered their business models or suspended operations altogether. The impact is relatively more acute on products with short term and small loan balance, such as Xiaoying Card Loans, as borrowers previously used to be able to easily borrow from other online lending platforms to fund their repayment. The release of Circular 141 and Circular 57 led to liquidity shortage for certain borrowers who relied on other lending platforms to repay Xiaoying Card Loans.

In addition, a significant increase in fraudulent activities could negatively impact our brand name and reputation, discourage institutional funding partners from investing in loans on our platform, reduce the amount of loans facilitated to borrowers and make it necessary to take additional steps to reduce fraud risk, which could increase our costs. High profile fraudulent activities could even lead to regulatory intervention, and may divert our management's attention and cause us to incur additional expenses and costs.

Although we have not experienced any material business or reputational harm as a result of fraudulent activities or inaccurate information in the past, we cannot rule out the possibility that inaccurate information or fraudulent activities may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations in the future.

We may be required to obtain or reapply for additional value-added telecommunication business licenses.

Chinese Mainland regulations impose sanctions on entities for engaging in the provision of telecommunication business of a commercial nature without having obtained a value-added telecommunication business license. If we fail to obtain or maintain licenses required for our business, we could be subject to sanctions including corrective orders and warnings from the Chinese Mainland telecommunication administration authority, fines and confiscation of illegal gains and, in the case of significant infringements, the websites and mobile applications may be ordered to cease operation.

Pursuant to the Interim Measures, we are required to apply for appropriate telecommunication business operation permit, i.e., the value-added telecommunication business license, in accordance with relevant provisions of competent communication departments after we have completed the registration of online lending intermediary with local financial regulatory authority. The local government authority has not yet issued the relevant implementation rules regarding such filing and therefore we cannot assure you we will be able to make the necessary filing or apply for the value-added telecommunication business license. Even if we have obtained the telecommunication business license, we may also be subject to monetary penalty or suspension of operation and rectification by the telecommunication administrations if we fail to operate the business as prescribed in the telecommunication operating licenses, or fail to operate the business as regulated by the telecommunications administration or other regulatory authorities.

Given the evolving regulatory environment of the consumer finance industry and value-added telecommunication business, we cannot rule out the possibility that the Chinese Mainland communication administration authority or other government authorities will explicitly require any of our consolidated VIEs or subsidiaries of our consolidated VIEs to obtain Internet content provider licenses, or ICP licenses, online data processing and transaction processing licenses, or ODPTP licenses or other value-added telecommunication business licenses, or issue new regulatory requirements to institute a new licensing regime for our industry. If such value-added telecommunication business licenses are required in the future, or a new license regime is introduced or new regulatory rules are promulgated, we cannot assure you that we would be able to obtain any required license or other regulatory approvals in a timely manner, or at all, which would subject us to the sanctions described above or other sanctions as stipulated in the new regulatory rules, and materially and adversely affect our business and impede our ability to continue our operations.

Additionally, according to Guidance on Regulating Asset Management Business of Financial Institutions, or the Guidance, which was promulgated jointly by the PBOC, China Insurance Regulatory Commission (“CIRC”), CSRC and the State Administration of Foreign Exchange (“SAFE”) on April 27, 2018, only financial institutions, such as banks, trusts, securities, funds, futures, insurance asset management agencies and financial asset investment companies, can operate asset management business. As ancillary services that we currently provide are not “asset management business” as defined in the Guidance or other applicable Laws and Regulations, we do not believe that we would be subject to the Guidance. However, we cannot assure you if the money market products offered by the relevant financial institutions to which we provide the ancillary services will not be ceased pursuant to the Guidance.

Nevertheless, the interpretation and the enforcement of such regulations in the context of online consumer finance industry remains uncertain, and therefore, it is unclear what kind of value-added telecommunication business licenses we should obtain. Given the evolving regulatory environment of the consumer finance industry and value-added telecommunication business, we cannot rule out the possibility that the Chinese Mainland communication administration authority or other government authorities will explicitly require any of our consolidated VIEs or subsidiaries of our consolidated VIEs to obtain Internet content provider licenses, or ICP licenses, online data processing and transaction processing licenses, or ODPTP licenses or other value-added telecommunication business licenses, or issue new regulatory requirements to institute a new licensing regime for our industry.

In addition, the Telecommunications Regulations promulgated by the State Council and its related implementation rules, including a catalog issued by the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology, or MIIT, categorize various types of value-added telecommunications services. Under the Telecommunications Regulations, e-commerce operator may be required to obtain an online data processing and transaction processing license, or ODPTP license. Our online shopping mall may be required to obtain ODPTP license.

If such value-added telecommunication business licenses are clearly required in the future, or a new license regime is introduced or new regulatory rules are promulgated, we cannot assure you that we would be able to obtain or maintain any required license or other regulatory approvals in a timely manner, or at all, which would subject us to the sanctions described above or other sanctions as stipulated in the new regulatory rules, and materially and adversely affect our business and impede our ability to continue our operations.

In addition, as certain shareholder of the VIEs has changed his nationality, our consolidated VIEs may be deemed as foreign-invested telecommunications enterprises. Therefore, we are required to reapply for the ICP licenses as foreign-invested telecommunications enterprises. However, we cannot assure you that we will be able to complete such procedure in a timely manner, or even at all. In addition, we cannot assure you that we will be able to comply with these laws and regulations in all respects. We may also be subject to fines, legal or administrative sanctions and other adverse consequences, and may not be able to become in compliance with relevant laws and regulations in a timely manner, or at all. These may materially and adversely affect its business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

If our products and services do not achieve sufficient market acceptance, our financial condition, results of operations and competitive position will be materially and adversely affected.

We intend to broaden the scope of products and services that we offer, while we may not be successful in doing so. New products and services must achieve a certain level of market acceptance in order for it to be economically feasible for us to bear the default risks associated with them and recoup our investment costs in developing and bringing them to market. Our existing or new products and services could fail to attain sufficient market acceptance for many reasons, including:

- our failure to predict market demand accurately and supply attractive and increasingly personalized products and services at appropriate prices and in amount that meet this demand in a timely fashion;

- our existing products and services may cease to be popular among current borrowers and institutional funding partners or prove to be unattractive to prospective borrowers and institutional funding partners;
- our failure to assess risk associated with new products and services and to properly price such products and services;
- negative publicity about our products and services or mobile applications' performance or effectiveness;
- critical assessment taken by regulatory authorities that the launch of new products and services and changes to our existing products and services do not comply with Chinese Mainland laws, regulations or rules applicable to us; and
- the introduction or anticipated introduction of competing offerings by competitors.

If our existing and new products and services do not achieve adequate acceptance in the market, our financial condition, competitive position and results of operations could be harmed.

Increases in market interest rates could negatively affect the amount of loans facilitated by us and cost of funds provided to borrowers.

The total borrowing costs of all loans facilitated by us are fixed, including the fixed service charged by us or our financial institutional cooperators and interest rates charged by our institutional funding partners. If prevailing market interest rates rise, the service fee rates and interest rates of loans we facilitate may rise accordingly, and borrowers may be less likely to accept such adjusted terms. If borrowers decide not to use our products because of such an increase in market interest rates, our ability to retain existing borrowers and engage prospective borrowers as well as our competitive position may be severely impaired. If we are unable to effectively manage such market interest rate risk, our business, profitability, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

Any harm to our brand or reputation or any negative publicity about the parties that we collaborate with may materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Enhancing the recognition and maintaining the reputation of our brand is critical to the current performance and future growth of our business and competitiveness, since this initiative affects our ability to better attract and serve consumers and to maintain and expand our relationship with institutional funding partners. Factors that are vital to this objective include our ability to:

- maintain the effectiveness, quality and reliability of our systems;
- provide consumers with satisfactory services;
- engage a large number of quality borrowers with low delinquency rate;
- improve our credit analysis and risk management system;
- effectively manage and resolve user complaints; and
- effectively protect personal information and privacy of users.

Any malicious or otherwise negative allegation made by the media or other parties about our company group, including our management, business, compliance with law, financial condition, prospects or our historical business operations, whether with or without merit, could severely hurt our reputation and harm our business and results of operations.

In addition, certain factors that may adversely affect our reputation are beyond our control. Negative publicity about parties that we collaborate with in the operation of our business, including negative publicity about any failure by them to adequately protect the information of their users, to comply with applicable laws and regulations or to otherwise meet required quality and service standards, could also harm our reputation or result in negative perception of the products or services we offer. Although we selectively establish collaboration relationships with reliable third parties, we cannot assure you that they will not conduct any unsatisfactory, inappropriate or illegal actions that will damage our reputation and brand, which consequently could cause our business to be harmed.

We have obligations to verify information relating to borrowers and detecting fraud. If we fail to perform such obligations to meet the requirements of relevant laws and regulations, we may be subject to liabilities.

We are an intermediary that connecting institutional funding partners with individual borrowers. Under the PRC Civil Code, an intermediary that intentionally conceals any material information or provides false information in connection with the conclusion of an intermediation contract, which results in harm to the client's interests may not claim for any service fee for its intermediary services, and is liable for any damage incurred by the client. Therefore, if we fail to provide true and accurate information to institutional funding partners in time and in full, and are found to be at fault for failure or deemed failure to exercise proper care, or to conduct adequate information verification or supervision, we could be subject to liabilities as an intermediary under the PRC Civil Code. We do not conceal any material information and intentionally provide false information to institutional funding partners. In addition, we also leverage a large database of past fraud accounts information and sophisticated rule-based detection technology in detecting fraudulent behaviors. Based on new data collected and fraudulent behaviors detected during our daily business operations, we update our database on a monthly basis. Although we believe that we should not bear the credit risk for institutional funding partners as long as we take reasonable measures to detect fraudulent behaviors, we cannot assure you that we would not be subject to any liabilities if we fail to detect any fraudulent behavior. If that were to occur, our results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

We may face regulatory risk as we indirectly charge our borrowers in the manner that our borrowers are not aware

External financing guarantee companies that we cooperate provide guarantee for a number of loans if our borrowers fail to repay. The financing guarantee companies that we cooperate charge borrowers a guarantee fee, a portion of which will be subsequently paid to us by the financing guarantee companies as the service fee for the intermediary service we provide. We cooperated with Shenzhen Xintang(VIE) to provide guarantees for certain loan products that we facilitate in the past. Shenzhen Xintang(VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. We settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang(VIE) in the first quarter of 2023. Shenzhen Xintang(VIE) no longer guarantees any outstanding loan products. In 2023, one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin that holds the financing guarantee license, started the financing guarantee business. In 2024, we expect to deepen our cooperation with other financial institutional cooperators to provide guarantees for the loans that we facilitate in the future. See "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators." The Announcement 3 states that all institutions engaged in loan business shall display annual loan interest rate to borrowers in an obvious way when marketing through websites, mobile applications, posters and other channels and that the annual loan interest rate shall be the ratio, on an annualized basis, of all the loan-related costs charged on the borrower to the loan principal actually occupied. However, our borrowers are not aware of the fact that we actually charge service fees and the manner in which such fees are charged. Therefore, our business practices and the way we collect service fees may be considered by the regulatory authorities as a violation of regulations and we may be subject to administrative penalties. If we were imposed penalties or forced to adjust the way by which we charge fees, there will be an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and operating results.

We finance certain loans offered with our own funds, which may subject us to regulatory risks.

We had partially financed certain undersubscribed loans with our own funds in the past to increase matching rate and enhance borrowers' experiences on our platform. We gradually reduced such practices after August 2016 when the Interim Measures, which prohibits online finance information intermediaries from investing in loans using their own funds unless otherwise stipulated by laws and regulations, was promulgated, and completely ceased such practices in April 2017. As of the date of this annual report, we have not been subject to any fines or other penalties due to the fact that certain historical loans on our platform were partially funded with our own funds before the Interim Measures taking effect but remained outstanding afterwards.

In the past, we initially provided credit using our own funds to our borrowers and subsequently sold the loans including the creditor's rights in the loans to investors on our P2P platform or to institutional funding partners. We completely ceased such practices with investors on our P2P platform in April 2017. We also gradually reduced such practices with banking financial institution partners after December 31, 2017 and completely ceased such practices in February 2018. In our current operation model, certain loans are initially advanced by unaffiliated third parties who will subsequently transfer such loans to us. We, as the intermediary, will when transfer such loans to third parties. While we do not believe that such acquired loans from existing lenders are prohibited under the Interim Measures, we cannot assure you that such practice would not be deemed by the Chinese Mainland authorities as illegal provision of loans to the general public or illegally granting loans without the PBOC's permit, which are prohibited by relevant Chinese Mainland laws and regulations. If such practices were found to violate the Interim Measures or other relevant Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, we might be subject to fines, penalties or other liabilities, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and prospects.

Beginning from late 2018, the local Chinese Mainland governments gradually slowed down its acceptance and review of the application for the registration as an online lending information intermediary as required under the Interim Measures. We made a gradual shift with respect to funding sources from individual investors to institutional funding partners since early 2019 in response to the enhanced regulatory restrictions in the online consumer financing industry. In late December 2019, the government began to implement a regulatory policy encouraging companies that previously applied for the online lending information intermediary registration to obtain an online microcredit company permit instead. This change in policy has an implication that we will be no longer legally allowed to provide intermediary service to individual investors directly. At the end of 2019, we ceased funding our loan products from our individual investors through Xiaoying Wealth Management platform. We actively expanded institutional funding, such as banks, consumer finance companies, trust companies and other institutions, and achieved 100% institutional funding for the new loans facilitated by the end of the second quarter of 2020.

In addition, we have obtained a letter from the Local Financial Regulatory Bureau of Shenzhen Municipality on May 12, 2021, stating the approval of the business qualification of Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) for microcredit business from the relevant local authority and have started our microcredit business in July 2021. As of December 31, 2023, 3.0% of our outstanding loans is funded by our own capital. However, since the regulatory regime and practice with respect to network microcredit companies are evolving in recent years and subject to uncertainties, see “Item 4. Information on the Company—B. Business Overview—Regulations—Regulations Relating to Microcredit,” we cannot assure you that we would not be subject to any rectification requirements or administrative penalties due to any non-compliance, nor can we assure you that we will be able to satisfy rectification requirements, if any, and maintain such license or renew the license. For example, in November 2020, the CBIRC and PBOC released the Interim Measures for the Administration of Network Microcredit Companies Business (Draft) to solicit public comments. The draft measures make it clear that a network microcredit business shall be carried out mainly in the provincial administrative areas to which the entity is registered and shall not be cross-provincial without prior approval. The registered capital of a company operating a network microcredit business within a province shall not be less than RMB1 billion and shall be a one-time paid-in monetary capital. The registered capital of a company operating a network microcredit cross-provinces shall not be less than RMB5 billion and shall be a one-time paid-in monetary capital. The draft measures would establish a three-year transition period, and those operating cross-provincial network microcredit businesses without approval will be phased-out.

We cannot assure you that Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) will be able to maintain or renew its business qualification for microcredit business if the draft measures are implemented. Although we believe that Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) is only a supplementary funding source and we do not intend to rely on it as a major source for funding, if we need to obtain funding from Xiaoying Microcredit but are unable to maintain or renew the business qualification for microcredit business or obtain any other requisite approvals, licenses or permits, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected.

We are subject to risks associated with other parties with which we collaborate. If we cannot effectively cooperate with such other parties or if such other parties fail to perform or provide reliable or satisfactory services, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

We collaborate with certain third parties across various aspects of our business operation, including user acquisition partners, other institutions from which we obtain information for our credit assessment model and risk management system, guarantee providers for certain loans we facilitated and our cloud computing service provider.

These parties may not be able to provide accurate and complete data, sufficiently or timely perform guarantee obligations over the defaulted loans that we facilitated or provide satisfactory services to us, borrowers and institutional funding partners on commercially acceptable terms or at all. Any failure by these parties to continue with good business operations, comply with applicable laws and regulations, in particular, the relevant laws and regulations in collecting and distribution personal information, or any negative publicity on these parties could damage our reputation, expose us to significant penalties and decrease our total revenues and profitability. Also, if we fail to retain existing or attract new quality parties to collaborate with, our ability to retain existing borrowers and institutional funding partners, engage prospective borrowers and institutional funding partners may be severely limited, which may have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, certain of these other parties that we collaborate with have access to our user data to a limited extent in order to provide their services. If these other parties engage in activities that are negligent, illegal or otherwise harmful to the trustworthiness and security of our products or system, including the leak or negligent use of data, or users are otherwise dissatisfied with their service quality, we could suffer reputational harm and experience a decrease in users, even if these activities are not related to, attributable to or caused by us.

In addition, we offer money market products managed by qualified asset management institutions on our platform and provide traffic referral service. Pursuant to the Compliance Checklist, the online lending information intermediaries shall not provide access to financial products offered by other institutions without a prior regulatory permit and shall not advertise such financial products. Due to the lack of detailed implementation rules to the Compliance Checklist, we cannot assure you that our practice will be not deemed as violation of the Compliance Checklist. We may be required to adjust our business practice and our cooperation with third party institutions may be materially and adversely affected.

If our ability to collect delinquent loans is impaired, there is misconduct in payment collection, our business and results of operations might be materially and adversely affected.

We have implemented internal payment and collection policies and practices designed to optimize the repayment process. We also engage several third party collection service providers to assist us with payment collection from time to time. However, we may not receive payments as expected on loans that we facilitate. Upon a borrower's default, we will classify the defaulting borrowers into different risk levels based on the type of loan products, outstanding amount, delinquent days and historical repayment pattern. The third party collection agencies that we engaged will make phone calls, send text messages, in-person visit and claim lawsuits to the defaulting borrower to request repayment. In particular, the third party collection agencies that we engage may not possess adequate resource and manpower to collect payment on and service the loans we facilitated.

If we are unable to provide a high-quality user experience, our reputation and business may be materially and adversely affected.

The success of our business largely depends on our ability to provide a high-quality user experience, which in turn depends on factors such as: (i) our ability to estimate future borrowing requests from our users, (ii) our ability to continue to offer products and services at competitive service fee rates, (iii) our ability to provide a reliable and user-friendly mobile application user interface for users and our ability to further improve and streamline our online loan application and approval process. As of December 31, 2023, most of the transactions were completed through our mobile application. If users are not satisfied with our level of service when we failed to provide sufficient loans to our users, or if our system is severely interrupted or otherwise fails to meet user requests, for example, the users have to wait for days to receive their loan application results or our mobile app is constantly disrupted due to system failure and breakdown, our reputation could be adversely affected and we could fail to maintain user loyalty.

Our ability to provide high-quality user experience also depends on the quality of the products and services provided by our business partners over which we have limited or no control. In the event that a user is dissatisfied with the quality of the products and services provided by our business partners, we do not have any means to directly make improvements in response to user complaints, and our business, reputation, financial performance and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

In addition, we depend on our user service hotline and WeChat online user service center to provide certain services to our users. If our user service representatives fail to provide satisfactory service, or if waiting time is too long due to the high volume of calls from borrowers at peak times, our brands and user loyalty may be adversely affected. In addition, any negative publicity or poor feedback regarding our user service may harm our brands and reputation and in turn cause us to lose users and market share. As a result, if we are unable to continue to maintain or enhance our user experience and provide a high quality user service, we may not be able to retain users or attract prospective users, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Failure to manage our liquidity and cash flows may materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We had positive cash flow from operating activities of RMB449.2 million, RMB322.7 million and RMB798.8 million (US$112.5 million) in 2021, 2022 and 2023, respectively. We cannot guarantee that we will not have negative cash flows in the future. We collect the service fees on a monthly basis and interests on a monthly basis from the borrowers. Inability to collect payments from users, borrowers in particular, in a timely and sufficient manner may adversely affect our liquidity, financial condition and results of operations.

We may need additional capital to accomplish business objectives, pursue business opportunities, and respond to challenges or unforeseen circumstances, and financing may not be available on terms acceptable to us, or at all.

Historically, we have issued equity securities to support the growth of our business. As we intend to continue to make investments to support the growth of our business, we may require additional capital to accomplish our business objectives and pursue business opportunities, and respond to challenges or unforeseen circumstances, including developing new products and services, further enhancing our risk management capabilities, increasing our marketing expenditures to improve brand awareness and enhancing our operating infrastructure. Accordingly, we may need to engage in equity or debt financings to secure additional funds. However, additional funds may not be available when we need them, on terms acceptable to us, or at all. In the event that we obtain debt financing, repayment of debt may divert a substantial portion of cash flow, which would reduce funds available for expenses and payment pursuant to other general corporate purposes.

Volatility in the credit markets may also have an adverse effect on our ability to obtain debt financing. If we raise additional funds through further issuances of equity or convertible debt securities, our existing stockholders could suffer significant dilution, and any new equity securities we issue could have rights, preferences and privileges superior to those of holders our ordinary shares. If we are unable to obtain adequate financing or financing on terms satisfactory to us when it is needed, our ability to continue to accomplish our business objectives and pursue business opportunities, and respond to challenges or unforeseen circumstances could be significantly limited, and our business, operating results, financial condition and prospects could be adversely affected.

Our marketing efforts are critical to our performance and future growth, and if we are unable to promote and maintain our brands in an effective and cost-efficient way, our business and financial results may be harmed.

We believe that developing and maintaining awareness of our brand effectively is critical to attract borrowers and institutional funding partners. This depends largely on the effectiveness of our marketing efforts and the success of the channels we use to promote our platform. If any of our current marketing channels become less effective, if we are unable to continue to use any of these channels, if the cost of using these channels were to significantly increase or if we are not successful in generating new channels, we may not be able to attract new borrowers and institutional funding partners in a cost-effective manner or convert potential borrowers and institutional funding partners into active borrowers and institutional funding partners on our platform.

Our efforts to build our brands may cause us to incur significant expenses. These efforts may not result in increased revenue in the immediate future. Even if they do, any increases in revenue may not offset the expenses incurred. If we fail to successfully promote and maintain our brands while incurring substantial expenses, our results of operations and financial condition would be adversely affected, which may impair our ability to grow our business.

Undetected errors or significant disruption in our IT system, including events beyond our control, could prevent us from offering our products and services, thereby reducing the attractiveness of our products and services and resulting in a loss of borrowers.

Our business and internal systems rely on software and processes that are highly technical and complex. In addition, our business depends on the abilities of these software and processes to store, retrieve, process and manage large amounts of data. The software and processes on which we rely have contained, and may now or in the future contain, errors or bugs. Some errors may only be discovered after the code has been released for external or internal use.

In addition, in the event of a system outage and physical data loss, our ability to provide products and services would be materially and adversely affected. The reliability, availability and satisfactory performance of our technology and our underlying network infrastructure are critical to our operations, user service, reputation and our ability to attract new and retain existing borrowers and institutional funding partners. Our information technology systems infrastructure is currently deployed and our data is currently maintained on customized computing services in Chinese Mainland. Our operations depend on the service provider's ability to protect its and our systems in its facilities against damage or interruption from natural disasters, power or telecommunications failures, air quality issues, environmental conditions, computer viruses or hackers' attempts to harm our systems, criminal acts and other similar events. Moreover, if our arrangement with this service provider is terminated or if there is a lapse of service or damage to their facilities, we could experience interruptions in our service as well as delays and additional expense in providing products and services to our borrowers and institutional funding partners.

Any interruptions or delays in our service, whether as a result of third party error, our error, natural disasters or security breaches, whether willful or not, could harm our reputation and our relationships with borrowers and institutional funding partners. Additionally, in the event of damage or interruption, our insurance policies may not adequately compensate us for any losses that we may incur. We also may not have sufficient capacity to recover all data and services in the event of an outage. These factors could prevent us from processing loan applications and other business operations, damage our brand name and reputation, divert our employees' attention, reduce our revenue, subject us to liability and discourage users from using our products and services, any of which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Misconduct, errors and failure to function by our employees and parties we collaborate with could harm our business and reputation.

We are exposed to the risk of misconduct and errors by our employees and parties that we collaborate with. Our business depends on our employees and/or business partners to interact with users, process large numbers of transactions and support the loan collection process. We could be materially and adversely affected if the transactions were redirected, misappropriated or otherwise improperly executed, if personal information was disclosed to unintended recipients or if an operational breakdown or failure in the processing of transactions occurred, whether as a result of human error, purposeful sabotage or fraudulent manipulation of our operations or systems. It is not always possible to identify and deter misconduct or errors by our employees and other business partners, and the precautions we take to detect and prevent such activities may not be effective in controlling unknown or unmanageable risks or losses. If any of our employees and other business partners misuse or misappropriate funds, commit fraud or other misconduct or fail to follow our rules and procedures when interacting with our users we could be liable for damages and subject to regulatory actions and penalties. We could also be perceived to have facilitated or participated in the illegal misappropriation of funds, documents or data, and therefore be subject to civil or criminal liability. In addition, we have engaged certain third party service providers for loan collection services. Aggressive practices or misconduct by any of our third party service providers in the course of collecting loans could damage our reputation.

Any of these occurrences could result in our diminished ability to operate our business, potential liability to users inability to attract users reputational damage, regulatory intervention and financial harm, which could negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If we are unable to protect the confidential information of our users and adapt to the relevant regulatory framework regarding protection of such information, our business and operations may be adversely affected.

We have access to, store and process certain personal information and other sensitive data from our users and our business partners, which makes us an attractive target and potentially vulnerable to cyber-attacks, computer viruses, physical or electronic break-ins or similar disruptions. We have taken steps to protect confidential information that we have access to, and while we have been targeted previously from cybersecurity attacks, none of which were successful or had a material adverse impact to our operations historically. However, because techniques used to sabotage or obtain unauthorized access to systems change frequently and generally are not recognized until they are launched against a target, we may be unable to anticipate these techniques or to implement adequate preventative measures. Any accidental or willful security breaches or other unauthorized access to our system could cause confidential user information to be stolen and be used for criminal purposes.

We also face indirect technology, cybersecurity and operational risk relating to the third parties upon whom we rely to facilitate or enable our business activities, including, among others, third party online payment service providers who manage accounts for funds. Any cyber-attack, computer viruses, physical or electronic break-ins or similar disruptions of such third party payment service providers could, among other things, adversely affect our ability to serve our users.

Security breaches or unauthorized access to confidential information could expose us to liability related to the loss of information, time-consuming and expensive litigation and negative publicity. If security measures are breached because of third party action, employee error, malfeasance or otherwise, or if design flaws in our technology infrastructure are exposed and exploited, our relationships with users could be severely damaged, we could incur significant liability and our business and operations could be adversely affected.

In addition, Chinese Mainland government authorities have enacted a series of laws and regulations in regard of the protection of personal information, under which internet service providers and other network operators are required to comply with the principles of legality, justification and necessity, to clearly indicate the purposes, methods and scope of any information collection and usage, and to obtain the consent of users, as well as to establish a user information protection system with appropriate remedial measures. We have obtained consent from our users to use their personal information within the scope of authorization and we have taken technical measures to ensure the security of such personal information and to prevent any loss or divergence of personal information from. However, there is uncertainty as to the interpretation and application of such laws. On August 20, 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress promulgated the Personal Information Protection Law of the PRC, or the Personal Information Protection Law, which took effect on November 1, 2021. As the first systematic and comprehensive law specifically for the protection of personal information in the Chinese Mainland, the Personal Information Protection Law provides, among others, that (i) an individual’s consent shall be obtained to use sensitive personal information, (ii) personal information operators using sensitive personal information shall notify individuals of the necessity of such use and impact on the individual’s rights, and (iii) where it is necessary for personal information to be provided by a personal information processor to a recipient outside the territory of the Chinese Mainland due to any business need or any other need, a security assessment organized by the national cyberspace authority shall be passed. If such laws or regulations are to be interpreted and applied in a manner inconsistent with our current policies and practices, changes to the features of our system may be required and additional costs incurred. We cannot assure you that our existing user information protection system and technical measures will be considered sufficient under applicable laws and regulations. If we are unable to address any information protection concerns, or to comply with the then applicable laws and regulations, we may incur additional costs and liability and our reputation, business and operations might be adversely affected. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Regulation—Regulations on Internet Information Security” for details.

On June 1, 2017, the Cybersecurity Law of the PRC became effective. The law requires network products and services providers as we are, among other things, to strictly preserve the secrecy of user information they collect and to store within Chinese Mainland data that is gathered or produced by such network products and services provider in the country. If we are deemed to have violated the law, potential penalties include, depending on the nature of violation, regulatory warning, correction order, forced shut down of our websites, suspension of operation revocation of business licenses, confiscation of illegal gains, and fines imposed on the company ranging from approximately RMB10,000 to RMB1 million or management personnel ranging from approximately RMB5,000 to RMB1 million. On June 10, 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress promulgated the Data Security Law of PRC, or Data Security Law, which took effect on September 1, 2021. The Data Security Law imposes data security and privacy obligations on entities and individuals carrying out data activities, and introduces a data classification and hierarchical protection system. The Data Security Law also provides that the state shall establish a data security review system, where data handling activities that affect or may affect the national security will undergo national security review, and shall implement export controls on certain data. On July 7, 2022, the CAC published the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures that took effect on September 1, 2022 and outline the potential security assessment process for outbound data transfer. Under the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, data processors that provide important data and personal information outbound that are collected or produced through operations within the territory of Chinese Mainland, where a security assessment shall be conducted according to the law, shall apply to the provisions of these Measures. Under the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, data processors providing outbound data shall apply for outbound data transfer security assessment with the CAC in any of the following circumstances: (i) where a data processor provides important data abroad; (ii) where a critical information infrastructure operator or a data processor processing the personal information of more than one million individuals provides personal information abroad; (iii) where a data processor has provided personal information of 100,000 individuals or sensitive personal information of 10,000 individuals in total abroad since January 1 of the previous year; and (iv) other circumstances prescribed by the CAC for which declaration for security assessment for outbound data transfers is required. The Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures also provide procedures for security assessment and submissions, important factors to be considered in conducting assessment, and legal liabilities of a data processor for failure to apply for assessment. On 24 February 2023, the CAC published the Measures for the Standard Contract for Outbound Transfer of Personal Information (the “Measures for the Standard Contract”) and its annexes of Standard Contract for Outbound Transfer of Personal Information (the “Standard Contract”) that took effect on June 1, 2023, and outlined that the domestic personal information processor and the overseas recipient must sign and perform in strict accordance with the terms provided by the CAC, who is the only one to be authorized to amend and modify the Standard Contract and enterprises must not make additional agreements or any other forms of documents that are in conflict with the terms of the Standard Contract that has been established. Under the Measures for the Standard Contract, personal information processors are required to file a recordal of the Standard Contract with the provincial level of cyberspace administration where they are located, within 10 working days from the effective date of the Standard Contract. According to Measures for the Standard Contract, any personal information processor transferring personal information overseas by entering into the Standard Contract shall meet all of the following conditions: (i) it is not a critical information infrastructure operator; (ii) it processes the personal information of less than 1 million individuals; (iii) it has cumulatively transferred abroad the personal information of less than 100,000 individuals since January 1 of the previous year; and (iv) it has cumulatively transferred abroad the sensitive personal information of less than 10,000 individuals since January 1 of the previous year. The Measures for the Standard Contract also provides submitting materials, supplementation or re-filing, grace period, and legal liabilities for breach of the Measures for the Standard Contract.

Due to the relatively new nature of the Cybersecurity Law of the PRC, Data Security Law, Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, and Measures for the Standard Contract as well as the lack of clarification in the statutory law itself as to the circumstances and standard under which the law should apply and violations be found, there are great uncertainties as to the interpretation and application of the law. The law’s vagueness in its own statutory language also indicates that the CAC, the designated government enforcement agency, will have broad latitude to direct how the law is interpreted and enforced, thus creating greater uncertainties with regard to the interpretation and application of the law since the government enforcement agency has yet to provide further guidance on the enforcement mechanism of the law. If we are found to have violated the Cybersecurity Law of the PRC, Data Security Law, Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, and Measures for the Standard Contract in a government enforcement action, we may face severe penalties that may result in monetary losses, losses of access to assets essential for daily operation of our business or for the continuance of service provision, and temporary or total disruption of our business for an extended period of time. In addition, the finding of a violation of the Cybersecurity Law of the PRC, Data Security Law, Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, and Measures for the Standard Contract, even if later repealed, may cause damages to our reputation and our brand name, causing users to lose confidence in our service and to refrain from choosing or continuing to use our products and services. All of these consequences may have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Furthermore, the stringent reporting obligation imposed by the Cybersecurity Law of the PRC, Data Security Law and Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, without a finding of violation, may have a material adverse impact on our business and results of operations. As we are obligated by the laws to inform our users of any security flaw or vulnerability as they are discovered, users may become wary of the existence or frequency of such reports and lose confidence in the security of our system, thus discouraged from choosing or continuing to use our products and services, even though the security flaws or vulnerabilities are readily fixed and overcome.

If we fail to implement and maintain an effective system of internal controls over financial reporting, we may be unable to accurately report our results of operations, meet our reporting obligations or prevent fraud.

We are subject to reporting obligations under the U.S. securities laws. The SEC, as required by Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, adopted rules requiring every public company to include a management report on such company's internal control over financial reporting in its annual report, which contains management's assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting. As we are no longer an emerging growth company, we are subject to the requirement that an independent registered public accounting firm must attest to and report on the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting.

Our management, with the participation of our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, has performed an evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15I under the Exchange Act) and internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) under the Exchange Act) as of the end of the period covered by this annual report, as required by Rule 13a-15(b) through (c) under the Exchange Act. Based upon that evaluation, we determined that the material weaknesses previously identified in our internal control over financial reporting had been fully remedied and our management has concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was effective as of December 31, 2023. Our independent registered public accounting firm, KPMG Huazhen LLP, also attested and reported our internal control over financial reporting. See the attestation report on page F-2 issued by our independent registered public accounting firm for further details.

However, if we fail to maintain effective internal control over financial reporting in the future, we could suffer material misstatements in our financial statements and fail to meet our reporting obligations, which would likely cause investors to lose confidence in our reported financial information. This could in turn limit our access to capital markets, harm our results of operations, and lead to a decline in the trading price of our ADSs. Additionally, ineffective internal control over financial reporting could expose us to increased risk of fraud or misuse of corporate assets and subject us to potential delisting from the stock exchange on which we list, regulatory investigations and civil or criminal sanctions. We may also be required to restate our financial statements from prior periods.

In addition, our internal control over financial reporting will not prevent or detect all errors and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the control system's objectives will be met. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that misstatements due to error or fraud will not occur or that all control issues and instances of fraud will be detected.

We may not be able to prevent unauthorized use of our intellectual property, which could harm our business and competitive position.

We regard our trademarks, domain names, copyrights, know-how, proprietary technologies and similar intellectual properties as critical factors to our success, and we rely on trademark and trade secret law, confidentiality agreement, invention assignment and non-compete agreements with our employees and others to protect our proprietary rights. See "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Intellectual Property" and "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Regulation—Regulations Related to Intellectual Property." However, we cannot assure you that any of our intellectual property rights would not be challenged, invalidated, circumvented or misappropriated, or that such intellectual property will be sufficient to provide us with competitive advantages. Because of the rapid pace of technological development, we cannot assure you that all of our proprietary technologies and similar intellectual property will be patented in a timely or cost-effective manner, or at all. Furthermore, parts of our business rely on technologies developed or licensed by other parties, or co-developed with other parties, and we may not be able to obtain or continue to obtain licenses and technologies from these other parties on reasonable terms, or at all.

It is often difficult to register, maintain and enforce intellectual property rights in Chinese Mainland. Statutory laws and regulations are subject to judicial interpretation and enforcement and may not be applied consistently due to the lack of clear guidance on statutory interpretation. Confidentiality agreement, invention assignment and non-compete agreements may be breached by counterparties, and there may not be adequate remedies available to us for any such breach. Accordingly, we may not be able to effectively protect our intellectual property rights or to enforce our contractual rights in Chinese Mainland. Preventing any unauthorized use of our intellectual property is difficult and costly and the steps we take may be inadequate to prevent the misappropriation of our intellectual property. In the event that we resort to litigation to enforce our intellectual property rights, such litigation could result in substantial litigation costs and a diversion of our managerial and financial resources. We can provide no assurance that we will prevail in such litigation. In addition, our trade secrets may be leaked or otherwise become available to, or be independently discovered by, our competitors. To the extent that our employees or consultants use intellectual property owned by others in their work for us, disputes may arise as to the rights in related know-how and inventions. Any failure in protecting or enforcing our intellectual property rights could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may be subject to intellectual property infringement claims, which may be expensive to defend and may disrupt our business and operations.

We cannot be certain that our operations or any aspects of our business do not or will not infringe upon or otherwise violate trademarks, copyrights, know-how, proprietary technologies or other intellectual property rights held by other parties. We may unknowingly infringe on other parties' trademarks, copyrights, know-how, proprietary technologies or other intellectual property rights through our products and services or other aspects of our business. As a result, we may be subject to legal proceedings and claims relating to the intellectual property rights of others from time to time in the future. Holders of such intellectual property rights may seek to enforce such intellectual property rights against us in Chinese Mainland, the United States or other jurisdictions. If any infringement claims are brought against us, we may be forced to divert management's time and other resources from our business and operations to defend against these claims, regardless of their merits.

Additionally, the interpretation and application of Chinese Mainland's intellectual property right laws and the procedures and standards for protecting trademarks, copyrights, knowhow, proprietary technologies or other intellectual property rights in Chinese Mainland are uncertain and still evolving, and we cannot assure you that Chinese Mainland courts or regulatory authorities would agree with our analysis. If we were found to have violated the intellectual property rights of others, we may be subject to liability for our infringement or may be prohibited from using such intellectual property, and we may incur licensing fees or be forced to develop alternatives of our own. As a result, our business and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

We may be subject to risks related to litigation and regulatory proceedings.

We may be, and in some instances have been, subject to claims, lawsuits (including class actions and individual lawsuits), regulatory and government investigations, and other proceedings relating to intellectual property, consumer protection, privacy, labor and employment, import and export practices, competition, securities, tax, marketing and communications practices, contracts, commercial disputes and various other matters. We may also be subject to claims or lawsuits for infringement or violation of third party intellectual property rights. The number and significance of our legal disputes and inquiries have increased as we have grown larger, as our business has expanded in scope and geographic reach, and as our services have increased in complexity.

Moreover, having become a public company has raised our public profile, which may result in increased litigation as well as increased public awareness of any such litigation. In addition, we may be target of securities class action and derivative lawsuits. We will need to defend against such lawsuits, including any appeals, and we may also initiate legal proceedings to protect our rights and interests. There is substantial uncertainty regarding the scope and application of many of the laws and regulations to which we are subject, which increases the risk that we will be subject to claims alleging violations of those laws and regulations. There can be no assurance that we will prevail in any such cases, and any adverse outcome of these cases could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business and results of operations.

Regardless of the outcome of any particular claim, lawsuit, investigation, dispute or proceeding, any of these types of legal proceedings can have a material and adverse impact on us due to their costs, diversion of our resources, and other factors. We may decide to settle legal disputes on terms that are unfavorable to us. Furthermore, if any litigation to which we are a party is resolved adversely, we may be subject to an unfavorable judgment that we may not choose to appeal or that may not be reversed upon appeal. In addition, the terms of any settlement or judgment in connection with any legal claims, lawsuits, or proceedings may require us to cease some or all of our operations, or pay substantial amounts to the other party and could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Any failure by us, or institutional funding partners or payment service providers to comply with applicable anti-money laundering and anti-terrorist financing laws and regulations could damage our reputation, expose us to significant penalties, and decrease our revenues and profitability.

On September 29, 2018, the PBOC, the CBIRC and CSRC jointly promulgated the Administrative Measures for the Anti-money Laundering and Anti-terrorist Finance of Internet Finance Service Agencies (for Trial Implementation), which further specified that, any Internet finance institutions incorporated upon approval or upon record-filing by applicable regulatory authority, shall report any forms of cash receipts and payments whose transaction value reaches or exceeds RMB50,000 or foreign currency equivalent of US$10,000 on a per-transaction or cumulative basis on a given day, within five working days from the date when such transaction takes place. On August 1, 2021, the PBOC promulgated the Measures for the Supervision and Administration of Anti-money Laundering and Counter-terrorism Financing of Financial Institutions, requiring financial institutions, including non-bank payment institutions and online micro-loan companies, to effectively perform the obligations for anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing. The said obligations include establishing and improving the internal control system for anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing, assessing money laundering and counter-terrorism financing risks, establishing a risk management mechanism compatible with their risk status and business scale, establishing an anti-money laundering information system and setting up or designating a department equipped with corresponding personnel.

We have adopted and implemented various policies and procedures including internal controls and “know-your-customer” procedures, for preventing money laundering and terrorist financing. In addition, we rely on our institutional funding partners and payment service providers to have their own appropriate anti-money laundering policies and procedures. Our institutional funding partners may be subject to anti-money laundering obligations under applicable anti-money laundering laws and regulations and are regulated in that respect by the PBOC. We have adopted commercially reasonable procedures for monitoring our institutional funding partners and payment processors.

As of December 31, 2023, we have not been subject to fines or other penalties, or suffered business or other reputational harm, as a result of actual or alleged money laundering or terrorist financing activities in the past. However, our policies and procedures may not be completely effective in preventing other parties from using us, any of our institutional funding partners, or payment service providers as a conduit for money laundering (including illegal cash operations) or terrorist financing without our knowledge. If we were to be associated with money laundering (including illegal cash operations) or terrorist financing activities, our reputation could suffer and we could become subject to regulatory fines, sanctions, or legal enforcement, including being added to any “blacklists” that would prohibit certain parties from engaging in transactions with us, all of which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Even if we, our institutional funding partners and payment service providers comply with the applicable anti-money laundering laws and regulations, we, our institutional funding partners and payment service providers may not be able to fully eliminate money laundering and other illegal or improper activities in light of the complexity and the secrecy of these activities. Any negative perception of the industry, such as that which might arise from any failure of other online consumer finance platforms to detect or prevent money laundering activities, even if factually incorrect or based on isolated incidents, could tarnish our image, undermine the trust and credibility we have established, and negatively impact our financial condition and results of operations.

We cannot assure you that the anti-money laundering policies and procedures we have adopted will be deemed to be in compliance with applicable anti-money laundering implementation rules if and when adopted.

From time to time we may evaluate and potentially consummate strategic investments, acquisitions or international expansion, which could require significant management attention, disrupt our business and adversely affect our financial results.

We may evaluate and consider strategic investments, combinations, acquisitions or alliances with other businesses or international expansion to further better serve borrowers and enhance our competitive position. These transactions could have a material impact on our financial condition and results of operations if consummated. Even if we are able to identify an appropriate business opportunity, we may not be able to successfully consummate the transaction and, even if we do consummate such a transaction, we may be unable to obtain the benefits or avoid the difficulties and risks of such transaction, which may result in investment losses. In addition, we made certain investments through nominee arrangements where we have appointed nominees as registered shareholders of certain investee companies, as we currently do not qualify under certain regulatory financial requirements to be registered as a shareholder of such investee companies. While we believe such investments and the nominee arrangements reflect the true intentions of us and the respective business partners, and are therefore legal and valid under PRC Civil Code, we cannot assure you that the Chinese Mainland courts or other regulators would hold the same view as ours, and such investments may not have the same effect as direct shareholding ownership in the investee companies where our nominee shareholders may fail to perform their respective obligations under the nominee arrangements, such as, among others, to vote on the shareholders' meetings per our instructions, or to transfer all dividends obtained from such companies to us on a timely manner.

Strategic investments, acquisitions or international expansion will involve risks commonly encountered in business relationships, including:

- difficulties in assimilating and integrating the operations, personnel, systems, data, technologies, products and services of the acquired business;
- inability of the acquired technologies, products or businesses to achieve expected levels of revenue, profitability, productivity or other benefits including the failure to successfully further develop the acquired technology;
- difficulties in retaining, training, motivating and integrating key personnel;
- diversion of management's time and resources from our normal daily operations and potential disruptions to our ongoing businesses;
- difficulties in maintaining uniform standards, controls, procedures and policies within the combined organizations;
- difficulties in retaining relationships with our platform users, employees and other partners of the acquired business;
- risks of entering markets in which we have limited or no prior experience;
- regulatory risks, including remaining in good standing with existing regulatory bodies or receiving any necessary pre-closing or post-closing approvals, as well as being subject to new regulators with oversight over the acquired business;
- assumption of contractual obligations that contain terms that are not beneficial to us, require us to license or waive intellectual property rights or increase our risk for liability;
- liability for activities of the acquired business before the acquisition, including intellectual property infringement claims, violations of laws, commercial disputes, tax liabilities and other known and unknown liabilities; and
- unexpected costs and unknown risks and liabilities associated with strategic investments or acquisitions.

We may not make any investments, acquisitions or international expansion, or, alternatively, any future investments, acquisitions or international expansion may not be successful, may not benefit our business strategy, may not generate sufficient revenues to offset the associated acquisition costs or may not otherwise result in the intended benefits.

Our business depends on the continued efforts of our senior management and key technology development personnel. If one or more of our key executives or key technology development personnel were unable or unwilling to continue in their present positions, our business may be severely disrupted.

Our business operations depend on the continued services of our senior management and key technology development personnel. In particular, Mr. Yue (Justin) Tang, our founder, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Kan (Kent) Li, our president, Mr. Frank Fuya Zheng, our Chief Financial Officer and Mr. Yufan (Jason) Jiang, our Chief Risk Officer are critical to the management of our business and operations and the development of our strategic direction. While we have provided different incentives to our management and key technology development personnel, we cannot assure you that we can continue to retain their services. If one or more of our key executives or key technology development personnel were unable or unwilling to continue in their present positions, we may not be able to replace them easily or at all, our future growth may be constrained, our business may be severely disrupted and our financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected, and we may incur additional expenses to recruit, train and retain qualified personnel. In addition, we have entered into confidentiality and non-competition agreements with our management, there is no assurance that any member of our management team and technology development team will not join our competitors or form a competing business. If any dispute arises between our current or former officers or key technology development personnel and us, we may have to incur substantial costs and expenses in order to enforce such agreements in Chinese Mainland or we may be unable to enforce them at all.

Competition for employees is intense, and we may not be able to attract and retain the qualified and skilled employees needed to support our business.

We believe our success depends on the efforts and talent of our employees, primarily including technology development, financial products, risk management, general management and sales and marketing. Our future success depends on our continued ability to attract, develop, motivate and retain qualified and skilled employees. It is competitive to attract and retain skilled talent with expertise in technology, risk management, and general management. We may not be able to hire and retain these personnel at compensation levels consistent with our existing compensation and salary structure. Some of the companies with which we compete for experienced employees have greater resources than we have and may be able to offer more attractive terms of employment.

In addition, we invest significant time and resources in the training of our employees, which increases their value to competitors who may seek to recruit them. If we fail to retain our employees, we could incur significant expenses in hiring and training their replacements, and the quality of our services and our ability to serve users could diminish, resulting in a material adverse effect to our business.

If we grant employees stock options or other equity incentives in the future, our net income could be adversely affected.

We granted incentives and rewards to employees and executives under our share incentive plan. We are required to account for share-based compensation in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation, which generally requires a company to recognize, as an expense, the fair value of stock options and other equity incentives to employees based on the fair value of equity awards on the date of the grant, with the compensation expense recognized over the period in which the recipient is required to provide service in exchange for the equity award. As of December 31, 2023, holders of our outstanding options and other equity incentives were entitled to purchase a total of 20,113,468 ordinary shares. As a result, we incurred share-based compensation expense of RMB42.6 million (US$6.0 million) during the year ended December 31, 2023. If we grant more options or other equity incentives in the future, we could incur significant compensation charges and our results of operations could be adversely affected.

Increase in labor costs in the Chinese Mainland may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

In recent years, the Chinese Mainland's economy has experienced labor costs increases. Average wages are projected to continue to increase. Further, under Chinese Mainland law we are required to pay various statutory employee benefits, including pension, housing fund, medical insurance, work-related injury insurance, unemployment insurance and maternity insurance to designated government agencies for the benefit of our employees. The relevant government agencies may examine whether an employer has made adequate payments to the statutory employee benefits, and those employers who fail to make adequate payments may be subject to late payment fees, fines and/or other penalties. We expect that our labor costs, including wages and employee benefits, will continue to increase. If we are unable to control our labor costs or pass such increased labor costs on to our users by increasing the fees of our services, our financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

We do not have any business insurance coverage for our operations.

Insurance companies in Chinese Mainland currently do not offer as extensive an array of insurance products as insurance companies in more developed economies. Currently, we do not have any business liability or disruption insurance to cover our operations. We have determined that the costs of insuring these risks and the difficulties associated with acquiring such insurance on commercially reasonable terms make it impractical for us to have such insurance. Any uninsured business disruptions may result in substantial costs and the diversion of resources, which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

We are subject to the risk of a severe or prolonged downturn in the Chinese or global economy and deterioration of credit profiles of borrowers, which may materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition.

The global macroeconomic environment is facing challenges, including the economic slowdown in the Eurozone since 2014, potential impact of the United Kingdom's exit from the European Union on January 31, 2020, and the adverse impact on the global economies and financial markets as the COVID-19 outbreak evolved into a worldwide health crisis in 2020. The growth of the Chinese Mainland economy has slowed down since 2012 compared to the previous decade and the trend may continue. There is considerable uncertainty over the long-term effects of the monetary and fiscal policies adopted by the central banks and financial authorities of some of the world's leading economies, including the United States and China. There have been concerns over unrest and terrorist threats in the Middle East, Europe and Africa and over the conflicts involving Ukraine, Syria and North Korea. Recently, the Russia-Ukraine conflict has caused, and continues to intensify, significant geopolitical tensions in Europe and across the world. There have also been concerns on the relationship among China and other Asian countries and the trade disputes between the United States and China. The ongoing trade tensions between the United States and China may have tremendous negative impact on the economies of not merely the two countries concerned, but the global economy as a whole. It is unclear whether these challenges and uncertainties will be contained or resolved, and what effects they may have on the global political and economic conditions in the long term. If economic conditions deteriorate, we may face increased risk of default or delinquency of borrowers, which will result in lower returns or losses. In the event that the creditworthiness of our borrowers deteriorates or we cannot track the deterioration of their creditworthiness, the criteria we use for the analysis of borrower credit profiles may be rendered inaccurate, and our risk management system may be subsequently rendered ineffective. This in turn may lead to higher default rates and adverse impacts on our reputation, business, results of operations and financial positions.

Economic conditions in China are sensitive to global economic conditions, changes in domestic economic and political policies, and the expected or perceived overall economic growth rate in China. While the economy in China has grown significantly over the past decades, growth has been uneven, both geographically and among various sectors of the economy, and the rate of growth has been slowing in recent years. Although growth of China's economy remained relatively stable, there is a possibility that China's economic growth may materially decline in the near future. Any severe or prolonged slowdown in the global or Chinese Mainland economy may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The offering of our products and services depends on effective use of mobile operating systems and distribution through mobile application stores, which we do not control.

We facilitate most of loans through our mobile applications. We may need to devote significant resources to support and maintain of such applications. The mobile applications are dependent on the interoperability of popular mobile operating systems that we do not control, such as Android and iOS. Any changes in such systems that degrade the accessibility of our mobile applications or give preferential treatment to competing products and services could adversely affect the usability of our mobile applications. In addition, we rely upon third party mobile application stores for users to download our mobile applications. As such, the distribution, operation and maintenance of our mobile applications are subject to application stores' standard terms and policies for application developers.

Our future growth and results of operations could suffer if we experience difficulties in the future in offering our products and services through our mobile applications, or if we face increased costs to distribute our mobile applications. If it becomes increasingly difficult for our users to access and utilize our products and services on their mobile devices, or if the prevailing mobile operating systems do not support our mobile applications, our business and financial condition and operating results may be adversely affected.

Our operations depend on the performance of the Internet infrastructure and fixed telecommunications networks in Chinese Mainland.

Almost all access to the Internet in Chinese Mainland is maintained through state-owned telecommunication operators under the administrative control and regulatory supervision of the MIIT. We primarily rely on a limited number of telecommunication service providers to provide it with data communications capacity through local telecommunications lines and Internet data centers to host its servers. We may have limited access to alternative networks or services in the event of disruptions, failures or other problems with Chinese Mainland's Internet infrastructure or the fixed telecommunications networks provided by telecommunication service providers. With the expansion of our business, we may be required to upgrade our technology and infrastructure to keep up with increasing traffic. We cannot assure you that our cloud computing service provider and the underlying Internet infrastructure and the fixed telecommunications networks in Chinese Mainland will be able to support the demand associated with the continued growth in Internet usage. In addition, we have no control over the costs of the services provided by telecommunication service providers which in turn, may affect our costs of using customized cloud computing services. If the prices we pay for customized cloud computing services rise significantly, our results of operations may be adversely affected. Furthermore, if Internet access fees or other charges to Internet users increase, our user traffic may decline and our business may be harmed.

Risks Relating to Our Corporate Structure

We do not have direct ownership of some of our operating entities in Chinese Mainland, but exercise control over the operating activities that most impact the economic performance, bear the risks of, enjoys the rewards normally associated with ownership of the entity, and consolidate the financial results of the VIEs in our consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP through contractual arrangements with the VIEs and its shareholders, which may not be effective in providing control over our operating entities.

We do not have direct ownership of some of our operating entities in Chinese Mainland, but through contractual arrangements (the "VIE Agreements"), we exercise control over the operating activities that most impact the economic performance, bears the risks of, and enjoys the rewards normally associated with ownership of the entity. As a result, through such contractual arrangements with the VIEs and their shareholders, we are the primary beneficiary of the VIEs, and, therefore, consolidate the financial results of the VIEs in our consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP 31% of our current revenue is derived from our VIEs in Chinese Mainland. To comply with Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, we do not have an equity ownership interest in our VIEs but rely on the VIE Agreements with VIEs to control and operate their businesses. However, as discussed below, these VIE Agreements may not be effective from Chinese Mainland laws in providing us with the necessary control over VIEs and their operations. Any deficiency in these VIE Agreements may result in our loss of control over the management and operations of VIEs, which will result in a significant loss in the value of an investment in the Company. Because of the practical restrictions on direct foreign equity ownership imposed by the Chinese Mainland government authorities, we must rely on contractual rights through our VIE structure to effect control over and management of VIEs, which exposes us to the risk of potential breach of contract by the shareholders of VIEs. For further description about our VIE Agreements, please see "4.C. Organizational Structure - Contractual Arrangements with Consolidated VIEs and Their Shareholders."

Because we are an offshore holding company and our business was conducted through the VIE Agreements with our VIEs in Chinese Mainland, if the Chinese Mainland government deems that the contractual arrangements in relation to our consolidated VIEs do not comply with Chinese Mainland regulatory restrictions on foreign investment in the relevant industries, or if these regulations or the interpretation of existing regulations change in the future, we could be subject to severe penalties or be forced to relinquish our interests in those operations.

We are an offshore holding company incorporated in the Cayman Islands. As a holding company with no material operations, our operations were conducted in Chinese Mainland by our subsidiaries and through the VIE Agreements with our VIEs in Chinese Mainland, the equity of which is owned by Xiaoying (Beijing) Information Technology Co., Ltd., or Beijing WFOE, through the VIE Agreements, as a result of which, under United States generally accepted accounting principles, the assets and liabilities of the VIEs are treated as our assets and liabilities and the results of operations of VIEs are treated in all respects as if they were the results of our operations. The Chinese Mainland government regulates telecommunications-related businesses through strict business licensing requirements and other government regulations. These laws and regulations also include limitations on foreign ownership of Chinese Mainland companies that engage in telecommunications-related businesses. Specifically, foreign investors are not allowed to own more than 50% equity interest in any Chinese Mainland company engaging in value-added telecommunications businesses (except for e-commerce, domestic multi-party communication, store-and-forward and call center services). The primary foreign investor must also have operating experience and a good track record in providing value-added telecommunications services, or VATS, overseas. On March 29, 2022, the Decision of the State Council on Revising and Repealing Certain Administrative Regulations, which took effect on May 1, 2022, was promulgated to amend certain provisions of regulations including the Provisions on the Administration of Foreign-Invested Telecommunications Enterprises (2016 Revision), the requirement for major foreign investor to demonstrate a good track record and experience in operating value-added telecommunications businesses is deleted.

Because we are an exempted company incorporated with limited liability in the Cayman Islands, we are classified as a foreign enterprise under Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, and our wholly-owned Chinese Mainland subsidiary, Xiaoying (Beijing) Information Technology Co., Ltd., or Beijing WFOE, is a foreign-invested enterprise, or an FIE. To comply with the current Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, we conduct our business in Chinese Mainland through our certain consolidated VIEs and their affiliates. Beijing WFOE has entered into a series of contractual arrangements with our consolidated VIEs and their shareholders. For a description of these contractual arrangements, see “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.C. Organizational Structure—Contractual Arrangements with Consolidated VIEs and their Shareholders.” As certain shareholder of the VIEs has changed his nationality, our consolidated VIEs may be deemed as foreign-invested telecommunications enterprises. Therefore, we are required to reapply for the ICP licenses as foreign-invested telecommunications enterprises. However, we cannot assure you that we will be able to complete such procedure in a timely manner, or even at all. In addition, we cannot assure you that we will be able to comply with these laws and regulations in all respects. We may also be subject to fines, legal or administrative sanctions and other adverse consequences, and may not be able to become in compliance with relevant laws and regulations in a timely manner, or at all. These may materially and adversely affect its business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

The Guideline No.2 on the Application of Regulatory Rules on Overseas Securities Offerings and Listings, or the Guideline No.2, as one of the supporting guidelines for the Trial Measures, provides that the filing documents submitted to the CSRC shall specify, among other things: (i) whether the issuer’s business, licenses or qualifications are not allowed to be controlled by way of contractual arrangements by Chinese Mainland laws, administrative regulations or relevant provisions; (ii) whether the domestic operating entities controlled by way of contractual arrangements are subject to any restricted or prohibited industries for foreign investments. The officials from the CSRC clarified at the press conference held for the Trial Measures on February 17, 2023 that, the CSRC will solicit opinions from relevant regulatory authorities and complete the filing of the overseas listing of companies with VIE structure which duly meet the compliance requirements. Uncertainty still remains on how such rules will be interpreted and implemented, including the Regulations on Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors, or the M&A Rules, the Trial Measures, and the Telecommunications Regulations and the relevant regulatory measures concerning the telecommunications industry, there can be no assurance that how the Chinese Mainland government authorities, such as the Ministry of Commerce, or the MOFCOM, the MIIT, the CSRC or other authorities that regulate online consumer finance platforms and other participants in the telecommunications industry, would ultimately take a view of our corporate structure or any of the above contractual arrangements, with existing policies or with requirements or policies that may be adopted in the future. Chinese Mainland laws and regulations governing the validity of these contractual arrangements are uncertain and the relevant government authorities have broad discretion in interpreting these laws and regulations.

If our corporate structure and contractual arrangements are deemed by the MIIT or the MOFCOM or other regulators having competent authority to be illegal, either in whole or in part, we may lose control of our consolidated VIEs and may have to modify such structure to comply with regulatory requirements. However, there can be no assurance that we can achieve this without material disruption to our business. Further, if our corporate structure and contractual arrangements are found to be in violation of any existing or future Chinese Mainland laws or regulations, the relevant regulatory authorities would have broad discretion in dealing with such violations, including:

- revoking our business and operating licenses;
- levying fines on us;
- confiscating any of our income that they deem to be obtained through illegal operations;
- shutting down our services;
- discontinuing or restricting our operations in Chinese Mainland;
- imposing conditions or requirements with which we may not be able to comply;
- requiring us to change our corporate structure and contractual arrangements;
- restricting or prohibiting our use of the proceeds from overseas offerings to finance our Chinese Mainland consolidated VIEs' business and operations;
- requiring us to delist from the NYSE; and
- taking other regulatory or enforcement actions that could be harmful to our business.

Furthermore, new Chinese Mainland laws, rules and regulations may be introduced to impose additional requirements that may be applicable to our corporate structure and contractual arrangements. See “Item 3. Key Information—D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Corporate Structure—Our business may be significantly affected by the newly enacted Chinese Mainland Foreign Investment Law, and its enactment may materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition.” Occurrence of any of these events could materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition and results of operations. In addition, if the imposition of any of these penalties or requirements to restructure our corporate structure causes us to lose the right to direct the activities of our consolidated VIEs or our right to receive their economic benefits, we would no longer be able to consolidate the financial results of such VIEs in our consolidated financial statements. If our corporate structure and contractual arrangements are deemed to be illegal by relevant regulators, our business and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected and the price of our ADSs may decline. However, we do not believe that such actions would result in the liquidation or dissolution of the Company, our wholly-owned subsidiaries in Chinese Mainland or our consolidated VIEs or their subsidiaries. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.C. Organizational Structure—Contractual Arrangements with Consolidated VIEs and their Shareholders.”

We do not hold equity interests in the VIEs. We rely on contractual arrangements with our consolidated VIEs and their shareholders to operate our business, which may not be as effective as direct ownership in providing operational control and may have potential conflicts of interests with us. If the Chinese Mainland government determines that the VIE Agreements do not comply with Chinese Mainland regulations, or if these regulations change or are interpreted differently in the future, our ADSs may decline in value or become worthless if the determinations, changes, or interpretations result in our inability to assert contractual control over the assets of our VIEs that conduct all or substantially all of our operations.

We have equity interests in Beijing WFOE, Shenzhen Puhui, and Shenzhen Xiaoying IT, however, neither we nor our subsidiaries own any equity interests in the VIEs. We control and receive the economic benefits of the VIEs' business operation through the VIE Agreements. To comply with Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, we do not have an equity ownership interest in our VIEs but rely on the VIE Agreements with VIEs to control and operate our business. X Financial's control over the VIEs and X Financial's position of being the primary beneficiary of the VIEs for the accounting purposes are limited to the conditions that X Financial met for consolidation of the VIEs under U.S. GAAP. Such conditions include that (i) X Financial controls VIEs through power to govern the activities which most significantly impact the VIEs' economic performance, (ii) X Financial is contractually obligated to absorb losses of VIEs that could potentially be significant to VIEs, and (iii) X Financial is entitled to receive benefits from VIEs that could potentially be significant to VIEs. Only if X Financial meets the aforementioned conditions for consolidation of the VIEs under U.S. GAAP, X Financial will be deemed as the primary beneficiary of the VIEs, and the VIEs will be treated as X Financial's consolidated affiliated entities for accounting purposes.

For a description of these contractual arrangements, see "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.C. Organizational Structure—Contractual Arrangements with Consolidated VIEs and Their Shareholders." A significant portion of our revenue is attributed to our consolidated VIEs. These contractual arrangements may not be as effective as direct ownership in providing us with control over our consolidated VIEs. If our consolidated VIEs or their shareholders fail to perform their respective obligations under these contractual arrangements, our recourse to the assets held by our consolidated VIEs is indirect and we may have to incur substantial costs and expend significant resources to enforce such arrangements in reliance on legal remedies under Chinese Mainland law. These remedies may not always be effective, particularly in light of uncertainties in the Chinese Mainland legal system. Furthermore, in connection with litigation, arbitration or other judicial or dispute resolution proceedings, assets under the name of any of the record holders of equity interest in our consolidated VIEs, including such equity interest, may be put under court custody. The validity of the VIE Agreements has not been tested in the Chinese Mainland jurisdiction. These VIE Agreements may not be enforceable in Chinese Mainland if Chinese Mainland government authorities or courts take a view that such VIE Agreements contravene Chinese Mainland laws and regulations or are otherwise not enforceable for public policy reasons. In the event we are unable to enforce these VIE Agreements, we may not be able to exert effective control over the VIEs, and our ability to conduct our business may be materially and adversely affected. As a consequence, our ADSs may decline in value or become worthless if the determinations, changes, or interpretations result in our inability to assert contractual control over the assets of our VIEs that conduct all or substantially all of our operations.

All of these contractual arrangements are governed by Chinese Mainland law and provide for the resolution of disputes through arbitration in the Chinese Mainland. Accordingly, these contracts would be interpreted in accordance with Chinese Mainland laws and any disputes would be resolved in accordance with Chinese Mainland legal procedures. And X Financial could face heightened risks and substantial costs in enforcing these contractual arrangements, because, although contractual arrangements similar to the VIE Agreements have been widely adopted by Chinese Mainland companies seeking for listing aboard, such arrangements have not been tested in any of the Chinese Mainland courts and there remain significant uncertainties in this regard. The legal environment in the Chinese Mainland is not as developed as in other jurisdictions, such as the United States. As a result, uncertainties in the Chinese Mainland legal system could limit our ability to enforce these contractual arrangements. In the event that we are unable to enforce these contractual arrangements, or if we suffer significant time delays or other obstacles in the process of enforcing these contractual arrangements, it would be very difficult to exert effective control over our consolidated VIEs, and our ability to conduct our business and our financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. See "Item 3. Key Information—D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Doing Business in Chinese Mainland—Uncertainties with respect to the Chinese Mainland legal system, including uncertainties regarding the enforcement of laws, and sudden or unexpected changes in laws and regulations in Chinese Mainland could adversely affect us and limit the legal protections available to you and us."

In connection with our operations in Chinese Mainland, we rely on the shareholders of our consolidated VIEs to fulfill by the obligations under such contractual arrangements. The interests of these shareholders in their individual capacities as shareholders of our consolidated VIEs may differ from the interests of the Company as a whole, as what is in the best interests of our consolidated VIEs, including matters such as whether to distribute dividends or to make other distributions to fund our offshore requirement, may not be in the best interests of the Company. There can be no assurance that when conflicts of interest arise, any or all of these individuals or entities will act in the best interests of the Company or that those conflicts of interest will be resolved in our favor. In addition, these individuals and entities may breach or cause our consolidated VIEs and their subsidiaries to breach or refuse to renew the existing contractual arrangements with us.

Currently, we do not have arrangements that address potential conflicts of interest shareholders of our consolidated VIEs may encounter due to their dual roles as shareholders of consolidated VIEs and as beneficial owners of the Company. However, we could, at all times, exercise our option under the exclusive call option agreement to cause them to transfer all of their equity ownership in our consolidated VIEs to a Chinese Mainland entity or individual designated by us as permitted by the then applicable Chinese Mainland laws. In addition, if such conflicts of interest arise, we could also, in the capacity of attorney-in-fact of the then existing shareholders of our consolidated VIEs as provided under the powers of attorney, directly appoint new directors of our consolidated VIEs. We rely on the shareholders of our consolidated VIEs to comply with Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, which protect contracts, and to provide that directors and executive officers owe a duty of loyalty to the Company and require them to avoid conflicts of interest and not to take advantage of their positions for personal gains, and with the laws of the Cayman Islands, which provide that directors have a duty of care and a duty of loyalty to act honestly in good faith with a view to our best interests. However, the legal frameworks of Chinese Mainland and the Cayman Islands do not provide guidance on resolving conflicts in the event of a conflict with another corporate governance regime. If we cannot resolve any conflicts of interest or disputes between us and the shareholders of our consolidated VIEs, we would have to rely on legal proceedings, which could result in disruption of our business and subject us to substantial uncertainty as to the outcome of any such legal proceedings.

Our corporate actions will be substantially controlled by Mr. Yue (Justin) Tang, who will have the ability to control or exert significant influence over important corporate matters that require approval of shareholders, which may deprive you of an opportunity to receive a premium for your ADSs and materially reduce the value of your investment.

Mr. Yue (Justin) Tang, our Chief Executive Officer, beneficially owns all of the Class B ordinary shares issued and outstanding, representing 36.79% of our total issued and outstanding share capital and 91.32% of our aggregate voting power as of March 31, 2024. As a result, he will have the ability to control or exert significant influence over important corporate matters and investors may be prevented from influencing important corporate matters involving the Company that require approval of shareholders, including:

- the composition of our board of directors and, through the voting of the board of directors, any determinations with respect to our operations, business direction and policies, including the appointment and removal of officers;
- any determinations with respect to mergers or other business combinations;
- our disposition of all or substantially all of our assets; and
- any change in control.

These actions may be taken even if they are opposed by our other shareholders, including the holders of the ADSs. Furthermore, this concentration of ownership may also discourage, delay or prevent a change in control of the Company, which could deprive our shareholders of an opportunity to receive a premium for their shares as part of a sale of the Company and reducing the price of the ADSs. As a result of the foregoing, the value of your investment could be materially reduced.

If the custodians or authorized users of our controlling nontangible assets, including chops and seals, fail to fulfill their responsibilities, misappropriate or misuse these assets, our business and operations may be materially and adversely affected.

Under Chinese Mainland law, legal documents for corporate transactions, including agreements and contracts such as the leases and sales contracts that our business relies on, are executed using the chop or seal of the signing entity or with the signature of a legal representative whose designation is registered and filed with the relevant local branch of the SAIC. We generally execute legal documents by affixing chops or seals, rather than having the designated legal representatives sign the documents.

We have three major types of chops—corporate chops, contract chops and finance chops. We use corporate chops generally for documents to be submitted to government agencies, such as applications for changing business scope, directors or company name, and for legal letters. We use contract chops for executing leases and commercial contracts. We use finance chops generally for making and collecting payments, including issuing invoices. Generally all contracts are required to undergo review and obtain approval from our legal department prior to being officially sealed and executed. Use of corporate chops and contract chops must be approved by our administrative department, and use of finance chops must be approved by our finance department. The chops of our subsidiaries and consolidated VIEs are generally held by the relevant entities so that documents can be executed locally. Although we usually utilize chops to execute contracts, the registered legal representatives of our subsidiaries and consolidated VIEs have the apparent authority to enter into contracts on behalf of such entities without chops, unless such contracts set forth otherwise.

In order to maintain the physical security of our chops, we generally have them stored in secured locations accessible only to the designated key employees of our administrative or finance departments. Our designated legal representatives generally do not have access to the chops. Although we have approval procedures in place and mechanisms to monitor our key employees, including the designated legal representatives of our subsidiaries and consolidated VIEs, the procedures may not be sufficient to prevent all instances of abuse or negligence. There is a risk that our key employees or designated legal representatives could abuse their authority, for example, by binding our subsidiaries and consolidated VIEs with contracts against our interests, as we would be obligated to honor these contracts if the other contracting party acts in good faith in reliance on the apparent authority of our chops or signatures of our legal representatives. If any designated legal representative obtains misappropriates the chop in an effort to obtain control over the relevant entity, we would need to have a shareholder or board resolution to designate a new legal representative and to take legal actions to seek the return of the chop, apply for a new chop with the relevant authorities, or otherwise seek legal remedies for the legal representative's misconduct. If any of the designated legal representatives obtains, misuses or misappropriates our chops and seals or other controlling intangible assets for whatever reason, we could experience disruption to our normal business operations. We may have to take corporate or legal action, which could involve significant time and resources expenses while distracting management from our operations, and our business and operations may be materially and adversely affected.

Our business may be significantly affected by the newly enacted PRC Foreign Investment Law, and its enactment may materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition.

On March 15, 2019, the National People's Congress promulgated the PRC Foreign Investment Law, which took effect on January 1, 2020 and replaced the existing laws regulating foreign investment in Chinese Mainland, namely, the PRC Equity Joint Venture Law, the PRC Cooperative Joint Venture Law and the Wholly Foreign-owned Enterprise Law, together with their implementation rules and ancillary regulations. Meanwhile, the Regulations for the Implementation of the Foreign Investment Law, or the FIL Implementations, came into effect on January 1, 2020, which clarified and elaborated the relevant provisions of the Foreign Investment Law.

Since the Foreign Investment Law and the FIL Implementations are newly enacted, there is still uncertainties in relation to its interpretation and implementation. The PRC Foreign Investment Law have revised the definition of "foreign investment" and removed all references to the definitions of "actual control" or "variable interest entity structure" under the 2015 Draft Foreign Investment Law. Instead, the PRC Foreign Investment Law stipulates that foreign investment includes "foreign investors invest in China through other methods under laws, administrative regulations, or provisions prescribed by the State Council". Therefore, there are still possibilities that future laws, administrative regulations or provisions of the State Council may deem contractual arrangements as a way of foreign investment. There can be no assurance that our contractual arrangements will not be deemed to be in violation of the market access requirements for foreign investment under the Chinese Mainland laws and regulations. Once an entity falls within the definition of foreign investment entity, it may be subject to foreign investment "restrictions" or "prohibitions" set forth in a "negative list" to be separately issued by the State Council later. If a foreign investment entity proposes to conduct business in an industry subject to foreign investment "restrictions" in the "negative list," it must go through a pre-approval process.

The most updated negative list, issued on December 27, 2021 and became effective on January 1, 2022, stipulates that any Chinese Mainland domestic enterprise engaging in the fields prohibited by the negative list shall obtain the consent of the relevant competent Chinese Mainland authorities for overseas listing, and the foreign investors shall not participate in the operation and management of such enterprise, and the shareholding percentage of the foreign investors in such enterprise shall be subject to the relevant administrative provisions of Chinese Mainland domestic securities investment by foreign investors. Such negative list does not further elaborate whether existing overseas listed enterprise will be subject to such requirements. The staff of the NDRC addressed in an interview on December 27, 2021 that certain existing overseas listed enterprises whose foreign investors' shareholding percentage exceed the aforementioned threshold are not required to make adjustment or deduction. If any of the businesses that we operate were in the "restricted" category on the "negative list," and the enacted version of the PRC Foreign Investment Law and the final "negative list" mandate further actions to be taken by us, such as a pre-approval process, there is no assurance that we can obtain such pre-approval on a timely basis, or at all. Such determination would materially and adversely affect the value of our ADSs, and such further actions required to be taken by us under the newly enacted PRC Foreign Investment Law may materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition. Furthermore, if future laws, administrative regulations or provisions mandate further actions to be taken by companies with respect to existing contractual arrangements, we may face substantial uncertainties as to whether we can complete such actions in a timely manner, or at all.

In addition, the PRC Foreign Investment Law provides a five-year period for the existing foreign invested enterprises established according to the existing laws regulating foreign investment to maintain their structure and corporate governance after the implementation of the PRC Foreign Investment Law. Thus we may be required to adjust the structure and corporate governance of certain of our Chinese Mainland entities after the expiration of such period. Failure to take timely and appropriate measures to cope with any of these or similar regulatory compliance challenges could materially and adversely affect our current corporate structure, corporate governance and business operations.

Contractual arrangements in relation to our variable interest entities, may be subject to scrutiny by the Chinese Mainland tax authorities and they may determine that we, or our variable interest entities and their subsidiaries, owe additional taxes, which could negatively affect our financial condition and the value of your investment.

Under applicable Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, arrangements and transactions among related parties may be subject to audit or challenge by the Chinese Mainland tax authorities. The Chinese Mainland enterprise income tax law and regulations require enterprises that conduct related party transactions to prepare transfer pricing documentations to demonstrate the basis of determining the price, the computation methodology and detailed explanations. The tax authorities may impose reasonable adjustments on taxation if they have identified any related party transactions that are inconsistent with arm's length principles after they conducted tax inspection. We may face material and adverse tax consequences if the Chinese Mainland tax authorities determine that the contractual arrangements among our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, our variable interest entities and their shareholders were not entered into on an arm's length basis in such a way as to result in an impermissible reduction in taxes under applicable Chinese Mainland laws, regulations and rules, and adjust income of our variable interest entities in the form of a transfer pricing adjustment. A transfer pricing adjustment could, among other things, result in a reduction of expense deductions recorded by our variable interest entities for Chinese Mainland tax purposes, which could in turn increase their tax liabilities without reducing the tax expenses of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries. Please see Note 12 "Income taxes" to our audited consolidated financial statements. In addition, if a Chinese Mainland subsidiary requests the shareholders of our variable interest entities to transfer their equity interests at nominal or no value pursuant to these contractual arrangements, such transfer could be viewed as a gift and subject the Chinese Mainland subsidiary to Chinese Mainland income tax. Furthermore, the Chinese Mainland tax authorities may impose late payment fees and other penalties on our variable interest entities for the adjusted but unpaid taxes according to the applicable regulations. Our financial position could be materially adversely affected if our variable interest entities' tax liabilities increase or if they are required to pay late payment fees and other penalties.

In December 2021 and January 2022, our two subsidiaries and two VIEs received Tax Treatment Decisions issued by the First Inspection Bureau of the Shenzhen Municipal Taxation Bureau ("the First Inspection Bureau") for our tax payments status from January 1, 2016, to June 30, 2019. We were subject to certain adjustments on taxations and were required to pay back certain value-added taxes, city maintenance and construction taxes, the enterprise income taxes, as well as the respective late payment fees, due to our failure to file the correct taxable income as required by relevant laws and regulations during the period from January 1, 2016, to June 30, 2019. We have paid such taxes and late payment fees as requested in full in December 2021 and January 2022. As of the date of this annual report, we have not been involved in any other investigations, inquiries, notices, warnings, or sanctions from any other Chinese Mainland government authorities regarding our tax payments.

Risks Relating to Doing Business in China

Changes in the political and economic policies of the Chinese Mainland government may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations and may result in our inability to sustain our growth and expansion strategies.

Substantially all of our operations are conducted in the Chinese Mainland and all of our revenue is sourced from the Chinese Mainland. Accordingly, our financial condition and results of operations are affected to a significant extent by economic, political and legal developments in the Chinese Mainland.

The Chinese Mainland economy differs from the economies of most developed countries in many respects, including the extent of government involvement, level of development, growth rate, and control of foreign exchange and allocation of resources. Although the Chinese Mainland government has implemented measures emphasizing the utilization of market forces for economic reform, the reduction of state ownership of productive assets, and the establishment of improved corporate governance in business enterprises, a substantial portion of productive assets in Chinese Mainland is still owned by the government. In addition, the Chinese Mainland government continues to play a significant role in regulating industry development by imposing industrial policies. The Chinese Mainland government also exercises significant control over Chinese Mainland's economic growth by allocating resources, controlling payment of foreign currency-denominated obligations, setting monetary policy, regulating financial services and institutions and providing preferential treatment to particular industries or companies.

While the Chinese Mainland economy has experienced significant growth in the past three decades, growth has been uneven, both geographically and among various sectors of the economy. The Chinese Mainland government has implemented various measures to encourage economic growth and to guide the allocation of resources. Some of these measures may benefit the overall Chinese Mainland economy, but may also have a negative effect on us. Our financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected by government control over capital investments or changes in tax regulations that are applicable to us. In addition, the Chinese Mainland government has implemented in the past certain measures to control the pace of economic growth. These measures may cause decreased economic activity, which in turn could lead to a reduction in demand for our services and consequently have a material adverse effect on our businesses, financial condition and results of operations.

Uncertainties with respect to the Chinese Mainland legal system, including uncertainties regarding the enforcement of laws, and sudden or unexpected changes in laws and regulations in Chinese Mainland could adversely affect us and limit the legal protections available to you and us.

Our operating subsidiaries are incorporated under and governed by the laws of the Chinese Mainland. The Chinese Mainland legal system is based on written statutes. Prior court decisions may be cited for reference, but have limited precedential value. In 1979, the Chinese Mainland government began to promulgate a comprehensive system of laws and regulations governing economic matters in general, such as foreign investment, corporate organization and governance, commerce, taxation and trade. As a significant part of our business is conducted in Chinese Mainland, our operations are principally governed by Chinese Mainland laws and regulations. However, since the Chinese Mainland legal system continues to evolve rapidly, the interpretations of many laws, regulations and rules are not always uniform and enforcement of these laws, regulations and rules involves uncertainties, which may limit legal protections available to us. Uncertainties due to evolving laws and regulations could also impede the ability of a Chinese Mainland-based company, such as our company group, to obtain or maintain permits or licenses required to conduct business in Chinese Mainland. In the absence of required permits or licenses, governmental authorities could impose material sanctions or penalties on us. In addition, some regulatory requirements issued by certain Chinese Mainland government authorities may not be consistently applied by other Chinese Mainland government authorities (including local government authorities), thus making strict compliance with all regulatory requirements impractical, or in some circumstances impossible. For example, we may have to resort to administrative and court proceedings to enforce the legal protection that we enjoy either by law or contract. However, since Chinese Mainland administrative and court authorities have discretion in interpreting and implementing statutory and contractual terms, it may be more difficult to predict the outcome of administrative and court proceedings and the level of legal protection we enjoy than in more developed legal systems. Furthermore, the Chinese Mainland legal system is based in part on government policies and internal rules, some of which are not published on a timely basis or at all and may have retroactive effect. As a result, we may not be aware of our violation of these policies and rules until sometime after the violation. Such uncertainties, including uncertainty over the scope and effect of our contractual, property (including intellectual property) and procedural rights, could materially and adversely affect our business and impede our ability to continue our operations.

Furthermore, if Chinese Mainland adopts more stringent standards with respect to corporate social responsibilities or financial regulations, we may incur increased compliance costs or become subject to additional restrictions in our operations. Intellectual property rights and confidentiality protections in Chinese Mainland may also not be as effective as in the United States or other countries. In addition, we cannot predict the effects of future developments in the Chinese Mainland legal system on our business operations, including the promulgation of new laws, or changes to existing laws or the interpretation or enforcement thereof. These uncertainties could limit the legal protections available to us and our investors, including you. Moreover, any litigation in Chinese Mainland may be protracted and result in substantial costs and diversion of our resources and management attention.

The Chinese Mainland government has significant oversight and discretion over the conduct of our business and may intervene or influence our operations as the government deems appropriate to further regulatory, political and societal goals. The Chinese Mainland government has recently published new policies that significantly affected certain industries such as the education and internet industries, and we cannot rule out the possibility that it will in the future release regulations or policies regarding our industry that could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, the Chinese Mainland government has recently indicated an intent to exert more oversight and control over securities offerings and other capital markets activities that are conducted overseas and foreign investment in Chinese Mainland-based companies like us. On July 6, 2021, State Council issued the Opinions on Lawfully and Severely Combating Illegal Securities Activities to further strengthen cross-border supervision and consolidate the primary responsibility for information security of overseas listed companies. On February 17, 2023, the CSRC promulgated the Trial Administrative Measures of the Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies, or the Trial Measures, and five supporting guidelines which took effect on March 31, 2023. Pursuant to the Trial Measures, Chinese companies that seek to offer and list securities overseas shall fulfill the filing procedures with and report relevant information to the CSRC, and that an initial filing shall be submitted within three working days after the application for an initial public offering is submitted, and a second filing shall be submitted within three working days after the listing is completed. Moreover, an overseas offering and listing is prohibited under circumstances if (i) it is prohibited by Chinese Mainland laws, (ii) it may endanger national security as reviewed and determined by competent Chinese Mainland authorities under the State Council in accordance with law, (iii) the Chinese Mainland domestic companies intending to make the securities offering and listing, or its controlling shareholder(s) and the actual controller, have committed corruption, bribery, embezzlement, misappropriation of property or undermining the order of the socialist market economy during the latest three years, (iv) the Chinese Mainland domestic companies intending to make the securities offering and listing is currently under investigations for suspicion of criminal offenses or major violations of laws and regulations, and no clear conclusion has yet been made thereof, (v) it has material ownership disputes over equity interests held by the Chinese Mainland domestic companies' controlling shareholder(s) or by other shareholder(s) that are controlled by the controlling shareholder(s) and/or actual controller. The Trial Measures stipulate that the overseas securities offering and listing of any issuer will be deemed as indirect overseas offering by Chinese Mainland domestic companies if the following conditions are met: (i) 50% or more of any of the issuer's operating revenue, total profit, total assets or net assets as documented in its audited consolidated financial statements for the most recent fiscal year is accounted for by Chinese Mainland domestic companies; and (ii) the main parts of the issuer's business activities are conducted in Chinese Mainland, or its main place(s) of business are located in Chinese Mainland, or the majority of senior management staff in charge of its business operations and management are Chinese Mainland citizens or have their usual place(s) of residence located in Chinese Mainland. Further, at the press conference held for the Trial Measures on February 17, 2023, officials from the CSRC clarified that the Chinese Mainland domestic companies that have already been listed overseas on or before the effective date of the Trial Measures (i.e. March 31, 2021) shall be deemed as existing issuers, or the Existing Issuers. The Existing Issuers are not required to complete the filing procedures immediately but shall carry out filing procedures as required if they conduct refinancing or are involved in other circumstances that require filing with the CSRC. The officials from the CSRC have also confirmed that for the Chinese Mainland domestic companies that seek to list overseas with VIE structure, the CSRC will solicit opinions from relevant regulatory authorities and complete the filing of the overseas listing of companies with VIE structure which duly meet the compliance requirements. We are an Existing Issuer under the Trial Measures, as we were listed on September 19, 2018, which is before the effective date of the Trial Measures. As an Existing Issuer, we currently do not have any intention or plan of refinancing or being involved in any other circumstances that required filing with the CSRC under the Trial Measures. If we conduct refinancing or any other activities that are subject to filing procedures in the future, we will actively communicate with the CSRC and initiate the filing procedures as required in a timely manner. However, given that the Trial Measures were recently promulgated, there are substantial uncertainties as to the implementation and interpretation, and how they will affect our listing status and future financing. If we fail to complete the filing with the CSRC in a timely manner or at all, for any future offering or any other activities which are subject to the filing requirements under the Trial Measures, our ability to raise or utilize funds and our operations could be materially and adversely affected. On February 24, 2023, the CSRC, Ministry of Finance of the PRC, National Administration of State Secrets Protection and National Archives Administration of China promulgated the Provisions on Strengthening Confidentiality and Archives Administration of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies, or the Archives Rules, which took effect on March 31, 2023. Pursuant to the Archives Rules, Chinese Mainland domestic companies that seek overseas offering and listing shall strictly abide by applicable laws and regulations of the Chinese Mainland and the Archives Rules, enhance legal awareness of keeping state secrets and strengthening archives administration, institute a sound confidentiality and archives administration system, and take necessary measures to fulfill confidentiality and archives administration obligations. Such domestic companies shall not leak any state secret and working secret of government agencies, or harm national security and public interest. Furthermore, a Chinese Mainland domestic company that plans to, either directly or through its overseas listed entity, publicly disclose or provide to relevant individuals or entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators, any document and materials that contain state secrets or working secrets of government agencies, shall first obtain approval from competent authorities according to law, and file with the secrecy administrative department at the same level.

Moreover, a Chinese Mainland domestic company that plans to, either directly or through its overseas listed entity, publicly disclose or provide to relevant individuals and entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators, any other documents and materials that, if leaked, will be detrimental to national security or public interest, shall strictly fulfill relevant procedures stipulated by applicable national regulations. The Archives Rules also stipulate that a Chinese Mainland domestic company that provides accounting archives or copies of accounting archives to any entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators and individuals shall fulfill due procedures in compliance with applicable national regulations. However, given that the Archives Rules were recently promulgated, there are substantial uncertainties as to the implementation and interpretation. We cannot predict the impact of the Trial Measures and the Archives Rules on us, including but not limited to the maintenance of the listing status of our ADSs and/or other securities, or any of our future offerings of securities overseas at this stage. Any failure of us to fully comply with new regulatory requirements may significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to continually offer our Shares, cause significant disruption to our business operations, severely damage our reputation, materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations and cause our Shares to significantly decline in value or become worthless. Substantially all of our operations are conducted in the Chinese Mainland, and are governed by Chinese Mainland laws, rules and regulations. Our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries and VIEs are subject to laws, rules and regulations applicable to foreign investment in Chinese Mainland. The Chinese Mainland legal system is a civil law system based on written statutes. Unlike the common law system, prior court decisions may be cited for reference but have limited precedential value. Any such intervention in or influence on our business operations or action to exert more oversight and control over securities offerings and other capital markets activities, once taken by the Chinese Mainland government, could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations and the value of our Class A ordinary shares or the ADSs, or significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer securities to investors and cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or in extreme cases, become worthless.

Uncertainties exist with respect to the enactment timetable, interpretation and implementation of the laws and regulations with respect to our online platform business operation.

Our online platform business is subject to various internet-related laws and regulations. These internet-related laws and regulations are relatively new and evolving, and their enactment timetable, interpretation and implementation involve significant uncertainties.

For example, On February 7, 2021, the State Administration for Market Regulation, or the SAMR, promulgated Guidelines to Anti-Monopoly in the Field of Platform Economy, or the Anti-Monopoly Guidelines for Platform Economy. The Anti-Monopoly Guidelines for Platform Economy provides operational standards and guidelines for identifying certain internet platforms' abuse of market dominant position which are prohibited to restrict unfair competition and safeguard users' interests, including without limitation, prohibiting personalized pricing using big data and analytics, selling products below cost without reasonable causes, actions or arrangements seen as exclusivity arrangements, using technology means to block competitors' interface, using bundle services to sell services or products. In addition, internet platforms' compulsory collection of user data may be viewed as abuse of dominant market position that may have the effect to eliminate or restrict competition. On August 20, 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the Personal Information Protection Law of the PRC, or the Personal Information Protection Law which took effect on November 1, 2021. As the first systematic and comprehensive law specifically for the protection of personal information in the Chinese Mainland, the Personal Information Protection Law provides, among others, that (i) an individual's consent shall be obtained to use sensitive personal information, (ii) personal information operators using sensitive personal information shall notify individuals of the necessity of such use and impact on the individual's rights, and (iii) where it is necessary for personal information to be provided by a personal information processor to a recipient outside the territory of the Chinese Mainland due to any business need or any other need, a security assessment organized by the national cyberspace authority shall be passed. In addition, on June 10, 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the PRC Data Security Law, which took effect in September 2021. The Data Security Law, among others, provides for security review procedures for data activities that may affect national security. Furthermore, Measures for Cybersecurity Review, which became effective on June 1, 2020, as amended on December 28, 2021, and became effective on February 15, 2022, set forth the cybersecurity review mechanism for critical information infrastructure operators, and provide that (i) critical information infrastructure operators who intend to purchase internet products and services that affect or may affect national security shall be subject to a cybersecurity review; (ii) online platform operators who are engaged in data processing are also subject to the regulatory scope; (iii) the CSRC is included as one of the regulatory authorities for purposes of jointly establishing the state cybersecurity review working mechanism; (iv) the online platform operators holding more than one million users/users' individual information and seeking a listing outside Chinese Mainland shall file for cybersecurity review; (v) the risks of core data, material data or large amounts of personal information being stolen, leaked, destroyed, damaged, illegally used or illegally transmitted to overseas parties and the risks of critical information infrastructure, core data, material data or large amounts of personal information being influenced, controlled or used maliciously shall be collectively taken into consideration during the cybersecurity review process. Although we do not believe we are a critical information infrastructure provider, and as the date of this annual report, we have not been involved in any investigations on cybersecurity review made by the CAC on such basis and we have not received any inquiry, notice, warning, or sanctions from any other Chinese Mainland government authorities in this regard, the Chinese Mainland authorities could interpret such term broadly. If we are deemed to be a critical information infrastructure operator under such rules, we could be subject to cybersecurity review by Cyberspace Administration of China and other relevant Chinese Mainland regulatory authorities and be required to change our existing practices in data privacy and cybersecurity matters at substantial costs. During such cybersecurity review, we may be required to stop providing services to our customers, and such review could also result in negative publicity to us and diversion of our managerial and financial resources.

On August 31, 2018, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the E-commerce Law, which came into effect on January 1, 2019. The E-commerce Law imposes a series of requirements on e-commerce operators including e-commerce platform operators, merchants operating on the platform and the individuals and entities carrying out business online. The platform governance measures we adopt in response to the enhanced regulatory requirements may fail to meet these requirements and may lead to penalties or our loss of merchants to those platforms, or to complaints or claims made against us by customers on our platforms.

As there are uncertainties regarding the enactment timetable, interpretation and implementation of the existing and future internet-related laws and regulations, we cannot assure you that our business operations will comply with such regulations in all respects and we may be ordered to terminate certain of our business operations that are deemed illegal by the regulatory authorities and become subject to fines and/or other sanctions.

You may experience difficulties in effecting service of legal process, enforcing foreign judgments or bringing actions in Chinese Mainland against us or our management named in the annual report based on foreign laws.

We are a company incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands, we conduct substantially all of our operations in Chinese Mainland, and substantially all of our assets are located in Chinese Mainland. In addition, all our senior executive officers reside within Chinese Mainland for a significant portion of the time and most are Chinese Mainland nationals. As a result, it may be difficult for our shareholders to effect service of process upon us or those persons inside Chinese Mainland. In addition, Chinese Mainland does not have treaties providing for the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments of courts with the Cayman Islands and many other countries and regions. Therefore, recognition and enforcement in Chinese Mainland of judgments of a court in any of these non-Chinese Mainland jurisdictions in relation to any matter not subject to a binding arbitration provision may be difficult or impossible.

Shareholder claims that are common in the United States, including securities law class actions and fraud claims, generally are difficult to pursue as a matter of law or practicality in Chinese Mainland. For example, in Chinese Mainland, there are significant legal and other obstacles to obtaining information needed for shareholder investigations or litigation outside Chinese Mainland or otherwise with respect to foreign entities. Although the local authorities in Chinese Mainland may establish a regulatory cooperation mechanism with the securities regulatory authorities of another country or region to implement cross-border supervision and administration, such regulatory cooperation with the securities regulatory authorities in the United States have not been efficient in the absence of mutual and practical cooperation mechanism. No organization or individual may provide the documents and materials relating to securities business activities to overseas parties arbitrarily without the consent of the competent securities regulatory authority in Chinese Mainland according to the PRC Securities Law. See also “You may face difficulties in protecting your interests, and your ability to protect your rights through U.S. courts may be limited, because we are incorporated under Cayman Islands law” for risks associated with investing in us as a Cayman Islands company.

According to Article 177 of the PRC Securities Law which became effective in March 2020, no overseas securities regulator is allowed to directly conduct investigation or evidence collection activities within the territory of the Chinese Mainland. Accordingly, without the consent of the competent Chinese Mainland securities regulators and relevant authorities, no organization or individual may provide the documents and materials relating to securities business activities to overseas parties.

Chinese Mainland regulations relating to investments in offshore companies by Chinese Mainland residents may subject our Chinese Mainland-resident beneficial owners or our Chinese Mainland subsidiary to liability or penalties, limit our ability to inject capital into our Chinese Mainland subsidiary or limit our Chinese Mainland subsidiary’s ability to increase their registered capital or distribute profits.

The SAFE promulgated the Circular on Relevant Issues Concerning Foreign Exchange Control on Domestic Residents’ Offshore Investment and Financing and Roundtrip Investment through Special Purpose Vehicles, or SAFE Circular 37, on July 4, 2014, which replaced the former circular commonly known as “SAFE Circular 75” promulgated by the SAFE on October 21, 2005. SAFE Circular 37 requires Chinese Mainland residents to register with local branches of the SAFE in connection with their direct establishment or indirect control of an offshore entity, for the purpose of overseas investment and financing, with such Chinese Mainland residents’ legally owned assets or equity interests in domestic enterprises or offshore assets or interests, referred to in SAFE Circular 37 as a “special purpose vehicle.” SAFE Circular 37 further requires amendment to the registration in the event of any significant changes with respect to the special purpose vehicle, such as increase or decrease of capital contributed by Chinese Mainland individuals, share transfer or exchange, merger, division or other material event. In the event that a Chinese Mainland shareholder holding interests in a special purpose vehicle fails to fulfill the required SAFE registration, the Chinese Mainland subsidiaries of that special purpose vehicle may be prohibited from making profit distributions to the offshore parent and from carrying out subsequent cross-border foreign exchange activities, and the special purpose vehicle may be restricted in its ability to contribute additional capital into its Chinese Mainland subsidiary. Moreover, failure to comply with the various SAFE registration requirements described above could result in liability under Chinese Mainland law for evasion of foreign exchange controls. According to the Notice on Further Simplifying and Improving Policies for the Foreign Exchange Administration of Direct Investment released on February 13, 2015 and amended on June 1, 2015 by the SAFE, local banks will examine and handle foreign exchange registration for overseas direct investment, including the initial foreign exchange registration and amendment registration, under SAFE Circular 37 from June 1, 2015.

We have notified substantial beneficial owners of ordinary shares who we know are Chinese Mainland residents of their filing obligations. Nevertheless, we may not be aware of the identities of all of our beneficial owners who are Chinese Mainland residents. We do not have control over our beneficial owners and there can be no assurance that all of our Chinese Mainland-resident beneficial owners will comply with SAFE Circular 37 and subsequent implementation rules, and there is no assurance that the registration under SAFE Circular 37 and any amendment will be completed in a timely manner, or will be completed at all. The failure of our beneficial owners who are Chinese Mainland residents to register or amend their foreign exchange registrations in a timely manner pursuant to SAFE Circular 37 and subsequent implementation rules, or the failure of future beneficial owners of the Company who are Chinese Mainland residents to comply with the registration procedures set forth in SAFE Circular 37 and subsequent implementation rules, may subject such beneficial owners or our Chinese Mainland subsidiary to fines and legal sanctions. Such failure to register or comply with relevant requirements may also limit our ability to contribute additional capital to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary and limit our Chinese Mainland subsidiary's ability to distribute dividends to the Company. These risks may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Chinese Mainland regulation of loans to, and direct investment in, Chinese Mainland entities by offshore holding companies and governmental control of currency conversion may restrict or prevent us from using the proceeds of our initial public offering to make loans to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary and our consolidated VIEs, or to make additional capital contributions to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary.

In utilizing the proceeds of our initial public offering, we, as an offshore holding company, are permitted under Chinese Mainland laws and regulations to provide funding to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary, which are treated as foreign-invested enterprises under Chinese Mainland laws, through loans or capital contributions. However, loans by us to our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries to finance their activities cannot exceed statutory limits and must be registered with the local counterpart of SAFE and capital contributions to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary are subject to the requirement of making necessary filings in the Foreign Investment Comprehensive Management Information System, and registration with other governmental authorities in Chinese Mainland.

SAFE promulgated the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Reforming the Administration of Foreign Exchange Settlement of Capital of Foreign-invested Enterprises, or Circular 19, effective on June 1, 2015 and amended on March 23, 2023, in replacement of the Circular on the Relevant Operating Issues Concerning the Improvement of the Administration of the Payment and Settlement of Foreign Currency Capital of Foreign-Invested Enterprises, or SAFE Circular 142, the Notice from the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Relevant Issues Concerning Strengthening the Administration of Foreign Exchange Businesses, or Circular 59, and the Circular on Further Clarification and Regulation of the Issues Concerning the Administration of Certain Capital Account Foreign Exchange Businesses, or Circular 45. According to Circular 19, the flow and use of the RMB capital converted from foreign currency-denominated registered capital of a foreign-invested company is regulated such that RMB capital may not be used for the issuance of RMB entrusted loans, the repayment of inter-enterprise loans or the repayment of bank loans that have been transferred to a third party. Although Circular 19 allows RMB capital converted from foreign currency-denominated registered capital of a foreign invested enterprise to be used for equity investments within the Chinese Mainland, it also reiterates the principle that RMB converted from the foreign currency-denominated capital of a foreign-invested company may not be directly or indirectly used for purposes beyond its business scope. Thus, it is unclear whether SAFE will permit such capital to be used for equity investments in the Chinese Mainland in actual practice. SAFE promulgated the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Reforming and Standardizing the Foreign Exchange Settlement Management Policy of Capital Account, or Circular 16, effective on June 9, 2016 and amended on December 4, 2023, which reiterates some of the rules set forth in Circular 19, but changes the prohibition against using RMB capital converted from foreign currency-denominated registered capital of a foreign-invested company to issue RMB entrusted loans to a prohibition against using such capital to grant loans to non-associated enterprises. Violations of SAFE Circular 19 and Circular 16 could result in administrative penalties. Circular 19 and Circular 16 may significantly limit our ability to transfer any foreign currency we hold, including the net proceeds from our initial public offering, to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary, which may adversely affect our liquidity and our ability to fund and expand our business in the Chinese Mainland.

Due to the restrictions imposed on loans in foreign currencies extended to any Chinese Mainland domestic companies, we are not likely to make such loans to any of our consolidated VIEs and their subsidiaries, each a Chinese Mainland domestic company. Meanwhile, we are not likely to finance the activities of our consolidated VIEs and their subsidiaries by means of capital contributions given the restrictions on foreign investment in the businesses that are currently conducted by our consolidated VIEs and their subsidiaries.

In light of the various requirements imposed by Chinese Mainland regulations on loans to, and direct investment in, Chinese Mainland entities by offshore holding companies, we cannot assure you that we will be able to complete the necessary government registrations or obtain the necessary government approvals on a timely basis, if at all, with respect to future loans to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary or any consolidated variable interest entity or future capital contributions by us to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary. As a result, uncertainties exist as to our ability to provide prompt financial support to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary or consolidated VIEs and their subsidiaries when needed. If we fail to complete such registrations or obtain such approvals, our ability to use foreign currency, including the proceeds we received from our initial public offering, and to capitalize or otherwise fund our Chinese Mainland operations may be negatively affected, which could materially and adversely affect our liquidity and our ability to fund and expand our business.

Any failure to comply with Chinese Mainland regulations regarding employee share incentive plans may subject the Chinese Mainland plan participants or us to fines and other legal or administrative sanctions.

Pursuant to SAFE Circular 37, Chinese Mainland residents who participate in share incentive plans in overseas non-publicly-listed companies due to their positions as director, senior management or employees of the Chinese Mainland subsidiaries of the overseas companies may submit applications to SAFE or its local branches for the foreign exchange registration with respect to offshore special purpose companies. Our directors, executive officers and other employees who are Chinese Mainland residents and who have been granted options may follow SAFE Circular 37 to apply for the foreign exchange registration before the Company becomes an overseas listed company. In February 2012, SAFE promulgated the Notice on Issues Concerning the Foreign Exchange Administration for Domestic Individuals Participating in Stock Incentive Plan of Overseas Publicly Listed Company, according to which, employees, directors, supervisors and other management members who are Chinese Mainland residents and non-Chinese Mainland citizens who reside in Chinese Mainland for a continuous period of not less than one year participating in any stock incentive plan of an overseas publicly listed company, subject to a few exceptions, are required to register with SAFE through a domestic qualified agent, which could be a Chinese Mainland subsidiary of such overseas listed company, and complete certain other procedures. We and our directors, executive officers and other employees who are Chinese Mainland citizens or who reside in the Chinese Mainland for a continuous period of not less than one year and who have been granted options are subject to these regulations. Failure to complete the SAFE registrations may subject them to fines and legal sanctions and may also limit the ability to make payment under our share incentive plans or receive dividends or sales proceeds related thereto, or our ability to contribute additional capital into our wholly-foreign owned enterprises in Chinese Mainland and limit our wholly-foreign owned enterprises' ability to distribute dividends to us. We also face regulatory uncertainties that could restrict our ability to adopt additional share incentive plans for our directors and employees under Chinese Mainland law.

In addition, the State Administration of Taxation, or the SAT, has issued certain circulars concerning employee share options and restricted shares. Under these circulars, our employees working in Chinese Mainland who exercise share options or are granted restricted shares will be subject to Chinese Mainland individual income tax. Our Chinese Mainland subsidiary has obligations to file documents related to employee share options or restricted shares with relevant tax authorities and to withhold individual income taxes of those employees who exercise their share options. If our employees fail to pay or we fail to withhold their income taxes according to relevant laws and regulations, we may face sanctions imposed by the tax authorities or other Chinese Mainland government authorities.

We rely to a significant extent on dividends and other distributions on equity paid by our principal operating subsidiaries to fund offshore cash and financing requirements.

We are a holding company and rely to a significant extent on dividends and other distributions on equity paid by our principal operating subsidiaries, including our wholly-owned Chinese Mainland subsidiaries and the subsidiaries of the VIEs and on remittances from the consolidated VIEs, for our offshore cash and financing requirements, including the funds necessary to pay dividends and other cash distributions to our shareholders, fund intercompany loans, service any debt we may incur outside of Chinese Mainland and pay our expenses. When our principal operating subsidiaries or the consolidated VIEs incur additional debt, the instruments governing the debt may restrict their ability to pay dividends or make other distributions or remittances to us. Furthermore, the laws, rules and regulations applicable to our Chinese Mainland subsidiary and certain other subsidiaries permit payments of dividends only from part of their retained earnings, if any, determined in accordance with applicable Chinese Mainland accounting standards and regulations.

Under Chinese Mainland laws, rules and regulations, each of our subsidiaries incorporated in Chinese Mainland is required to set aside at least 10% of its net income each year to fund certain statutory reserves until the cumulative amount of such reserves reaches 50% of its registered capital. These reserves, together with the registered capital, are not included in the retained earnings distributable as cash dividends. Furthermore, under Chinese Mainland law, our wholly-owned Chinese Mainland subsidiary, which is a wholly foreign-owned enterprise under Chinese Mainland law, cannot distribute any profits until all of its losses from prior fiscal years have been offset. In accordance with the articles of association of our wholly-owned Chinese Mainland subsidiary, profit distributions also need to be approved by its executive directors and shareholders before any distribution plan becomes effective. As a result, our subsidiaries incorporated in Chinese Mainland are restricted in their ability to transfer a portion of their respective net assets to their shareholders as dividends, loans or advances. In addition, registered share capital and statutory reserve accounts are also restricted from withdrawal in the Chinese Mainland, up to the amount of net assets held in each operating subsidiary.

Limitations on the ability of our consolidated VIEs to make remittance to the wholly-foreign owned enterprise and on the ability of our subsidiaries to pay dividends to us could limit our ability to access cash generated by the operations of those entities, including to make investments or acquisitions that could be beneficial to our businesses, pay dividends to our shareholders or otherwise fund and conduct our business. We may be treated as a resident enterprise for Chinese Mainland tax purposes under the Chinese Mainland Enterprise Income Tax Law, and we may therefore be subject to Chinese Mainland income tax on our global income.

Under the Chinese Mainland Enterprise Income Tax Law and its implementing rules, enterprises established under the laws of jurisdictions outside of Chinese Mainland with “de facto management bodies” located in Chinese Mainland may be considered Chinese Mainland tax resident enterprises for tax purposes and may be subject to the Chinese Mainland enterprise income tax at the rate of 25% on their global income. “De facto management body” refers to a managing body that exercises substantive and overall management and control over the production, personnel, accounting books and assets of an enterprise. The State Administration of Taxation issued the Notice Regarding the Determination of Chinese- Controlled Offshore-Incorporated Enterprises as Chinese Mainland Tax Resident Enterprises on the Basis of De Facto Management Bodies, or Circular 82, on April 22, 2009, and amended on December 29, 2017. Circular 82 provides certain specific criteria for determining whether the “de facto management body” of a Chinese-controlled offshore-incorporated enterprise is located in Chinese Mainland. Although Circular 82 only applies to offshore enterprises controlled by Chinese Mainland enterprises, not those controlled by foreign enterprises or individuals, the determining criteria set forth in Circular 82 may reflect the State Administration of Taxation’s general position on how the “de facto management body” test should be applied in determining the tax resident status of offshore enterprises, regardless of whether they are controlled by Chinese Mainland enterprises. If we were to be considered a Chinese Mainland resident enterprise, we would be subject to Chinese Mainland enterprise income tax at the rate of 25% on our global income. In such case, our profitability and cash flow may be materially reduced as a result of our global income being taxed under the Enterprise Income Tax Law. We believe that none of our entities outside of Chinese Mainland is a Chinese Mainland resident enterprise for Chinese Mainland tax purposes. However, the tax resident status of an enterprise is subject to determination by the Chinese Mainland tax authorities and uncertainties remain with respect to the interpretation of the term “de facto management body.”

Dividends paid to our foreign investors and gains on the sale of our ADSs or ordinary shares by our foreign investors may be subject to Chinese Mainland tax.

Under the Enterprise Income Tax Law and its implementation regulations issued by the State Council, a 10% Chinese Mainland withholding tax is applicable to dividends paid to investors that are non-resident enterprises, which do not have an establishment or place of business in the Chinese Mainland or which have such establishment or place of business but the dividends are not effectively connected with such establishment or place of business, to the extent such dividends are derived from sources within the Chinese Mainland. In addition, any gain realized on the transfer of shares by such investors is also subject to Chinese Mainland tax at a rate of 10%, if such gain is regarded as income derived from sources within the Chinese Mainland. If we are deemed a Chinese Mainland resident enterprise, dividends paid on our ordinary shares or ADSs, and any gain realized from the transfer of our ordinary shares or ADSs, may be treated as income derived from sources within the Chinese Mainland and may as a result be subject to Chinese Mainland taxation. Furthermore, if we are deemed a Chinese Mainland resident enterprise, dividends paid to individual investors who are non-Chinese Mainland residents and any gain realized on the transfer of ADSs or ordinary shares by such investors may be subject to Chinese Mainland tax at a current rate of 20% (which in the case of dividends may be withheld at source). Any Chinese Mainland tax liability may be reduced under applicable tax treaties or tax arrangements between Chinese Mainland and other jurisdictions. If we or any of our subsidiaries established outside Chinese Mainland are considered a Chinese Mainland resident enterprise, it is unclear whether holders of our ADSs or ordinary shares would be able to claim the benefit of income tax treaties or agreements entered into between Chinese Mainland and other countries or areas. If dividends paid to our non-Chinese Mainland investors, or gains from the transfer of our ADSs or ordinary shares by such investors, are deemed as income derived from sources within the Chinese Mainland and thus are subject to Chinese Mainland tax, the value of your investment in our ADSs or ordinary shares may decline significantly.

We and our existing shareholders face uncertainties with respect to indirect transfers of equity interests in Chinese Mainland resident enterprises or other assets attributed to a Chinese establishment of a non-Chinese company, or immovable properties located in Chinese Mainland owned by non-Chinese companies.

In October 2017, the State Administration of Taxation issued the Bulletin on Issues Concerning the Withholding of Non-Chinese Mainland Resident Enterprise Income Tax at Source, or Bulletin 37, which replaced the Notice on Strengthening Administration of Enterprise Income Tax for Share Transfers by Non-Chinese Mainland Resident Enterprises, or Circular 698, issued by the State Administration of Taxation, on December 10, 2009, and partially replaced and supplemented rules under the Bulletin on Issues of Enterprise Income Tax on Indirect Transfers of Assets by Non-Chinese Mainland Resident Enterprises or Bulletin 7, issued by the State Administration of Taxation, on February 3, 2015 and amended in December 2017. Pursuant to Bulletin 7, an “indirect transfer” of Chinese Mainland assets, including a transfer of equity interests in an unlisted non-Chinese Mainland holding company of a Chinese Mainland resident enterprise, by non-Chinese Mainland resident enterprises may be re-characterized and treated as a direct transfer of the underlying Chinese Mainland assets, if such arrangement does not have a reasonable commercial purpose and was established for the purpose of avoiding payment of Chinese Mainland enterprise income tax. As a result, gains derived from such indirect transfer may be subject to Chinese Mainland enterprise income tax. According to Bulletin 7, “Chinese Mainland taxable assets” include assets attributed to an establishment in Chinese Mainland, immovable properties located in Chinese Mainland, and equity investments in Chinese Mainland resident enterprises and any gains from the transfer of such asset by a direct holder, who is a non-Chinese Mainland resident enterprise, would be subject to Chinese Mainland enterprise income taxes. When determining whether there is a “reasonable commercial purpose” of the transaction arrangement, features to be taken into consideration include: whether the main value of the equity interest of the relevant offshore enterprise derives from Chinese Mainland taxable assets; whether the assets of the relevant offshore enterprise mainly consists of direct or indirect investment in Chinese Mainland or if its income mainly derives from Chinese Mainland; whether the offshore enterprise and its subsidiaries directly or indirectly holding Chinese Mainland taxable assets have real commercial nature which is evidenced by their actual function and risk exposure; the duration of existence of the business model and organizational structure; the replicability of the transaction by direct transfer of Chinese Mainland taxable assets; and the tax situation of such indirect transfer and applicable tax treaties or similar arrangements. In the case of an indirect offshore transfer of assets of a Chinese Mainland establishment, the resulting gain is to be included with the enterprise income tax filing of the Chinese Mainland establishment or place of business being transferred, and may consequently be subject to Chinese Mainland enterprise income tax at a rate of 25%. Where the underlying transfer relates to immovable properties located in Chinese Mainland or to equity investments in a Chinese Mainland resident enterprise, which is not related to a Chinese Mainland establishment or place of business of a non-resident enterprise, a Chinese Mainland enterprise income tax of 10% would apply, subject to available preferential tax treatment under applicable tax treaties or similar arrangements, and the party who is obligated to make the transfer payments has the withholding obligation. Pursuant to Bulletin 37, the withholding agent shall declare and pay the withheld tax to the competent tax authority in the place where such withholding agent is located within 7 days from the date of occurrence of the withholding obligation, while the transferor is required to declare and pay such tax to the competent tax authority within the statutory time limit according to Bulletin 7. Late payment of applicable tax will subject the transferor to default interest. Both Bulletin 37 and Bulletin 7 do not apply to transactions of sale of shares by investors through a public stock exchange where such shares were acquired from a transaction through a public stock exchange.

There is uncertainty as to the application of Bulletin 37 or previous rules under Bulletin 7. We face uncertainties as to the reporting and other implications of certain past and future transactions where Chinese Mainland taxable assets are involved, such as offshore restructuring, sale of the shares in our offshore subsidiaries or investments. The Company may be subject to filing obligations or taxes if the Company is transferor in such transactions, and may be subject to withholding obligations if the Company is transferee in such transactions, under Bulletin 37 and Bulletin 7. For transfer of shares in the Company by investors that are non-Chinese Mainland resident enterprises, our Chinese Mainland subsidiary may be requested to assist in the filing under Bulletin 37 and Bulletin 7. As a result, we may be required to expend valuable resources to comply with Bulletin 37 and Bulletin 7 or to request the relevant transferors from whom we purchase taxable assets to comply with these circulars, or to establish that the Company should not be taxed under these circulars, which may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to restrictions on currency exchange.

All of our net income is denominated in Renminbi. The Renminbi is currently convertible under the “current account,” which includes dividends, trade and service-related foreign exchange transactions, but not under the “capital account,” which includes foreign direct investment and loans, including loans we may secure from our onshore subsidiaries or consolidated VIEs. Currently, certain of our Chinese Mainland subsidiary, may purchase foreign currency for settlement of “current account transactions,” including payment of dividends to us, without the approval of the SAFE by complying with certain procedural requirements. However, the relevant Chinese Mainland governmental authorities may limit or eliminate our ability to purchase foreign currencies in the future for current account transactions. Foreign exchange transactions under the capital account remain subject to limitations and require approvals from, or registration with, the SAFE and other relevant Chinese Mainland governmental authorities. Since a significant amount of our future net income and cash flow will be denominated in Renminbi, any existing and future restrictions on currency exchange may limit our ability to utilize cash generated in Renminbi to fund our business activities outside of the Chinese Mainland or pay dividends in foreign currencies to our shareholders, including holders of our ADSs, and may limit our ability to obtain foreign currency through debt or equity financing for our subsidiaries and consolidated VIEs.

Fluctuations in exchange rates could result in foreign currency exchange losses and could materially reduce the value of your investment.

The value of the Renminbi against the U.S. dollar and other currencies may fluctuate and is affected by, among other things, changes in political and economic conditions and the foreign exchange policy adopted by the Chinese Mainland government. The Renminbi has fluctuated against the U.S. dollar, at times significantly and unpredictably. The value of Renminbi against the U.S. dollar and other currencies is affected by changes in Chinese Mainland’s political and economic conditions and by Chinese Mainland’s foreign exchange policies, among other things. We cannot assure you that Renminbi will not appreciate or depreciate significantly in value against the U.S. dollar in the future. It is difficult to predict how market forces or Chinese Mainland or U.S. government policy may impact the exchange rate between Renminbi and the U.S. dollar in the future.

All of our revenue and substantially all of our costs are denominated in Renminbi. We are a holding company and we rely on dividends paid by our operating subsidiaries in Chinese Mainland for our cash needs. Any significant revaluation of Renminbi may materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial position reported in Renminbi when translated into U.S. dollars, and the value of, and any dividends payable on, the ADSs in U.S. dollars. To the extent that we need to convert U.S. dollars we receive from our initial public offering into Renminbi for our operations, appreciation of the Renminbi against the U.S. dollar would have an adverse effect on the Renminbi amount we would receive. Conversely, if we decide to convert our Renminbi into U.S. dollars for the purpose of making payments for dividends on our ordinary shares or ADSs or for other business purposes, appreciation of the U.S. dollar against the Renminbi would have a negative effect on the U.S. dollar amount.

Proceedings brought by the SEC against the Big Four Chinese Mainland-based accounting firms, including our independent registered public accounting firm, could result in our inability to file future financial statements in compliance with the requirements of the Exchange Act.

In December 2012, the SEC instituted administrative proceedings under Rule 102(e)(1)(iii) of the SEC’s Rules of Practice against the Big Four Chinese Mainland-based accounting firms, including our independent registered public accounting firm, alleging that these firms had violated U.S. securities laws and the SEC’s rules and regulations thereunder by failing to provide to the SEC the firms’ audit work papers with respect to certain Chinese Mainland-based companies under the SEC’s investigation.

On January 22, 2014, the administrative law judge, or the ALJ, presiding over the matter rendered an initial decision that each of the firms had violated the SEC’s rules of practice by failing to produce audit workpapers to the SEC. The initial decision censured each of the firms and barred them from practicing before the SEC for a period of six months. On February 12, 2014, the Big Four Chinese Mainland-based accounting firms appealed the ALJ’s initial decision to the SEC. On February 6, 2015, before a review by the Commissioner had taken place, the Chinese accounting firms reached a settlement with the SEC whereby the proceedings were stayed. Under the settlement, the SEC accepted that future requests by the SEC for the production of documents would normally be made to the CSRC. The Chinese accounting firms would receive requests matching those under Section 106 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, and would be required to abide by a detailed set of procedures with respect to such requests, which in substance would require them to facilitate production via the CSRC. The CSRC for its part initiated a procedure whereby, under its supervision and subject to its approval, requested classes of documents held by the accounting firms could be sanitized of problematic and sensitive content so as to render them capable of being made available by the CSRC to US regulators.

Under the terms of the settlement, the underlying proceeding against the four Chinese Mainland-based accounting firms was deemed dismissed with prejudice at the end of four years starting from the settlement date, which was on February 6, 2019. Despite the final ending of the proceedings, the presumption is that all parties will continue to apply the same procedures: i.e. the SEC will continue to make its requests for the production of documents to the CSRC, and the CSRC will normally process those requests applying the sanitisation procedure. We cannot predict whether, in cases where the CSRC does not authorize production of requested documents to the SEC, the SEC will further challenge the four Chinese Mainland-based accounting firms' compliance with U.S. law. If additional challenges are imposed on the Chinese affiliates of the "big four" accounting firms, we could be unable to timely file future financial statements in compliance with the requirements of the Exchange Act.

In the event that the SEC restarts the administrative proceedings, depending upon the final outcome, listed companies in the United States with major Chinese Mainland operations may find it difficult or impossible to retain auditors in respect of their operations in the Chinese Mainland, which could result in financial statements being determined to not be in compliance with the requirements of the Exchange Act, including possible delisting. Moreover, any negative news about the proceedings against these audit firms may cause investor uncertainty regarding Chinese Mainland-based, United States-listed companies and the market price of our ADSs may be adversely affected.

If the accounting firms are subject to additional remedial measures, our ability to file our financial statements in compliance with SEC requirements could be impacted. A determination that we have not timely filed financial statements in compliance with SEC requirements would substantially reduce or effectively terminate the trading of our ADSs in the United States.

Our ADSs may be prohibited from trading in the United States under the HFCA Act in the future if the PCAOB is unable to inspect or investigate completely auditors located in Chinese Mainland. The delisting of the ADSs, or the threat of their being delisted, may materially and adversely affect the value of your investment.

The HFCA Act was signed into law on December 18, 2020 and amended pursuant to the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2023 on December 29, 2022. Under the HFCA Act and the rules issued by the SEC and the PCAOB thereunder, if we have retained a registered public accounting firm to issue an audit report where the registered public accounting firm has a branch or office that is located in a foreign jurisdiction and the PCAOB has determined that it is unable to inspect or investigate completely because of a position taken by an authority in the foreign jurisdiction, the SEC will identify us as a "covered issuer", or SEC-identified issuer, shortly after we file with the SEC a report required under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the Exchange Act (such as our annual report on Form 20-F) that includes an audit report issued by such accounting firm; and if we were to be identified as an SEC-identified issuer for two consecutive years, the SEC would prohibit our securities (including our shares or ADSs) from being traded on a national securities exchange or in the over-the-counter trading market in the United States.

On December 16, 2021, the PCAOB issued a report to notify the SEC of its determination that the PCAOB was unable to inspect or investigate completely registered public accounting firms headquartered in Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong and our auditor was subject to that determination. On December 15, 2022, the PCAOB removed Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong from the list of jurisdictions where it is unable to inspect or investigate completely registered public accounting firms.

Each year, the PCAOB will determine whether it can inspect and investigate completely audit firms in Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong, among other jurisdictions. If the PCAOB determines in the future that it no longer has full access to inspect and investigate completely accounting firms in Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong and we use an accounting firm headquartered in one of these jurisdictions to issue an audit report on our financial statements filed with the SEC, we would be identified as a Commission-Identified Issuer following the filing of the annual report on Form 20-F for the relevant fiscal year. In accordance with the HFCA Act, our securities would be prohibited from being traded on a national securities exchange or in the over-the-counter trading market in the United States if we are identified as a Commission-Identified Issuer for two consecutive years in the future. If our shares and ADSs are prohibited from trading in the United States, there is no certainty that we will be able to list on a non-U.S. exchange or that a market for our shares will develop outside of the United States. A prohibition of being able to trade in the United States would substantially impair your ability to sell or purchase our ADSs when you wish to do so, and the risk and uncertainty associated with delisting would have a negative impact on the price of our ADSs. Also, such a prohibition would significantly affect our ability to raise capital on terms acceptable to us, or at all, which would have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and prospects.

The Chinese Mainland government exerts substantial influence over the manner in which we must conduct our business activities. Any actions by Chinese government, including any decision to intervene or influence our operations or to exert control over any offering of securities conducted overseas and/or foreign investment in Chinese Mainland-based issuers, may cause us to make material changes to our operation, may limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer securities to investors, and may cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or be worthless.

The Chinese government has exercised and continues to exercise substantial control over virtually every sector of the Chinese economy through regulation and state ownership. Substantially all of our operations are located in Chinese Mainland. Our ability to operate in Chinese Mainland may be harmed by changes in its laws and regulations, including those relating to taxation, data information, environmental regulations, land use rights, property and other matters. The central or local governments of these jurisdictions may impose new, stricter regulations or interpretations of existing regulations that would require additional expenditures and efforts on our part to ensure our compliance with such regulations or interpretations. Accordingly, government actions in the future, including any decision not to continue to support recent economic reforms and to return to a more centrally planned economy or regional or local variations in the implementation of economic policies, could have a significant effect on economic conditions in Chinese Mainland or particular regions thereof, and could require us to divest ourselves of any interest we then hold in Mainland Chinese properties.

As such, our business segments may be subject to various government and regulatory interference in the provinces in which they operate. We could be subject to regulation by various political and regulatory entities, including various local and municipal agencies and government sub-divisions. We may incur increased costs necessary to comply with existing and newly adopted laws and regulations or penalties for any failure to comply.

Furthermore, it is uncertain when and whether we will be required to obtain permission from the Chinese Mainland government to list on U.S. exchanges or enter into the VIE Agreements in the future, and even when such permission is obtained, whether we will be denied or rescinded. Although we are currently not required to obtain permission from any of the Chinese Mainland federal or local government to obtain such permission and has not received any denial to list on the U.S. exchange and/or enter into VIE Agreements, our operations could be adversely affected, directly or indirectly, by existing or future laws and regulations relating to our business or industry.

Risks Relating to Our Ordinary Shares and ADSs

The trading price of the ADSs may be volatile, which could result in substantial losses to you.

The trading price of our ADSs is likely to be volatile and could fluctuate widely due to factors beyond our control. This may happen because of broad market and industry factors, like the performance, and fluctuation in market prices, of other companies with business operations located mainly in Chinese Mainland that have listed their securities in the United States. The securities of some of these companies have experienced significant volatility since their initial public offerings, including, in some cases, substantial price declines in the trading prices of their securities. The trading performances of other Chinese companies' securities after their offerings, including Internet companies, online retail and mobile commerce platforms and consumer finance service providers, may affect the attitudes of investors towards Chinese companies listed in the United States, which consequently may impact the trading performance of the ADSs, regardless of our actual operating performance. In addition, any negative news or perceptions about inadequate corporate governance practices or fraudulent accounting, corporate structure or matters of other Chinese companies may also negatively affect the attitudes of investors towards Chinese companies in general, including us, regardless of whether we have conducted any inappropriate activities. Furthermore, securities markets may from time to time experience significant price and volume fluctuations that are not related to our operating performance, such as the large decline in share prices in the United States, China and other jurisdictions in late 2008, early 2009, the second half of 2011 and in 2015, which may have a material and adverse effect on the trading price of the ADSs.

In addition to the above factors, the price and trading volume of the ADSs may be highly volatile due to multiple factors, including the following:

- regulatory developments affecting us or our industry;
- announcements of studies and reports relating to the quality of our credit offerings or those of our competitors;
- changes in the economic performance or market valuations of other consumer finance service providers;

- actual or anticipated fluctuations in our quarterly results of operations and changes or revisions of our expected results;
- changes in financial estimates by securities research analysts;
- conditions in the market for consumer finance services;
- announcements by us or our competitors of new product and service offerings, acquisitions, strategic relationships, joint ventures, capital raisings or capital commitments;
- additions to or departures of our senior management;
- fluctuations of exchange rates between the Renminbi and the U.S. dollar;
- allegations of a lack of effective internal control over financial reporting resulting in financial; inadequate corporate governance policies, or allegations of fraud, among other things, involving China-based issuers;
- release or expiry of lock-up or other transfer restrictions on our outstanding shares or ADSs; and
- sales or perceived potential sales of additional ordinary shares or ADSs.

If securities or industry analysts do not publish research or publish inaccurate or unfavorable research about our business, the market price for the ADSs and trading volume could decline.

The trading market for the ADSs will depend in part on the research and reports that securities or industry analysts publish about us or our business. If research analysts do not establish and maintain adequate research coverage or if one or more of the analysts who covers us downgrades the ADSs or publishes inaccurate or unfavorable research about our business, the market price for our ADSs would likely decline. If one or more of these analysts cease coverage of the Company or fail to publish reports on us regularly, we could lose visibility in the financial markets, which, in turn, could cause the market price or trading volume for the ADSs to decline.

Because the amount, timing, and whether or not we distribute dividends at all is entirely at the discretion of our board of directors, you may mainly rely on price appreciation of the ADSs for return on your investment.

On August 28, 2023, we announced a special cash dividend of US$0.17 per ADS with a record date of September 19, 2023. On March 26, 2024, our board of directors approved a semi-annual cash dividend policy. Under the dividend policy, starting from 2024, the determination to declare and pay such semi-annual dividend and the amount of dividend in any particular half year will be made at the discretion of the board and will be based upon the Company's operations and earnings, cash flow, financial condition and other relevant factors that the board may deem appropriate. On March 26, 2024, pursuant to the semi-annual dividend policy, the board has approved the declaration and payment of a semi-annual dividend of US$0.17 per ADS for the second half of 2023. See "Item 8. Financial Information—A. Consolidated Statements and Other Financial Information—Dividend Policy." Based on our current policy, the amounts of dividends will vary based on the existence and amount of net profits that we can generate. Our board of directors may revise our dividend policy, or it may choose to cancel our dividend policy entirely. In addition, our shareholders may by ordinary resolution declare a dividend, but no dividend may exceed the amount recommended by our directors. Under Cayman Islands law, a Cayman Islands company may pay a dividend out of either profit or share premium account, provided that in no circumstances may a dividend be paid if this would result in the company being unable to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business. Even if our board of directors decides to declare and pay dividends, the timing, amount and form of future dividends, if any, will depend on, among other things, our future results of operations and cash flow, our capital requirements and surplus, the amount of distributions, if any, received by us from our subsidiaries, our financial condition, contractual restrictions and other factors deemed relevant by our board of directors. Accordingly, the return on your investment in the ADSs will likely depend mainly upon any future price appreciation of the ADSs. There is no guarantee that the ADSs will appreciate in value or even maintain the price at which you purchased the ADSs. You may not realize a return on your investment in the ADSs and you may even lose your entire investment in the ADSs.

Substantial future sales or perceived potential sales of the ADSs in the public market could cause the price of the ADSs to decline.

Sales of the ADSs in the public market, or the perception that these sales could occur, could cause the market price of the ADSs to decline significantly. The total number of ordinary shares outstanding as of March 31, 2024 was 295,132,135 ordinary shares, comprised of 197,532,135 Class A ordinary shares and 97,600,000 Class B ordinary shares. All ADSs representing our ordinary shares will be freely transferable by persons other than our “affiliates” without restriction or additional registration under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Act. All of the other ordinary shares outstanding will be available for sale, subject to volume and other restrictions as applicable under Rules 144 and 701 under the Securities Act. Any or all of these ordinary shares may be released prior to the expiration of the applicable lock-up period at the discretion of the designated representatives. To the extent shares are released before the expiration of the applicable lock-up period and sold into the market, the market price of the ADSs could decline significantly.

Certain major holders of our ordinary shares will have the right to cause us to register under the Securities Act the sale of their shares, subject to the applicable lock-up periods in connection with our initial public offering. Registration of these shares under the Securities Act would result in ADSs representing these shares becoming freely tradable without restriction under the Securities Act immediately upon the effectiveness of the registration. Sales of these ADSs in the public market could cause the price of the ADSs to decline significantly.

The voting rights of holders of ADSs are limited by the terms of the deposit agreement, and you may not be able to exercise your right to direct the voting of your Class A ordinary shares underlying your ADSs.

Holders of ADSs do not have the same rights as our registered shareholders. As a holder of our ADSs, you will not have any direct right to attend general meetings of our shareholders or to cast any votes at such meetings. You will only be able to exercise the voting rights which attach to the Class A ordinary shares underlying your ADSs indirectly by giving voting instructions to the depositary in accordance with the provisions of the deposit agreement. Under the deposit agreement, you may vote only by giving voting instructions to the depositary, as holder of the Class A ordinary shares underlying your ADSs. Upon receipt of your voting instructions, the depositary may try to vote the Class A ordinary shares underlying your ADSs in accordance with your instructions. If we ask for your instructions, then upon receipt of your voting instructions, the depositary will try to vote the underlying Class A ordinary shares in accordance with those instructions. If we do not instruct the depositary to ask for your instructions, the depositary may still vote in accordance with instructions you give, but it is not required to do so. You will not be able to directly exercise any right to vote with respect to the underlying Class A ordinary shares unless you withdraw the shares and become the registered holder of such shares prior to the record date for the general meeting. When a general meeting is convened, you may not receive sufficient advance notice of the meeting to enable you to withdraw the shares underlying your ADSs and become the registered holder of such shares prior to the record date for the general meeting to allow you to attend the general meeting and to vote directly with respect to any specific matter or resolution to be considered and voted upon at the general meeting. In addition, under our second amended and restated articles of association, for the purposes of determining those shareholders who are entitled to attend and vote at any general meeting, our directors may close our register of members and/or fix in advance a record date for such meeting, and such closure of our register of members or the setting of such a record date may prevent you from withdrawing the Class A ordinary shares underlying your ADSs and becoming the registered holder of such shares prior to the record date, so that you would not be able to attend the general meeting or to vote directly. Where any matter is to be put to a vote at a general meeting, the depositary will notify you of the upcoming vote and to deliver our voting materials to you. We cannot assure you that you will receive the voting material in time to ensure you can direct the depositary to vote your shares. In addition, the depositary and its agents are not responsible for failing to carry out voting instructions or for their manner of carrying out your voting instructions. This means that you may not be able to exercise your right to direct how the shares underlying your ADSs are voted and you may have no legal remedy if the shares underlying your ADSs are not voted as you requested.

Your right to participate in any future rights offerings may be limited, which may cause dilution to your holdings.

We may from time to time distribute rights to our shareholders, including rights to acquire our securities. However, we cannot make rights available to you in the United States unless we register both the rights and the securities to which the rights relate under the Securities Act or an exemption from the registration requirements is available. Under the deposit agreement, the depositary will not make rights available to you unless both the rights and the underlying securities to be distributed to ADS holders are either registered under the Securities Act or exempt from registration under the Securities Act. We are under no obligation to file a registration statement with respect to any such rights or securities or to endeavor to cause such a registration statement to be declared effective and we may not be able to establish a necessary exemption from registration under the Securities Act. Accordingly, you may be unable to participate in our rights offerings in the future and may experience dilution in your holdings.

You may not receive non-cash distributions if the depositary decides it is impractical to make them available to you.

To the extent that there is a distribution, the depositary has agreed to distribute to you the securities or other property it or the custodian receives on our ordinary shares or other deposited securities after deducting its fees and expenses. You will receive these distributions in proportion to the number of ordinary shares your ADSs represent.

However, the depositary may, at its discretion, decide that it is inequitable or impractical to make a distribution available to any holders of ADSs. For example, the depositary may determine that it is not practicable to distribute certain property through the mail, or that the value of certain distributions may be less than the cost of mailing them. In these cases, the depositary may decide not to distribute such property to you.

You may be subject to limitations on transfer of your ADSs.

Your ADSs are transferable on the books of the depositary. However, the depositary may close its transfer books at any time or from time to time when it deems expedient in connection with the performance of its duties. In addition, the depositary may refuse to deliver, transfer or register transfers of ADSs generally when our books or the books of the depositary are closed, or at any time if we or the depositary deems it advisable to do so because of any requirement of law or of any government or governmental body, or under any provision of the deposit agreement, or for any other reason.

ADSs holders may not be entitled to a jury trial with respect to claims arising under the deposit agreement, which could result in less favorable outcomes to the plaintiff(s) in any such action.

The deposit agreement governing the ADSs representing our Class A ordinary shares provides that, to the fullest extent permitted by law, ADS holders waive the right to a jury trial of any claim they may have against us or the depositary arising out of or relating to our shares, the ADSs or the deposit agreement, including any claim under the U.S. federal securities laws.

If we or the depositary opposed a jury trial demand based on the waiver, the court would determine whether the waiver was enforceable based on the facts and circumstances of that case in accordance with the applicable state and federal law. To our knowledge, the enforceability of a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver in connection with claims arising under the federal securities laws has not been finally adjudicated by the United States Supreme Court. However, we believe that a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver provision is generally enforceable, including under the laws of the State of New York, which govern the deposit agreement, by a federal or state court in the City of New York, which has non-exclusive jurisdiction over matters arising under the deposit agreement. In determining whether to enforce a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver provision, courts will generally consider whether a party knowingly, intelligently and voluntarily waived the right to a jury trial. We believe that this is the case with respect to the deposit agreement and the ADSs. It is advisable that you consult legal counsel regarding the jury waiver provision before entering into the deposit agreement.

If you or any other holders or beneficial owners of ADSs bring a claim against us or the depositary in connection with matters arising under the deposit agreement or the ADSs, including claims under federal securities laws, you or such other holder or beneficial owner may not be entitled to a jury trial with respect to such claims, which may have the effect of limiting and discouraging lawsuits against us and / or the depositary. If a lawsuit is brought against us and/or the depositary under the deposit agreement, it may be heard only by a judge or justice of the applicable trial court, which would be conducted according to different civil procedures and may result in different outcomes than a trial by jury would have had, including results that could be less favorable to the plaintiff(s) in any such action.

Nevertheless, if this jury trial waiver provision is not permitted by applicable law, an action could proceed under the terms of the deposit agreement with a jury trial. No condition, stipulation or provision of the deposit agreement or ADSs serves as a waiver by any holder or beneficial owner of ADSs or by us or the depository of compliance with any substantive provision of the U.S. federal securities laws and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

Certain judgments obtained against us by our shareholders may not be enforceable.

We are an exempted company incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands. We conduct our operations outside the United States and substantially all of our assets are located outside the United States. In addition, substantially all of our directors and executive officers and the experts named in this annual report reside outside the United States, and most of their assets are located outside the United States. As a result, it may be difficult or impossible for you to bring an action against us or against them in the United States in the event that you believe that your rights have been infringed under the U.S. federal securities laws or otherwise. Even if you are successful in bringing an action of this kind, the laws of the Cayman Islands, Chinese Mainland or other relevant jurisdiction may render you unable to enforce a judgment against our assets or the assets of our directors and officers. For more information regarding the relevant laws of the Cayman Islands and Chinese Mainland.

You may face difficulties in protecting your interests, and your ability to protect your rights through U.S. courts may be limited, because we are incorporated under Cayman Islands law.

We are an exempted company incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands. Our corporate affairs are governed by our memorandum and articles of association, the Cayman Companies Act and the common law of the Cayman Islands. The rights of our shareholders to take action against our directors, actions by our minority shareholders and the fiduciary duties of our directors to us under Cayman Islands law are to a large extent governed by the common law of the Cayman Islands. The common law of the Cayman Islands is derived in part from comparatively limited judicial precedent in the Cayman Islands as well as from the common law of England, the decisions of whose courts are of persuasive authority, but are not binding, on a court in the Cayman Islands. The rights of our shareholders and the fiduciary duties of our directors under Cayman Islands law are not as clearly established as they would be under statutes or judicial precedent in some jurisdictions in the United States. In particular, the Cayman Islands have a less developed body of securities laws than the United States. Some U.S. states, such as Delaware, have more fully developed and judicially interpreted bodies of corporate law than the Cayman Islands. In addition, Cayman Islands companies may not have standing to initiate a shareholder derivative action in a federal court of the United States.

Shareholders of Cayman Islands exempted companies like us have no general rights under Cayman Islands law to inspect corporate records (other than copies of our memorandum and articles of association, our register of mortgages and charges, and copies of any special resolutions passed by the shareholders) or to obtain copies of lists of shareholders of these companies. Our directors will have discretion under our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, to determine whether or not, and under what conditions, our corporate records may be inspected by our shareholders, but are not obliged to make them available to our shareholders. This may make it more difficult for you to obtain the information needed to establish any facts necessary for a shareholder resolution or to solicit proxies from other shareholders in connection with a proxy contest.

As a result of all of the above, our public shareholders may have more difficulty in protecting their interests in the face of actions taken by our management, members of our board of directors or our controlling shareholders than they would as public shareholders of a company incorporated in the United States. For a discussion of significant differences between the provisions of the Cayman Companies Act and the laws applicable to companies incorporated in the United States and their shareholders.

Our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association contain anti-takeover provisions that could discourage a third party from acquiring us, which could limit our shareholders' opportunity to sell their shares, including ordinary share represented by ADSs, at a premium.

We have adopted the second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association which became effective immediately prior to the completion of our initial public offering that contain provisions to limit the ability of others to acquire control of the Company or cause us to engage in change-of-control transactions. These provisions could have the effect of depriving our shareholders of an opportunity to sell their shares at a premium over prevailing market prices by discouraging third parties from seeking to obtain control of the Company in a tender offer or similar transaction. For example, our board of directors has the authority, without further action by our shareholders, to issue preferred shares in one or more series and to fix their designations, powers, preferences, privileges, and relative participating, optional or special rights and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions, including dividend rights, conversion rights, voting rights, terms of redemption and liquidation preferences, any or all of which may be greater than the rights associated with our ordinary shares, including ordinary shares represented by ADS. Preferred shares could be issued quickly with terms calculated to delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or make removal of management more difficult. If our board of directors decides to issue preferred shares, the price of the ADSs may fall and the voting and other rights of the holders of our ordinary shares and the ADSs may be materially and adversely affected. In addition, our amended and restated memorandum and articles of association contain other provisions that could limit the ability of third parties to acquire control of the Company or cause us to engage in a transaction resulting in a change of control.

We are a foreign private issuer within the meaning of the rules under the Exchange Act, and as such we are exempt from certain provisions applicable to U.S. domestic public companies.

Because we qualify as a foreign private issuer under the Exchange Act, we are exempt from certain provisions of the securities rules and regulations in the United States that are applicable to U.S. domestic issuers, including:

- the rules under the Exchange Act requiring the filing with the SEC of quarterly reports on Form 10-Q or current reports on Form 8-K;
- the sections of the Exchange Act regulating the solicitation of proxies, consents, or authorizations in respect of a security registered under the Exchange Act;
- the sections of the Exchange Act requiring insiders to file public reports of their stock ownership and trading activities and liability for insiders who profit from trades made in a short period of time; and
- the selective disclosure rules by issuers of material nonpublic information under Regulation FD.

We are required to file an annual report on Form 20-F within four months of the end of each fiscal year. In addition, we intend to publish our results on a quarterly basis as press releases, distributed pursuant to the rules and regulations of the NYSE. Press releases relating to financial results and material events will also be furnished to the SEC on Form 6-K. However, the information we are required to file with or furnish to the SEC will be less extensive and less timely compared to that required to be filed with the SEC by U.S. domestic issuers. As a result, you may not be afforded the same protections or information that would be made available to you were you investing in a U.S. domestic issuer.

As a foreign private issuer, we are permitted to adopt certain home country practices in relation to corporate governance matters that differ significantly from the NYSE corporate governance listing standards; these practices may afford less protection to shareholders than they would enjoy if we complied fully with the NYSE corporate governance listing standards.

We are an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands, and our ADSs are listed on the NYSE. The NYSE market rules permit a foreign private issuer like us to follow the corporate governance practices of its home country. Certain corporate governance practices in the Cayman Islands, which is our home country, differ significantly from the NYSE corporate governance listing standards.

Among other things, we are not required under the NYSE corporate governance listing standards to: (i) have a majority of the board be independent; (ii) obtain shareholders' approval for issuance of securities in certain situations; or (iii) have regularly scheduled executive sessions with only independent directors each year.

We intend to rely on the exemptions described above unless otherwise required under the applicable laws and regulations or disclosed in this annual report. As a result, you may not be provided with the benefits of certain corporate governance requirements of the NYSE.

There is a significant risk that we were a passive foreign investment company, or PFIC, for 2020 and we may be a PFIC for the current or subsequent taxable years, which could result in adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. investors in our ADSs or our ordinary shares.

In general, a non-U.S. corporation is a PFIC for any taxable year in which (i) 75% or more of its gross income consists of passive income or (ii) 50% or more of the quarterly value of its assets (generally determined on a quarterly basis) consists of assets that produce, or are held for the production of, passive income. For purposes of the above calculations, a non-U.S. corporation that owns at least 25% by value of the shares of another corporation is treated as if it held its proportionate share of the assets of the other corporation and received directly its proportionate share of the income of the other corporation. Passive income generally includes interest (and income equivalent to interest), dividends, rents, royalties and gains from financial investments. Cash is generally a passive asset for these purposes. Goodwill (which may be determined by reference to the excess of the sum of the corporation's market capitalization and liabilities over the value of its assets) is an active asset to the extent attributable to business activities that produce active income.

Due to the decrease in our market capitalization and uncertainties as to the proper classification of certain items of our income and assets for purposes of the PFIC rules, there is a significant risk that we were a PFIC for our 2020 taxable year. The proper application of the PFIC rules to us is not clear. For example, it is uncertain whether for purposes of the PFIC rules we should be treated as the owner of the Consolidated Trusts' assets. Although such trusts are consolidated on our financial statements for accounting purposes, based on the manner in which we and the trusts currently operate and the nature of our rights and obligations with respect to the trusts, we believe it is reasonable to treat the trusts' assets (to the extent not attributable to any investment by us in the trusts) as not owned by us for purposes of the PFIC rules, but there can be no assurance in this regard. If the trusts' assets were treated as owned by us for PFIC purposes, we would be a PFIC for our 2020 taxable year. Moreover, the value of our goodwill for 2020 was not a positive amount and it is not entirely clear how the percentage of our active assets should be calculated in such circumstances, and to what extent certain assets shown on our balance sheet should be treated as active for purposes of determining our PFIC status. In addition, it is not entirely clear how the contractual arrangements between us and our VIEs will be treated for purposes of the PFIC rules. Because we exercise effective control over the operation of our VIEs and are entitled to substantially all of their income, we believe it is appropriate to treat the VIEs as owned by us for purposes of the PFIC rules. However, there can be no assurance in this regard and we may be a PFIC for any taxable year if our VIEs are not treated as owned by us for such purposes. For these reasons, there is a significant risk that we were a PFIC for our taxable 2020 year and that we will be a PFIC for our current and future taxable years.

If we are a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. investor owns ADSs or ordinary shares, certain adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences could apply to such U.S. investor. For example, a U.S. investor may be subject to increased tax liabilities and generally will be subject to certain reporting requirements. See "Item 10. Additional Information—10.E. Taxation—U.S. Federal Income Taxation—Passive Foreign Investment Company."

We will continue to incur increased costs as a result of being a public company, particularly after we ceased to qualify as an "emerging growth company."

Since the completion of our initial public offering, we have incurred and expect to continue to incur significant legal, accounting and other expenses that we did not incur as a private company. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, as well as rules subsequently implemented by the SEC and the NYSE, imposes various requirements on the corporate governance practices of public companies.

These rules and regulations increase our legal and financial compliance costs and make some corporate activities more timeconsuming and costly. As we are no longer an "emerging growth company", we have incurred and expect to continue to incur significant expenses and devote substantial management effort towards ensuring compliance with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and the other rules and regulations of the SEC. For example, we have incurred and will continue to incur additional costs associated with our public company reporting requirements.

In the past, shareholders of a public company often brought securities class action suits against the company following periods of instability in the market price of that company's securities. If we were involved in a class action suit, it could divert a significant amount of our management's attention and other resources from our business and operations, which could harm our results of operations and require us to incur significant expenses to defend the suit. Any such class action suit, whether or not successful, could harm our reputation and restrict our ability to raise capital in the future. In addition, if a claim is successfully made against us, we may be required to pay significant damages, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Relating to Our Investment

We make investments using our own capital and do not expect to realize any profits from these investments for a considerable period of time.

We make investments using our own capital in certain limited partnership interests of private partnerships. We believe that those investments can bring an opportunity of exploring innovative technologies and the potential for improved profitability in long term, which is in line with our business strategies, and currently have no plans to dispose of our current investments. We may make unsound investment decisions for this reason or due to fraudulent and concealed, inaccurate or misleading statements from a target partnership in the course of our due diligence, which could lead us to mistakenly estimate the value of the target company and affect our ability to derive profit from such investments. In addition, our understanding and judgment of the investments that those partnerships make may be mistaken and result in unwise investment decisions.

Certain of our investments in partnerships focus on the blockchain industry and digital assets and are subject to certain risks of the blockchain industry and digital assets. Digital assets built on blockchain technology remain in the early stages of development. Digital assets are a new asset class that, as of yet, have not been widely adopted. Any significant decline in the value of our investment portfolio may therefore adversely impact our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

In addition, as a limited partner, we do not have ability to take in the control or management of the affairs or the conduct of the business of those partnerships. We do not have the necessary power to mandate or block material partnership actions. If these partnerships fail to carry out business in a compliant manner, incur overly excessive amount of debt or go bankrupt, or the business operations decline, the fair value of our investment in these companies may deteriorate or, in extreme cases, decrease to zero. The partnerships that focus on the high-tech industry or emerging companies normally put the funds raised from limited partners in small or mid-size banks that are more likely subject to financial instability and liquidity risks. If these small or mid-size banks fail or go bankrupt, we may suffer the loss of our investments in the partnerships. We are subject to the risk that the general partners or the management of these partnerships may act in a manner that does not serve our interests. The general operational risks, such as inadequate or failing internal control of these partnerships, may also expose our investments to risks. Furthermore, these partnerships may fail to abide by their agreements with us, for which we may have limited or no recourse. Our investees may not issue distributions, or even if they do, we may not be able to secure liquidity conveniently until we receive such distributions. Failure of our investees to perform their obligations or to achieve their expected results, or any negative publicity, whether or not substantiated, may adversely affect our reputation and brand. If any of the foregoing were to occur, our business, reputation, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Poor performance of our investments could cause a decline in our revenue and could negatively impact our ability to raise capital.

Poor performance of our investments may deter future investment in us and thereby decrease our revenue and thus have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and cash flow. If an investee performs poorly, we will receive little or no income, or possibly losses, from any principal investment, which could adversely affect our financial position.

Our strategic investing business is subject to liquidity risks.

Certain of our investments are in the form of limited partnership interests that are not publicly traded and are subject to liquidity risks. In many cases, there may be prohibition by contract or by applicable laws from selling such limited partnership interests for a period of time or there may not be a public market for such securities. Accordingly, under certain conditions, we may be forced to either sell limited partnership interests at lower prices than we had expected to realize or defer, potentially for a considerable period of time, sales that we had planned to make. Investing in these securities can involve a high degree of risk, and we may lose some or all of the principal amount of such investments. In addition, market conditions and regulatory environment can also delay our exit and realization of investments.

The investigation process that we undertake in connection with our investments may not reveal all facts that may be relevant in connection with an investment.

Before making our investments, we conduct investigation that we deem reasonable and appropriate based on the facts and circumstances applicable to each investment opportunity. The objective of the investigation process is to identify both the attractive attributes of and risks associated with an investment. When conducting investigation, we may need to evaluate important and complex business, financial, regulatory, tax, accounting, environmental and legal issues. Outside consultants, legal advisors, and accountants may be involved in the process in varying degrees depending on the type of investment.

When conducting investigation and assessing an investment, we rely on the resources available to us, including information from the target and, in some circumstances, third-party investigations and analysis. The information available to us in conducting investigation of our investment may be limited. Accordingly, the investigation that we carry out with respect to an investment opportunity may not reveal or highlight all relevant facts that may be necessary or helpful in evaluating it.

In addition, investment opportunities may involve companies that have historic and/or unresolved regulatory, tax-, fraud or accounting-related investigations, audits or inquiries and/or have been subject to accusations of improper behavior (including bribery and corruption). Even specific, enhanced investigations with respect to such matters may not reveal or highlight all facts and circumstances that may be relevant to evaluating the investment opportunity and/or accurately identifying and assessing settlements, enforcement actions and judgments that could arise and have a material adverse effect on the portfolio company's operations, financial condition, cash flow, reputation and prospects. Our investigations may not result in us making successful investments. Failure to identify risks associated with our investments could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and cash flow.

Volatility in the price of digital assets could cause significant fluctuation in the value of our investment and adversely affect our financial position.

Certain private partnerships we invested in focus on the blockchain industry investment. The prices of digital assets have historically been subject to dramatic fluctuations and are highly volatile. A decrease in the price of a single digital asset may cause volatility in the entire digital asset industry. Certain digital assets may become more volatile and less liquid in a very short period of time, resulting in market prices being subject to erratic and abrupt market movement, which could harm our investments. In 2022, market volatility in the prices of digital assets has been elevated due to a variety of factors, including, but not limited to, the macroeconomic environment (high inflation and rising interest rates) as well as the "crypto credit crisis" brought on by the collapse and bankruptcy of a small number of key players in the sector (cryptocurrency Luna collapse, hedge fund Three Arrows Capital default on loans and filing for bankruptcy, crypto-lending platform Celsius freezing all withdraws, cryptocurrency lender Voyager Digital filing for bankruptcy, Crypto exchange FTX filing for bankruptcy among others). In response to the market volatility experienced in 2022, we have provided additional impairment and loss for the investments that have been affected. In 2023, the overall improved performance in digital asset market did not necessitate any further impairment or loss recognition for those investments. However, there are still uncertainties of the volatility in the price of digital assets in the future, which depend on a number of factors beyond the Company's control and are difficult to predict. As a result, the market volatility in the prices of digital assets in the future could cause significant fluctuation in the value of our investment and adversely affect our financial position.

4.B. Business Overview

Overview

X financial is a leading online personal finance company in China. We are committed to connecting borrowers on our platform with institutional funding partners. With proprietary big data-driven technology, we have established strategic partnerships with financial institutions across multiple areas of its business operations, enabling us to facilitating loans to prime borrowers under a robust risk assessment and control system.

We offer differentiated products specifically catered to the financing needs of individuals in Chinese Mainland. Our main category of loan products is Xiaoying Credit Loan, a category of online personal credit loan products facilitated through our platform, including Xiaoying Card Loan, Xiaoying Preferred Loan and other unsecured loan products that we introduce from time to time. Xiaoying Card Loan is our flagship product under Xiaoying Credit Loan, which offers borrowers a combination of small credit line and attractive APR in Chinese Mainland. We ceased facilitation of Xiaoying Preferred Loan in October 2019. We ceased facilitation of Xiaoying Revolving Loan at the end of 2020 to optimize our product portfolio with a focus on Xiaoying Card Loan, which targets prime borrowers and has proven to meet customers' needs and fits better into our strategy to drive long-term profitable growth. Xiaoying Revolving Loan was a category of products that provide borrowers with a credit limit, enabling borrowers to repay the borrowed amount at any time with an interest-free period or repay by installments. The major product under the category Xiaoying Revolving Loan was Yaoqianhua, initially named as Xiaoying Wallet when it was launched in August 2018.

Our proven risk management and credit assessment capabilities, and the accompanying insurance/guarantee protection from third parties, enable us to attract a diversified and low-cost funding base to support our growth. Before 2020, we had both individual investors and corporate investors on our Xiaoying Wealth Management platform, a platform that was designed for investors who invested in our loan products by providing funding for such loans. We actively expanded institutional funding and achieved 100% institutional funding for the new loans facilitated by the end of the second quarter of 2020. As of December 17, 2020, we had repaid all the outstanding investment principal and interest to individual investors who previously made investments as a P2P investor through Xiaoying Wealth Management platform. Since that date, we have not undertaken any activities related to the P2P operation. In May 2021, we obtained a network microcredit license from the Local Financial Regulatory Bureau of Shenzhen Municipality and started online microcredit business in July 2021 by providing loans funded from own capital. Our registered capital for microcredit reached RMB1,000,000,000 by the end of November, 2021. In 2021, 98.0% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners and 2.0% were provided by our own funds. In 2022, 97.3% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners and 2.7% were provided by our own funds. In 2023, 97.2% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners and 2.8% were provided by our own funds. In 2021, 2022 and 2023, the overall funding cost for the loans we facilitated was 8.62%, 8.38% and 7.75% respectively.

Our business model is light in labor commitment, and we believe we manage our transaction and operating costs in an effective way. Benefiting from our superior loan product offerings, strong credit performance and accompanying insurance/guarantee protection, we continue to expand our user base. Furthermore, our highly automated risk management system and technology infrastructure enable us to automatically facilitate a large number of transactions simultaneously. In 2021, 2022 and 2023, our net revenue per employee was RMB8,552,983, RMB7,728,742 and RMB9,241,620, respectively, and our general and administrative expenses as a percentage of our total net revenues was 5.2%, 4.8% and 3.9% respectively.

We utilize data-driven and technology-empowered credit analysis. Our proprietary risk control system, WinSAFE, builds risk profiles of our prospective borrowers upon data from reputable credit information providers employed by traditional financial institutions, augmented by a variety of social and behavioral data from internet and mobile platforms not typically utilized by traditional financial institutions. Leveraging data analysis and machine learning in assessing a borrower's value, repayment capability and propensity, we are able to offer differentiated credit limits to borrowers based on individual credit assessment result. Our rigorous data-driven credit assessment methodology has helped us to achieve a strategic balance between borrower expansion and asset quality control. In 2021, 2022 and 2023, the total loans we facilitated amounted to RMB51,859 million, RMB73,655 million and RMB 105,557 million, respectively, while the delinquency rate for all outstanding loans that were 31-60 days past due increased from 1.02% as of December 31, 2022 to 1.57% as of December 31, 2023.

We benefit from our strategic partnership with various licensed financial institutional cooperators. The protection offered by their credit insurance or financing guarantee on the loans that we facilitate significantly enhances our intuitional funding partners' trust in our business. Our risk management system is also strengthened by those financial institutional cooperators' insurance or guarantee decision opinion. Our financial institutional cooperators' credit assessment models are based on information from various databases, including information from PBOC CRC which is only available to licensed financial institutions. Our financial institutional cooperators' insurance or guarantee decision opinion serves as one of the inputs of our comprehensive credit risk management system, along with other behavior and credit information.

We generate revenues primarily from (i) the fees that we charge for our service of matching institutional funding partners with borrowers (i.e., our loan facilitation service) and for other services we provide over the lifetime of the loan (i.e., our post-origination service and guarantee service); (ii) interests from borrowers from our microcredit business and the financing fees we charges for the loans facilitated through the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships (i.e., our financing income). We charge a service fee from the borrower indirectly through financial institutional cooperators or from certain institutional funding partners directly. The financing guarantee companies charge borrowers a guarantee fee, a portion of which will be subsequently paid to us as the service fee. We cooperated with Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) to provide guarantees for certain loan products that we facilitate in the past. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. We settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) no longer guarantees any loan products. In 2023, one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin that holds the financing guarantee license, started the financing guarantee business. In 2024, we expect to deepen our cooperation with other financial institutional cooperators to provide guarantees for the loans that we facilitate in the future. See "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators." In 2021, our service fee rate (annualized based on original amount of loan principal) of our major loan products ranged from 0.1% to 11.8% and the service fees we charged for loan facilitation services, post-origination services and guarantee services accounted for 70.2%, 8.7%, and 0.4%, respectively, of our total net revenues. In 2022, our service fee rate (annualized based on original amount of loan principal) of our major loan products ranged from 0.8% to 12.9% and the service fees we charged for loan facilitation services, post-origination services and guarantee services accounted for 57.4%, 10.5%, and 0.1%, respectively, of our total net revenues. In 2023, our service fee rate (annualized based on original amount of loan principal) of our major loan products ranged from 0.9% to 11.2% and the service fees we charged for loan facilitation services, post-origination services and guarantee services accounted for 56.9%, 12.4%, and 0.5%, respectively, of our total net revenues. In 2021, 2022 and 2023, our financing income accounted for 18.5%, 27.1% and 23.6%, respectively, of our total net revenues.

Our Borrowers and Loan Products

Overview

We strategically target the prime borrowers underserved by traditional financial institutions. We believe we set a high standard of credit quality by defining our borrowers as prime borrowers, who we define as an individual having sound credit history, who has credit records with PBOC CRC and usually no late payment record of over 60 days in the previous six months. For the determination of a prime borrower, we review their credit history, along with our sophisticated risk management review system.

Our differentiated loan products suite addresses the financing needs of our target prime borrower segments. Xiaoying Credit Loan is our main category of loan products, which consists of Xiaoying Card Loan catering to the young consumers, Xiaoying Preferred Loan catering to small business owners and other unsecured loan products that we introduce from time to time. Xiaoying Revolving Loan mainly consists of Yaoqianhua (initially named as Xiaoying Wallet) catering to online purchasing users. Xiaoying Housing Loan caters to the property owners. Our Xiaoying Credit Loan and Xiaoying Revolving Loan are unsecured loan products and our Xiaoying Housing Loan is a secured loan product. Xiaoying Credit Loan

Considering that both Xiaoying Card Loan and Xiaoying Preferred Loan are unsecured online personal credit loan products, in 2018 we integrated those two products with similar features into one general product category, Xiaoying Credit Loan, to improve management efficiency. We have ceased the facilitation of Xiaoying Preferred Loan since October 2019. We may introduce other unsecured loan products from time to time under the category of Xiaoying Credit Loan.

Xiaoying Card Loan

Launched in December 2016, Xiaoying Card Loan, primarily an online personal credit loan product, is our flagship product targeting prime borrowers.

Borrowers

Xiaoying Card Loan’s target borrowers are primarily young consumers who are in the early stages of their careers with insufficient credit lines granted by traditional credit card issuers, and they choose Xiaoying Card Loan to supplement their credit lines to fulfill their consumption needs.

Products

We offer Xiaoying Card Loan in amounts ranging from RMB500 to RMB50,000 with terms of three, six, nine and twelve installments. Borrowers usually repay the principal and interest accrued based on the original principal amount in equal monthly installments, provided that, prior to December 7, 2017, we deducted part of the service fees from the loan principal in advance and received the remaining service fees paid by borrowers in equal monthly installments. In 2021, 2022 and 2023, the average APR of Xiaoying Card Loan paid by borrowers was 19.34%, 17.58% and 18.34%.

We facilitated 4,926,629 loans, 6,217,145 loans and 8,338,928 loans for Xiaoying Card Loans in 2021, 2022 and 2023, respectively. The total loan amount of Xiaoying Card Loan we facilitated increased from RMB51,859 million in 2021 to RMB73,526 million in 2022 and then further increased to RMB105,550 million in 2023. The average loan amount per transaction was RMB10,526 in 2021, RMB11,826 in 2022 and RMB12,658 in 2023. The outstanding balance of Xiaoying Card Loan we facilitated to borrowers increased from RMB24,864 million as of December 31, 2021 to RMB37,892 million as of December 31, 2022 and further increased to RMB48,813 million as of December 31, 2023.

Transaction Process

We facilitate most of Xiaoying Card Loan through mobile application which is a simple, secure and convenient loan application process. The following diagram illustrates a simplified transaction process of Xiaoying Card Loan:

Stage 1: Application

Applicants of Xiaoying Card Loan must first register a user account by providing requested personal details, including mobile phone number and identity card information. With the applicant’s authorization, the identity card will be automatically captured and recognized by our authentication module through Optical Character Recognition, or OCR technology. Applicants are also required to do specific poses facing the front camera of their phones to complete automatic biometric recognition. When the registered users choose their desired loan amount and term of a loan product, they are required to further provide additional information including current residential addresses, contacts and debit card information used for monthly repayment.

Stage 2: Verification

Upon submission of a completed application, we verify each applicant’s information using multiple authentication technologies and internal and external databases, including, among others, face scanning and OCR technology, the internal and industry blacklist provided by third party database and the mobile activities of the applicant, to identify and screen for fraudulent applications. See “—Risk Management” for details.

Stage 3: Credit Assessment

Once an applicant's information is input into our proprietary risk control system, WinSAFE, we will conduct credit assessment based on our database. We will also send the identity information of the applicant to our financial institutional cooperators and receive their credit opinion on insurance or guarantee based on their credit analysis model. We will, in accordance with our own risk management strategies, embed such credit opinion on insurance or guarantee into our risk management model for determining and assigning each applicant a credit grade. Such credit grade is a comprehensive credit level reflecting our prediction of the applicant's likelihood of future delinquency, considering multiple factors, among others, the applicant's ability to fund repayment obligations. We continue to optimize our risk management model as we modify and identify more effective proxies to estimate an applicant's income level. We constantly incorporate new information into our credit assessment process with our own accumulated data as well as external third party collaboration such as other online lending platforms to better evaluate the overall indebtedness of the applicant and his or her likelihood to repay our loans with loans from other platforms. Credit grade will not be adjusted until the same applicant applies for another loan, when the repayment history of all the existing loans will be added into the risk model to determine the credit grade for the new loan application. See "—Risk Management" for a detailed description of WinSAFE and other aspects of our risk management.

Stage 4: Approval and Funding

Following the credit assessment, we may (i) approve the loan application, (ii) approve the loan subject to modification of the loan amount, or (iii) decline the loan application. Applicants are notified of the results.

Once the applicant's loan application is approved, we may send the application to institutional funding partners for their credit assessment. Once a loan is fully subscribed after the credit assessment of our institutional funding's risk control model, funds are transferred to the borrower's account. The borrower will enter into related agreements for funding.

Stage 5: Servicing and Collection

We provide repayment reminder services through in-app notifications, SMSs or phone calls by our service representatives before the due date for each scheduled repayment. We collect a penalty fee from a defaulting borrower on a daily basis for past due loan principal.

We establish a score model to differentiate the risk level of a defaulting borrower based on the type of loan products, outstanding amount, delinquent days and historical repayment pattern. We adopt various approaches, including text messages, phone calls and other legitimate actions to request repayment of the delinquent loan balance and accrued interests and default charges.

We outsource most of our collection services to third party collection agencies and we require them to use our servicing and collection system and comply with our guidelines and standards. We also monitor the performance of such third party collection agencies to ensure appropriate collection methods and practices through KPI monitoring, phone call recording playback, site visits, complaint call playback, internal training, as well as assessments.

Borrower Acquisition and Retention

Xiaoying Card Loan is very attractive to prime borrowers looking for a combination of small credit line and attractive APR. Supported by our advanced credit analytics, we are able to deliver a superior user experience through user-friendly loan application process, efficient credit decision, and speedy remittance, which in turn enables us to expand our borrower base. We also advertise our loan products and loan facilitation services through online channels, including our website and mobile application and cooperation with search engines, app stores, third party apps and WeChat self-media public accounts.

We continue to provide existing borrowers with convenient lending services to enhance borrower stickiness. For borrowers with good transaction history, we may raise their loan limit, offer discounted service fees and a better referral program.

Xiaoying Housing Loan

In July 2015, we started to facilitate Xiaoying Housing Loan, a home equity loan product secured by properties owned by borrowers. Xiaoying Housing Loan's target borrowers are primarily small business owners holding properties with short-term liquidity and capital needs for daily operations and consumption. Since February 2019, we have strategically ceased the facilitation of Xiaoying Housing Loan due to the time-consuming foreclosure process of underlying collateral for defaulted loans. We do not charged-off and exclude Xiaoying Housing loan delinquent for more 60 days in the outstanding loan balance, as Xiaoying Housing Loan is a secured loan product and we are entitled to payment by exercising our rights to the collaterals. The outstanding balance of Xiaoying Housing Loan we facilitated to borrowers decreased from RMB48 million as of December 31, 2021 to RMB40 million as of December 31, 2022 and further decreased to RMB34 million as of December 31, 2023. Borrowers of Xiaoying Housing Loan entered into an entrusted guarantee agreement and a security agreement with Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) under which the borrower payed fees to Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) for providing guarantee to the investor or institutional funding partners of Xiaoying Housing Loan and established mortgage in its real properties as a security for Shenzhen Xintang (VIE)'s guarantee services. The guarantee related to the default of the outstanding balance of Xiaoying Housing Loan were all settled by the end of the first quarter of 2020.

Our Investors and Institutional Funding Partners

We used to provide investment products to individual investors on our Xiaoying Wealth Management platform. Since early 2019, we began the transformation of its business model from a P2P platform to a platform that focuses on the facilitation of its institutional funding partners to provide loans to borrowers. The change was initiated primarily in response to the rapidly evolving regulations in Chinese Mainland, including requirements to reduce loan balance, investor count and fees for the P2P business. We ceased accepting new investment in our loan products from individual investors on the Xiaoying Wealth Management platform at the end of 2019 and achieved 100% institutional funding for the new loans facilitated by the end of the second quarter of 2020. In December 2020, we fully repaid the investment principals and interest to all of the individual investors who invested in our loan products on the Xiaoying Wealth Management platform. In May 2021, we obtained a network microcredit license from the Local Financial Regulatory Bureau of Shenzhen Municipality and started online microcredit business in July 2021. In 2021, 98.0% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners and 2.0% were provided by our own capital. In 2022, 97.3% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners and 2.7% were provided by our own capital. In 2023, 97.2% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners and 2.8% were provided by our own capital.

As part of our efforts to expand our cooperation with institutional funding partners, we established a business relationship with certain trusts which were administered by third party trust companies. The trusts were set up to invest solely in the loans facilitated by us on our platform to provide returns to the beneficiaries of the trusts through interest payments made by the borrowers. In 2021, we further developed a new business model with certain trust partners. We and certain trusts jointly established several limited partnership enterprises, or LPs, to invest solely in the loans facilitated by us on our platform to provide returns to us through interest payments made by the borrowers. In terms of the partnership agreements, we, as the general partner, are responsible for the business operations of the LPs and authored to execute contracts on behalf of the LPs. We determine to consolidate these trusts and LPs as we have the power to direct the operating activities and absorb or enjoys the potential residual losses or returns of the trusts and LPs.

In connection with our collaboration with institutional funding partners, we have jointly established effective risk control management system. We work with various financial institutional cooperators, such as insurance companies and financing guarantee companies to provide insurance or guarantee covering loans funded by institutional funding partners, which enhances the funding partners' confidence and enables us to obtain funding sources at favorable terms. In July 2023, Tianjin Yuexin started to provide for certain loans that we facilitated and were provided by institutional funding partners. Tianjin Yuexin entered into deposit arrangements with those institutional funding partners to compensate them when it fail to fulfill its obligation. The amount of deposit is separately agreed with each institutional funding partner.

Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators

We have established in-depth cooperation with financial institutional cooperators, such as insurance companies and financial guarantee companies, who provide credit insurance/financial guarantee services to protect funding providers against default for both the principal and interest. We monitor their financial conditions and credit rating periodically. Substantially all of them have at least AA credit rating issued by rating companies including China Lianhe Credit Rating Co., Ltd., China Chengxin Credit Management Co., Ltd., Xiamen Lianhe Credit Information Service Co., Ltd and Fujian China Chengxin Credit Rating Consulting Co., Ltd. Our institutional cooperators provide services covering both the North China and South China areas, most of which have a registered capital of more than RMB1 billion. 85.0% of our outstanding loans were covered by the credit insurance/ financial guarantee services provided by external financial institutional cooperators as of December 31, 2023.

Credit Insurance and Guarantee Services

We cooperated with Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) to provide guarantees for certain loan products that we facilitate in the past. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. We settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) no longer guarantees any loan products. In June 2023, one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin that holds the financing guarantee license, started the financing guarantee business for certain loans funded by Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE). In July 2023, Tianjin Yuexin started to provide for certain loans that we facilitated and were provided by institutional funding partners. Tianjin Yuexin also built a new business model by collaboration with external financing guarantee companies, where Tianjin Yuexin assumes 20% of the guarantee liability, and the external financing guarantee company assumes 80% of the guarantee liability. Under this business model, Tianjin Yuexin has the obligation to pay 20% of the defaulted principal and interest to our institutional funding partners and no obligation to pay to the external financing guarantee company. In 2024, we expect to deepen our cooperation with other financial institutional cooperators to provide guarantees for the loans that we facilitate in the future.

We have expanded our cooperation with high-quality external financial institutional cooperators that provide services to protect institutional funding partners from losses incurred from borrowers' defaults and charge fees from borrowers. A portion of the fees will be subsequently paid to us by the external financial institutional cooperators as the service fee.

Deposit Arrangement

Starting from November 2019, we enter into a series of deposit arrangements with financial institutional cooperators. We are required to pay deposits to those financial institutional cooperators monthly or in accordance with an agreed payment schedule. The amount of deposit is separately agreed with each institutional cooperator, usually calculated by multiplying the outstanding loan balance on the reconciliation date by an agreed percent rate ("the standard amount"). The agreed percent rate may be adjusted from time to time. If the balance of the deposits exceeds the standard amount or supplementary payment of deposit is needed, the financial institutional cooperators shall refund the excess part to us or we shall make supplementary payment of deposit in accordance with an agreed payment schedule.

Cooperation on Technology

We cooperate with financial institutional cooperators in technology development. The risk decision system established by our financial institutional cooperators which is based on their credit analysis model, leveraging its resources and access to various databases, including PBOC CRC that is only available to licensed financial institutions, provide assistant services to our risk decision process. Such services include product management, business monitoring and management risk policies. In addition to our financial institutional cooperators' decision and input, we also incorporate other credit and fraud related data and models to complete our full credit evaluation.

Third Party Payment Service Providers

We cooperate with third party payment service providers for the payment, settlement and clearance of the proceeds of the loans for our borrowers and investors. In choosing the third party payment agent, we take into consideration numerous criteria, including network infrastructure, security measures, reliability, information technology capabilities and experience.

Risk Management

We have adhered to the principal of “Respect Risk” in our operations since our establishment. Leveraging its extensive knowledge and in-depth insights in risk management from years of working experiences with large and reputable financial institutions, our risk management team has developed comprehensive risk management system, policies and measures covering data collection and reprocess, development and upgrading of risk control system, fraud detection and credit scoring and pricing.

The three core elements of our risk management are data, technology and management. We base our credit assessment on rigorous quantitative analysis. We have developed our proprietary risk control system, WinSAFE, on the foundations of traditional consumer banking risk management modules with reputable credit information and big data generated from mobile internet to manage the risk in our daily operation.

Data Collection and Reprocessing

Sufficient and high-quality data is the foundation for effective risk management. We collect data that is directly provided and authorized for our use by the user and from multiple third party data providers. We cooperate with third party credit agencies for credit data of borrowers. Moreover, we accumulate data from social activities, including but not limited to, social circles, website activities, mobile behavior and contact information. All the data collected by our internal team enables us to build up a comprehensive credit database to analyze user data from both traditional consumer finance data and the big data generated from mobile internet relating to users’ social behavior and spending pattern that are typically ignored by traditional financial institutions.

We take advantage of our accumulated massive data and have established a comprehensive profile of each user containing over 10,000 variables covering traditional consumer banking data and the big data generated from mobile internet, providing the solid base for our credit assessment and decision-making and differentiating us from other consumer finance companies who may only have data in certain areas. We utilize various data reprocessing technology such as data smoothing algorithm and social network graphic to ensure the reliability and accuracy of data and perform in-depth data analysis.

Risk Control System and Models

We have independently developed our proprietary risk control system, WinSAFE, which is our decision center and is able to carry out thousands of testing simultaneously. Based on data collection, processing and analytics, through our WinSAFE system, we continue to fine-tune mobile lending credit policy through numerous tests each month to achieve best risk returns. The two major components of our risk management procedures are risk assessment model optimization and credit policy adjustments.

The risk assessment model optimization maintains over 20 models primarily including logistics regression and machine learning models that are employed at different stages for different products. Each model performs the function independently but operates in close synchronization with each other, enabling WinSAFE to effectively analyze a borrower’s value, payment capability and payment attitude to accurately evaluate the borrower’s credit worthiness. Apart from the traditional numerical variables, we also convert unorthodox inputs, such as human behavior, social relationships and mobile activities, into numerical covariates through complex algorithms. The credit policy adjustments is established through lifetime value of the users and rigorous stress tests to achieve a balance between business volume and profitability with an emphasis on business resiliency. We continuously modify and incorporate new information into our credit policy, such as economic environment, user clientele change and new testing results. The models are updated daily or regularly to match the business development through machine learning with traditional modeling, providing an increasingly accurate indicator of default risk with the increasing availability of data.

Currently, through our continuous optimization, WinSAFE is able to process data through the processes from loan application to approval and is able to make decisions within ten minutes for over 90% of Xiaoying Card Loan, providing instant feedback that the mobile users are in desire of and strengthening our risk control and fully automatic decision-making capability.

Fraud Detection

We utilize internal and third party databases and authentication technologies, including face scanning and OCR verification of identity cards and bank cards, to verify and authenticate the identity of the applicant and the submitted application information. We effectively implement over 300 anti-fraud rules and use our multiple-source database containing various internal and industry blacklists and multiple-dimension tagging system to detect the probability of individual and group fraud.

Leveraging our in-depth data analysis of the comprehensive data we have collected, we assess the applicant's payment capability and payment attitude. We adopt over 10,000 variables in credit assessment and crosscheck with a blacklist of over 1,000,000 fraud data. Utilizing big data, we apply various analytical processes, such as machine learning, deep learning, graphical analysis, to identify credit risks and potential fraudulent behavior of each applicant and build and optimize our credit assessment model.

When our risk control system receives an application, we will send the applicant's insurance or guarantee application to our financial institutional cooperators and will receive the insurance or guarantee decision opinion from those financial institutional cooperators based on their credit analysis. We will, in accordance with our own risk management strategies, embed such assessment results into our risk management models for decision making.

Credit Scoring and Pricing

We offer differentiated credit pricing and credit limits to prime borrowers based on individual credit grades. Based on our prediction of the applicant's likelihood of future delinquency and his/her profile, our risk management system assigns a credit grade to each remaining Xiaoying Card Loan applicant, with risk level A representing the lowest risk, risk level D representing the highest risk. Such credit grade is a comprehensive credit level generally determined based on the grouping of an applicant's basic information, credit history and behavior data, including personal identity information, education background, consumption and social network behavior, and insurance or guarantee decision opinion from our financial institutional cooperators. Credit grade is determined at the time of a loan application and will not be adjusted until the borrower applies for another loan, when the repayment history of all the existing loans will be added into the risk model to determine the credit grade for the new loan application. In addition to the individual specification attaching to the credit grade for each applicant, from time to time, we adjust the overall standard of each credit risk level based on market conditions and our risk management policies when we believe necessary.

We review and modify our segmented pricing from time to time, taking into consideration not only the borrower credit risk but also other factors, such as market interest rates, adequacy of investor protection mechanism and competition in the market.

Our Technology and IT Infrastructure

Technology System

We believe our technology and IT infrastructure are a competitive advantage and an important reason that borrowers and institutional funding partners utilize our platform. Key features of our technology and IT infrastructure include:

Abundant Mobile Internet Data

We collected a large amount of borrowers' credit and behavioral data. The substantial volume of data in the system enables us to build a comprehensive credit profile for each borrower.

Advanced Computing Technology

User-friendly Mobile Applications

We have independently developed the mobile applications for borrowers of Xiaoying Card Loan, Xiaoying Revolving Loan and investors of Xiaoying Wealth Management, respectively. The mobile applications enable users to access our platform at any time and at any location to make transactions in a convenient way.

The mobile application of Xiaoying Card Loan adopts the OCR identity verification technology (ID card, face, bank card) for borrowers to complete the verification. We also incentivize the borrowers to recommend the application to their friends by issuing coupons as discounts to the service fee.

The mobile application “Yaoqianhua”, previously named as Xiaoying Wallet, was developed for our borrowers to apply for Xiaoying Revolving Loan. We have ceased the operation of Xiaoying Revolving Loan in 2020, while the mobile application “Yaoqianhua” is still in operation for existing users to access and check their history transaction details. For newly registered users and existing users, they can apply for Xiaoying Card Loan via “Yaoqianhua” application. This is done through redirection links and jumping to Xiaoying Card Loan application page.

We have completely ceased the investment in loans on our Xiaoying Wealth Management platform, while Xiaoying Wealth Management platform showcases to a limited number of whitelist users selected money market banking products, funds, and insurance provided by certain qualified business partners pursuant to the Administrative Measures on Supervision of Money Market Funds. This is done through redirection links or jumping to mini-programs, generating a relatively small volume of business for certain qualified business partners. We do not carry out any of the sale, subscription or redemption of any money market products on our Xiaoying Wealth Management platform by ourselves.

Data and Transaction Security and Stability

We collect and store a large amount of user data, including mobile phone numbers, identification card numbers, bank card numbers and borrowing information in our database. We take the privacy of our users and security of their information seriously, and have implemented a strict internal user data security management policy and to protect our users’ confidential information. The policy establishes user’s authorization to data usage, data and information classification, approval procedures and access rights for confidential information and data. We require written records of each of our employee’s access and retrieval of the data and monitor the process.

We adopt remote backup technology and have built up a disaster recovery structure of “two locations, three centers.” In addition, we back up our core business database daily on dedicated backup servers. We have implemented a data-backup policy to ensure the safety of our data.

Research and Development

Our technology development personnel have extensive experience with leading internet, online consumer finance and mobile commerce and financial technology companies, and focuses on the following that support our long-term business growth:

- Maintaining and strengthening all of our platform and application system, including but not limited to: main website, mobile applications, back-stage system, proprietary data and credit analysis systems, payment system and big data system;
- Ensuring our technology system is well established, reviewed, tested and continuously strengthened; and
- Organizing and participating in the industry seminars, exploring relevant cutting-edge technologies.

Brand, Sales and Marketing

Our general marketing efforts are designed to build brand awareness and reputation and to attract and retain borrowers and institutional funding partners. We believe reputation and word-of-mouth marketing drive continued organic growth in borrower base. As a supplement, we use offline network channel and online marketing initiatives to promote our brand and products. For example, we work with several advertising companies to promote our mobile applications with internet companies through online advertisements. We also cooperate with media and organize branding events to enhance our brand awareness.

Users Service

To better serve our users, we have independently developed a comprehensive user service system. We provide user service from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. every day through our user service hotline, 24/7 artificial intelligence customer service and human customer service from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. every day through our website, mobile applications and WeChat public account. Our user service personnel are responsible for answering calls for our user service hotlines, responding to queries in emails, as well as providing online user service support. To monitor the quality of our user services, each inquiry made by our users will be recorded and reviewed on a selective basis.

Intellectual Property

We regard our trademarks, domain names, copyrights, know-how, proprietary technologies and similar intellectual property as critical to our success, and we rely on trademark and trade secret law and confidentiality, invention assignment and non-compete agreements with our employees and others to protect our proprietary rights. We have registered 361 trademarks in the Chinese Mainland and 2 trademarks under application in the Chinese Mainland. We are the registered holder of 189 domain names. We also have 83 copyrights for our proprietary techniques in connection with our systems. We have registered 10 patents in the Chinese Mainland and 4 patents under application in the Chinese Mainland.

Seasonality of Our Business

We experience seasonality in our business, reflecting seasonal fluctuations in internet usage and traditional personal consumption patterns, as our individual borrowers typically use their borrowing proceeds to finance their personal consumption needs. For example, we generally experience lower transaction volume during national holidays in Chinese Mainland, particularly during the Chinese New Year holiday season in the first quarter of each year. As we facilitate loans to institutional funding partners, such as commercial banks, our business may also be affected by liquidity seasonality in the banking system. For example, liquidity in Chinese Mainland's banking sector has historically had a tendency to be looser at the beginning of each calendar year and tighter towards the end of each calendar year. Due to our limited operating history, the seasonal trends that we have experienced in the past may not apply to, or be indicative of, our future operating results.

Competition

The online personal finance industry in China is an emerging industry in China. It provides a new means for consumers to obtain financing. As a leading player in China's online personal finance platform market, we face intensive competition from other online marketplaces, online finance service providers, technology giant backed internet finance platforms, as well as traditional financial institutions.

Online personal finance marketplaces which operate online platforms connecting borrowers and institutional funding partners compete directly with us for both borrowers and institutional funding partners. We also compete with traditional financial institutions, including credit card issuers, consumer finance business units in commercial banks and other consumer finance companies. Some of our larger competitors have substantially broader product or service offerings and rich financial resources to support heavy spending on sales and marketing. In light of the low barriers to entry in the online consumer finance industry, more players may enter this market and increase the level of competition. We anticipate that more established internet, technology and financial services companies that possess large, existing user bases, substantial financial resources and established distribution channels may enter the market in the future.

As evidenced by our market leadership, we believe that we are able to compete effectively for borrowers and institutional funding partners by leveraging our competitive advantages including our strategic positioning to target the prime borrower segment, superior user experience on our platform, effectiveness of our risk management, the return offered to institutional funding partners, our partnership with various business partners, and the strength and reputation of our brands.

Regulations Relating to Foreign Investment

On March 15, 2019, the National People's Congress promulgated the PRC Foreign Investment Law, which became effective on January 1, 2020 and replaced the existing laws regulating foreign investment in Chinese Mainland, namely, the PRC Equity Joint Venture Law, the PRC Cooperative Joint Venture Law and the Wholly Foreign-owned Enterprise Law, together with their implementation rules and ancillary regulations. Meanwhile, the Regulations for the Implementation of the PRC Foreign Investment Law came into effect on January 1, 2020, which clarified and elaborated the relevant provisions of the PRC Foreign Investment Law. The organization form, organization and activities of foreign-invested enterprises shall be governed, among others, by the PRC Company Law and the PRC Partnership Enterprise Law. Foreign-invested enterprises established before the implementation of the PRC Foreign Investment Law may retain the original business organization and so on within five years after the implementation of this Law. The Foreign Investment Law and the Implementation Regulations do not mention the relevant concept and regulatory regime of VIE structures.

The PRC Foreign Investment Law is formulated to further expand opening-up, vigorously promote foreign investment and protect the legitimate rights and interests of foreign investors. According to the PRC Foreign Investment Law, foreign investments are entitled to pre-entry national treatment and subject to negative list management system. The pre-entry national treatment means that the treatment given to foreign investors and their investments at the stage of investment access is no lower than that of domestic investors and their investments. The negative list management system means that the state implements special administrative measures for foreign investment in specific fields. Foreign investors shall not invest in any forbidden fields stipulated in the negative list and shall meet the conditions stipulated in the negative list before investing in any restricted fields. Foreign investors' investment, earnings and other legitimate rights and interests within the territory of Chinese Mainland shall be protected in accordance with the law, and all national policies on supporting the development of enterprises shall equally apply to foreign-invested enterprises.

Investment activities in the Chinese Mainland by foreign investors are governed by the Catalog of Industries for Encouraging Foreign Investment, or the Catalog, which became effective on January 27, 2021, and the Special Administrative Measures (Negative List) for Foreign Investment Access, or the Negative List promulgated by the MOC, which became effective on July 23, 2020 and has been amended from time to time by the MOC and the National Development and Reform Commission. It sets out the industries in which foreign investments are prohibited or restricted. Foreign investors will not make investments in prohibited industries, while must satisfy certain conditions stipulated in the Negative List for investment in restricted industries. According to the Negative List, the proportion of foreign investment in entities engaged in value-added telecommunication services (excluding e-commerce, domestic multi-party communications services, store-and-forward services, and call center services) shall not exceed 50%. The most updated Negative List, issued on December 27, 2021 and became effective on January 1, 2022, stipulates that any Chinese Mainland domestic enterprise engaging in the fields prohibited by the Negative List shall obtain the consent of the relevant competent Chinese Mainland authorities for overseas listing, and the foreign investors shall not participate in the operation and management of such enterprise, and the shareholding percentage of the foreign investors in such enterprise shall be subject to the relevant administrative provisions of Chinese Mainland domestic securities investment by foreign investors. Such Negative List does not further elaborate whether existing overseas listed enterprise will be subject to such requirements. The staff of the NDRC addressed in an interview on December 27, 2021 that certain existing overseas listed enterprises whose foreign investors' shareholding percentage exceed the aforementioned threshold are not required to make adjustment or deduction.

Among others, the state guarantees that foreign invested enterprises participate in the formulation of standards in an equal manner and that foreign-invested enterprises participate in government procurement activities through fair competition in accordance with the law. Further, the state shall not expropriate any foreign investment except under special circumstances. In special circumstances, the state may levy or expropriate the investment of foreign investors in accordance with the law for the needs of the public interest. The Regulations for the Administration of Foreign-Invested Telecommunications Enterprises (2016 Revision), which was promulgated by the State Council on December 11, 2001 and amended on September 10, 2008 and February 6, 2016, require foreign-invested value-added telecommunications enterprises in Chinese Mainland to be established as Sino-foreign equity joint ventures with the foreign investors owning no more than 50% of the equity interests of such enterprise. In addition, the main foreign investor who invests in a foreign-invested value-added telecommunications enterprises operating the value-added telecommunications business in Chinese Mainland must demonstrate a good track record and sound experience in operating a value-added telecommunications business, provided that qualified foreign investors must obtain prior approvals from the MIIT and the MOFCOM or their authorized local counterparts, for its commencement of value-added telecommunication business in Chinese Mainland. However, on March 29, 2022, the Decision of the State Council on Revising and Repealing Certain Administrative Regulations, which took effect on May 1, 2022, was promulgated to amend certain provisions of regulations including the Provisions on the Administration of Foreign-Invested Telecommunications Enterprises (2016 Revision), the requirement for major foreign investor to demonstrate a good track record and experience in operating value-added telecommunications businesses is deleted.

Circular of the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology on Removing the Restrictions on Shareholding Ratio Held by Foreign Investors in Online Data Processing and Transaction Processing (Operating E-commerce) Business, or Circular 196, which was promulgated on June 19, 2015, provides that foreign investors are permitted to invest up to 100% of the registered capital in a foreign-invested telecommunication enterprise engaging in the operation of online data processing and transaction processing (E-commerce). However, foreign investors are only permitted to invest up to 50% of the registered capital in a foreign-invested telecommunication enterprise that engages in the operation of Internet information services. While Circular 196 permits foreign ownership, in whole or in part, of online data and deal processing businesses (E-commerce), a sub-set of value-added telecommunications services, it is not clear whether our marketplace lending platform will be deemed as online data and deal processing.

In July 2006, the MIIT issued the Notice on Strengthening the Administration of Foreign Investment in and Operation of Value-added Telecommunications Business, or the MIIT Notice, pursuant to which, for foreign investor invest in telecommunications service business in Chinese Mainland, a foreign-invested telecommunications enterprise must be established, and such enterprise must hold a telecommunications businesses operation license. Furthermore, under the MIIT Notice, domestic telecommunications enterprises may not rent, transfer or sell a telecommunications business operation license to foreign investors in any form, nor may they provide any resources, premises, facilities or other assistance in any form to foreign investors for their illegal operation of any telecommunications business in Chinese Mainland. In addition, under the MIIT Notice, a foreign-invested value-added telecommunication service operator (or its shareholders) shall legally own the Internet domain names and registered trademarks used for its business operation.

We conduct our value-added telecommunications businesses through Shenzhen Xiaoying Technology Co., Ltd., one of our consolidated VIEs, and Shenzhen Ying Ai Gou Trading Co., Ltd., one of the subsidiaries of our consolidated VIEs, which hold telecommunications businesses operation licenses. However, there is uncertainty as to how the requirements in the above rules will be interpreted and implemented and whether there will be new rules issued which would establish further requirements and restrictions on our contractual arrangements.

Regulations Relating to Value-Added Telecommunication Services

The Telecommunications Regulations of the PRC, or the Telecommunications Regulations, promulgated by the State Council on September 25, 2000 and amended on July 29, 2014 and February 6, 2016, provide a regulatory framework for telecommunications services providers in the Chinese Mainland. The Telecommunications Regulations require telecommunications services providers to obtain an operating license prior to the commencement of their operations. The Telecommunications Regulations distinguish “basic telecommunications services” from “value-added telecommunications services. The basic telecommunications services provider who provides public network infrastructure, public data transmission and basic voice communications services shall obtain a Basic Telecommunications Service Operating License, and the value-added service provider who provides telecommunications and information services provided through the public network infrastructure shall obtain a VATS License. A catalogue was issued as an attachment to the Telecommunications Regulations to categorize telecommunications services as either basic or value-added. The current catalogue, as most recently updated on June 6, 2019, categorizes online information services and online data processing and transaction processing services as value-added telecommunications services. Internet content provider may be required to obtain an Internet content provider license, or ICP license, and e-commerce operator may be required to obtained an online data processing and transaction processing license, or ODPTP license.

On July 3, 2017, the MIIT promulgated the Administrative Measures on Telecommunications Business Operating Licenses, under which, a commercial operator of value-added telecommunications services must first obtain the VATS License, from the MIIT or its provincial level counterparts, otherwise such operator might be subject to sanctions including corrective orders and warnings from the competent administration authority, fines and confiscation of illegal gains and, in the case of significant infringements, the websites may be ordered to close. One of our consolidated VIEs and one of the subsidiaries of our consolidated VIEs have obtained VATS Licenses.

On August 17, 2016, the China Banking Regulatory Commission, or the CBRC (one of the predecessors of the CBIRC), the MIIT, the Ministry of Public Security and the State Internet Information Office jointly issued the Interim Measures on Administration of Business Activities of Online Lending Information Intermediaries, or the Interim Measures aiming to regulate P2P (Peer to Peer) operation business. We used to provide investment products to individual investors via P2P model on our Xiaoying Wealth Management platform (the “P2P operation business”). However, since early 2019, the Company began the transformation of its business model from a P2P platform to a platform that focuses on the facilitation of its institutional funding partners to provide loans to borrowers, and as of December 17, 2020, our P2P operation business had been cleared and ceased. Since that date, we have not undertaken any activities related to the P2P operation. Therefore, we are not a P2P platform or conducting any P2P operation business. In this regard, the Interim Measures and the regulations therein which regulate P2P operation business, including the requirements of registration and license, restrictions of issuing financial products to raise fund or acting as an agent to sell financial products and the grace period, are no longer applicable to us. However, uncertainties still exist in relation to the interpretation and implementation of the Interim Measures and other relevant laws and regulations relating to P2P operation business. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalties retroactively prescribed in the relevant laws and regulations relating to our previous P2P operation business, although we have already ceased the related business, and if we were punished, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry—We have ceased the P2P operation business, but we cannot assure you that our operations were in full compliance with relevant legal requirements and would not be punished under relevant regulations.”

Regulations Relating to Microcredit Business

Chinese regulators also encourage Normal Marketplace under Circular 175 to transform into online microcredit companies. In late December, 2019, the Head Office for Special Rectification of Online Finance Risk and the Head Office for Special Rectification of Peer-to-Peer Online Lending jointly issued Guiding Opinions on Pilot Program of Transforming Peer-to-Peer Lending Information Intermediaries to Microcredit Companies, or Circular 83, which provides detailed guidelines for the conversion of peer-to-peer online lending information intermediaries into microcredit companies from the following aspects: (i) compliance requirement; (ii) qualified shareholders and management team; (iii) the feasibility of the transforming plan; and (iv) with strong financial technology and be capable to online operation requirement. However, uncertainties still exist in relation to the interpretation and implementation of Circular 83.

On September 7, 2020, the CBIRC issued the Circular on Strengthening the Supervision and Administration of Microcredit Companies, or the Microcredit Circular. The Microcredit Circular provides that the microcredit companies shall mainly operate the lending business and shall act in accordance with the requirements regarding the loan concentration, loan purposes, fund management, debt collection and disclosure. Local authorities shall enhance supervision and administration of the establishment of the microcredit companies and suspend newly-incorporated microcredit companies from engaging in the Internet microcredit business and other inter-provincial business.

On November 2, 2020, CBIRC and PBOC published the Interim Administrative Measures for Online Microcredit Business (Draft for Comment), or the Draft Interim Administrative Measures, for public review and comments. Pursuant to the Draft Interim Administrative Measures, “online microcredit business” refers to any microcredit business engaged in by a microcredit company through using big data, cloud computing, mobile internet and other technical means, utilizing internally generated data and information on customer operation, online consumption, online transaction, etc., accumulated via internet platforms as well as other data and information obtained through legitimate channels to analyze and appraise the credit risk of borrowing customers, determine the mode and quota of loans, and complete such processes as loan application, risk review, loan approval, loan granting and loan recovery online. Online microcredit business engaged in by a microcredit company shall mainly be carried out in the provincial-level administrative region to which its place of registration belongs. Without the approval of the banking regulator under the State Council, no microcredit company may carry out online microcredit business across provincial-level administrative regions. The registered capital of a microcredit company which engages in online microcredit business shall not be less than CNY1 billion and shall be one-off paid-up monetary capital. The registered capital of a microcredit company which engages in online microcredit business across provincial-level administrative regions shall not be less than CNY5 billion and shall be one-off paid-up monetary capital. In principle, the balance of single-account online microcredit loans granted to a natural person shall not exceed CNY300,000 or one-third of its average annual income in the last three years, between which the lower one shall be the maximum loan amount; and in principle, the balance of single-account online microcredit loans granted to a legal person or any other organization and its related parties shall not exceed CNY1 million. The Draft Interim Administrative Measures was released for public comment only, there remains substantial uncertainty regarding the Draft Interim Administrative Measures, including with respect to its final content, adoption timeline or effective date.

On December 31, 2021, PBOC published the Regulations on Local Financial Supervision and Administration (Draft for Public Comments), or the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation, for public review and comments. Pursuant to the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation, “Local Financial Organizations” refers to microcredit companies, financing guarantee companies, regional equity markets, pawn shops, financial leasing companies, commercial factoring companies, local asset management companies, and other institutions engaged in local financial business that are supervised and managed by laws, administrative regulations, and provincial-level people’s governments authorized by the State Council. The Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation specify that provincial governments shall perform their duties of supervision, management, and risk disposal of local financial organizations, and no individual or entity shall set up Local Financial Organizations without prior approval. The merger, division, reduction of registered capital, change of the business scope or operating area, the change of the shareholders holding more than 5% of its equity interests, as well as change of the actual controller of the Local Financial Organization shall be subject to the approval of the provincial local financial supervision and management department. Also, Local Financial Organization shall make filings to provincial local financial supervision and management department for setting up branches within the provincial administrative region, changing the name or address of business, increasing the registered capital, changing the directors, supervisors and senior management personnel. Penalties such as fines or criminal liability may be imposed if the Local Financial Organizations fail to comply with the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation. The Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation was released for public comment only, there remains substantial uncertainty regarding the Draft Local Financial Supervision and Administration Regulation, including with respect to its final content, adoption timeline or effective date.

Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) has obtained the approval of the business qualification to operate microcredit businesses as issued by the competent supervising authority, which allows Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) to conduct microcredit businesses through the internet. However, as the regulatory regime and practice with respect to online microcredit companies are evolving, there is uncertainty as to how the requirements in the above rules will be interpreted and implemented and whether there will be new rules issued which would establish further requirements and restrictions on online microcredit companies.

Regulation Relating to Money Market Funds

According to the Administrative Measures on Supervision of Money Market Funds issued by the CSRC and the PBOC on December 17, 2015 and became effective on February 1, 2016, a fund manager or fund sales institution shall not carry out the sales of money market funds in cooperation with any internet institution or other institution engaged in the promotion or the sale, subscription or redemption of units of funds or other relevant business without adequate qualification for fund sales business registered with the CSRC.

Xiaoying Wealth Management platform showcases to a limited number of whitelist users selected money market banking products, funds, and insurance provided by certain qualified business partners pursuant to the Administrative Measures on Supervision of Money Market Funds. This is done through redirection links or jumping to mini-programs, generating a relatively small volume of business for certain qualified business partners. We do not carry out any of the sale, subscription or redemption of any money market products on our Xiaoying Wealth Management platform by ourselves. Thus, we believe we are not subject to the above mentioned regulations in Chinese Mainland.

Regulations Relating to Loans between Individuals

On May 28, 2020, the National People's Congress approved the PRC Civil Code, which came into effect on January 1, 2021 and repealed the PRC Contract Law and the General Principles of the Civil Law of the PRC. The PRC Civil Code confirms the validity of loan agreement between individuals and provides that a loan agreement becomes effective when an individual lender provides loan to an individual borrower provided that the interest rates charged under the loan agreement do not violate the applicable provisions of the Chinese Mainland laws and regulations.

Pursuant to the Provisions on Several Issues Concerning Laws Applicable to Trials of Private Lending Cases issued by the Supreme People's Court on August 6, 2015, or the Private Lending Judicial Interpretations, which came into force on September 1, 2015, in the event that loans are made through an online lending information intermediary platform and the platform only provides intermediary services, courts shall dismiss any claim concerned against the platform demanding the repayment of loans by the platform as a guarantor.

On August 4, 2017, the Supreme People's Court issued the Several Opinions on Further Strengthening the Judicial Work in the Finance Sector, according to which if an online lending information intermediary and a lender attempt to evade the upper limit to the legally protected interest by charging part of interest rate as intermediary fees or other service fees, such arrangements shall be deemed as invalid. In addition, Chinese Mainland courts shall support the borrower's claim to reduce the overall annual interest rate to 24%, on the basis that the aggregate amount of interest, compound interest, default interest, liquidated damages and other fees claimed by the lender is overly high.

On August 19, 2020, the Private Lending Judicial Interpretations was amended by the Supreme People's Court, pursuant to which where a lender claims that corresponding borrower shall pay interest as per the interest rate contractually stipulated, relevant people's court shall uphold such claim, except where the interest rate agreed on by both parties concerned exceeds four times the LPR for one-year loan when the contract is concluded. "LPR for one-year loan" refers to the LPR for one-year loan to be published on a monthly basis by the National Interbank Funding Center authorized by the PBOC as of August 20, 2019. On December 29, 2020, the Supreme People's Court issued the Official Reply of the Supreme People's Court to the Issues concerning the Scope of Application of the New Judicial Interpretation on Private Lending, or the Official Reply and further amended the Private Lending Judicial Interpretations. According to the Private Lending Judicial Interpretations and the Official Reply, for financial institutions and branches engaging in loan business and established upon the approval of the financial regulatory authorities, including but not limited to microcredit company, Private Lending Judicial Interpretations shall not apply to disputes caused by granting loans and relevant financial business.

Although the Judicial Interpretation Amendment and the Supreme People's Court Reply provide that they do not apply to licensed financial institutions including microcredit companies that conduct loan and consumer finance business, there remain uncertainties in the interpretation and implementation of the Judicial Interpretation Amendment, including whether licensed financial institutions may be subject to its jurisdiction under Circular 141 or in certain circumstances, the basis of calculation formula used to determine the interest limit, the scope of inclusion of related fees and insurance premiums, as well as inconsistencies between the standard and level of enforcement by different Chinese Mainland courts.

Apart from the above, pursuant to the PRC Civil Code, a creditor's rights under a loan agreement is assignable to a third party, provided that the debtor is notified before such assignment takes effect for the debtor. Upon due assignment of the creditor's rights, the assignee is entitled to the creditor's rights and the debtor must perform the relevant obligations under the agreement for the benefit of the assignee.

Regulations Relating to Guarantee

On March 8, 2010, CBRC, NDRC, MIIT, MOFCOM, PBOC, SAIC and Ministry of Finance of PRC promulgated the Tentative Administrative Measures for Financing Guarantee Companies, or the Tentative Administrative Measure. The Tentative Administrative Measures require an entity or individual to obtain a prior approval from the relevant regulatory body to engage in the financing guarantee business, and defines “financing guarantee” as an activity whereby the guarantor and the creditor, such as a financial institution in the banking sector, agree that the guarantor shall bear the guarantee obligations in the event that the secured party fails to perform its financing debt owed to the creditor.

On August 2, 2017, the State Council issued Regulations on the Supervision and Administration of Financing Guarantee Companies, or the Financing Guarantee Rules, which came into effect on October 1, 2017. The Financing Guarantee Rules defines financing guarantee as activities whereby guarantors provide guarantee for the borrowing of funds, issuance of bonds and other debt financing activities of the guaranteed parties, and financing guarantee companies refer to limited liability companies or companies limited by shares that are duly established and engage in financing guarantee business. Pursuant to the Financing Guarantee Rules, the establishment of a financing guarantee company shall be subject to the approval of the relevant regulatory authority. In the event that a company commences financing guarantee business without first obtaining relevant approval, the company will be ordered by the regulatory authority to cease financing guarantee business, be imposed a fine from RMB500,000 up to RMB1,000,000, have its illegal gains confiscated, and be investigated for criminal liabilities.

We might be deemed as providing guarantee on some of the loans formed offline between institutional funding partners and the borrowers. We have cooperated with certain qualified institutional partners with the financing guarantee license and one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries who has obtained the financing guarantee license, and therefore, we consider ourselves in compliance with the regulations mentioned above. However, given the lack of further interpretations, the exact definition and scope of “operating financing guarantee business” under the Financing Guarantee Rules is unclear, we cannot be certain that our existing practices will not be determined to violate any existing or future rules, laws and regulations. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry—Our cooperation model with Institutional Funding Partners may be deemed to operate financing guarantee business by the Chinese Mainland regulatory authorities.”

Regulations Relating to Anti-Money Laundering

The PRC Anti-Money Laundering Law, which became effective in January 2007, sets forth the principal anti-money laundering requirements applicable to financial institutions as well as non-financial institutions with anti-money laundering obligations, including the adoption of precautionary and supervisory measures, establishment of various systems for client identification, retention of clients’ identification information, and transactions records, and reports on large transactions and suspicious transactions. According to the PRC Anti-Money Laundering Law, financial institutions subject to the PRC Anti-Money Laundering Law include banks, credit unions, trust investment companies, stock brokerage companies, futures brokerage companies, insurance companies and other financial institutions as listed and published by the State Council, while the list of the non-financial institutions with anti-money laundering obligations will be published by the State Council. The PBOC and other governmental authorities issued a series of administrative rules and regulations to specify the anti-money laundering obligations of financial institutions and certain non-financial institutions, such as payment institutions. However, the State Council has not promulgated the list of the non-financial institutions with anti-money laundering obligations.

The Guidelines jointly released by ten Chinese Mainland regulatory agencies in July 2015, purport, among other things, to require Internet finance service providers to comply with certain anti-money laundering requirements, including the establishment of a user identification program, the monitoring and reporting of suspicious transactions, the preservation of user information and transaction records, and the provision of assistance to the public security department and judicial authority in investigations and proceedings in relation to anti-money laundering matters. The PBOC will formulate implementing rules to further specify the anti-money laundering obligations of Internet finance service providers.

The Measures for the Anti-money Laundering and Anti-terrorist Finance of Internet Finance, promulgated on October 10, 2018, further specified that, any Internet finance institutions (including online lending intermediary) incorporated upon approval or upon record-filing by applicable regulatory authority, shall report any forms of cash receipts and payments whose transaction value reaches or exceeds RMB50,000 or foreign currency equivalent of USD10,000 on a per-transaction or cumulative basis on a given day, within five working days from the date when such transaction takes place.

We have adopted and implemented various policies and procedures, such as internal controls and “know-your-customer” procedures, for anti-money laundering purposes. However, our policies and procedures may not be completely effective in preventing other parties from using us for money laundering without our knowledge. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry—Any failure by us, or institutional funding partners or payment service providers to comply with applicable anti-money laundering and anti-terrorist financing laws and regulations could damage our reputation, expose us to significant penalties, and decrease our revenues and profitability.”

Regulations Relating to Illegal Fund-Raising

Raising funds by entities or individuals from the general public must be conducted in strict compliance with applicable Chinese Mainland laws and regulations to avoid administrative and criminal liabilities. The Notice on Relevant Issues Concerning the Penalty on Illegal Fund-Raising issued by the General Office of the State Council in July 2007 explicitly prohibit illegal public fund-raising. The main features of illegal public fund-raising include: (i) illegally soliciting and raising funds from the general public by means of issuing stocks, bonds, lotteries or other securities without obtaining the approval of relevant authorities, (ii) promising a return of interest or profits or investment returns in cash, properties or other forms within a specified period of time, and (iii) using a legitimate form to disguise the unlawful purpose.

To further clarify the criminal charges and punishments relating to illegal public fund-raising, the Supreme People’s Court promulgated the Judicial Interpretations to Issues Concerning Applications of Laws for Trial of Criminal Cases on Illegal Fund-Raising, or the Illegal Fund-Raising Judicial Interpretations, which came into force in January 2011 and was amended on March 1, 2022. The Illegal Fund-Raising Judicial Interpretations provide that a public fund-raising will constitute a criminal offense related to “illegally soliciting deposits from the public” under the PRC Criminal Law, if it meets all the following four criteria: (i) the fund-raising has not been licensed by the relevant authorities or is concealed under the guise of legitimate acts; (ii) the fundraising carries out public promotional activities via such channels as the Internet, media, promotion meetings, leafleting and phone message; (iii) the fundraiser promises to repay, after a specified period of time, the capital and interests, or investment returns in cash, property in kind and other forms; and (iv) the fund-raising targets the general public as opposed to specific individuals. Pursuant to the Illegal Fund-Raising Judicial Interpretations, an offender that is an entity will be subject to criminal liabilities, if it illegally solicits deposits from the general public or illegally solicits deposits in disguised form (i) with the amount of deposits involved exceeding RMB1,000,000, (ii) with over 150 fund-raising targets involved, or (iii) with the direct economic loss caused to fund-raising targets exceeding RMB500,000, or if it illegally solicits deposits from the general public or illegally solicits deposits in disguised form with the amount of deposits involved exceeding RMB500,000, or with the direct economic loss caused to fund-raising targets exceeding RMB250,000 and falls under any of the following circumstances: (I) where such entity has been criminally prosecuted due to illegal fund-raising; (II) where such entity has been subject to any administrative penalty due to any illegal fund-raising within two years; and (III) where there is baneful influences to the public or have led to other severe consequences.

In addition, an individual or an entity who has aided in illegal fund-raising from the general public and charges fees, including but not limited to agent fees, rewards, rebates and commission, would constitute an accomplice of the crime of illegal fund-raising. In accordance with the Opinions of the Supreme People’s Court, the Supreme People’s Procurator and the Ministry of Public Security on Several Issues concerning the Application of Law in the Illegal Fund-Raising Criminal Cases, administrative proceedings for determining the nature of illegal fund-raising activities is not a prerequisite procedure for the initiation of criminal proceeding concerning the crime of illegal fund-raising, and the administrative departments’ failure in determining the nature of illegal fund-raising activities does not affect the investigation, prosecution and trial of cases concerning the crime of illegal fund-raising.

On January 26, 2021, the State Council promulgated the Regulations for the Prevention and Handling of Illegal Fund-raising, or the Illegal Fund-raising Regulations, which became effective as of May 1, 2021. The Illegal Fund-raising Regulations stipulates that Internet information service providers shall strengthen the management of information published by users, and shall not produce, reproduce, publish or spread information on suspected illegal fund-raising practices. If any information on suspected illegal fund-raising practices is found, relevant records shall be kept and reported to the authority handling illegal fund-raising. Competent authorities in charge of telecommunications shall shut down websites established and mobile applications developed for illegal fund-raising and other Internet applications in accordance with the law.

We have taken measures to avoid conducting any activities that are prohibited under the illegal-funding related laws and regulations. For example, we managed the funds of lenders, borrowers and the proprietary funds of us in separate accounts by entering into fund depositary agreement with a qualified bank. We do believe our business would not offence the aforementioned laws and regulations related to illegal-funding. However, we cannot assure you that our understanding of the regulations will always comply with the interpretations of applicable regulatory authorities.

Regulations on Mobile Internet Applications Information Services

Mobile Internet applications and the Internet application store are especially regulated by the Administrative Provisions on Mobile Internet Applications Information Services, or the APP Provisions, which was promulgated by the Cyberspace Administration of China or the CAC on June 28, 2016 and entered into force on August 1, 2016 and was amended on June 14, 2022. The APP Provisions regulate the APP information service providers and the Internet application store service providers, while the CAC and local offices of cyberspace administration shall be responsible for the supervision and administration of nationwide or local APP information respectively. The APP information service providers shall acquire relevant qualifications required by laws and regulations and implement the information security management responsibilities strictly and fulfill their obligations provided by the APP Provisions.

Pursuant to the APP Provisions, internet app providers shall comply with relevant provisions on the scope of necessary personal information when engaging in personal information processing activities and shall not compel users to agree to non-essential personal information collection or ban users from their basic functional services due to their refusal of providing unnecessary personal information. Internet app providers shall not provide the relevant services to the users who fail to submit real identity information or use fraudulent identity information of other organizations or persons for fake registration. Internet app providers shall also establish sound information content review and management mechanism, take sound management measures such as user registration, account management, information review, daily inspection and emergency disposal, and be staffed with professionals and technical ability appropriate to the service scale. Furthermore, internet app providers who launch new technologies, applications or functions with the attribute of public opinion or the capability of social mobilization shall conduct security assessment in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations. If an internet app provider violates these regulations, internet app distribution platforms may issue warnings, suspend the release of its applications, or terminate the sale of its applications, and/or report the violations to governmental authorities, and the application provider may be imposed administrative penalty by the CAC and relevant competent authorities in accordance with relevant laws and regulations. We have established necessary mechanisms and adopted data encryption and protection technology in our mobile application to ensure the collection, protection and storage of user information are in compliance with the requirements of the APP Provisions in all material aspects. However, we cannot assure you that our understanding of the regulations will always comply with the interpretations of applicable regulatory authorities.

Regulations on Internet Information Security

In 1997, the Ministry of Public Security has promulgated measures that prohibit use of the internet in ways which, among other things, result in a leakage of state secrets or a spread of socially destabilizing content. If an internet information service provider violates these measures, the Ministry of Public Security and the local security bureaus may revoke its operating license and shut down its websites.

Internet information in Chinese Mainland is regulated and restricted from a national security standpoint. The Standing Committee of the National People's Congress, or the SCNPC, has enacted the Decisions on Maintaining Internet Security on December 28, 2000 and further amended on August 27, 2009, which may subject violators to criminal punishment in Chinese Mainland for any effort to: (i) gain improper entry into a computer or system of strategic importance; (ii) disseminate politically disruptive information; (iii) leak state secrets; (iv) spread false commercial information; or (v) infringe intellectual property rights.

The PRC Cybersecurity Law was promulgated by the SCNPC on November 7, 2016 and became effective on June 1, 2017. Under this regulation, network operators, including online lending information service providers, shall comply with laws and regulations and fulfill their obligations to safeguard security of the network when conducting business and providing services, and take all necessary measures pursuant to laws, regulations and compulsory national requirements to safeguard the safe and stable operation of the networks, respond to network security incidents effectively, prevent illegal and criminal activities, and maintain the integrity, confidentiality and usability of network data.

On 10 June 2021, the SCNPC promulgated the PRC Data Security Law, or the Data Security Law, which took effect on 1 September 2021. The Data Security Law imposes data security and privacy obligations on entities and individuals carrying out data activities, and introduces a data classification and hierarchical protection system. The Data Security Law also provides that the state shall establish a data security review system, where data handling activities that affect or may affect the national security will undergo national security review, and shall implement export controls on certain data, but does not provide for application obligation for cybersecurity review of an internet platform operator holding personal information of more than one million users. In addition, Measures for Cybersecurity Review, which became effective on June 1, 2020, as amended on December 28, 2021, and became effective on February 15, 2022, set forth the cybersecurity review mechanism for critical information infrastructure operators, and provide that (i) critical information infrastructure operators who intend to purchase internet products and services that affect or may affect national security shall be subject to a cybersecurity review; (ii) online platform operators who are engaged in data processing are also subject to the regulatory scope; (iii) the CSRC is included as one of the regulatory authorities for purposes of jointly establishing the state cybersecurity review working mechanism; (iv) the internet platform operators holding more than one million users/users' individual information shall file for cybersecurity review before any public offering at a foreign stock exchange; (v) the risks of core data, material data or large amounts of personal information being stolen, leaked, destroyed, damaged, illegally used or illegally transmitted to overseas parties and the risks of critical information infrastructure, core data, material data or large amounts of personal information being influenced, controlled or used maliciously shall be collectively taken into consideration during the cybersecurity review process.

We have, in accordance with relevant provisions on network security of the Chinese Mainland, established necessary mechanisms to protect information security, including, among others, adopting necessary network security protection technologies such as anti-virus firewalls, intrusion detection and data encryption, keeping record of network logs, and implementing information classification framework. Although we do not believe we are a critical information infrastructure provider, the Chinese Mainland authorities could interpret such term broadly to capture a leading online personal finance company like us. If we are deemed to be a critical information infrastructure operator under such rules, we could be subject to cybersecurity review by Cyberspace Administration of China and other relevant Chinese Mainland regulatory authorities and be required to change our existing practices in data privacy and cybersecurity matters at substantial costs. During such cybersecurity review, we may be required to stop providing services to our customers, and such review could also result in negative publicity to us and diversion of our managerial and financial resources.

Besides, pursuant to the Measures for Cybersecurity Review, which was amended on December 28, 2021 and became effective on February 15, 2022, the internet platform operators that hold the personal information of over one million users shall apply for a cybersecurity review before any public offering at a foreign stock exchange. Our ADSs have been listed on the NYSE since September 19, 2018, prior to the effective date of the amended Measures for Cybersecurity Review in 2021, and therefore, our IPO and listing on NYSE were not deemed to be subject to the Measures for Cybersecurity Review. As of the date of this annual report, we have not conducted cross-border transfer of personal information. However, given that the Measures for Cybersecurity Review were recently promulgated, the Measures for Cybersecurity Review remain unclear on whether the relevant requirements will be applicable to further equity or debt offerings or to maintain the listing status of our Class A ordinary shares and/or ADSs by companies that have completed the initial public offering in the United States before the effectiveness of the Measures for Cybersecurity Review. Furthermore, the exact scope of "internet platform operators" under the current regulatory regime remains unclear, and we may be deemed to be an internet platform operator under Chinese Mainland law. If the Cyberspace Administration of China subsequently determine that prior cybersecurity review is required for any of our future offerings of securities overseas or to maintain the listing status of our securities overseas, we cannot guarantee that we will be able to complete such cybersecurity review in a timely manner, or at all. If not, the Cyberspace Administration of China may take actions requiring us, or making it advisable for us, not to proceed with such offering or maintain the listing status of our Class A ordinary shares and/or ADSs. Fines and penalties may be imposed on our operations in Chinese Mainland, limit our ability to pay dividends outside of Chinese Mainland, limit our operating privileges in Chinese Mainland, delay or restrict the repatriation of the proceeds from offering of securities overseas into Chinese Mainland or take other actions that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects, as well as the trading price of the Class A ordinary shares and/or ADSs.

On July 7, 2022, the CAC published the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures that took effect on September 1, 2022 and outline the potential security assessment process for outbound data transfer. Under the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, data processors that provide important data and personal information outbound that are collected or produced through operations within the territory of the Chinese Mainland, where a security assessment shall be conducted according to the law, shall apply to the provisions of these Measures. We believe we currently do not provide critical data and personal information collected and generated by us in our business activities abroad. However, due to the relatively new nature of the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures as well as the lack of clarification in the statutory law itself as to the circumstances and standard under which the law should apply and violations be found, there are great uncertainties as to the interpretation and application of the law. If we are found to have violated the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, we may face severe penalties that may result in monetary losses, losses of access to assets essential for daily operation of our business or for the continuance of service provision, and temporary or total disruption of our business for an extended period of time. All of these consequences may have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Under the Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures, data processors providing outbound data shall apply for outbound data transfer security assessment with the CAC in any of the following circumstances: (i) where a data processor provides important data abroad; (ii) where a critical information infrastructure operator or a data processor processing the personal information of more than one million individuals provides personal information abroad; (iii) where a data processor has provided personal information of 100,000 individuals or sensitive personal information of 10,000 individuals in total abroad since January 1 of the previous year; and (iv) other circumstances prescribed by the CAC for which declaration for security assessment for outbound data transfers is required. The Outbound Data Transfer Security Assessment Measures also provide procedures for security assessment and submissions, important factors to be considered in conducting assessment, and legal liabilities of a data processor for failure to apply for assessment.

We have disclosed the regulations by CAC over data security which may have a material effect on us, including the uncertainties of these regulations, our compliance of these regulations and effect these regulations may have on us. See “Risk Factors - If we are unable to protect the confidential information of our users and adapt to the relevant regulatory framework regarding protection of such information, our business and operations may be adversely affected”.

On August 20, 2021, the SCNP Congress promulgated the PRC Personal Information Protection Law, or the Personal Information Protection Law, which took effect on November 1, 2021. As the first systematic and comprehensive law specifically for the protection of personal information in the Chinese Mainland, the Personal Information Protection Law provides, among others, that (i) an individual's consent shall be obtained to use sensitive personal information, (ii) personal information operators using sensitive personal information shall notify individuals of the necessity of such use and impact on the individual's rights, and (iii) where it is necessary for personal information to be provided by a personal information processor to a recipient outside the territory of the Chinese Mainland due to any business need or any other need, a security assessment organized by the national cyberspace authority shall be passed. In the event that personal information is handled in violation of the provisions of this Law, or that personal information is handled without performing the obligation of protecting personal information as stipulated in this Law, the authorities performing duties of personal information protection shall order the party concerned to make corrections, give a warning to it and confiscate its illegal gains. Any application that illegally handles personal information shall be ordered to suspend or terminate the provision of services; if it refuses to make corrections, a fine of not more than 1 million yuan shall be imposed on it concurrently; and a fine of not less than RMB 10,000 yuan but not more than RMB 100,000 yuan shall be imposed on the person directly in charge and other directly liable persons. We have taken considerate measures to comply with the PRC Personal Information Protection Law: (i) we obtain independent consent of individuals while using their sensitive personal information, which is also set out in our privacy agreements with individuals at their account registration; (ii) we notify relevant individuals of the necessity of such use and impact on the individual's rights in our privacy agreements with individuals; (iii) we do not engage in cross border business activities and therefore do not provide personal information to any recipient outside the territory of the Chinese Mainland. However, uncertainties still exist in relation to the interpretation and implementation of the PRC Personal Information Protection Law. Although we have taken such measures to comply with the laws and regulations, we cannot assure you the authorities may hold the same view with us. and if we were punished, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

On February 13, 2020, the PBOC also issued the Personal Financial Information Protection Technical Specification, which is an industry standard, to specify the security protection requirements for all aspects of personal financial information life cycle processing, including collection, transmission, storage, use, deletion, and destruction. This standard is applicable for financial industry institutions to provide financial products and services, and also provides a reference for security assessment agencies to conduct security inspections and assessments. According to the potential impact caused by unauthorized viewing or unauthorized change of financial information, this standard classifies personal financial information into three categories of C3, C2, and C1 from high to low sensitivity, and different requirements are put forward for the whole life cycle processing of all kinds of information according to different categories.

We have obtained consent from users to collect and use their personal information in providing consumer finance service. While we have taken measures to protect the personal information that we have access to, our security measures could be breached resulting in the leak of such confidential personal information. Security breaches or unauthorized access to confidential information could also expose us to liability related to the loss of the information, time-consuming and expensive litigation and negative publicity. We have disclosed the regulations by CAC over data security which may have a material effect on us, including the uncertainties of these regulations, our compliance of these regulations and effect these regulations may have on us. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry—If we are unable to protect the confidential information of our users and adapt to the relevant regulatory framework regarding protection of such information, our business and operations may be adversely affected.”

The PRC Insurance Law and related regulations were amended in 2002, 2009, 2014 and 2015. The 2015 amendments involved a number of significant changes to the regulatory regime, including eliminating the requirement for any insurance agent, broker or claims adjusting practitioners to obtain a qualification certificate issued by the China Insurance Regulatory Commission (“CIRC”).

The principal regulation governing insurance brokers is the Provisions on the Supervision and Administration of Insurance Brokers, or the POSAIB, promulgated by the CIRC on February 1, 2018 and effective May 1, 2018, replacing the Provisions on the Supervision of Insurance Brokers issued on September 25, 2009, as amended on April 27, 2013 and October 19, 2015, and the Measures on the Supervision and Administration of Insurance Brokers and Insurance Claims Adjustors issued by the CIRC on January 6, 2013.

Regulations Relating to Foreign Exchange

Regulations on Foreign Currency Exchange

Under the PRC Foreign Currency Administration Rules promulgated on January 29, 1996 and last amended on August 5, 2008 and various regulations issued by the State Administration of Foreign Exchange, or the SAFE, and other relevant Chinese Mainland government authorities, payment of current account items in foreign currencies, such as trade and service payments, payment of interest and dividends can be made without prior approval from SAFE by following the appropriate procedural requirements. By contrast, the conversion of RMB into foreign currencies and remittance of the converted foreign currency outside the Chinese Mainland for the purpose of capital account items, such as direct equity investments, loans and repatriation of investment, requires prior approval from SAFE or its local office.

On February 13, 2015, SAFE promulgated the Circular on Simplifying and Improving the Foreign Currency Management Policy on Direct Investment, or the SAFE Circular No. 13, effective from June 1, 2015 and amended on December 30, 2019, which cancels the requirement for obtaining approvals of foreign exchange registration of foreign direct investment and overseas direct investment from SAFE. The application for the registration of foreign exchange for the purpose of foreign direct investment and overseas direct investment may be filed with qualified banks, which, under the supervision of SAFE, may review the application and process the registration.

The Circular of the SAFE on Reforming the Management Approach regarding the Settlement of Foreign Capital of Foreign-invested Enterprise, or the SAFE Circular No. 19, was promulgated on March 30, 2015, became effective on June 1, 2015 and was further amended on December 30, 2019. According to the SAFE Circular No. 19, a foreign-invested enterprise may, according to its actual business needs, settle with a bank the portion of the foreign exchange capital in its capital account for which the relevant foreign exchange bureau has confirmed monetary contribution rights and interests (or for which the bank has registered the account-crediting of monetary contribution). For the time being, foreign-invested enterprises are allowed to settle 100% of their foreign exchange capitals on a discretionary basis; a foreign-invested enterprise shall truthfully use its capital for its own operational purposes within the scope of business; where an ordinary foreign-invested enterprise makes domestic equity investment with the amount of foreign exchanges settled, the invested enterprise shall first go through domestic re-investment registration and open a corresponding Account for Foreign Exchange Settlement Pending Payment with the foreign exchange bureau (bank) at the place of registration. The Circular of the SAFE on Reforming and Regulating Policies on the Control over Foreign Exchange Settlement of Capital Accounts, the SAFE Circular No. 16 was promulgated and became effective on June 9, 2016 and was further amended on December 4, 2023. According to the SAFE Circular No. 16, enterprises registered in Chinese Mainland may also convert their foreign debts from foreign currency into Renminbi on self-discretionary basis. The SAFE Circular No. 16 provides an integrated standard for conversion of foreign exchange under capital account items (including but not limited to foreign currency capital and foreign debts) on self—discretionary basis, which applies to all enterprises registered in the Chinese Mainland. The SAFE Circular No. 16 reiterates the principle that Renminbi converted from foreign currency-denominated capital of a company may not be directly or indirectly used for purposes beyond its business scope and may not be used for investments in securities or other investment with the exception of financial products with risk assessment result no higher than grade 2 and structural deposit unless otherwise specifically provided. Besides, the converted Renminbi shall not be used to make loans for related enterprises unless it is within the business scope or to build or to purchase any real estate that is not for the enterprise own use with the exception for the enterprise which operates real estate development business or real estate lease business.

On January 26, 2017, SAFE promulgated the Circular on Further Improving Reform of Foreign Exchange Administration and Optimizing Genuineness and Compliance Verification, or Circular No. 3, which stipulates several capital control measures with respect to the outbound remittance of profits from domestic entities to offshore entities, including (i) banks must check whether the transaction is genuine by reviewing board resolutions regarding profit distribution, original copies of tax filing records and audited financial statements, and (ii) domestic entities must retain income to account for previous years' losses before remitting any profits. Moreover, pursuant to Circular 3, domestic entities must explain in detail the sources of capital and how the capital will be used, and provide board resolutions, contracts and other proof as a part of the registration procedure for outbound investment.

Regulations on Foreign Exchange Registration of Overseas Investment by Chinese Mainland Residents

SAFE issued the Circular on Relevant Issues Relating to Domestic Resident's Investment and Financing and Roundtrip Investment through Special Purpose Vehicles, or the SAFE Circular 37, which became effective in July 2014, to replace the Circular of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Issues Concerning the Regulation of Foreign Exchange in Equity Finance and Roundtrip Investments by Domestic Residents through Offshore Special Purpose Vehicles, or the SAFE Circular 75 to regulate foreign exchange matters in relation to the use of special purpose vehicles, or SPVs, by Chinese Mainland residents or entities to seek offshore investment and financing or conduct round trip investment in Chinese Mainland. SAFE Circular 37 defines a SPV as an offshore entity established or controlled, directly or indirectly, by Chinese Mainland residents or entities for the purpose of seeking offshore financing or making offshore investment, using legitimate onshore or offshore assets or interests, while "round trip investment" is defined as direct investment in Chinese Mainland by Chinese Mainland residents or entities through SPVs, namely, establishing foreign-invested enterprises to obtain the ownership, control rights and management rights. SAFE Circular 37 stipulates that, prior to making contributions into an SPV, Chinese Mainland residents or entities be required to complete foreign exchange registration with SAFE or its local branch. In addition, SAFE promulgated the Notice on Further Simplifying and Improving the Administration of the Foreign Exchange Concerning Direct Investment in February 2015, as amended in December 2019, which amended SAFE Circular 37 and became effective on June 1, 2015, requiring Chinese Mainland residents or entities to register with qualified banks rather than SAFE in connection with their establishment or control of an offshore entity established for the purpose of overseas investment or financing.

Chinese Mainland residents or entities who had contributed legitimate onshore or offshore interests or assets to SPVs but had not obtained registration as required before the implementation of the SAFE Circular 37 must register their ownership interests or control in the SPVs with qualified banks. An amendment to the registration is required if there is a material change with respect to the SPV registered, such as any change of basic information (including change of the Chinese Mainland residents, name and operation term), increases or decreases in investment amount, transfers or exchanges of shares, and mergers or divisions. Failure to comply with the registration procedures set forth in SAFE Circular 37 and the subsequent notice, or making misrepresentation on or failure to disclose controllers of the foreign-invested enterprise that is established through round-trip investment, may result in restrictions being imposed on the foreign exchange activities of the relevant foreign-invested enterprise, including payment of dividends and other distributions, such as proceeds from any reduction in capital, share transfer or liquidation, to its offshore parent or affiliate, and the capital inflow from the offshore parent, and may also subject relevant Chinese Mainland residents or entities to penalties under Chinese Mainland foreign exchange administration regulations. See "Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Doing Business in China—Chinese Mainland regulations relating to investments in offshore companies by Chinese Mainland residents may subject our Chinese Mainland-resident beneficial owners or our Chinese Mainland subsidiary to liability or penalties, limit our ability to inject capital into our Chinese Mainland subsidiary or limit our Chinese Mainland subsidiary's ability to increase their registered capital or distribute profits."

Regulations Relating to Stock Incentive Plans

SAFE promulgated the Notice on Issues Concerning the Foreign Exchange Administration for Domestic Individuals Participating in Stock Incentive Plan of Overseas Publicly Listed Company, or the Stock Incentive Plan Notice, in February 2012, replacing the previous rules issued by SAFE in March 2007. Pursuant to the Stock Incentive Plan Notice and other relevant rules and regulations, Chinese Mainland residents participating in stock incentive plan in an overseas publicly-listed company are required to register with SAFE or its local branches and follow certain other procedures. Participants of a stock incentive plan who are Chinese Mainland residents must conduct the SAFE registration and other procedures with respect to the stock incentive plan through a qualified Chinese Mainland agent, which could be a Chinese Mainland subsidiary of the overseas publicly listed company or another qualified institution appointed by the Chinese Mainland subsidiary. In addition, the Chinese Mainland agent is required to update the relevant SAFE registration should there be any material change to the stock incentive plan, the Chinese Mainland agent or other material changes. The Chinese Mainland agent must, on behalf of the Chinese Mainland residents who have the right to exercise the employee stock options, apply to SAFE or its local branches for an annual quota for the payment of foreign currencies in connection with the Chinese Mainland residents' exercise of the employee stock options. The foreign exchange proceeds received by the Chinese Mainland residents from the sale of shares under the stock incentive plans granted and dividends distributed by the overseas listed companies must be remitted into the bank accounts in the Chinese Mainland opened by the Chinese Mainland agents prior to distribution to such Chinese Mainland residents.

We have adopted a share incentive plan, under which we have the discretion to award incentives and rewards to eligible participants. See “Item 6. Directors, Senior Management and Employees—6.B. Compensation—Share Incentive Plan.” We have advised the recipients of awards under our Share Incentive Plan to handle relevant foreign exchange matters in accordance with the Stock Incentive Plan Notice. However, we cannot guarantee that all employee awarded equity-based incentives can successfully register with SAFE in full compliance with the Stock Incentive Plan Notice. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Doing Business in China—Any failure to comply with Chinese Mainland regulations regarding employee share incentive plans may subject the Chinese Mainland plan participants or us to fines and other legal or administrative sanctions.”

In addition, the State Administration for Taxation has issued circulars concerning employee share options, under which our employees working in the PRC who exercise share options will be subject to PRC individual income tax. Our PRC subsidiary and VIE have obligations to file documents related to employee share options with relevant tax authorities and to withhold individual income taxes of those employees who exercise their share options. If our employees fail to pay or if we fail to withhold their income taxes as required by relevant laws and regulations, we may face sanctions imposed by the PRC tax authorities or other PRC government authorities.

Regulations Relating to Dividend Distribution

Distribution of dividends of foreign investment enterprises are mainly governed by the PRC Company Law promulgated in January 2006, last amended in December 2023 and will come into effect in July 2024 and the Wholly Foreign-owned Enterprise Law promulgated in April 1986 and amended in September 2016 and its implementation regulations. The Wholly Foreign-owned Enterprise Law was replaced by the PRC Foreign Investment Law on January 1, 2020. Under these regulations, foreign investment enterprises in the Chinese Mainland may distribute dividends only out of their accumulative profits, if any, determined in accordance with PRC accounting standards and regulations. In addition, no less than 10% of the accumulated profits of the foreign investment enterprises in the Chinese Mainland are required to be allocated to fund certain reserve funds each year unless these reserves have reached 50% of the registered capital of the enterprises. A Chinese Mainland company is not permitted to distribute any profits until any losses from previous fiscal years have been offset.

Profits retained from prior fiscal years may be distributed together with distributable profits from the current fiscal year. Under our current corporate structure, our Cayman Islands holding company may rely on dividend payments from Xiaoying (Beijing) Information Technology Co., Ltd., which is a wholly foreign-owned enterprise incorporated in Chinese Mainland, to fund any cash and financing requirements we may have. Limitation on the ability of our consolidated VIEs to make remittance to the wholly-foreign owned enterprise and on the ability of our wholly-foreign owned enterprise to pay dividends to us could limit our ability to access cash generated by the operations of those entities. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Doing Business in China—We rely to a significant extent on dividends and other distributions on equity paid by our principal operating subsidiaries to fund offshore cash and financing requirements.”

Regulations Related to Taxation

Dividend Withholding Tax

In March 2007, the National People's Congress enacted the Law of the PRC on Enterprise Income Tax which became effective on January 1, 2008 and last amended on December 29, 2018. According to Enterprise Income Tax Law, dividends generated after January 1, 2008 and payable by a foreign-invested enterprise in Chinese Mainland to its foreign enterprise investors are subject to a 10% withholding tax, unless any such foreign investor's jurisdiction of incorporation has a tax treaty with Chinese Mainland that provides for a preferential withholding arrangement. Pursuant to the Notice of the State Administration of Taxation on Negotiated Reduction of Dividends and Interest Rates, issued on January 29, 2008 and supplemented and revised on February 29, 2008, and the Arrangement between Chinese Mainland and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Taxes on Income, which became effective on December 8, 2006 and applicable to income derived in any year of assessment commencing on or after April 1, 2007 in Hong Kong and in any year commencing on or after January 1, 2007 in the Chinese Mainland, such withholding tax rate may be lowered to 5% if a Hong Kong enterprise is deemed the beneficial owner of any dividend paid by a Chinese Mainland subsidiary by Chinese Mainland tax authorities and holds at least 25% of the equity interest in that particular Chinese Mainland subsidiary at all times within the 12 - month period immediately prior to the distribution of the dividends. Furthermore, pursuant to the Announcement on Issues concerning "Beneficial Owners" in Tax Treaties issued on February 3, 2018 by the SAT, when determining the status of "beneficial owners", a comprehensive analysis may be conducted through materials such as articles of association, financial statements, records of capital flows, minutes of board of directors, resolutions of board of directors, allocation of manpower and material resources, the relevant expenses, functions and risk assumption, loan contracts, royalty contracts or transfer contracts, patent registration certificates and copyright certificates, etc. However, even if an applicant has the status as a "beneficiary owner", if the competent tax authority finds necessity to apply the principal purpose test clause in the tax treaties or the general anti-tax avoidance rules stipulated in domestic tax laws, the general anti-tax avoidance provisions shall apply. On October 14, 2019, SAT promulgated the Administrative Measures for Non-Resident Taxpayers to Enjoy Treatment under Treaties, or SAT Circular 35, which became effective on January 1, 2020. SAT Circular 35 provides that non-PRC resident enterprises are not required to obtain pre-approval from the relevant tax authorities in order to enjoy the reduced withholding tax. Instead, non-PRC resident enterprises and their withholding agents may, by self-assessment and on confirmation that the prescribed criteria to enjoy the tax treaty benefits are met, directly apply the reduced withholding tax rate, and include necessary forms and supporting documents in the tax filings, which will be subject to post-tax filing examinations by the relevant tax authorities.

Enterprise Income Tax

In December 2007, the State Council promulgated the Implementing Rules of the Enterprise Income Tax Law, or the Implementing Rules, which became effective on January 1, 2008 and amended on April 23, 2019. The Enterprise Income Tax Law and its relevant Implementing Rules (i) impose a uniform 25% enterprise income tax rate, which is applicable to both foreign invested enterprises and domestic enterprises (ii) permits companies to continue to enjoy their existing tax incentives, subject to certain transitional phase-out rules and (iii) introduces new tax incentives, subject to various qualification criteria.

The Enterprise Income Tax Law also provides that enterprises organized under the laws of jurisdictions outside Chinese Mainland with their "de facto management bodies" located within Chinese Mainland may be considered PRC resident enterprises and therefore be subject to PRC enterprise income tax at the rate of 25% on their worldwide income. The Implementing Rules further define the term "de facto management body" as the management body that exercises substantial and overall management and control over the production and operations, personnel, accounts and properties of an enterprise. If an enterprise organized under the laws of jurisdiction outside Chinese Mainland is considered a PRC resident enterprise for PRC enterprise income tax purposes, a number of unfavorable PRC tax consequences could follow. First, it would be subject to the PRC enterprise income tax at the rate of 25% on its worldwide income. Second, a 10% withholding tax would be imposed on dividends it pays to its non-PRC enterprise shareholders and with respect to gains derived by its non-PRC enterprise shareholders from transfer of its shares.

On October 17, 2017, the State Administration of Taxation issued the Bulletin on Issues Concerning the Withholding of Non-PRC Resident Enterprise Income Tax at Source, or the Bulletin 37, as amended in June 2018, which replaced the Notice on Strengthening Administration of Enterprise Income Tax for Share Transfers by Non-PRC Resident Enterprises, or Circular 698, issued by the State Administration of Taxation, on December 10, 2009, and partially replaced and supplemented rules under the Bulletin on Issues of Enterprise Income Tax on Indirect Transfers of Assets by Non-PRC Resident Enterprises, or the Bulletin 7, issued by the State Administration of Taxation, on February 3, 2015 and last amended in December 2017. Under Bulletin 7, an “indirect transfer” of assets, including equity interests in a PRC resident enterprise, by non-PRC resident enterprises may be re-characterized and treated as a direct transfer of PRC taxable assets, if such arrangement does not have a reasonable commercial purpose and was established for the purpose of avoiding payment of PRC enterprise income tax. As a result, gains derived from such indirect transfer may be subject to PRC enterprise income tax. In respect of an indirect offshore transfer of assets of a Chinese Mainland establishment, the relevant gain is to be regarded as effectively connected with the Chinese Mainland establishment and therefore included in its enterprise income tax filing, and would consequently be subject to PRC enterprise income tax at a rate of 25%. Where the underlying transfer relates to the immovable properties in Chinese Mainland or to equity investments in a PRC resident enterprise, which is not effectively connected to a Chinese Mainland establishment of a non-resident enterprise, a PRC enterprise income tax at 10% would apply, subject to available preferential tax treatment under applicable tax treaties or similar arrangements, and the party who is obligated to make the transfer payments has the withholding obligation. Pursuant to Bulletin 37, the withholding party shall declare and pay the withheld tax to the competent tax authority in the place where such withholding party is located within 7 days from the date of occurrence of the withholding obligation. Both Bulletin 37 and Bulletin 7 do not apply to transactions of sale of shares by investors through a public stock exchange where such shares were acquired from a transaction through a public stock exchange. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Doing Business in China—We and our existing shareholders face uncertainties with respect to indirect transfers of equity interests in PRC resident enterprises or other assets attributed to a Chinese establishment of a non-Chinese company, or immovable properties located in China owned by non-Chinese companies.”

Value-Added Tax

In November 2011, the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation promulgated the Pilot Plan for Imposition of Value-Added Tax to Replace Business Tax, or the Pilot Plan. In March 2016, the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation further promulgated the Notice on Fully Promoting the Pilot Plan for Replacing Business Tax by Value-Added Tax, as amended from time to time. Pursuant to the Pilot Plan and the relevant notice, VAT at a rate of 6% is generally imposed, on a nationwide basis, on the revenue generated from the provision of service in lieu of business tax in the modern service industries. VAT of a rate of 6% applies to revenue derived from the provision of some modern services. Unlike business tax, a taxpayer is allowed to offset the qualified input VAT paid on taxable purchases against the output VAT chargeable on the modern services provided.

Regulations Relating to Overseas Listing

On July 6, 2021, the General Office of the Communist Party of China Central Committee and the General Office of the State Council jointly issued a document to crack down on illegal activities in the securities market and promote the high-quality development of the capital market, which, among other things, requires the relevant governmental authorities to strengthen cross-border oversight of law-enforcement and judicial cooperation, to enhance supervision over China-based companies listed overseas, and to establish and improve the system of extraterritorial application of the Chinese Mainland securities laws.

On February 17, 2023, the CSRC promulgated the Trial Administrative Measures of the Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies, or the Trial Measures, and five supporting guidelines, together with five supporting guidelines, which took effect on March 31, 2023. Pursuant to the Trial Measures, Chinese Mainland domestic companies that directly or indirectly seek to offer or list their securities overseas are required to fulfil the filing procedure with the CSRC and report relevant information to the CSRC. Specifically, the overseas securities offering and listing of any issuer will be deemed as indirect overseas offering by Chinese Mainland domestic companies if the following conditions are met: (i) 50% or more of any of the issuer's operating revenue, total profit, total assets or net assets as documented in its audited consolidated financial statements for the most recent fiscal year is accounted for by Chinese Mainland domestic companies; and (ii) the main parts of the issuer's business activities are conducted in Chinese Mainland, or its main place(s) of business are located in Chinese Mainland, or the majority of senior management staff in charge of its business operations and management are Chinese Mainland citizens or have their usual place(s) of residence located in Chinese Mainland. Where a Chinese Mainland domestic company fails to fulfill the filing procedure or conceals any material fact or falsifies any major content in its filing documents, such Chinese Mainland domestic company may be subject to administrative penalties such as order to rectify, warnings and fines, and its controlling shareholders, actual controllers, the person directly in charge and other directly liable persons may also be subject to administrative penalties such as warnings and fines. In addition, pursuant to the Trial Measures, an overseas offering and listing of the securities of a Chinese Mainland domestic company is prohibited under any of the following circumstances, if (i) such securities offering and listing is explicitly prohibited by provisions in laws, administrative regulations and relevant state rules; (ii) the intended securities offering and listing may endanger national security as reviewed and determined by competent authorities under the State Council in accordance with law; (iii) the Chinese Mainland domestic companies intending to make the securities offering and listing, or its controlling shareholder(s) and the actual controller, have committed crimes such as corruption, bribery, embezzlement, misappropriation of property or undermining the order of the socialist market economy during the latest three years; (iv) the Chinese Mainland domestic companies intending to make the securities offering and listing is currently under investigations for suspicion of criminal offenses or major violations of laws and regulations, and no clear conclusion has yet been made thereof; or (v) there are material ownership disputes over equity interests held by the Chinese Mainland domestic companies' controlling shareholder(s) or by other shareholder(s) that are controlled by the controlling shareholder(s) and/or actual controller.

On February 24, 2023, the CSRC, Ministry of Finance of the PRC, National Administration of State Secrets Protection and National Archives Administration of China promulgated the Provisions on Strengthening Confidentiality and Archives Administration of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies, or the Archives Rules, which took effect on March 31, 2023. Pursuant to the Archives Rules, Chinese Mainland domestic companies that seek overseas offering and listing shall strictly abide by applicable laws and regulations of the Chinese Mainland and the Archives Rules, enhance legal awareness of keeping state secrets and strengthening archives administration, institute a sound confidentiality and archives administration system, and take necessary measures to fulfill confidentiality and archives administration obligations. Such domestic companies shall not leak any state secret and working secret of government agencies, or harm national security and public interest. Furthermore, a Chinese Mainland domestic company that plans to, either directly or through its overseas listed entity, publicly disclose or provide to relevant individuals or entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators, any document and materials that contain state secrets or working secrets of government agencies, shall first obtain approval from competent authorities according to law, and file with the secrecy administrative department at the same level. Moreover, a Chinese Mainland domestic company that plans to, either directly or through its overseas listed entity, publicly disclose or provide to relevant individuals and entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators, any other documents and materials that, if leaked, will be detrimental to national security or public interest, shall strictly fulfill relevant procedures stipulated by applicable national regulations. The Archives Rules also stipulate that a Chinese Mainland domestic company that provides accounting archives or copies of accounting archives to any entities including securities companies, securities service providers and overseas regulators and individuals shall fulfill due procedures in compliance with applicable national regulations.

Regulations Related to Anti-Monopoly

The Anti-Monopoly Law took effect on August 1, 2008. Before the institutional reform plan of the State Council approved by the National People's Congress on March 17, 2018, or the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, the National Development and Reform Commission, or the NDRC, the SAIC, and the MOFCOM were the three Chinese Mainland anti-monopoly enforcement authorities and the NDRC and the SAIC, had in recent years strengthened enforcement actions, including levying significant fines, with respect to cartel activity as well as abusive behavior of companies having market dominance. According to the 2018 Institutional Reform Plan, the anti-monopoly functions performed by the NDRC, the SAIC, and the MOFCOM were consolidated into the SAMR, which may place a profound impact on the Chinese Mainland anti-monopoly law enforcement practice.

In addition, on February 3, 2011, the General Office of the State Council promulgated a Notice on Establishing the Security Review System for Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors, or Circular 6, which officially established a security review system for mergers and acquisitions of domestic enterprises by foreign investors. Further, on August 25, 2011, MOFCOM promulgated the Regulations on Implementation of Security Review System for the Merger and Acquisition of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors, or the MOFCOM Security Review Regulations, which became effective on September 1, 2011, to implement Circular 6. Under Circular 6, a security review is required for mergers and acquisitions by foreign investors having “national defense and security” concerns and mergers and acquisitions by which foreign investors may acquire the “de facto control” of domestic enterprises with “national security” concerns. Under the MOFCOM Security Review Regulations, MOFCOM will focus on the substance and actual impact of the transaction when deciding whether a specific merger or acquisition is subject to security review. If MOFCOM decides that a specific merger or acquisition is subject to security review, it will submit it to the Inter-Ministerial Panel, an authority established under the Circular 6 led by the NDRC, and MOFCOM under the leadership of the State Council, to carry out the security review. The regulations prohibit foreign investors from bypassing the security review by structuring transactions through trusts, indirect investments, leases, loans, control through contractual arrangements or offshore transactions.

The Anti-Monopoly Law also provides a private right of action for competitors or users to bring anti-monopoly claims against companies. In recent years, an increased number of companies have been exercising their right to seek relief under the Anti-Monopoly Law. As public awareness of the rights under the Anti-Monopoly Law increases, more companies, including our competitors, business partners and customers, may resort to the remedies under the law to improve their competitive position, regardless of the merits of their claims. On June 24, 2022, the Decision of the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress to Amend the Anti-Monopoly Law of the People’s Republic of China, or the Decision to Amend the Anti-Monopoly Law, was adopted and became effective on August 1, 2022. The Decision to Amend the Anti-Monopoly Law strengthens the regulation on the internet platforms, requiring that undertakings shall not use data and algorithms, technologies, capital advantages, platform rules, and other means to engage in monopolistic conduct; and also escalates in full scale the administrative penalties for monopolistic conducts, for the failure to notify the anti-monopoly agencies on the proposed concentration of undertakings, the State Council Anti-Monopoly Enforcement Agency may order to reinstate the original status prior to the concentration and impose a fine up to ten percent of the operator’s last year’s sales revenue, provided that the concentration of undertakings has or may have an effect on excluding or limiting competition; if the concentration does not have the effect on excluding or limiting competition, a fine up to RMB5,000,000 may be imposed on operators. Since such provisions are relatively new, uncertain still remains as to the interpretation and implementation of such laws and regulations.

On February 7, 2021, the Anti-Monopoly Committee of the State Council promulgated the Anti-monopoly Guidelines for the Platform Economy Sector, or the Anti-monopoly Guideline, aiming to improve anti-monopoly administration on online platforms. The Anti-monopoly Guideline, operating as the compliance guidance under the existing Chinese Mainland anti-monopoly regulatory regime for platform economy operators, specifically prohibits certain acts of the platform economy operators that may have the effect of eliminating or limiting market competition, such as concentration of undertakings.

Besides, the Provisions on the Threshold of Filings for Undertaking Concentrations issued by the State Council in 2008, with its latest amendment on January 22, 2024, further adjusts the filing threshold for concentration of undertaking as, during the previous fiscal year, (i) the total global turnover of all operators participating in the transaction exceeded RMB12 billion in the preceding fiscal year and at least two of these operators each had a turnover of more than RMB800 million within Chinese Mainland in the preceding fiscal year, or (ii) the total turnover within Chinese Mainland of all the operators participating in the concentration exceeded RMB4 billion in the preceding fiscal year, and at least two of these operators each had a turnover of more than RMB800 million within Chinese Mainland in the preceding fiscal year.

Regulations Relating to Historic P2P Operation Business

On July 18, 2015, the Guidelines on Promoting the Healthy Development of Online Finance Industry, or the Guidelines, were jointly promulgated by ten Chinese Mainland regulatory agencies, including the PBOC, the MIIT and the CBRC. The Guidelines set out definition of online peer-to-peer lending as direct loans between individuals through an online platform, which is under the supervision of the CBRC, and governed by the PRC Contract Law, the General Principles of the Civil Law of the PRC, and related judicial interpretations promulgated by the Supreme People’s Court.

On April 12, 2016, the Notice on the Implementation Plan of the Special Rectification of Peer-to-peer Online Lending Risk, or the Notice, was issued by the China Bank Regulatory Commission, or the CBRC, which reiterated the requirements set out in the Guideline and further clarified the activities online peer-to-peer lending information service providers are prohibited to engage in.

On October 28, 2016, the CBRC, the MIIT and State Administration for Industry and Commerce, or the SAIC, jointly issued the Guidance on the Administration of Registration of Online Lending Information Intermediaries, or the Registration Guidelines, which provides the general filing rules for online lending intermediaries, and delegates the filing authority to local financial authorities. Since we are currently not an Internet Lending Information Intermediary, we believe that the Registration Guidelines are no longer applicable to us. In addition, to our knowledge, there are no detailed implementation rules regarding Registration Guidelines ever since 2016. However, uncertainties still exist in relation to the interpretation and implementation of the Registration Guidelines. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalties retroactively prescribed in the relevant laws and regulations relating to our previous P2P operation business, although we have already ceased the related business, and if we were punished, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

The CBRC also authorizes local financial regulators to make detailed implementation rules regarding filing procedures. However, relevant local financial regulators are also in the process of making such implementation rules, which may require us to complete filing records under such future requirements within a grace period.

On February 22, 2017, the CBRC released the Guidelines on Online Lending Funds Custodian Business, or the Custodian Guidelines, which set out requirements on the fund custodian services for online lending information intermediaries. The Custodian Guidelines define custodian as commercial banks qualified for providing depositary services for online lending information providers and specify the criteria for qualification. Pursuant to the Custodian Guideline, an online lending information service provider may only enter into fund depositary agreement with one custodian for the funds of lenders and borrowers held by it, and shall segregate the funds of lenders, borrowers and the proprietary funds of online lending information service providers in separate accounts. For any online lending information service providers and custodian operating prior to the implementation of the Custodian Guideline, which are not in full compliance with the Custodian Guidelines, they are required to rectify any violation of the Custodian Guideline within a six-month grace period starting from the issuance of the Custodian Guideline.

On August 23, 2017, the CBRC further issued the Guidelines on Information Disclosure of the Business Activities of Online Lending Information Intermediaries, or the Disclosure Guidelines, which clarified the disclosure obligation of online lending information service providers. Pursuant to the Disclosure Guidelines, online lending information service providers shall set a special column of information disclosure on the eye-catching locations of its official website and all other available internet channels, such as mobile applications and WeChat official accounts to disclose certain information, including, among other things (i) basic information of the online lending information service provider, such as its registration information, organization information, and financial data; (ii) transaction related information, such as the total notional and number of transactions matched through the online lending information platform; and (iii) any event that could result in a material adverse effect on the operations of online lending information providers. The Disclosure Guidelines also require online lending information service providers to record all the disclosed information and retain such information for no less than five years from the date of the disclosure. For any online lending information service providers are not in full compliance with the Disclosure Guidelines, they are required to rectify any violation of the Custodian Guideline within a six-month grace period upon issuance of the Disclosure Guideline.

On July 4, 2017, Financial Development and Service Office of the People's Government of Shenzhen published a discussion draft on the proposed Administrative Measures on the Registration of Shenzhen based Online Lending Information Intermediary, or the Proposed Administrative Measures, for public review and comments. The Proposed Administrative Measures set out detailed requirements and procedures for the registration of online lending information service providers, which, including, among others, to require the online lending information providers to implement robust network security protection system, select a qualified commercial bank that has a branch in Shenzhen as its fund custodian institution and opened the custodian accounts for online lending in its Shenzhen branch, and employ at least three senior executives with more than five years' experience in the financial industry holding bachelor degrees or above. The public review and comments for the Proposed Administrative Measures has now concluded, but it is still uncertain when the draft will become effective and whether the definitive version would have substantial changes from the draft.

On December 1, 2017, the Notice on Rectification of Cash Loan Business, or Circular 141, was promulgated by the Head Office for Special Rectification of Online Finance Risk and the Head Office for Special Rectification of Peer-to-Peer Online Lending. In accordance with Circular 141, cash loan, which is characterized by the lack of specific scenes, designated purposes, targeted users and mortgage may be inspected and rectified. Circular 141 further specifies that the overall cost of loan, including among others, the loan interest and other forms of fees, charged by the institutions shall be subject to the restrictions on interest rates as specified in applicable rules on private lending. In addition, Circular 141 provides that banking financial institutions shall not receive credit enhancement services offered by any third party that lacks qualifications to provide guarantee, and shall ensure such third party not to charge fees from borrowers. We had taken considerate measures to comply with the Circular 141: (i) the interest rates of our products are capped and comply with the requirements of relevant laws and regulations; (ii) as of present, we do not deduct the interest, service fee, administrative fee and deposit from a loan principal in advance, or set high overdue interest, overdue fine payment or default interest; (iii) we do not outsource core business such as user information collection, information screening, credit assessment, and account opening to any third party; (iv) we no longer involve in peer-to-peer online lending business and we do not assist the banking financial institutions to participate in peer-to-peer online lending; and (v) we conduct risk review on the application materials submitted by borrowers and check their loan repayment capacity. The loans may be only granted when the risk review is passed. The scope of our review is broad. For example, the borrowers are required to disclose their specific usage of loans and make relevant warrants, including that they are not students and the loan agreements include clauses prohibiting borrowers using the loans for purchasing real property. In addition, the loans are usually small amount loans (approximately RMB 10,000 yuan for each borrower on average) with short repayment terms (usually within 12 months). Although we had taken such measures and we believe we are in compliance with the Circular 141, uncertainties still exist in relation to the interpretation and implementation of Circular 141 and other relevant laws and regulations relating to P2P operation business and exist in the ultimate usage of loans by the borrowers after they obtain the loans since the flow of funds is not under our monitoring. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalties retroactively prescribed in the relevant laws and regulations relating to our previous P2P operation business, although we have already ceased the related business, and if we were punished, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

On December 8, 2017, the Head Office for Special Rectification of Peer-to-Peer Online Lending issued the Notice on the Special Rectification and Inspection of Risk of Online Lending Intermediaries, or Circular 57, providing further clarification on several matters in connection with the rectification and registration of online lending information intermediaries. Circular 57 sets forth certain requirements for online lending intermediary to qualify for the registration, including, among others, an online lending intermediary (i) shall cease conducting any thirteen prohibited actions regulated in the Interim Measures or exceeding the individual lending amount upper limit as stipulated in the Interim Measures after August 24, 2016, and shall fully eliminate the outstanding balance of such non-compliance products offered before August 24, 2016; (ii) shall cease offering the down payment loan for purchasing real property, campus loan or cash loan, and gradually reduce the outstanding balance of the abovementioned loan within certain timetable; and (iii) set up custody accounts with qualified banks that have passed certain testing and evaluation procedures run by the Head Office for Special Rectification of Peer-to-Peer Online Lending to hold user funds. We had taken considerate conduct any of the thirteen prohibited actions during our operation and the individual lending amount is far lower than the stipulated upper limit; and (ii) we do not believe any of the loan products that we facilitate is prohibited under Circular 57. For example, although some of our loan products, such as Xiaoying Credit Loan's credit card cash advance product, do not have mortgage and specific scenes, we believe they target to a specific user base with designated purpose for which the borrowers are required to specify at loan application. However, in the absence of authoritative interpretation of the key requirements or characteristics of cash loan, especially whether the definition of cash loan requires all of the four characteristics or any of the four characteristics, we cannot assure you that our existing practices would not be deemed to violate any relevant laws, rules and regulations that are applicable to our business practices; (iii) we had set up custody accounts with qualified banks as required. Although we had taken such measures and we believe we are in compliance with the Circular 57, uncertainties still exist in relation to the interpretation and implementation of Circular 57 and other relevant laws and regulations relating to P2P operation business. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalties retroactively prescribed in the relevant laws and regulations relating to our previous P2P operation business, although we have already ceased the related business, and if we were punished, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

In August 2018, the Notice on Conducting Compliance Inspections of Online Lending Intermediaries, or the Inspection Notice, and the Compliance Checklist of Online Lending Information Intermediaries, or the Compliance Checklist, were promulgated by the Head Office for Special Rectification of Peer-to-Peer Online Lending, on the basis of Interim Measures, Custodian Guidelines, Disclosure Guidelines, Circular 141 and Circular 57. According to the Inspection Notice, the compliance inspection, which consists of self-inspection conducted by online lending information intermediaries, inspection conducted by local and national Internet Finance Associations, and verification conducted by the local online lending rectification office, shall be completed by the end of December 2018. The online lending information intermediaries that are in compliance with the applicable rules and regulations could be granted access to the information disclosure system and the product registration system, and subject to certain conditions, such online lending information intermediaries are allowed to submit the filing applications.

In December 2018, the relevant Chinese Mainland regulatory authorities of the P2P lending industry issued the Circular on Making Efforts to Prevent Risk and Classify Online Lending Institutions, or Circular 175, in which the regulatory authorities, for the first time, classified the online P2P lending marketplaces into six categories.

In January 2019, the Head Office for Special Rectification of Peer-to-Peer Online Lending and the Head Office for Special Rectification of Online Finance Risk jointly issued the Notice on Further Proceed with Compliance Inspection of P2P Online Lending and Follow-up Work, which stipulates P2P online lending platform passed the inspections by the administrative authorities shall provide real time data step by step.

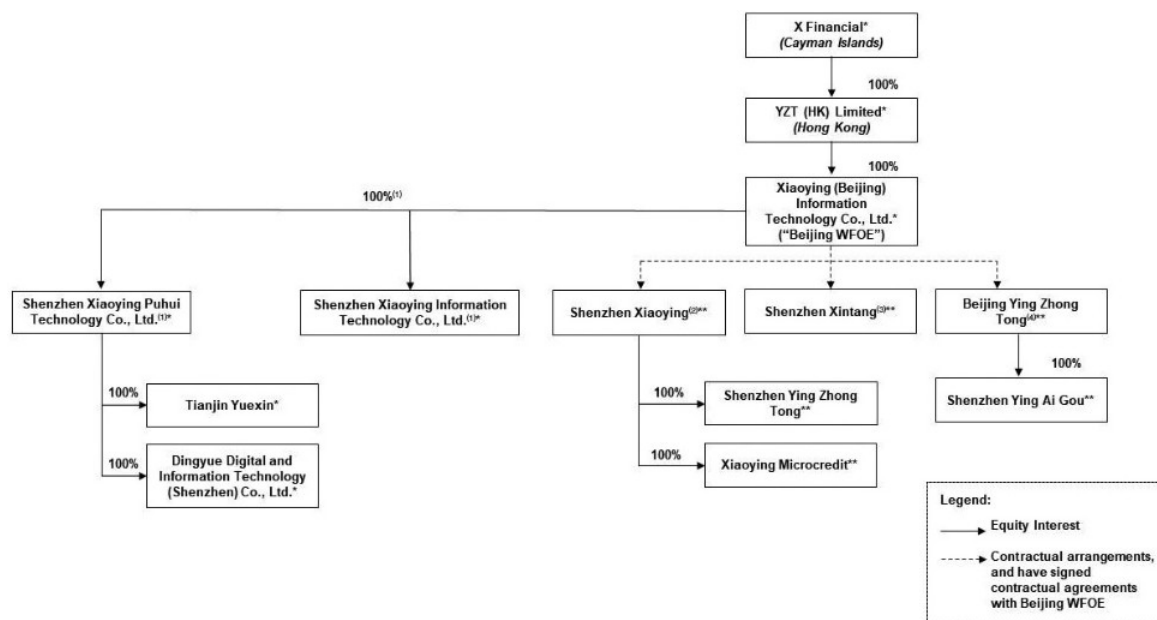

In September 2019, the Head Office for Special Rectification of Peer-to-Peer Online Lending and the Head Office for Special Rectification of Online Finance Risk jointly issued the Circular of Strengthening the Construction of Credit Support System of Online Lending, as reported, which encourages operating peer-to-peer online lending institutions connect to credit reporting system, including the professional agency of basic database for financial credit information (i.e. the Credit Reference Center of the People's Bank of China), Baihang Credit and etc, cracking down malicious debt evasion behaviors of non-operating peer-to-peer online lending entities, increasing the punishment of discredited enterprise and strengthening publicity and public opinion guidance.

As of the date of this annual report, we had taken considerable measures to comply with the Interim Measures, the Custodian Guidelines, Circular 141, Circular 57, the Inspection Notice, the Compliance Checklist and other laws and regulations applicable to our business operations. For example, we had selected qualified banks to deposit the funds of lenders and borrowers and managed our own funds separately from the funds of lenders and borrowers, conducted inspection and check in pursuant to the Inspection Notice and Compliance Checklist, enhanced the risk disclosures of online lending on our platform, and set up systematic rules on cooperating with business partners to realize the isolation of risks. With the measures taken by us, we consider ourselves in compliance with the regulations mentioned above.

Since early 2019, the Company began the transformation of its business model from a P2P platform to a platform that focuses on the facilitation of its institutional funding partners to provide loans to borrowers, and as of December 17, 2020, our P2P operation business had been cleared and ceased. Since that date, we have not undertaken any activities related to the P2P operation. Therefore, we are not a P2P platform or conducting any P2P operation business. In this regard, while the Notice, the Registration Guidelines, the Interim Measures, the Custodian Guidelines, the Disclosure Guidelines, Circular 141, Circular 57, Circular 175, the Inspection Notice, the Compliance Checklist, the Notice on Further Proceed with Compliance Inspection of P2P Online Lending, the Circular of Strengthening the Construction of Credit Support System of Online Lending and the regulations therein, targets P2P operation business, they are no longer applicable to us. However, uncertainties still exist in relation to the interpretation and implementation of the Interim Measures and other such relevant laws and regulations relating to P2P operation business. We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalties retroactively prescribed in the relevant laws and regulations relating to our previous P2P operation business, although we have already ceased the related business, and if we were punished, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry—We have ceased the P2P operation business, but we cannot assure you that our operations were in full compliance with relevant legal requirements and would not be punished under relevant regulations.”

Furthermore, through Beijing WFOE, X Financial conducts its operation in Chinese Mainland through Shenzhen Xintang Information Consulting Co., Ltd. or Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), Beijing Ying Zhong Tong Rongxun Technology Service Co., Ltd. or Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE), and Shenzhen Xiaoying Technology Co., Ltd., or Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE) (collectively with Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE), the "VIEs") through a series of contractual arrangements. X Financial and its subsidiaries do not have equity interests in Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE), Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), or Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE). X Financial's control over the VIEs and X Financial's position of being the primary beneficiary of the VIEs for the accounting purposes are limited to the conditions that X Financial met for consolidation of the VIEs under U.S. GAAP. Such conditions include that (i) X Financial controls VIEs through power to govern the activities which most significantly impact the VIEs' economic performance, (ii) X Financial is contractually obligated to absorb losses of VIEs that could potentially be significant to VIEs, and (iii) X Financial is entitled to receive benefits from VIEs that could potentially be significant to VIEs. Only if X Financial meets the aforementioned conditions for consolidation of the VIEs under U.S. GAAP, X Financial will be deemed as the primary beneficiary of the VIEs, and the VIEs will be treated as X Financial's consolidated affiliated entities for accounting purposes. X Financial could face heightened risks and substantial costs in enforcing these contractual arrangements, because, although contractual arrangements similar to the contractual arrangements with the VIEs (the "VIE Agreements") have been widely adopted by Chinese Mainland companies seeking for listing abroad, such arrangements have not been tested in any of the Chinese Mainland courts. In addition, there are substantial uncertainties regarding the interpretation and application of current and future Chinese Mainland laws, regulations, and rules relating to these contractual arrangements.

Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE), Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), or Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE) were incorporated in the Chinese Mainland and conduct operations in the Chinese Mainland. Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong (VIE) and Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) are wholly-owned subsidiaries of Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE). Shenzhen Ying Ai Gou (VIE) is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE). Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong (VIE), Xiaoying Microcredit (VIE) and Shenzhen Ying Ai Gou (VIE) were incorporated in the Chinese Mainland and conduct operations in the Chinese Mainland.

Contractual Arrangements with Consolidated VIEs and Their Shareholders ("VIE Agreements")

Due to Chinese Mainland legal restrictions on foreign ownership and investment in, among other areas, valued-added telecommunications, similar to all other entities with foreign incorporated holding company structures operating in our industry in Chinese Mainland, currently conduct these activities mainly through our VIEs and its subsidiaries over which we exercise effective control through contractual arrangements among our VIEs and its shareholders.

The contractual arrangements allow us to:

- exercise effective control over our VIEs;
- receive substantially all of the economic benefits of our VIEs; and
- have an exclusive call option to purchase all or part of the equity interest in and/or assets of our VIEs when and to the extent permitted by laws.

As a result of these contractual arrangements, we are the primary beneficiary of the VIEs and their subsidiaries and, therefore, have consolidated the financial results of the VIEs and their subsidiaries in our consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

- the ownership structure of the VIEs currently are in compliance with Chinese Mainland laws or regulations currently in effect; and
- the contractual arrangements among the VIEs and the shareholders of the VIEs, governed by Chinese Mainland law currently are valid and binding under Chinese Mainland law, and will not result in any violation of applicable Chinese Mainland laws or regulations currently in effect, except that the pledge of equity in Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) would not be deemed validly created until it is registered with the competent administration for market regulation, and we may not be able to register the pledge of equity in Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), in which case we must rely on the equity pledge agreement to enforce the pledge.

The following is a summary of the currently effective contractual arrangements by and among our wholly-owned subsidiaries, the VIEs and the shareholder(s) of the VIEs and their spouses.

Agreements that provide us with effective control over the VIEs

Shareholders' Voting Rights Proxy Agreements. Pursuant to the Shareholders' Voting Right Proxy Agreements among Beijing WFOE, each of the VIEs and the shareholders of each of the VIEs. These shareholders irrevocably authorize Beijing WFOE or any person(s) designated by Beijing WFOE to act as his or her attorney-in-fact to exercise all of his or her rights as a shareholder of the VIEs, including, but not limited to, the right to convene shareholders' meetings, vote and sign any resolution as a shareholder, appoint directors and other senior executives to be appointed and removed by the shareholder, the right to sell, transfer, pledge and dispose of all or a portion of the shares held by such shareholder, and other shareholders voting rights permitted by the Articles of Association of each VIE. For the agreements among Beijing WFOE, each of the VIEs and their shareholders, the power of attorney will remain in force for ten years. Unless a thirty-day notice is given by Beijing WFOE, these agreements shall be automatically renewed for another one year upon the expiration.

Spousal Consent Letters. Spouse of each individual shareholder of each of the VIEs has each signed a spousal consent letter. Under the spousal consent letters, each signing spouse unconditionally and irrevocably gives up his or her rights to such shares and any associated economic rights or interests to which he or she may be entitled pursuant to applicable laws and undertakes not to make any assertion of rights to such shares and the underlying assets. Each signing spouse agrees and undertakes that he or she will take all necessary actions to ensure the proper perform of the contractual arrangements, and will be bound by the contractual arrangements in case he or she obtains any equity of the VIEs due to any reason.

Equity Pledge Agreements. Pursuant to the Equity Pledge Agreements among Beijing WFOE, each of the VIEs and the shareholders of each of the VIEs, those shareholders have pledged 100% equity interest in the VIEs to Beijing WFOE to guarantee the performance by the VIEs and its shareholders of their obligations under the Shareholders' Voting Rights Proxy Agreements, the Equity Pledge Agreements and the Exclusive Business Corporation Agreements. If the VIEs or those shareholders breach their contractual obligations under these agreements, Beijing WFOE, as pledgee, will have the right to dispose of the pledged equity interests in the VIEs and will have priority in receiving the proceeds from such disposal. Those shareholders also agree that, unless the contractual obligations as defined in the Equity Pledge Agreements are fully performed by them or the secured debts under the Equity Pledge Agreements are paid in full (whichever later), they will not dispose of the pledged equity interests or create or allow any encumbrance on the pledged equity interests. We have completed the registration of the pledge of equity interests in Beijing Ying Zhong Tong (VIE) and Shenzhen Xiaoying (VIE) with the competent administration for market regulation. As of the date of this annual report, the pledge of equity interest in Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) has not been registered with the competent administration for market regulation and we may not be able to register the pledge of equity in Shenzhen Xintang (VIE).

Agreements that allow us to receive economic benefits from the VIEs

Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreements. Pursuant to the Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreements among Beijing WFOE and each of the VIEs, Beijing WFOE or its designated person has the exclusive right to provide the VIEs with technical support, consulting and other services in return for fees based on 100% total consolidated profit of the VIEs after making up any cumulative loss (if any) of the VIEs and its affiliated companies and setting of the working capital, operational costs, taxes and other statutory contributions required. Without Beijing WFOE's prior written consent, the VIEs may not accept any services subject to these agreements from any third party. Beijing WFOE has the right to determine the service fee to be charged to the VIEs under these agreements by considering, among other things, the complexity of the services, the time that may be spent for providing such services, as well as the commercial value and specific content of the service provided. Beijing WFOE will have the exclusive ownership of all intellectual property rights created as a result of the performance of these agreements. For the agreements between Beijing WFOE and each of the VIEs, unless Beijing WFOE terminates these agreements in advance, these agreements will remain effective for ten years. Unless agreed by both parties in writing, these agreements shall be automatically renewed for another ten year upon its expiration.

Agreements that provide us with the option to purchase the equity interests in the VIEs

Exclusive Call Option Agreements. Pursuant to the Exclusive Call Option Agreements among Beijing WFOE, each of the VIEs and their shareholders, their shareholders irrevocably granted Beijing WFOE or any third party designated by Beijing WFOE an exclusive option to purchase all or part of their equity interests in the VIEs at the lowest price permitted by applicable Chinese Mainland laws. Those shareholders further undertake that they will neither create any pledge or encumbrance on their equity interests in the VIEs, nor transfer, gift or otherwise dispose of their equity interests in the VIEs to any person other than Beijing WFOE or its designated third party. Without Beijing WFOE or its designated third party's prior written consent, those shareholders agree not to, among other things, amend its articles of association, increase or decrease the registered capital, permit the VIEs to enter into transactions which materially and adversely affect the VIEs' assets, liabilities, business operations, equity interests and other legal interests, or merge with any other entities or make any investments, or distribute dividends. For the agreements among Beijing WFOE, each of the VIEs and their shareholders, these agreements will remain effective for ten years. Unless notified by Beijing WFOE, the parties to these agreements shall extend the term of these agreements for another ten years.

ITEM 5. OPERATING AND FINANCIAL REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

You should read the following discussion together with our consolidated financial statements and the related notes included elsewhere in this annual report. This discussion contains forward-looking statements about our business and operations. Our actual results may differ materially from those we currently anticipate as a result of many factors, including those we describe under “Item 3.D. Risk Factors” and elsewhere in this annual report on Form 20-F.

5.A. Operating Results

Key Factors Affecting Our Results of Operations

Economic Conditions and Regulatory Environment in China

The demand for personal finance services from prime borrowers depends on the overall economic conditions in Chinese Mainland. General economic factors, including the interest rate environment and unemployment rates, may have impacts on borrowers’ willingness to seek loans. For example, significant increases in interest rates could lead to prospective borrowers to defer obtaining loans as they wait for interest rates to decrease. Additionally, a slowdown in the economy, resulting in a rise in unemployment rate and possibly a decrease in real income, may affect individuals’ level of disposable income. This may affect borrowers’ repayment capability and their willingness to seek loans, which may potentially affect the delinquency rates.

The regulatory environment for the online personal finance industry in Chinese Mainland is developing and evolving, creating both challenges and opportunities that could affect our financial performance. Due to the relatively short history of online personal finance industry in Chinese Mainland, a comprehensive regulatory framework governing our industry is under development by the Chinese Mainland government. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry” for details. While new laws and regulations or changes to existing laws and regulations could make facilitating loans to borrowers more difficult or expensive, or making such loan products more difficult for institutional funding partners to accept or on terms favorable to us, these events could also provide new product and market opportunities. We will continue to diversify our funding sources, expand our loan product and service mix, and enhance our risk management to support our business growth.

Size of Borrower Base and Engagement

Our revenues are dependent on our ability to acquire new borrowers and retain existing borrowers. The size of our borrower base directly affects the total amount of loans we facilitate and in turn the service fees that we collect. The number of active borrowers on our platform increased from 2,371,537 borrowers in 2021 to 3,326,774 borrowers in 2022, and then further increased to 4,495,997 borrowers in 2023, of which 1,543,794 or 65.1%, 2,100,641 or 63.1%, and 2,853,149 or 63.5% were new borrowers, respectively. In 2021, 2022 and 2023, we have facilitated RMB51,859 million, RMB73,655 million and RMB105,557 million of loans on our platform, respectively. We are a leading player in the online personal finance industry. To date, we rely on attractive fee rates, products and services to acquire new borrowers. We also utilize various marketing efforts to attract and retain borrowers. A change in our ability to attract or retain borrowers, or a change in the acquisition cost of such borrowers, may potentially affect our revenue and profitability.

Loan Pricing

Our revenue and profitability are subject to the terms of our loan products, including the rate of service fees or interest fees charged, loan durations and the size of loan products. To cater our loan products to each prime borrower segment, within each product category, we specify the amount of fees per transaction considering the type, size and duration of the loan product. Loan products of longer duration and larger size generally correspond to higher fees. We assign a credit assessment result to each prospective borrower leveraging on our proprietary credit scoring model, based on an applicant’s basic information, credit history and behavior data and assign a credit line. Going forward, we also expect to assign differentiated fee rates based on the credit assessment result of an applicant. The fee rate variation depends on various factors in the competitive market and our adjustment in pricing will impact our revenues and profitability, as our revenues are generated from the service fees or interest fees.

Ability to Maintain Effective Risk Management

Our ability to effectively assess the credit risk of borrowers and classify borrowers into appropriate risk profiles impacts our ability to attract and retain borrowers and institutional funding partners, both of which directly relate to users' confidence in our platform. The delinquency rate for all outstanding loans on our platform that were 31-60 days past due decreased from 1.48% as of December 31, 2021 to 1.02% as of December 31, 2022, and then increased to 1.57% as of December 31, 2023. The primary reasons for the increase of the delinquency rates in 2023 include (i) the challenge due to the slow recovery of Chinese Mainland's macroeconomy and (ii) the intensification of competition in the industry. We intend to optimize our fraud detection capabilities, improve accuracy of our credit scoring model and enhance our collection effectiveness on a continuing basis through the combination of our big-data analytical capabilities and the increasing amount of data we accumulate through our operations. See "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Risk Management" for details.

Ability to Maintain Stable Funding Sources and Diversify and Expand Our Funding Channels

Our revenue is dependent on our ability to maintain stable funding sources and diversify and continuously expand our funding sources. At the end of 2019, we ceased funding our loan products from our individual investors through Xiaoying Wealth Management platform. We actively expanded institutional funding, such as banks, consumer finance companies, trust companies and other institutions, and achieved 100% institutional funding for the new loans facilitated by the end of the second quarter of 2020. In May 2021, we obtained a network microcredit license from the Local Financial Regulatory Bureau of Shenzhen Municipality and started online microcredit business in July 2021. The availability of funds affects our liquidity and the amount of transactions that we will be able to facilitate. In 2021, 98.0% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners, 2.0% were provided by our own funds. In 2022, 97.3% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners, 2.7% were provided by our own funds. In 2023, 97.2% of the total funding for loans we facilitated were provided by institutional funding partners, 2.8% were provided by our own funds.

Relationship with Financial Institutional cooperators

Our collaboration with financial institutional cooperators is an important factor affecting our results of operations. We benefit from the protection of credit insurance or guarantee service which is provided by our financial institutional cooperators to investors or institutional funding in the event of borrower's default. Substantially all of our financial institutional cooperators have at least AA credit rating issued by rating companies including China Lianhe Credit Rating Co., Ltd., China Chengxin Credit Management Co., Ltd., Xiamen Lianhe Credit Information Service Co., Ltd and Fujian China Chengxin Credit Rating Consulting Co., Ltd. Our financial institutional cooperators provide services covering both the North China and South China areas, most of which have a registered capital of more than RMB1 billion. Our financial institutional cooperators' strong brand recognition in China assists us in expanding our institutional funding base at reasonable expenses.

We also collaborate with those financial institutional cooperators to strengthen our capabilities on risk management, given that we can get their insurance or guarantee decision opinion. Our financial institutional cooperators' credit assessment models are based on information from various databases, including PBOC CRC that is only available to licensed financial institutions. In addition to our financial institutional cooperators' decision and input, we also factor in many layers of other decision variables to create a more comprehensive and accurate profile of the borrowers' creditworthiness. See "Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators" for details. Changes to our arrangement with financial institutional cooperators in credit insurance or guarantee services, credit assessment and other aspects of our business could affect our investors' confidence, the growth of our business and our profitability.

We cooperated with Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) to provide guarantees for certain loan products that we facilitate in the past. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. We settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023. Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) no longer guarantees any loan products. In 2023, one of our Chinese Mainland subsidiaries, Tianjin Yuexin that holds the financing guarantee license, cooperated with external financing guarantee companies, where Tianjin Yuexin assumes 20% of the guarantee liability, and the external financing guarantee company assumes 80% of the guarantee liability. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—4.B. Business Overview—Our Partnership with Financial Institutional Cooperators” for details. We have expanded our cooperation with high-quality external financing guarantee companies that provide guarantee services to protect institutional funding partners from losses incurred from borrowers’ defaults and charge guarantee fees from borrowers. A portion of guarantee fees will be subsequently paid to us by the external financing guarantee companies as the service fee. We may consider introducing other funding protection arrangements. We cannot assure you that new arrangements would be perceived by our financial institutional cooperators or institutional funding partners, which may have adverse impact on our business operations.

Loan Performance

Delinquency Rate by Balance of Xiaoying Credit Loan

We define delinquency rate as the balance of the outstanding principal and accrued outstanding interest for loans that were 31 to 60 days past due as a percentage of the total balance of outstanding principal and accrued outstanding interest for the loans we facilitated as of a specific date. Loans that are delinquent for more than 60 days are charged-off and excluded in the calculation of delinquency rate by balance. The following table provides the delinquency rates for Xiaoying Credit Loan as of the respective dates indicated.

	December 31,
Delinquent for 31-60 days	1.48 %	1.02 %	1.57 %

To make the delinquency rate by balance comparable to our peers, we also define the delinquency rate as the balance of the outstanding principal and accrued outstanding interest for loans that were 31 to 90 and 91 to 180 days past due as a percentage of the total balance of outstanding principal and accrued outstanding interest for the loans we facilitated as of a specific date. Loans that are delinquent for more than 180 days are excluded in the calculation of delinquency rate by balance. The following table provides the delinquency rates for Xiaoying Credit Loan as of the respective dates indicated.

	Delinquent for
	31 - 90 days	91 - 180 days
December 31, 2021	2.65 %	2.62 %
December 31, 2022	1.79 %	1.94 %
December 31, 2023	2.81 %	3.12 %

The delinquency rate for Xiaoying Credit Loan that were 31-60 days past due decreased from 1.48% as of December 31, 2021 to 1.02% as of December 31, 2022, and then increased to 1.57% as of December 31, 2023. The delinquency rate for Xiaoying Credit Loan that were 31-90 days past due decreased from 2.65% as of December 31, 2021 to 1.79% as of December 31, 2022, and then increased to 2.81% as of December 31, 2023. The delinquency rate for Xiaoying Credit Loan that were 91-180 days past due decreased from 2.62% as of December 31, 2021 to 1.94% as of December 31, 2022, and then increased to 3.12% as of December 31, 2023. The primary reasons for the increase of the delinquency rates in 2023 include (i) the challenge due to the slow recovery of Chinese Mainland’s macroeconomy and (ii) the intensification of competition in the industry.

Delinquency Rate by Vintage of Xiaoying Credit Loan

We refer to loans facilitated during a specified time period as vintage. We define vintage delinquency rate as (i) the total amount of principal for all loans in vintage that becomes delinquent, less (ii) the total amount of recovered past due principal for all loans in the same vintage, and divided by (iii) the total amount of initial principal for all loans in such vintage. Loans that have been charged-off are included in the calculation of vintage delinquency rates.

The following chart displays the historical cumulative 91-day plus past due delinquency rates by loan origination vintage for all continuing Xiaoying Credit Loan facilitated through our platform up to December 31, 2023.

The change in such delinquency rate of Xiaoying Credit Loan was primarily due to (i) the challenge due to the slow recovery of Chinese Mainland's macroeconomy and (ii) the intensification of competition in the industry.

Loan Facilitation Service

Loan facilitation service fees increased from RMB2,044.3 million in 2022 to RMB2,741.0 million (US$386.1 million) in 2023, primarily due to an increase in the total loan amount facilitated this year compared with 2022.

Post-origination Service

Post-origination service fees increased from RMB372.5 million in 2022 to RMB596.6 million (US$84.0 million) in 2023, primarily due to the cumulative effect of increased volume of loans facilitated during the year. Revenues from post-origination services are recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the underlying loans as the services are being provided.

Financing Income

Financing income increased from RMB966.3 million in 2022 to RMB1,137.3 million (US$160.2 million) in 2023, primarily due to an increase in average loan balances compared with 2022.

Guarantee income

Guarantee income increased from nil in 2022 to RMB24.5 million (US$3.5 million) in 2023. Guarantee income generated from financing guarantee business operated by a subsidiary which holds the financing guarantee license and commenced the financing guarantee business in 2023.

Other Revenue

Other revenue increased from RMB179.9 million in 2022 to RMB315.5 million (US$44.4 million) in 2023, primarily due to an increase in referral service fee for introducing borrowers to other platforms.

The following table sets forth our operating expenses, both in absolute amount and as a percentage of our total revenues, for the periods presented.

Origination and servicing expenses

Origination and servicing expenses increased from RMB2,126.7 million in 2022 to RMB2,869.8 million (US$404.2 million) in 2023, primarily due to the following factors: (i) an increase in commission fees and collection expenses resulting from the increase in total loan amount facilitated and originated this year, and (ii) an increase in interest expenses as a result of an increase in payable to institutional funding partners and investors.

General and administrative expenses

General and administrative expenses increased from RMB171.5 million in 2022 to RMB186.5 million (US$26.3 million) in 2023, primarily due to the increase in labor costs, and partially offset by decrease in share-based compensation expenses.

Sales and marketing expenses

Sales and marketing expenses decreased from RMB15.4 million in 2022 to RMB12.5 million (US$1.8 million) in 2023, primarily due to the decrease in marketing and advertisement expenses.

Provision for contingent guarantee

Provision for contingent guarantee liabilities in 2023 was RMB67.5 million (US$9.5 million) due to an increase in guarantee liability arising from financing guarantee business operated by a subsidiary which holds the financing guarantee license and commenced the financing guarantee business in 2023.

Provision for Accounts Receivable and Contract Assets

Provision for accounts receivable and contract assets decreased from RMB21.8 million in 2022 to RMB12.2 million (US$1.7 million) in 2023, primarily due to a decrease in accounts receivable and contract assets generated from business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) as our company group settled the remaining business in the first quarter of 2023.

Provision for loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans

Provision for loan receivables from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans increased from RMB164.6 million in 2022 to RMB233.4 million (US$32.9 million) in 2023, primarily due to an increase in loans receivable held by the Company as a result of the increase in the total loan amount facilitated and originated this year and in estimated default rate compared with 2022.

Change in Fair Value of Financial Guarantee Derivative

From September 2017, our exposure for loans newly facilitated is limited to the contractual guarantee fee that we cannot collect under the agreement from the borrower, through Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), as a result of default or prepayment but are still obligated to compensate our financial institutional cooperators based on the contractual guarantee fee up to the pre-agreed cap. The financial guarantee is accounted for as a derivative. Change in fair value of financial guarantee derivative decreased from RMB137.7 million in 2022 to RMB25.0 million (US$3.5 million) in 2023, primarily due to the decline in fair value gain realized as a result of the release of guarantee obligation in 2023 as our company group settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023.

Fair Value Adjustment Related to Consolidated Trusts

Fair value adjustment related to the Consolidated Trusts consists of the net change in the fair value of loans and payables to investors in the Consolidated Trusts. Our company group has elected the fair value option for the loan assets and liabilities of the Consolidated Trusts that formed before December 31, 2021, which otherwise would not have been carried at fair value. The business of Consolidated Trusts that formed before December 31, 2021 have been ceased by the end of 2023 and loss of fair value adjustments related to Consolidated Trusts decreased from RMB6.2 million in 2022 to RMB0.5 million (US$0.1 million) in 2023.

Income Tax Expense

Income tax expense decreased from RMB389.4 million in 2022 to RMB249.4 million (US$35.1million) in 2023, primarily due to the decrease of valuation allowance as a result of a change in judgment about the ability of our company group to utilize a beginning-of-the-year deferred tax asset in future years.

Net Income

As a result of the foregoing, our net income increased from RMB812.0 million in 2022 to RMB1,186.8 million (US$167.2 million) in 2023.

Loan Facilitation Service

Loan facilitation service fees decreased from RMB2,545.4 million in 2021 to RMB2,044.3 million (US$296.4 million) in 2022, primarily due to a decrease in average total borrowing cost of the borrowers; and also partially offset by an increase in the total loan amount facilitated this year compared with 2021.

Loan facilitation service fees under the intermediary model decreased from RMB0.2 million in 2021 to nil in 2022, due to the fact that all of the institutional funding partners invested their funds in the loans facilitated and/or the trust model, depending on their investment strategies.

Post-origination Service

Post-origination service fees increased from RMB315.6 million in 2021 to RMB372.5 million (US$54.0 million) in 2022, primarily due to the cumulative effect of increased volume of loans facilitated during the year. Financing Income

Financing income increased from RMB671.9 million in 2021 to RMB966.3 million (US$140.1 million) in 2022, primarily due to an increase in average loan balances compared with 2021.

Other Revenue

Other revenue increased from RMB93.4 million in 2021 to RMB179.9 million (US$26.1 million) in 2022, primarily due to an increase in referral service fee for introducing borrowers to other platforms and an increase in technology service fees received for providing assistant technology development services.

Provision for Accounts Receivable and Contract Assets

Provision for accounts receivable and contract assets decreased from RMB77.2 million in 2021 to RMB21.8 million (US$3.2 million) in 2022, primarily due to a decrease in the average estimated default rate which reflects an improvement in the credit quality of customers due to our comprehensive risk management capabilities and stringent assessment criteria compared with 2021.

Provision for loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans

Loans at fair value. Loans at fair value consist primarily of the loans underlying our Consolidated Trusts. Our loans at fair value decreased from RMB120.3 million as of December 31, 2022 to nil as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to the termination of the Consolidated Trusts administered by unrelated third party trust companies that were offered to investors through our Consolidated Trust business. Our loans at fair value decreased from RMB389.7 million as of December 31, 2021 to RMB120.3 million as of December 31, 2022.

Deposits to institutional cooperator, net. Deposits to cooperator relate to the pledged cash to our financial institutional cooperator and the amount of deposit is separately agreed with each institutional cooperator. The deposits paid to our financial institutional cooperator slightly decreased from RMB1,770.3 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB1,702.5 million (US$239.8 million) as of December 31, 2023. The deposits paid to our financial institutional cooperator increased from RMB1,500.4 million as of December 31, 2021 to RMB1,700.3 million as of December 31, 2022.

Prepaid expenses and other current assets, net. Prepaid expenses and other current assets decreased from RMB71.1 million as of December 31, 2022 to RMB48.8 million (US$6.9 million) as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to the decrease of dividend receivable amounting to RMB15 million and the decrease of prepaid expenses to various service providers in 2023. Prepaid expenses and other current assets decreased from RMB213.1 million as of December 31, 2021 to RMB71.1 million as of December 31, 2022.

Financial investment. Financial investment mainly consists of investments in Venture capital funds whose strategies are research driven and long-term investment preference, and investments in several U.S. Treasury bills with original maturities over three months and wealth management products for the purposes of benefiting our financial position. Our financial investments increased from RMB192.6 million in 2022 to RMB608.2 million (US$85.7 million) in 2023, primarily due to the remaining capital contributions made to Venture capital funds in 2023 and the increase of investments in the U.S. Treasury bills and wealth management products.

Payable to investors at fair value. Payable to investors at fair value decreased from RMB141.3 million as of December 31, 2022 to nil as of December 31, 2023, primarily due to the termination of the Consolidated Trusts administered by unrelated third party trust companies that were offered to investors and institutional funding partners through our Consolidated Trust business. Our payable to investors at fair value were RMB462.7 million and RMB141.3 million as of December 31, 2021 and 2022, respectively.

Payable to investors and institutional funding partners at amortized cost. Payable to investors and institutional funding partners at amortized cost consist primarily of the proceeds received from the trust partners and investors through consolidated trust and partnerships. Our payable to investors and institutional funding partners at amortized cost was RMB2,627.9 million and RMB3,584.0 million (US$504.8 million) as of December 31, 2022 and 2023 respectively, primarily due to an increase in the transaction volume in 2023. Our payable to investors and institutional funding partners at amortized cost was RMB1,487.4 million and RMB2,627.9 million as of December 31, 2021 and 2022 respectively.

Financial Guarantee Derivative. From September 2017, our exposure for loans newly facilitated is limited to the contractual guarantee fee that we cannot collect under the agreement from the borrower, through Shenzhen Xintang (VIE), as a result of default or prepayment but are still obligated to compensate our financial institutional cooperator based on the contractual guarantee fee up to the pre-agreed cap. The financial guarantee is accounted for as a derivative. The derivative liability is increased by the guarantee fees collected from the borrowers upon receipt as we expect all the fees to be ultimately paid to our financial institutional cooperator. When we settle the guarantee liability through performance of the guarantee by making payments to our financial institutional cooperator, we record a corresponding deduction to the derivative liability. As of December 31, 2021, financial guarantee derivatives had an asset position of RMB11.8 million, primarily due to the time lag between the payments to certain financial institutional cooperator and the collection of monthly guarantee service fees from borrowers. The cumulative amount paid to those financial institutional cooperator was greater than the cumulative monthly guarantee service fees collected from borrowers. The excess is expected to be fully collected from the borrowers during the remaining term of the underlying loans. As of December 31, 2021 and 2022, financial guarantee derivatives has a liability position of RMB566.0 million and RMB107.9 million, respectively. Since Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022, our company group settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) in the first quarter of 2023 with no outstanding balance of financial guarantee derivative as of December 2023.

Deferred guarantee income. Deferred guarantee income increased from nil in 2022 to RMB46.6 million (US$6.6 million) in 2023, primarily due to a subsidiary of ours which holds the financing guarantee license, commenced the financing guarantee business in 2023.

Short-term borrowings. Short-term borrowings increased from RMB70.2 million in 2022 to RMB565.0 million (US$79.6 million) in 2023, primarily due to us setting up several loans during 2023 to support our daily operations. Short-term borrowings decreased from RMB166.5 million in 2021 to RMB70.2 million in 2022.

Dividend payable. Dividend payable represents the dividends payable to our U.S. shareholders. Our board of directors announced a semi-annual dividend of US$0.17 per ADS for the second half of 2023, which will be settled to shareholders in May 2024, therefore, dividend payable increased from nil in 2022 to RMB59.2 million (US$8.3 million) in 2023.

Accrued expenses and other current liabilities. Accrued expenses and other current liabilities increased from RMB476.0 million in 2022 to RMB575.7 million (US$81.1 million) in 2023, primarily due to the increase in commission fee payable and transaction cost payable resulting from the increase in total loan amount facilitated and originated in 2023. Accrued expenses and other current liabilities increased from RMB269.0 million in 2021 to RMB476.0 million in 2022.

Hyperinflation

Since our inception, inflation in China has not materially affected our results of operations. According to the National Bureau of Statistics of China, the year-over-year percent changes in the consumer price index were increases of 1.5% and 1.8% for December 2021 and 2022, respectively, and decrease of 0.3% for December 2023. Although we have not been materially affected by inflation in the past, we may be affected if China experiences higher rates of inflation in the future. There was no hyperinflation that impacted the operations of company in the past three fiscal years.

Taxation

Cayman Islands

We are incorporated in the Cayman Islands. The Cayman Islands currently have no income, corporation or capital gains tax and no estate duty, inheritance tax or gift tax. The Cayman Islands does not impose a withholding tax on payments of dividends to shareholders.

Hong Kong

Our subsidiary incorporated in Hong Kong is subject to Hong Kong profit tax at a rate of 16.5%. No Hong Kong profit tax has been levied as we did not have assessable profit that was earned in or derived from the Hong Kong subsidiary during the periods presented. Hong Kong does not impose a withholding tax on dividends.

Chinese Mainland

Our subsidiaries, VIEs and subsidiaries of the VIEs established in the Chinese Mainland are subject to an income tax rate of 25% in the years presented. As stipulated by the Taxation Law of PRC, (i) one of our major consolidated subsidiaries was recognized as a qualified enterprise eligible to enjoy the preferential income tax rate of 15% from 2020 to 2022 and renewed its qualification until 2025; and (ii) one VIE and one subsidiary of us operated in a specific preferential tax jurisdiction and were thereby eligible to be levied at the reduced income tax rate of 15% from 2020 to 2025 and from 2023 to 2025, respectively.

We are subject to value added tax, or VAT, at a rate of 6% on the services we provide to borrowers, investors and institutional funding partners, and at a rate of 13% on the commodities we sold on our online shopping mall, less any deductible VAT we have already paid or borne. We are also subject to surcharges on VAT payments in accordance with Chinese Mainland law. VAT has been phased in since May 2012 to replace the business tax that was previously applicable to the services we provide. During the periods presented, we were not subject to business tax on the services we provide.

Dividends paid by our wholly foreign-owned subsidiary in Chinese Mainland to our intermediary holding company in Hong Kong will be subject to a withholding tax rate of 10%, unless the relevant Hong Kong entity satisfies all the requirements under the Arrangement between the Chinese Mainland and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region on the Avoidance of Double Taxation and Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with respect to Taxes on Income and Capital and receives approval from the relevant tax authority. If our Hong Kong subsidiary satisfies all the requirements under the tax arrangement and receives approval from the relevant tax authority, then the dividends paid to the Hong Kong subsidiary would be subject to withholding tax at the standard rate of 5%.

If our holding company in the Cayman Islands or any of our subsidiaries outside of Chinese Mainland were deemed to be a “resident enterprise” under the Law of the PRC on Enterprise Income Tax, it would be subject to enterprise income tax on its worldwide income at a rate of 25%. See “Item 3. Key Information—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Doing Business in China—We may be treated as a resident enterprise for Chinese Mainland tax purposes under the PRC Enterprise Income Tax Law, and we may therefore be subject to Chinese Mainland income tax on our global income.”

5.B. Liquidity and Capital Resources

To date, we have financed our operations primarily through cash generated by operating activities and proceeds from issuance and sales of our shares. As of December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023, we had RMB584.8 million, RMB602.3 million and RMB1,195.4 million (US$168.4 million), respectively, in cash and cash equivalents. In September 2018, we completed an initial public offering of 11,763,478 ADSs (including the ADSs sold upon the exercise of the over-allotment option granted to the underwriters), representing 23,526,956 Class A ordinary shares, resulting in net proceeds to us of approximately US$103.9 million. Our cash and cash equivalents primarily consist of cash on hand, term deposits in banks and three-month U.S. treasury bills. We believe that our current cash and cash equivalents and our anticipated cash flows from operations and financing activities will be sufficient to meet our anticipated working capital requirements and capital expenditures for next 12 months. We may, however, need additional capital in the future to fund our continued operations. If we determine that our cash requirements exceed the amount of cash and cash equivalents we have on hand at the time, we may seek to issue equity or debt securities or obtain credit facilities. The issuance and sale of additional equity would result in further dilution to our shareholders. The incurrence of indebtedness would result in increased fixed obligations and could result in operating covenants that might restrict our operations. We cannot assure you that financing will be available in amounts or on terms acceptable to us, if at all.

Although we consolidate the results of the VIEs, we only have access to cash balances or future earnings of the consolidated variable interest entities through our contractual arrangements with them. See “Item 4. Information on the Company—C. Organizational Structure — Contractual Arrangements with Consolidated VIEs and Their Shareholders (“VIE Agreements”).” For restrictions and limitations on liquidity and capital resources as a result of our corporate structure, see “—Holding Company Structure.”

Holding Company Structure

X Financial is a holding company with no material operations of its own. We conduct our operations primarily through our Beijing WFOE and its subsidiaries, variable interest entities and its subsidiaries in Chinese Mainland. As a result, X Financial's ability to pay dividends depends upon dividends paid by Beijing WFOE. If Beijing WFOE or any newly formed subsidiaries incur debt on their own behalf in the future, the instruments governing their debt may restrict their ability to pay dividends to us. In addition, our wholly foreign-owned subsidiary in Chinese Mainland is permitted to pay dividends to us only out of its retained earnings, if any, as determined in accordance with Chinese Mainland's accounting standards and regulations. Under Chinese Mainland's law, each of our subsidiaries and variable interest entities is required to set aside at least 10% of its after-tax profits each year, if any, to fund certain statutory reserve funds until such reserve funds reach 50% of its registered capital. In addition, each of our subsidiaries may allocate a portion of its after-tax profits based on Chinese Mainland's accounting standards to enterprise expansion funds and staff bonus and welfare funds at its discretion, and our variable interest entity may allocate a portion of its after-tax profits based on Chinese Mainland's accounting standards to a discretionary surplus fund at its discretion. The statutory reserve funds and the discretionary funds are not distributable as cash dividends. Remittance of dividends by a wholly foreign-owned company out of Chinese Mainland is subject to examination by the banks designated by SAFE. Our Beijing WFOE will not be able to pay dividends until it generate accumulated profits and meet the requirements for statutory reserve funds or general risk reserves.

5.D. Trend Information

Other than as disclosed elsewhere in this annual report, we are not aware of any trends, uncertainties, demands, commitments or events for the year ended December 31, 2023 that are reasonably likely to have a material and adverse effect on our net revenues, income, profitability, liquidity or capital resources, or that would cause the disclosed financial information to be not necessarily indicative of future results of operations or financial condition.

5.E. Critical Accounting Estimates

We consider an accounting estimate to be critical if:

- (i) the accounting estimate requires us to make assumptions about matters that were highly uncertain at the time the accounting estimate was made, and
- (ii) changes in the estimate that are reasonably likely to occur from period to period or use of different estimates that we reasonably could have used in the current period, would have a material impact on our financial condition or results of operations.

Besides accounting estimates defined as critical as above, there are other items within our financial statements that require estimation but are not deemed critical, which are described in more detail in Note 2 – Summary of significant accounting policies. We believe the following critical accounting estimates used in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements require the most difficult, subjective and complex judgments and estimates and have had, or are reasonably likely to have a material impact on our financial condition or results of operations.

Variable considerations of revenue recognition

For the loans facilitated that we collected service fee indirectly through external financing guarantee company or directly from institutional funding partner, our transaction price includes variable consideration in the form of default risk of the borrowers and prepayment risk of the borrowers. We determine the consideration based on historical experiences as well as the credit due diligence performed on each borrower prior to loan origination.

We estimate variable consideration for these contracts using the expected value methodology by adjusting the pre-agreed service fees for the loans that we facilitated by expected vintage-based loss rates and expected prepayment rates. When estimates the loss rates and the prepayment rates, we also considers the historical loss or prepayment experience period, the weighted multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios over the life of the loans and selected economic variables.

The increase in the expected loss rates and expected prepayment rates, of the underlying off-balance sheet loans will result in the decrease in revenue recognized. We update our estimate on a quarterly basis, and any adjustments to the estimate are recognized as adjustments to revenue using the cumulative catch-up method. The revenue recognition is sensitive to our estimates in these factors. Changes in our estimates of these factors may have a significant impact on the revenue recognized.

During the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023, when our estimates of the expected loss rates and expected prepayment rates for loan facilitation service increased/decreased by 0.5% while holding all other estimates constant, our loan facilitation service revenue would decrease/increase by approximately RMB 51 million and RMB 69 million, respectively. Our estimate of the key assumptions related to revenue recognition did not change significantly throughout the periods presented.

Allowance for credit losses of loans receivables from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans

We establish the Allowance for credit losses (“ACL”) by applying a current expected credit losses methodology, which is based on past events, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts over the life of the loans. The ACL is measured based on loans that share similar risk characteristics and includes both quantitative and qualitative components. The ACL for loans provided by Xiaoying Microcredit is calculated using vintage-based loss rate and macroeconomic forecast scenario models, and the ACL for loans facilitated through the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships is calculated using probability of default, loss given default and macroeconomic forecast scenario models. Our qualitative component of the CECL methodology represents our judgment of additional considerations to account for internal and external risk factors that are not adequately measured in the quantitative component, including consideration of idiosyncratic risk factors or other relevant factors.

For the loans provided by Xiaoying Microcredit, during the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023, when change in one of our estimates or a combined effect of changes of multiple estimates, which results in a 0.5% increase/decrease in the expected loss rates while holding all other estimates constant, there would be approximately RMB 9 million and RMB 7 million, respectively, pre-tax impact to our consolidated results of operations.

For loans facilitated through the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships, during the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023, when change in one of our estimates or a combined effect of changes of multiple estimates, which results in a 0.5% increase/decrease in the probability of default while holding all other estimates constant, there would be approximately RMB 14 million and RMB 18 million, respectively, pre-tax impact to our consolidated results of operations.

Our estimate of the key assumptions related to credit losses did not change significantly throughout the periods presented.

Share Incentive Plan

The 2015 Global Share Option Plan (the "Share Incentive Plan") was adopted by our then sole director on January 25, 2015, and amended and restated as the Amended and Restated 2015 Global Share Incentive Plan by our board of directors on May 9, 2018.

The purpose of the Share Incentive Plan is to enhance our ability to attract and retain the best available personnel for positions of substantial responsibility and to promote the value of the Company, by providing such persons an opportunity to acquire or increase a direct interest in our operations and future success. The maximum aggregate number of ordinary shares which may be issued pursuant to all awards under the Share Incentive Plan is 95,849,500 ordinary shares. The ordinary shares subject to the Share Incentive Plan may be authorized but unissued or reacquired ordinary shares.

Share reserve. The maximum aggregate number of ordinary shares that will be subject to award and sold under the Share Incentive Plan is 95,849,500 shares. During the term of this Plan, we will at all times reserve and keep available such number of ordinary shares as will be sufficient to satisfy the requirements of the Share Incentive Plan. If an award expires or becomes unexercisable without having been exercised in full, the ordinary shares unvested which were subject thereto will become available for future grant or sale under the Share Incentive Plan. Ordinary shares used to pay the exercise price of an award or to satisfy the tax withholding obligations related to an award will become available for future grant or sale under the Share Incentive Plan.

Administration. The Share Incentive Plan will be administered by (A) our board of directors; or (B) where a committee has been established in the Company, the committee (in either event, the "Administrator"). These administrative powers include, but are not limited to, approving forms of award documents, determining the terms and conditions of any award granted, determining the fair market value of an ordinary share, prescribing, amending and rescinding rules and regulations relating to the Share Incentive Plan and modifying and amending each award.

Types of Awards. The Share Incentive Plan permits the grants of stock options, SARs, restricted stock, RSUs, performance awards, deferred awards and other share-based awards.

- Stock Options. A stock option is a right to purchase ordinary shares at a future date at a specified exercise price. Stock options that are intended to qualify as incentive stock options must meet the requirements of Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. The per share exercise price of a stock option (except in the case of substitute awards) will be determined by the Administrator at the time of grant but will be no less than one hundred percent of the fair market value per ordinary share on the date of grant, subject to certain exceptions. No stock option will be exercisable more than ten years from the grant date, except that the Administrator may generally provide for an extension of such ten-year term in the event the exercise of the stock option would be prohibited by law on the expiration date. In the case of an incentive stock option granted to an employee who has owned ordinary shares representing more than ten percent of the voting power of all classes of ordinary shares of the company or any parent or subsidiary, the per share exercise price will be no less than one hundred ten percent of the fair market value per ordinary share on the date of grant, and the term of the incentive stock option will be five years from the date of grant or such shorter term as may be provided in the award document.

- SARs. A SAR represents a right to receive, in cash or ordinary shares, upon exercise by a participant or settlement, the excess of (i) the fair market value of one ordinary share on the date of exercise or settlement over (ii) the exercise price of the right on the date of grant, or if granted in connection with an option, on the date of grant of the option. The per share exercise price for the ordinary shares to be issued pursuant to the exercise of a SAR (except in the case of substitute awards) will be determined by the Administrator, but will be no less than one hundred percent of the fair market value per ordinary share on the date of grant. The Administrator will determine the date on which each SAR may be exercised or settled and the expiration date of each SAR. However, no SAR will be exercisable more than ten years from the grant date.
- Restricted Stock. Restricted stock is an award of ordinary shares of our common stock that are subject to restrictions on transfer and a substantial risk of forfeiture.
- RSU. An RSU represents a right to receive the value of one ordinary share, subject to specified vesting and other restrictions.
- Performance Awards. Performance awards, which may be denominated in cash or ordinary shares, will be earned upon the satisfaction of performance conditions specified by the Administrator. These performance criteria may be measured on an absolute (e.g., plan or budget) or relative basis, may be established on a corporate-wide basis or with respect to one or more business units, divisions, subsidiaries or business segments, and may be made relative to an index or other acceptable objective and quantifiable indices. The Administrator may specify that any other award shall constitute a performance award by conditioning the right of a participant to exercise the award or have it settled, and the timing thereof, upon achievement or satisfaction of such performance conditions as may be specified by the Administrator.
- Deferred Awards. The Administrator is authorized to grant awards denominated in a right to receive ordinary shares on a deferred basis.
- Other Share-Based Awards. The Administrator is authorized to grant other awards that may be denominated or payable in, valued in whole or in part by reference to, or otherwise based on, or related to, ordinary shares or factors that may influence the value of ordinary shares.

Eligibility. Equity incentive awards may be granted to employees, directors, consultants or any other person providing services to the company, or any parent, subsidiary or affiliate of the company.

Term of Plan. The Share Incentive Plan became effective upon its initial adoption by our then sole director on January 15, 2015. Unless sooner terminated by the board of directors, the Share Incentive Plan will continue in effect for a term of ten years from the later of (a) the effective date of the Share Incentive Plan, or (b) the earlier of the most recent board of directors or shareholder approval of an increase in the number of ordinary shares reserved for issuance under the Share Incentive Plan, which occurred on May 9, 2018 in connection with the approval of the resolutions effecting the amendment and restatement of the Share Incentive Plan.

Termination of Service. The Administrator will determine the effect of a termination of service on outstanding awards, including whether the awards will vest, become exercisable, settle or be forfeited.

Adjustment upon Merger or Change in Control. In the event of a merger or a change of control, except as otherwise provided in the applicable award agreement, the Administrator may provide for the treatment of each outstanding award without a Plan participant's consent, including without limitation, that

- Awards will be assumed, or substantially equivalent awards be substituted, by the acquiring or succeeding corporation (or an affiliate thereof) with appropriate adjustments as to the number and kind of shares and prices;
- Upon written notice to a participant, the participant's awards will terminate upon or immediately prior to the consummation of such merger or change in control;
- Outstanding awards will vest and become exercisable, realizable or payable, or restrictions applicable to an award will lapse, in whole or in part prior to or upon consummation of such merger or change in control;

- The awards will terminate in exchange for an amount of cash and/or property, if any, equal to the amount that would have been attained upon the exercise of such awards or realization of the participant's rights as of the date of the occurrence of the transaction (and, for the avoidance of doubt, if as of the date of the occurrence of the transaction the Administrator determines in good faith that no amount would have been attained upon the exercise of such awards or realization of the participant's rights, then such award may be terminated by the company without payment), or such awards will be replaced with other rights or property selected by the Administrator in its sole discretion; or
- Any combination of the foregoing.

Amendment and Termination. Our board of directors may amend, alter, suspend, discontinue or terminate the Share Incentive Plan. The Administrator may also amend, alter, suspend, discontinue or terminate, or waive any conditions or rights under, any outstanding award. However, subject to the adjustment provision and change in control provision, any such action by the Administrator that would materially adversely affect the rights of a holder of an outstanding award may not be taken without the holder's consent, except to the extent that such action is taken to cause the Share Incentive Plan to comply with applicable laws, stock market or exchange rules and regulations, or accounting or tax rules and regulations, or to impose any "clawback" or recoupment provisions on any awards in accordance with the Share Incentive Plan.

Clawback Policy

On November 22, 2023, our board of directors adopted a clawback policy (the “Clawback Policy”) permitting the Company to seek the recoupment of incentive compensation received by any of the Company’s current and former executive officers (as determined by the board in accordance with Section 10D of the Exchange Act and the NYSE rules) and such other senior executives/employees who may from time to time be deemed subject to the Clawback Policy by the board (collectively, the “Covered Executives”). The amount to be recovered will be the excess of the incentive compensation paid to the Covered Executive based on the erroneous data over the incentive compensation that would have been paid to the Covered Executive had it been based on the restated results, as determined by the board. If the board cannot determine the amount of excess incentive compensation received by the Covered Executive directly from the information in the accounting restatement, then it will make its determination based on a reasonable estimate of the effect of the accounting restatement. Refer to Exhibit 97.1 of this Annual Report for the Company’s Clawback Policy.

6.C. Board Practices

Board of Directors

Our board of directors consists of six directors. A director is not required to hold any shares in the Company to qualify to serve as a director. The Corporate Governance Rules of the NYSE generally require that a majority of an issuer's board of directors must consist of independent directors. However, the Corporate Governance Rules of the NYSE permit foreign private issuers like us to follow "home country practice" in certain corporate governance matters. We rely on this "home country practice" exception and do not have a majority of independent directors serving on our board of directors.

Our board of directors may exercise all the powers of the Company to borrow money, mortgage or charge its undertaking, property and uncalled capital, and to issue debentures, bonds and other securities whenever money is borrowed or as security for any debt, liability or obligation of the company or of any third party.

A director who is in any way, whether directly or indirectly, interested in a contract or proposed contract with the Company is required to declare the nature of his interest at a meeting of our directors. A director may vote in respect of any contract, proposed contract, or arrangement notwithstanding that he may be interested therein, and if he does so his vote shall be counted and he may be counted in the quorum at any meeting of our directors at which any such contract or proposed contract or arrangement is considered.

We have no service contracts with any of our directors providing for benefits upon termination of employment. See "Item 6.B. Directors, Senior Management and Employees—Compensation."

Board Committees

We have established an audit committee, a compensation committee and a nominating and corporate governance committee under our board of directors. We have adopted a charter for each of the three committees. Each committee's members and functions are described below.

Audit Committee

Our audit committee consists of three directors, namely Shengwen Rong, Longgen Zhang and Zheng Xue, and is chaired by Shengwen Rong. Our board of directors has determined that each of the three directors satisfy the "independence" requirements of Rule 10A-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Section 303A of the Corporate Governance Rules of the NYSE. The audit committee oversees our accounting and financial reporting processes and the audits of the financial statements of the Company. The audit committee is responsible for, among other things: selecting the independent auditors and pre-approving all auditing and non-auditing services permitted to be performed by the independent auditors;

- setting clear hiring policies for employees or former employees of the independent auditors;
- reviewing with the independent auditors any audit problems or difficulties and management's response;
- reviewing and approving all related-party transactions;
- discussing the annual audited financial statements with management and the independent auditors;
- discussing with management and the independent auditors major issues regarding accounting principles and financial statement presentations;
- reviewing reports prepared by management or the independent auditors relating to significant financial reporting issues and judgments;
- reviewing with management and the independent auditors related-party transactions and off-balance sheet transactions and structures;
- reviewing with management and the independent auditors the effect of regulatory and accounting initiatives;

- reviewing policies with respect to risk assessment and risk management;
- reviewing our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting;
- reviewing reports from the independent auditors regarding all critical accounting policies and practices to be used by the Company;
- establishing procedures for the receipt, retention and treatment of complaints we received regarding accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters and the confidential, anonymous submission by our employees of concerns regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters;
- periodically reviewing and reassessing the adequacy of our audit committee charter;
- such other matters that are specifically delegated to our audit committee by our board of directors from time to time; and
- meeting separately, periodically, with management, the internal auditors and the independent auditors.

Compensation Committee

Our compensation committee consists of three directors, namely Longgen Zhang, Shengwen Rong and Zheng Xue, and is chaired by Longgen Zhang. Our board of Directors has determined that each of the three directors satisfy the “independence” requirements of Rule 10A-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Section 303A of the Corporate Governance Rules of the NYSE. Our compensation committee assists the board in reviewing and approving the compensation structure of our executive officers, including all forms of compensation to be provided to our executive officers. The compensation committee is responsible for, among other things:

- reviewing and approving the compensation for our senior executives;
- reviewing and evaluating our executive compensation and benefits policies generally;
- reporting to our board of directors periodically;
- evaluating its own performance and reporting to our board of directors on such evaluation;
- periodically reviewing and assessing the adequacy of the compensation committee charter and recommending any proposed changes to our board of directors; and
- such other matters that are specifically delegated to the compensation committee by our board of directors from time to time.

Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee

Our nominating and corporate governance committee consists of three directors, namely Zheng Xue, Shengwen Rong and Longgen Zhang, and is chaired by Zheng Xue. Our board of Directors has determined that each of the three directors satisfy the “independence” requirements of Rule 10A-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Section 303A of the Corporate Governance Rules of the NYSE. The nominating and corporate governance committee assists the board in identifying individuals qualified to become our directors and in determining the composition of the board and its committees. The nominating and corporate governance committee is responsible for, among other things:

- identifying and recommending to the board of directors qualified individuals for membership on the board of directors and its committees;
- evaluating, at least annually, its own performance and reporting to the board of directors on such evaluation;
- overseeing compliance with the corporate governance guidelines and code of business conduct and ethics and reporting on such compliance to the board of directors; and

- reviewing and assessing periodically the adequacy of its charter and recommending any proposed changes to the board of directors for approval.

Duties of Directors

Under Cayman Islands law, our directors have a fiduciary duty to the Company to act honestly, in good faith and with a view to our best interests. Our directors also owe to the Company a duty to act with skill and care. It was previously considered that a director need not exhibit in the performance of his duties a greater degree of skill than may reasonably be expected from a person of his knowledge and experience. However, English and Commonwealth courts have moved towards an objective standard with regard to the required skill and care and these authorities are likely to be followed in the Cayman Islands. In fulfilling their duty of care to us, our directors must ensure compliance with our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, as amended and re-stated from time to time. The Company has the right to seek damages if a duty owed by our directors is breached. In limited exceptional circumstances, a shareholder may have the right to seek damages in our name if a duty owed by our directors is breached. You should refer to “Description of Share Capital—Differences in Corporate Law” for additional information on our standard of corporate governance under Cayman Islands law.

A director who is in any way, whether directly or indirectly, interested in a contract or proposed contract with the Company is required to declare the nature of his interest at a meeting of our directors. A director may vote in respect of any contract, proposed contract, or arrangement notwithstanding that he may be interested therein, and if he does so his vote shall be counted and he may be counted in the quorum at any meeting of our directors at which any such contract or proposed contract or arrangement is considered. Our directors may exercise all the powers of the Company to borrow money, and to mortgage or charge its undertaking, property and uncalled capital, and issue debentures, debenture stock or other securities whenever money is borrowed or as security for any debt, liability or obligation of the company or of any third party.

The functions and powers of our board of directors include, among others:

- convening shareholders’ annual general meetings and reporting its work to shareholders at such meetings;
- declaring dividends and distributions;
- appointing officers and determining the term of office of officers;
- exercising the borrowing powers of the Company and mortgaging the property of the Company; and
- approving the transfer of shares of the Company, including the registering of such shares in our share register.

Terms of Directors and Officers

Our officers are elected by and serve at the discretion of our board of directors. Our directors are not subject to a term of office and hold office until such time as they are removed from office by ordinary resolution of the shareholders or until the expiration of his term or his successor has been elected and qualified. If a Management Director (as defined in our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association), Mr Yue (Justin) Tang shall have the right to appoint another person as a director (such director shall be a Managing Director) by delivering a written notice to the Company and such replacement shall become effective automatically upon the delivery of such notice without any further action or resolution of the board or the shareholders, provided that Mr. Tang shall not be entitled to exercise such right if he and his affiliates do not hold any shares. Subject to the foregoing sentence with respect to the appointment of a Managing Director, a vacancy on the board created by the removal of a director may be filled by an ordinary resolution or by the affirmative vote of a simple majority of the remaining directors present and voting at a board meeting. A director will be removed from office automatically if, among other thing, the director (i) dies; (ii) becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with his creditors generally; (iii) is found to be or becomes of unsound mind; (iv) resigns his office by notice in writing to the Company; (v) is prohibited by law from being a director; and (vi) is removed from the office pursuant to any other provisions of our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association.

In computing the number of shares beneficially owned by a person and the percentage ownership of that person, we have included shares that the person has the right to acquire within 60 days, including through the exercise of any option, warrant or other right or the conversion of any other security. These shares, however, are not included in the computation of the percentage ownership of any other person, except with respect to the percentage ownership of all executive officers and directors as a group.

Under the dividend policy, starting from 2024, the determination to declare and pay such semi-annual dividend and the amount of dividend in any particular half year will be made at the discretion of the Board and will be based upon the Company's operations and earnings, cash flow, financial condition and other relevant factors that the Board may deem appropriate.

Our board of directors has complete discretion, subject to certain requirements of Cayman Islands law, in deciding whether to distribute dividends. Even if our board of directors decides to pay dividends, the timing, amount and form of future dividends, if any, will depend on, among other things, our future results of operations and cash flow, our capital requirements and surplus, the amount of distributions, if any, received by us from our subsidiaries, our financial condition, contractual restrictions and other factors deemed relevant by our board of directors.

We are a holding company with no material operations of our own. Chinese Mainland's regulations may restrict the ability of Beijing WFOE to pay dividends to us. As a result, our ability to pay dividends and to finance any debt we may incur depends upon dividends paid by Beijing WFOE. If Beijing WFOE or any newly formed subsidiaries incur debt on their own behalf in the future, the instruments governing their debt may restrict their ability to pay dividends to us. See "Item 3. Key Information—D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Doing Business in China—We rely to a significant extent on dividends and other distributions on equity paid by our principal operating subsidiaries to fund offshore cash and financing requirements."

If we pay any dividends on our ordinary shares, we will pay those dividends which are payable in respect of the underlying Class A ordinary shares represented by our ADSs to the depositary, as the registered holder of such Class A ordinary shares, and the depositary then will pay such amounts to our ADS holders in proportion to the underlying Class A ordinary shares represented by the ADSs held by such ADS holders, subject to the terms of the deposit agreement, including the fees and expenses payable thereunder. See “Item 12. Description Of Securities Other Than Equity Securities—12.D. American Depositary Shares.”

Cash dividends on our Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares, if any, will be paid in U.S. dollars.

10.B. Memorandum and Articles of Association

We are a Cayman Islands company and our affairs are governed by our Second Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association and the Companies Law (as amended) of the Cayman Islands, or Companies Law, and the common law of the Cayman Islands.

We incorporate by reference into this annual report our Second Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association, the form of which was filed as Exhibit 3.2 to our registration statement on Form F-1 \(File Number 333-227065\) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on August 28, 2018. Our board of directors adopted our Second Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association by a special resolution on August 24, 2018, which became effective immediately prior to completion of our initial public offering of ADSs representing our ordinary shares.

The following are summaries of material provisions of our Second Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association and the Companies Law as they relate to the material terms of our ordinary shares.

Registered Office and Objects

Our registered office in the Cayman Islands is at the offices of Maples Corporate Services Limited at PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands.

According to Clause 3 of our Amended and Restated Memorandum of Association, the objects for which we are established are unrestricted and we have full power and authority to carry out any object not prohibited by the Companies Law or any other law of the Cayman Islands.

Board of Directors

Ordinary Shares

General. Our ordinary shares are divided into Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares. Holders of Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares have the same rights except for voting and conversion rights. Our ordinary shares are issued in registered form and are issued when registered in our register of members (shareholders). We may not issue shares to bearer. Our shareholders who are non-residents of the Cayman Islands may freely hold and transfer their ordinary shares.

Dividends. The holders of our ordinary shares are entitled to such dividends as may be declared by our board of directors or declared by our shareholders by ordinary resolution (provided that no dividend may be declared by our shareholders which exceeds the amount recommended by our directors). Our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association provide that dividends may be declared and paid out of our profits, realized or unrealized, or from any reserve set aside from profits which our board of directors determine is no longer needed. Under the laws of the Cayman Islands, the Company may pay a dividend out of either profit or share premium account, provided that in no circumstances may a dividend be paid if this would result in the Company being unable to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business. Holders of Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares will be entitled to the same amount of dividends, if declared.

Voting Rights. In respect of all matters subject to a shareholders’ vote, each Class A ordinary share is entitled to one vote, and each Class B ordinary share is entitled to 20 votes, voting together as one class. A resolution put to the vote of the general meeting shall be decided on the vote of the requisite majority pursuant to a poll of the shareholders. An ordinary resolution to be passed at the general meeting of shareholders requires the affirmative vote of a simple majority of the votes attaching to the ordinary shares cast at a meeting, while a special resolution requires the affirmative vote of no less than two-thirds of the votes cast attaching to the outstanding ordinary shares at a meeting. A special resolution will be required for important matters such as a change of name or making changes to our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association.

Conversion. Each Class B ordinary share is convertible into one Class A ordinary share at any time at the option of the holder thereof. Class A ordinary shares are not convertible into Class B ordinary shares under any circumstances. Upon any sale, transfer, assignment or disposition of Class B ordinary shares by a holder to any person or entity which is not an affiliate of such holder, or upon a change of beneficial ownership of any Class B ordinary share as a result of which any person who is not an affiliate of the registered holders of such Class B ordinary shares becomes the beneficial owner of such Class B ordinary shares, such Class B ordinary shares shall be automatically and immediately converted into the equivalent number of Class A ordinary shares.

Transfer of Ordinary Shares. Subject to the restrictions contained in our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, any of our shareholders may transfer all or any of his or her ordinary shares by an instrument of transfer in the usual or common form or any other form approved by our board of directors.

Our board of directors may, in its absolute discretion, decline to register any transfer of any ordinary share which is not fully paid up or on which we have a lien. Our board of directors may also decline to register any transfer of ordinary share unless

- the instrument of transfer is lodged with us, accompanied by the certificate for the ordinary shares to which it relates and such other evidence as our board of directors may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer;
- the instrument of transfer is in respect of only one class of ordinary shares;
- the instrument of transfer is properly stamped, if required;
- in the case of a transfer to joint holders, the number of joint holders to whom the ordinary share is to be transferred does not exceed four; and
- a fee of such maximum sum as the NYSE may determine to be payable or such lesser sum as our directors may from time to time require is paid to us in respect thereof.

If our directors refuse to register a transfer, they shall, within two calendar months after the date on which the instrument of transfer was lodged, send to each of the transferor and the transferee notice of such refusal.

The registration of transfers may, after compliance with any notice required of the NYSE, be suspended and the register of members closed at such times and for such periods as our board of directors may from time to time determine, provided, however, that the registration of transfers shall not be suspended nor the register of members closed for more than 30 days in any year as our board may determine.

Liquidation. On the winding up of the Company, if the assets available for distribution amongst our shareholders shall be more than sufficient to repay the whole of the share capital at the commencement of the winding up, the surplus shall be distributed amongst our shareholders in proportion to the par value of the shares held by them at the commencement of the winding up, subject to a deduction from those shares in respect of which there are monies due, of all monies payable to the Company for unpaid calls or otherwise. If our assets available for distribution are insufficient to repay all of the paid-up capital, the assets will be distributed so that the losses are borne by our shareholders proportion to the par value of the shares held by them. Any distribution of assets or capital to a holder of a Class A ordinary share and a holder of a Class B ordinary share will be the same in any liquidation event.

Calls on Ordinary Shares and Forfeiture of Ordinary Shares. Our board of directors may from time to time make calls upon shareholders for any amounts unpaid on their ordinary shares in a notice served to such shareholders at least 14 clear days prior to the specified time of payment. The ordinary shares that have been called upon and remain unpaid are subject to forfeiture.

Redemption, Repurchase and Surrender of Shares. We may issue shares on terms that such shares are subject to redemption, at our option or at the option of the holders of these shares, on such terms and in such manner as may be determined by our board of directors. The Company may also repurchase any of our shares on such terms and in such manner as have been approved by our board of directors, or are otherwise authorized by the articles of association. Under the Companies Law, the redemption or repurchase of any share may be paid out of the Company's profits or out of the proceeds of a new issue of shares made for the purpose of such redemption or repurchase, or out of capital (including share premium account and capital redemption reserve) if the Company can, immediately following such payment, pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business. In addition, under the Companies Law no such share may be redeemed or repurchased (a) unless it is fully paid up, (b) if such redemption or repurchase would result in there being no shares outstanding or (c) if the company has commenced liquidation. In addition, our company may accept the surrender of any fully paid share for no consideration.

Variations of Rights of Shares. If at any time, our share capital is divided into different classes or series of shares, all or any of the rights attached to any class or series of shares (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class or series) may, whether or not the Company is being wound up, be varied with the consent in writing of the holders of a majority of the issued shares of that class, or the sanction of an ordinary resolution passed at a general meeting of the holders of the shares of that class. The rights conferred upon the holders of the shares of any class issued shall not, unless otherwise expressly provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class, be deemed to be varied by the creation or issue of further shares ranking pari passu with such existing class of shares.

General Meetings of Shareholders

Shareholders' meetings may be convened by a majority of our board of directors or our chairman. Advance notice of at least fifteen calendar days is required for the convening of our annual general shareholders' meeting and any other general meeting of our shareholders. A quorum required for and throughout a meeting of shareholders consists of at least one shareholder entitled to vote and present in person or by proxy or (in the case of a shareholder being a corporation) by its duly authorized representative representing a majority of all votes attaching to all of our shares in issue and entitled to vote.

As a Cayman Islands exempted company, we are not obliged by the Companies Law to call shareholders' annual general meetings. Our second memorandum and articles of association provide that we may (but are not obliged to) in each year hold a general meeting as our annual general meeting in which case we shall specify the meeting as such in the notices calling it, and the annual general meeting shall be held at such time and place as may be determined by our directors.

The Companies Law provides shareholders with only limited rights to requisition a general meeting, and does not provide shareholders with any right to put any proposal before a general meeting. However, these rights may be provided in a company's articles of association. Our second memorandum and articles of association provide that upon the requisition of any one or more of our shareholders who together hold shares which carry in aggregate not less than ten percent (10%) of the total number of votes attaching to all issued and outstanding shares of the Company entitled to vote at general meetings, our board will convene an extraordinary general meeting and put the resolutions so requisitioned to a vote at such meeting. However, our second memorandum and articles of association do not provide our shareholders with any right to put any proposals before annual general meetings or extraordinary general meetings not called by such shareholders.

Inspection of Books and Records

Holders of our ordinary shares will have no general right under Cayman Islands law to inspect or obtain copies of our list of shareholders or our corporate records (other than copies of our memorandum and articles of association and the register of mortgages and charges, and any special resolutions passed by our shareholders). However, we will provide our shareholders with the right to receive annual audited financial statements.

Changes in Capital

We may from time to time by ordinary resolution:

- increase the share capital by such sum, to be divided into shares of such classes and amount, as the resolution shall prescribe;
- consolidate and divide all or any of our share capital into shares of a larger amount than our existing shares;
- sub-divide our existing shares, or any of them into shares of a smaller amount; or
- cancel any shares which, at the date of the passing of the resolution, have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person and diminish the amount of our share capital by the amount of the shares so canceled.

However, no alteration contemplated above, or otherwise, may be made to the par value of the Class A ordinary shares or Class B ordinary shares unless an identical alteration is made to the par value of the Class B ordinary shares and Class A ordinary shares, as the case may be.

We may by special resolution, subject to any confirmation or consent required by the Companies Law, reduce our share capital or any capital redemption reserve in any manner permitted by law.

Exempted Company

We are an exempted company with limited liability incorporated under the Companies Law. The Companies Law in the Cayman Islands distinguishes between ordinary resident companies and exempted companies. Any company that is registered in the Cayman Islands but conducts business mainly outside of the Cayman Islands may apply to be registered as an exempted company. The requirements for an exempted company are essentially the same as for an ordinary company except for the exemptions and privileges listed below:

- an exempted company does not have to file an annual return of its shareholders with the Registrar of Companies;
- an exempted company's register of members is not open to inspection;
- an exempted company does not have to hold an annual general meeting;
- an exempted company may issue no par value shares;
- an exempted company may obtain an undertaking against the imposition of any future taxation (such undertakings are usually given for 20 years in the first instance);
- an exempted company may register by way of continuation in another jurisdiction and be deregistered in the Cayman Islands;
- an exempted company may register as a limited duration company; and
- an exempted company may register as a segregated portfolio company.

"Limited liability" means that the liability of each shareholder is limited to the amount unpaid by the shareholder on the shares of the company. We are subject to reporting and other informational requirements of the Exchange Act, as applicable to foreign private issuers. The NYSE rules require that every company listed on the NYSE hold an annual general meeting of shareholders. In addition, our second amended and restated memorandum and articles of association allow directors to call special meeting of shareholders pursuant to the procedures set forth in our articles.

10.C. Material Contracts

We have not entered into any material contracts other than in the ordinary course of business and other than those described in "Item 4. Information on the Company" and in "Item 7. Major shareholders and Related Party Transactions" or elsewhere in this annual report.

10.D. Exchange Controls

The Cayman Islands currently has no exchange control regulations or currency restrictions. See "Item 4. Information of the Company—B. Business Overview—Regulation—Regulations Relating to Foreign Exchange."

10.E. Taxation

The following sets forth material Cayman Islands, Chinese Mainland and U.S. federal income tax consequences of the ownership of our Class A ordinary shares or ADSs. It is based upon laws and relevant interpretations thereof as of the date hereof, all of which are subject to change. This discussion does not address all possible tax consequences relating to an investment in our Class A ordinary shares or ADSs, such as the tax consequences under state, local and other tax laws.

Cayman Islands Taxation

The Cayman Islands currently levies no taxes on individuals or corporations based upon profits, income, gains or appreciations and there is no taxation in the nature of inheritance tax or estate duty or withholding tax applicable to us or to any holder of our ADSs and Class A ordinary shares. There are no other taxes likely to be material to us levied by the Government of the Cayman Islands except for stamp duties which may be applicable on instruments executed in, or after execution brought within the jurisdiction of the Cayman Islands. No stamp duty is payable in the Cayman Islands on transfers of shares of Cayman Islands companies except those which hold interests in land in the Cayman Islands. The Cayman Islands are not party to any double tax treaties that are applicable to any payments made to or by the Company. There are no exchange control regulations or currency restrictions in the Cayman Islands.

Payments of dividends and capital in respect of the ADSs or ordinary shares will not be subject to taxation in the Cayman Islands and no withholding will be required on the payment of a dividend or capital to any holder of the ADSs or ordinary shares, nor will gains derived from the disposal of the ADSs or ordinary shares be subject to Cayman Islands income or corporation tax.

Taxation

In March 2007, the National People's Congress of China enacted the Enterprise Income Tax Law, which became effective on January 1, 2008 and was amended on February 24, 2017. The Enterprise Income Tax Law provides that enterprises organized under the laws of jurisdictions outside Chinese Mainland with their "de facto management bodies" located within Chinese Mainland may be considered PRC resident enterprises and therefore subject to PRC enterprise income tax at the rate of 25% on their worldwide income. The Implementing Rules of the Enterprise Income Tax Law further defines the term "de facto management body" as the management body that exercises substantial and overall management and control over the business, personnel, accounts and properties of an enterprise. While we do not currently consider the Company or any of our overseas subsidiaries to be a PRC resident enterprise, there is a risk that the Chinese Mainland tax authorities may deem the Company or any of our overseas subsidiaries as a PRC resident enterprise since a substantial majority of the members of our management team as well as the management team of our overseas subsidiaries are located in Chinese Mainland, in which case we or the overseas subsidiaries, as the case may be, would be subject to the PRC enterprise income tax at the rate of 25% on worldwide income. If the Chinese Mainland tax authorities determine that our Cayman Islands holding company is a "resident enterprise" for PRC enterprise income tax purposes, a number of unfavorable PRC tax consequences could follow. Under the Enterprise Income Tax Law and its implementation regulations issued by the State Council, a 10% PRC withholding tax is applicable to dividends paid to investors that are non-resident enterprises, which do not have an establishment or place of business in the Chinese Mainland or which have such establishment or place of business but the dividends are not effectively connected with such establishment or place of business, to the extent such dividends are derived from sources within the Chinese Mainland. In addition, any gain realized on the transfer of shares by such investors is also subject to PRC tax at a rate of 10%, if such gain is regarded as income derived from sources within the Chinese Mainland. If we are deemed a PRC resident enterprise, dividends paid on our ordinary shares or ADSs, and any gain realized from the transfer of our ordinary shares or ADSs, may be treated as income derived from sources within the Chinese Mainland and may as a result be subject to PRC taxation. Furthermore, if we are deemed a Chinese Mainland resident enterprise, dividends paid to individual investors who are non-PRC residents and any gain realized on the transfer of ADSs or ordinary shares by such investors may be subject to PRC tax at a current rate of 20% (which in the case of dividends may be withheld at source). Any PRC tax liability may be reduced under applicable tax treaties or tax arrangements between Chinese Mainland and other jurisdictions. If we or any of our subsidiaries established outside Chinese Mainland are considered a PRC resident enterprise, it is unclear whether holders of our ADSs or ordinary shares would be able to claim the benefit of income tax treaties or agreements entered into between Chinese Mainland and other countries or areas.

U.S. Federal Income Taxation

The following are material U.S. federal income tax consequences to the U.S. Holders described below of owning and disposing of the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares ("ordinary shares"), but this discussion does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a particular person's decision to hold ADSs or ordinary shares.

Table of Contents

This discussion applies only to a U.S. Holder that holds the ADSs or ordinary shares as capital assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In addition, it does not describe all of the tax consequences that may be relevant in light of a U.S. Holder's particular circumstances, including the alternative minimum tax, the Medicare contribution tax on net investment income and tax consequences applicable to U.S. Holders subject to special rules, such as:

- certain financial institutions;
- dealers or traders in securities that use a mark-to-market method of tax accounting;
- persons holding ADSs or ordinary shares as part of a hedging transaction, straddle, conversion transaction, integrated transaction or similar transaction;
- persons whose functional currency for U.S. federal income tax purposes is not the U.S. dollar;
- entities classified as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes and their partners;
- tax-exempt entities, "individual retirement accounts" or "Roth IRAs";
- persons that own or are deemed to own ADSs or ordinary shares representing 10% or more of our voting power or value;
- persons who acquired our ADSs or ordinary shares pursuant to the exercise of an employee stock option or otherwise as compensation; or
- persons holding ADSs or ordinary shares in connection with a trade or business conducted outside the United States.

If a partnership (or other entity that is classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) owns ADSs or ordinary shares, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partner will generally depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Partnerships owning ADSs or ordinary shares and partners in such partnerships should consult their tax advisers as to the particular U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of ADSs or ordinary shares.

This discussion is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), administrative pronouncements, judicial decisions, final, temporary and proposed Treasury regulations, and the income tax treaty between the United States and the PRC (the "Treaty"), all as of the date hereof, any of which is subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect.

As used herein, a "U.S. Holder" is a beneficial owner of our ADSs or ordinary shares that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- a citizen or individual resident of the United States;
- a corporation, or other entity taxable as a corporation, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state therein or the District of Columbia; or
- an estate or trust the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source.

In general, a U.S. Holder who owns ADSs will be treated as the owner of the underlying ordinary shares represented by those ADSs for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, no gain or loss will be recognized if a U.S. Holder exchanges ADSs for the underlying ordinary shares represented by those ADSs.

This discussion does not address the effects of any state, local or non-U.S. tax laws, or any U.S. federal taxes other than income taxes (such as U.S. federal estate or gift tax consequences). U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers concerning the U.S. federal, state, local and non-U.S. tax consequences of owning and disposing of ADSs or ordinary shares in their particular circumstances.

THIS DISCUSSION IS ONLY A SUMMARY OF THE MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE ACQUISITION, OWNERSHIP AND DISPOSITION OF OUR ADS OR ORDINARY SHARES. IT IS NOT TAX ADVICE. EACH HOLDER OF OUR ADS OR ORDINARY SHARES IS URGED TO CONSULT ITS OWN TAX ADVISOR IN RESPECT TO THE PARTICULAR TAX CONSEQUENCES TO SUCH HOLDER OF THE ACQUISITION, OWNERSHIP AND DISPOSITION OF OUR ADS OR ORDINARY SHARES, INCLUDING THE APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF ANY STATE, LOCAL, AND NON-U.S. TAX LAWS, AS WELL AS U.S. FEDERAL TAX LAWS AND ANY APPLICABLE TAX TREATIES.

Passive Foreign Investment Company

In general, a non-U.S. corporation is a PFIC for any taxable year in which (i) 75% or more of its gross income consists of passive income or (ii) 50% or more of the quarterly value of its assets (generally determined on a quarterly basis) consists of assets that produce, or are held for the production of, passive income. For purposes of the above calculations, a non-U.S. corporation that owns at least 25% by value of the shares of another corporation is treated as if it held its proportionate share of the assets of the other corporation and received directly its proportionate share of the income of the other corporation. Passive income generally includes interest (and income equivalent to interest), dividends, rents, royalties and gains from financial investments. Cash is generally a passive asset for these purposes. Goodwill (which may be determined by reference to the excess of the sum of the corporation's market capitalization and liabilities over the value of its assets) is an active asset to the extent attributable to business activities that produce active income.

Due to the decrease in our market capitalization and uncertainties as to the proper classification of certain items of our income and assets for purposes of the PFIC rules, there is a significant risk that we were a PFIC for our 2020 taxable year. The proper application of the PFIC rules to us is not clear. For example, it is uncertain whether for purposes of the PFIC rules we should be treated as the owner of the Consolidated Trusts' assets. Although such trusts are consolidated on our financial statements for accounting purposes, based on the manner in which we and the trusts currently operate and the nature of our rights and obligations with respect to the trusts, we believe it is reasonable to treat the trusts' assets (to the extent not attributable to any investment by us in the trusts) as not owned by us for purposes of the PFIC rules, but there can be no assurance in this regard. If the trusts' assets were treated as owned by us for PFIC purposes, we would be a PFIC for our 2020 taxable year. Moreover, the value of our goodwill for 2020 was not a positive amount and it is not entirely clear how the percentage of our active assets should be calculated in such circumstances, and to what extent certain assets shown on our balance sheet should be treated as active for purposes of determining our PFIC status. In addition, it is not entirely clear how the contractual arrangements between us and our VIEs will be treated for purposes of the PFIC rules. Because we exercise effective control over the operation of our VIEs and are entitled to substantially all of their income, we believe it is appropriate to treat the VIEs as owned by us for purposes of the PFIC rules. However, there can be no assurance in this regard and we may be a PFIC for any taxable year if our VIEs are not treated as owned by us for such purposes. For these reasons, there is a significant risk that we were a PFIC for our taxable 2020 year and that we will be a PFIC for our current and future taxable years.

If we are a PFIC for any taxable year and any of our subsidiaries, VIEs or other companies in which we own or are treated as owning equity interests is also a PFIC (any such entity, a "Lower-tier PFIC"), U.S. Holders will be deemed to own a proportionate amount (by value) of the shares of each Lower-tier PFIC and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax according to the rules described in the subsequent paragraph on (i) certain distributions by a Lower-tier PFIC and (ii) dispositions of shares of Lower-tier PFICs, in each case as if the U.S. Holders held such shares directly, even though the U.S. Holders will not receive the proceeds of those distributions or dispositions.

In general, if we are a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder holds ADSs or ordinary shares, gain recognized by such U.S. Holder on a sale or other disposition (including certain pledges) of its ADSs or ordinary shares will be allocated ratably over that U.S. Holder's holding period. The amounts allocated to the taxable year of the sale or disposition and to any year before we became a PFIC will be taxed as ordinary income. The amount allocated to each other taxable year will be subject to tax at the highest rate in effect for individuals or corporations, as appropriate, for that taxable year, and an interest charge will be imposed on the resulting tax liability for each such year. Furthermore, to the extent that distributions received by a U.S. Holder in any year on its ADSs or ordinary shares exceed 125% of the average of the annual distributions on the ADSs or ordinary shares received during the preceding three years or the U.S. Holder's holding period, whichever is shorter, such distributions will be subject to taxation in the same manner. In addition, if we are a PFIC (or with respect to a particular U.S. Holder are treated as a PFIC) for a taxable year in which we pay a dividend or for the prior taxable year, the favorable tax rate described below with respect to dividends paid to certain non-corporate U.S. Holders will not apply. If we are a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder owns ADSs or ordinary shares, we will generally continue to be treated as a PFIC with respect to the U.S. Holder for all succeeding years during which the U.S. Holder owns ADSs or ordinary shares, even if we cease to meet the threshold requirements for PFIC status, unless the U.S. Holder makes a "deemed sale" election, which will allow the U.S. Holder to eliminate the continuing PFIC status under certain circumstances but will require the U.S. Holder to recognize gain taxed under the general PFIC rules described above.

Alternatively, if we are a PFIC and if the ADSs are “regularly traded” on a “qualified exchange,” a U.S. Holder of ADSs could make a mark-to-market election that will result in tax treatment different from the general tax treatment for PFICs described in the preceding paragraph. The ADSs will be treated as “regularly traded” for any calendar year in which more than a de minimis quantity of the ADSs are traded on a qualified exchange on at least 15 days during each calendar quarter. The NYSE, where our ADSs are listed, is a qualified exchange for this purpose. If a U.S. Holder makes the mark-to-market election, the U.S. Holder generally will recognize as ordinary income any excess of the fair market value of the ADSs at the end of each taxable year over their adjusted tax basis, and will recognize an ordinary loss in respect of any excess of the adjusted tax basis of the ADSs over their fair market value at the end of the taxable year (but only to the extent of the net amount of income previously included as a result of the mark-to-market election). If a U.S. Holder makes the election, the U.S. Holder’s tax basis in the ADSs will be adjusted to reflect the income or loss amounts recognized. Any gain recognized on the sale or other disposition of ADSs in a year in which the Company is a PFIC will be treated as ordinary income and any loss will be treated as an ordinary loss (but only to the extent of the net amount of income previously included as a result of the mark-to-market election, with any excess treated as capital loss). If a U.S. Holder makes the mark-to-market election, distributions paid on ADSs will be treated as discussed under “—Taxation of Distributions” below. U.S. Holders will not be able to make a mark-to-market election with respect to our ordinary shares, or with respect to any shares of a Lower-tier PFIC, because such shares will not trade on any stock exchange.

The rules dealing with PFICs and mark-to-market elections are very complex and are affected by various factors in addition to those described above. Accordingly, U.S. Holders of our ADS or ordinary shares should consult their own tax advisors concerning the application of the PFIC rules to our ADS or ordinary shares under their particular circumstances.

We do not intend to provide the information necessary for U.S. Holders to make qualified electing fund elections, which if available could materially affect the tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of our ADSs or ordinary shares if we are a PFIC for any taxable year. Therefore, U.S. Holders will not be able to make such elections.

If we are a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder owns any ADSs or ordinary shares, the U.S. Holder will generally be required to file annual reports with the Internal Revenue Service. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the determination of whether we are a PFIC for any taxable year and the potential application of the PFIC rules to their ownership of ADSs or ordinary shares.

Taxation of Distributions

Distributions paid on our ADSs or ordinary shares, other than certain pro rata distributions of ADSs or ordinary shares, will be treated as dividends to the extent paid out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits, as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles. Because we do not maintain calculations of our earnings and profits under U.S. federal income tax principles, it is expected that distributions generally will be reported to U.S. Holders as dividends. Dividends will not be eligible for the dividends-received deduction generally available to U.S. corporations under the Code. Subject to applicable limitations, dividends paid to certain non-corporate U.S. Holders may be taxable at a favorable rate provided that we are not a PFIC for the taxable year of the distribution or the preceding year. Due to the significant risk that we were or will be a PFIC, non-corporate U.S. Holders should not assume that any distribution will be eligible for this favorable rate.

Dividends will be included in a U.S. Holder’s income on the date of the U.S. Holder’s, or in the case of ADSs, the depositary’s, receipt. The amount of any dividend income paid in foreign currency will be the U.S. dollar amount calculated by reference to the spot rate in effect on the date of receipt, regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted into U.S. dollars on such date. If the dividend is converted into U.S. dollars on the date of receipt, a U.S. Holder generally should not be required to recognize foreign currency gain or loss in respect of the amount received. A U.S. Holder may have foreign currency gain or loss if the dividend is converted into U.S. dollars after the date of receipt.

Dividends will be treated as foreign-source income for foreign tax credit purposes. As described in “—PRC Taxation”, dividends paid by the Company may be subject to PRC withholding tax. For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the amount of the dividend income will include any amounts withheld in respect of PRC withholding tax (if any). Subject to applicable limitations, which vary depending upon the U.S. Holder’s circumstances, PRC taxes withheld from dividend payments (at a rate not exceeding the applicable rate provided in the Treaty in the case of a U.S. Holder that is eligible for the benefits of the Treaty) generally will be creditable against a U.S. Holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability. The rules governing foreign tax credits are complex and U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the creditability of foreign tax credits in their particular circumstances. In lieu of claiming a credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct any such PRC taxes in computing its taxable income, subject to applicable limitations. An election to deduct foreign taxes instead of claiming foreign tax credits must apply to all foreign taxes paid or accrued in the taxable year.

Sale or Other Taxable Disposition of ADSs or Ordinary Shares

A U.S. Holder will generally recognize capital gain or loss on a sale or other taxable disposition of ADSs or ordinary shares in an amount equal to the difference between the amount realized on the sale or other taxable disposition and the U.S. Holder’s tax basis in such ADSs or ordinary shares disposed of, in each case as determined in U.S. dollars. The gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if, at the time of the sale or disposition, the U.S. Holder has owned the ADSs or ordinary shares for more than one year. Long-term capital gains recognized by non-corporate U.S. Holders may be subject to tax rates that are lower than those applicable to ordinary income. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

As described in “—PRC Taxation” gains on the sale of ADSs or ordinary shares may be subject to PRC taxes. A U.S. Holder is entitled to use foreign tax credits to offset only the portion of its U.S. federal income tax liability that is attributable to foreign-source income. Because under the Code capital gains of U.S. persons are generally treated as U.S.-source income, this limitation may preclude a U.S. Holder from claiming a credit for all or a portion of any PRC taxes imposed on any such gains. However, U.S. Holders that are eligible for the benefits of the Treaty may be able to elect to treat the gain as PRC-source and therefore claim foreign tax credits in respect of PRC taxes on such disposition gains. Proposed Treasury regulations, if finalized in their current form, may impose additional restrictions on the creditability of any PRC taxes on disposition gains. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the creditability or deductibility of any PRC tax on disposition gains in general and in their particular circumstances.

Additional Taxes

Under current law, U.S. Holders that are individuals, estates or trusts and whose income exceeds certain thresholds generally will be subject to a 3.8% Medicare contribution tax on unearned income, including, without limitation, dividends on, and gains from the sale or other taxable disposition of, our ordinary shares, subject to certain limitations and exceptions. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the effect, if any, of such tax on their ownership and disposition of our ordinary shares.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Payments of dividends and sales proceeds that are made within the United States or through certain U.S.-related financial intermediaries may be subject to information reporting and backup withholding, unless (i) the U.S. Holder is a corporation or other “exempt recipient” and (ii) in the case of backup withholding, the U.S. Holder provides a correct taxpayer identification number and certifies that it is not subject to backup withholding. Backup withholding is not an additional tax. The amount of any backup withholding from a payment to a U.S. Holder will be allowed as a credit against the U.S. Holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability and may entitle it to a refund, provided that the required information is timely furnished to the Internal Revenue Service.

Certain U.S. Holders who are individuals (or certain specified entities) may be required to report information relating to their ownership of ADSs or ordinary shares, unless the ADSs or ordinary shares are held in accounts at financial institutions (in which case the accounts may be reportable if maintained by non-U.S. financial institutions). U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding their reporting obligations with respect to the ADSs or ordinary shares.

We previously filed with the SEC registration statement on Form F-1 (File Number 333-227065), as amended, including annual report contained therein, to register additional securities that become effective immediately upon filing, to register our ordinary shares in relation to our initial public offering. We also filed with the SEC related registration statement on Form F-6 (File Number 333-227070) to register the ADSs and registration statement on Form S-8 (File Number 333-227938) to register our securities to be issued under our Amended and Restated 2015 Global Share Incentive Plan.

We are subject to the periodic reporting and other informational requirements of the Exchange Act as applicable to foreign private issuers. Under the Exchange Act, we are required to file reports and other information with the SEC. Specifically, we are required to file annually a Form 20-F within four months after the end of each fiscal year. Copies of reports and other information, when so filed with the SEC, can be inspected and copied at the public reference facilities maintained by the SEC at 100 F Street, N.E., Room 1580, Washington, D.C. 20549. You can request copies of these documents, upon payment of a duplicating fee, by writing to the SEC. The public may obtain information regarding the Washington, D.C. Public Reference Room by calling the Commission at 1-800-SEC-0330. The SEC also maintains a web site at www.sec.gov that contains reports, proxy and information statements, and other information regarding registrants that make electronic filings with the SEC using its EDGAR system. As a foreign private issuer, we are exempt from the rules of the Exchange Act prescribing the furnishing and content of quarterly reports and proxy statements, and our executive officers, directors and principal shareholders are exempt from the reporting and short-swing profit recovery provisions contained in Section 16 of the Exchange Act. In addition, we are not required under the Exchange Act to file periodic reports and financial statements with the SEC as frequently or as promptly as U.S. companies whose securities are registered under the Exchange Act.

We will furnish The Bank of New York Mellon, the depository of our ADSs, with our annual reports, which will include a review of operations and annual audited consolidated financial statements prepared in conformity with U.S. GAAP, and all notices of shareholders' meetings and other reports and communications that are made generally available to our shareholders. The depository will make such notices, reports and communications available to holders of ADSs and, upon our request, will mail to all record holders of ADSs the information contained in any notice of a shareholders' meeting received by the depository from us.

ITEM 11. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Foreign Exchange Risk

All of our revenues and substantially all of our expenses are denominated in RMB. Our exposure to foreign exchange risk primarily relates to cash and cash equivalent denominated in U.S. dollars and financial investment in VC funds, US treasury and US money market fund which would be settled in US dollars. We do not believe that we currently have any significant direct foreign exchange risk and have not used derivative financial instruments to hedge exposure to such risk. Although our exposure to foreign exchange risks should be limited in general, the value of your investment in our ADSs will be affected by the exchange rate between U.S. dollar and RMB because the value of our business is effectively denominated in RMB, while our ADSs will be traded in U.S. dollars.

The conversion of RMB into foreign currencies, including U.S. dollars, is based on rates set by the People's Bank of China. The value of RMB is subject to changes in central government policies and to international economic and political developments affecting supply and demand in the China Foreign Exchange Trading System market. The Chinese Mainland government allowed the RMB to appreciate by more than 20% against the U.S. dollar between July 2005 and July 2008. Between July 2008 and June 2010, this appreciation halted and the exchange rate between the RMB and the U.S. dollar remained within a narrow band. Between June 2010 and August 2015, the Chinese Mainland government has allowed the RMB to appreciate slowly against the U.S. dollar again. Since August 2015, the RMB has significantly depreciated against the U.S. dollar. It is difficult to predict how market forces or Chinese Mainland or U.S. government policy may impact the exchange rate between the RMB and the U.S. dollar in the future.

To the extent that we need to convert U.S. dollars into RMB for our operations, appreciation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar would have an adverse effect on the RMB amount we receive from the conversion. Conversely, if we decide to convert RMB into U.S. dollars for the purpose of making payments for dividends on our ordinary shares or ADSs or for other business purposes, appreciation of the U.S. dollar against the RMB would have a negative effect on the U.S. dollar amounts available to us.

Interest Rate Risk

We have not been exposed to material risks due to changes in market interest rates, and we have not used any derivative financial instruments to manage our interest risk exposure.

The fluctuation of interest rates may affect the demand for loan services on our platform. For example, a decrease in interest rates may cause potential borrowers to seek lower-priced loans from other channels. A high interest rate environment may lead to an increase in competing investment options and dampen institutional funding partners' desire to invest on our products. We do not expect that the fluctuation of interest rates will have a material impact on our financial condition. However, we cannot provide assurance that we will not be exposed to material risks due to changes in market interest rate in the future. See "Item 3. Key Information on the Company—3.D. Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry—Increase in market interest rates could negatively affect the amount of loans facilitated by us and cost of funds provided to borrowers."

Impact of Inflation/Deflation

Since our inception, inflation or deflation in Chinese Mainland has not materially affected our results of operations. According to the National Bureau of Statistics of China, the year-over-year percent changes in the consumer price index were increases of 1.5% and 1.8% for December 2021 and 2022, respectively, and decrease of 0.3% for December 2023. Although we have not been materially affected by inflation or deflation in the past, we may be affected if Chinese Mainland experiences higher rates of inflation or deflation in the future.

The depositary collects its fees for delivery and surrender of ADSs directly from investors depositing shares or surrendering ADSs for the purpose of withdrawal or from intermediaries acting for them. The depositary collects fees for making distributions to investors by deducting those fees from the amounts distributed or by selling a portion of distributable property to pay the fees. The depositary may collect its annual fee for depository services by deduction from cash distributions or by directly billing investors or by charging the book-entry system accounts of participants acting for them. The depositary may collect any of its fees by deduction from any cash distribution payable (or by selling a portion of securities or other property distributable) to ADS holders that are obligated to pay those fees. The depositary may generally refuse to provide fee-attracting services until its fees for those services are paid.

From time to time, the depositary may make payments to us to reimburse us for costs and expenses generally arising out of establishment and maintenance of the ADS program, waive fees and expenses for services provided to us by the depositary or share revenue from the fees collected from ADS holders. In performing its duties under the deposit agreement, the depositary may use brokers, dealers, foreign currency dealers or other service providers that are owned by or affiliated with the depositary and that may earn or share fees, spreads or commissions.

The depositary may convert currency itself or through any of its affiliates and, in those cases, acts as principal for its own account and not as agent, advisor, broker or fiduciary on behalf of any other person and earns revenue, including, without limitation, transaction spreads, that it will retain for its own account. The revenue is based on, among other things, the difference between the exchange rate assigned to the currency conversion made under the deposit agreement and the rate that the depositary or its affiliate receives when buying or selling foreign currency for its own account. The depositary makes no representation that the exchange rate used or obtained in any currency conversion under the deposit agreement will be the most favorable rate that could be obtained at the time or that the method by which that rate will be determined will be the most favorable to ADS holders, subject to the depositary's obligations under the deposit agreement. The methodology used to determine exchange rates used in currency conversions is available upon request.

None of the net proceeds from the initial public offering and the optional offering was paid, directly or indirectly, to any of our directors or officers or their associates, persons owning 10% or more of our equity securities or our affiliates.

ITEM 15. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our management, with the participation of our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, has performed an evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) under the Exchange Act) as of the end of the period covered by this report, as required by Rule 13a-15(b) under the Exchange Act.

Based upon that evaluation, our management has concluded that, as of December 31, 2023, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective, in ensuring that the information required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act was recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that the information required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

(b) Management's annual report on internal control over financial reporting

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting, as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) under the Exchange Act.

Our internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP, and includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of our company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP, and that receipts and expenditures of our company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of our management and directors; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of the unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of our company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

A control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the control system's objectives will be met. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. In addition, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies and procedures may deteriorate.

Our management evaluated the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting, as required by Rule 13a-15(c) of the Exchange Act, based on criteria established in the framework in Internal Control--Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. Based on this evaluation, our management has concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was effective as of December 31, 2023.

(c) Attestation Report of the Registered Public Accounting Firm

KPMG Huazhen LLP has audited the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2023 as stated in its report, which appears on page F-2 of this annual report on Form 20-F

(d) Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In the course of auditing our consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2021, we and our independent registered public accounting firm have identified three material weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting. The material weaknesses that had been identified as of December 31, 2021 related to (1) our lack of sufficient skilled staff with U.S. GAAP knowledge and SEC reporting knowledge for the purpose of financial reporting as well as the lack in formal accounting policies and procedures manual to ensure proper financial reporting in accordance with U.S. GAAP and SEC reporting requirements; (2) our internal audit function was still in the process of establishing formal risk assessment process and internal control framework; and (3) there was not adequate management oversight of accounting activities in relating to certain tax practices to conform to the U.S. GAAP. In 2022, we implemented a number of measures to address above material weakness and we determined that all material weaknesses as stated above have been remedied, except for the material weakness that insufficient financial reporting and accounting technical resources with sound U.S. GAAP knowledge related certain technical areas still remained as of December 31, 2022. As defined in the standards established by the U.S. Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, a “material weakness” is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

In 2023, we implemented a number of measures to address the above remaining material weakness that was identified including:

- (1) We have engaged additional staff with U.S. GAAP working experience to be in charge of U.S. GAAP financial statement preparation and SEC reporting.
- (2) We have provided comprehensive training to existing staff members to enhance their understanding of U.S. GAAP and SEC reporting requirements.
- (3) We have further formalized procedures and controls around our financial reporting process, including preparing and maintaining documentations of accounting treatments and policies for complex, non-routine transactions.

As of December 31, 2023, based on an assessment performed by our management on the performance of the above mentioned remediation measures, we determined that the material weakness previously identified in our internal control over financial reporting had been remedied.

Other than those described above, there were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Exchange Act) during the period covered by this annual report on Form 20-F that have materially affected, or that are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

ITEM 16A. AUDIT COMMITTEE FINANCIAL EXPERT

Our board of directors has determined that Mr. Shengwen Rong, an independent director and the chairperson of our audit committee, qualifies as an “audit committee financial expert” within the meaning of the SEC rules and possesses financial sophistication within the meaning of Listing Rules of the New York Stock Exchange. Mr. Shengwen Rong satisfy the “independence” requirements of Rule 10A-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Section 303A of the Corporate Governance Rules of the NYSE.

ITEM 16B. CODE OF ETHICS

Our board of directors has adopted a code of business conduct and ethics that applies to all of our directors, officers, employees, including certain provisions that specifically apply to our principal executive officer, principal financial officer, principal accounting officer or controller and any other persons who perform similar functions for us. We hereby undertake to provide to any person without charge, a copy of our code of business conduct and ethics within ten working days after we receive such person's written request.

ITEM 16F. CHANGE IN REGISTRANT'S CERTIFYING ACCOUNTANT

ITEM 16G. CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

We are a “foreign private issuer” (as such term is defined in Rule 3b-4 under the Exchange Act), and our ADSs, each representing six Class A ordinary shares, are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Under Section 303A of the New York Stock Exchange Listed Company Manual, New York Stock Exchange listed companies that are foreign private issuers are permitted to follow home country practice in lieu of the corporate governance provisions specified by the New York Stock Exchange with limited exceptions. We opt to follow home country practice specified by the New York Stock Exchange, including the frequency of holding annual general meeting of shareholders. The following summarizes some significant ways in which our corporate governance practices differ from those followed by domestic companies under the listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange.

Under the New York Stock Exchange Listed Company Manual, or the NYSE Manual, U.S. domestic listed companies are required to have a majority of the board consisting of independent directors and have a compensation committee and a nominating/corporate governance committee, each composed entirely of independent directors, which are not required under the Companies Act (Revised) of the Cayman Islands, our home country. Currently, our board of directors is composed of six members, only three of whom satisfy the requirements for an “independent director” under Section 303A of the NYSE Manual. The NYSE Manual also requires U.S. domestic listed companies to regularly hold executive sessions for non-management directors, or an executive session that only includes independent directors at least once a year. We are not subject to this requirement under the Cayman Islands law and have decided to follow our home country practice on this matter. In addition, the NYSE Manual requires shareholder approval for certain matters, which is not required under the Cayman Islands law. We intend to follow the home country practice and the applicable laws in determining whether shareholder approval is required.

ITEM 16H. MINE SAFETY DISCLOSURE

ITEM 16I. DISCLOSURE REGARDING FOREIGN JURISDICTIONS THAT PREVENT INSPECTIONS

(a) Please see the Supplemental Submission pursuant to Item 16I(a) of Form 20-F, which has been furnished as Exhibit 99.2 to this annual report.

(b) The headquarters of our auditor, KPMG Huazhen LLP (“KPMG Huazhen”), are located at 8th Floor, KPMG Tower Oriental Plaza, 1 East Chang An Avenue, Beijing 100738. On May 26, 2022, X Financial was conclusively identified by the SEC under the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act and the Consolidated Appropriate Act, 2023 (HFCA Act) as having filed audit reports issued by a registered public accounting firm that cannot be inspected or investigated completely by the Public Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB) in connection with the Company’s filing of its annual report on Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2021. The Company’s registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2021, KPMG Huazhen, is headquartered in Chinese Mainland, a jurisdiction where the PCAOB determined that it was unable to inspect or investigate completely registered public accounting firms headquartered there until December 2022, when the PCAOB vacated its previous determination. As a result, KPMG Huazhen is no longer a registered public accounting firm that the PCAOB is unable to inspect or investigate completely as of the date of this annual report or at the time of issuance of the audit report included herein. As such, we do not expect to be identified as an SEC-identified issuer again in 2023. However, the PCAOB may change its determinations under the HFCA Act at any point in the future. In particular, if the PCAOB finds its ability to completely inspect and investigate registered public accounting firms headquartered in Chinese Mainland or Hong Kong is obstructed by the Chinese Mainland authorities in any way in the future, the PCAOB may act immediately to consider the need to issue new determinations consistent with the HFCA Act. We cannot assure you that the PCAOB will always have complete access to inspect and investigate our auditor, or that we will not be identified as an SEC-identified issuer again in the future. If we were identified as an SEC-identified issuer again in the future, we cannot assure you that we would be able to change our auditor or take other remedial measures in a timely manner, and if we were to be identified as an SEC-identified issuer for two consecutive years, we would be delisted and our securities (including our Class A shares and ADSs) will not be permitted for trading “over-the-counter” either. If our securities are prohibited from trading in the United States, or threatened with such a prohibition, the risk and uncertainty associated with delisting would have a negative impact on the price of our ADSs and Class A ordinary shares. Also, such a prohibition or any threat thereof would significantly affect our ability to raise capital on terms acceptable to us, or at all, which would have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and prospects. Moreover, the implementation of the HFCA Act and other efforts to increase the U.S. regulatory access to audit information could cause investor uncertainty as to China-based issuers’ ability to maintain their listings on the U.S. national securities exchanges and the market price of the securities of China-based issuers, including us, could be adversely affected.

As of the date of this annual report and to the best of our knowledge:

- a. no governmental entity in the Chinese Mainland or the Cayman Islands owns any shares of the Company or any of the consolidated foreign operating entities;
- b. none of the governmental entities in the applicable foreign jurisdiction with respect to our registered public accounting firm have a controlling financial interest in us;
- c. none of the members of our board of directors or the board of directors of our subsidiaries is an official of the Chinese Communist Party; and
- d. the currently effective Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association, as amended, of the Company do not contain any charter of the Chinese Communist Party, including the text of any such articles.

ITEM 16J. INSIDER TRADING POLICIES

The Company has adopted an Insider Trading Policy governing the purchase, sale and other dispositions of the Company’s securities by directors, senior management and employees that is reasonably designed to promote compliance with applicable insider trading laws, rules and regulations, and all applicable listing standards. A copy of the policy is filed as Exhibit 19.1 hereto.

ITEM 16K. CYBERSECURITY

Risk Management and Strategy

We have established policies and processes for identifying, assessing, and managing material risk from cybersecurity threats, and have integrated these processes into our overall risk management systems and processes. We routinely assess material risks from cybersecurity threats, including any potential unauthorized occurrence on or conducted through our information systems that may result in adverse effects on the confidentiality, integrity, or availability of our information systems or any information residing therein.

We conduct risk assessments to identify cybersecurity threats annually as well as in the event of a material change in our business practices that may affect information systems that are vulnerable to such cybersecurity threats. These risk assessments include identification of reasonably foreseeable internal and external risks, the likelihood and potential damage that could result from such risks, and the sufficiency of existing policies, procedures, systems, and safeguards in place to manage such risks.

Following these risk assessments, we re-design, implement, and maintain reasonable safeguards to mitigate identified risks; reasonably address any identified gaps in existing safeguards; and monitor the effectiveness of our safeguards. We devote resources and designate high-level personnel, including our dedicated Information Security Officer who reports to our Chief Executive Officer (“CEO”), to manage the risk assessment and mitigation process. Our Information Security Officer works closely with a team of cybersecurity professionals with extensive experience and expertise in cybersecurity threat assessments and detection, incident response and mitigation.

As part of our overall risk management system, we assess our safeguards in collaboration with various functional teams, including Information Security, Information Technology, and train our employees on these safeguards. Personnel at all levels and teams are required to receive periodic security awareness training to ensure that they understand our cybersecurity policies and their roles in protecting our information systems or any information residing therein.

We have a set of company-wide policies and procedures concerning cybersecurity matters that include security risk assessment, identity and access control, vendor security and network security. There are other policies related to cybersecurity involving employees’ use of company equipment and resources, remote work and workplace security and safety. These policies are reviewed periodically and approved by appropriate members of management.

We engage assessors, consultants, auditors, or other third parties in connection with our risk assessment processes. These service providers assist us to design and implement our cybersecurity policies and procedures, as well as to monitor and test our safeguards. These services include Web Application Penetration Testing, Infrastructure security testing, consultant engagements, incident response preparedness, and vendor security review. We require each third-party service provider to certify that it has the ability to implement and maintain appropriate security measures, consistent with all applicable laws, in connection with the services they provide to us, and to promptly report any suspected breach of its security measures that may affect us.

For additional information regarding whether any risks from cybersecurity threats, including as a result of any previous cybersecurity incidents, have materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect our company, including our business strategy, results of operations, or financial condition, please see Item 3.D. “Risk Factors” of this Annual Report on Form 20-F, including the risk factors titled “If we are unable to protect the confidential information of our users and adapt to the relevant regulatory framework regarding protection of such information, our business and operations may be adversely affected”.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

X Financial:

Opinions on the Consolidated Financial Statements and Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of X Financial, its subsidiaries and variable interest entities (the “Company”) as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income (loss), changes in shareholders' equity, and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2023, and the related notes and financial statement Schedule I (collectively, the consolidated financial statements). We also have audited the Company’s internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2023, based on criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2023, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Also in our opinion, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2023 based on criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission.

Basis for Opinions

The Company’s management is responsible for these consolidated financial statements, for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting, and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Management’s Annual Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s consolidated financial statements and an opinion on the Company’s internal control over financial reporting based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud, and whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects.

Our audits of the consolidated financial statements included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements. Our audit of internal control over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. Our audits also included performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

Definition and Limitations of Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

A company’s internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Critical Audit Matters

The critical audit matters communicated below are matters arising from the current period audit of the consolidated financial statements that were communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that: (1) relate to accounts or disclosures that are material to the consolidated financial statements and (2) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matters below, providing separate opinions on the critical audit matters or on the accounts or disclosures to which they relate.

Variable consideration related to the loan facilitation and post-origination services revenues

As discussed in Note 2(d) to the consolidated financial statements, the Company's loan facilitation service fees and post-origination service fees for the year ended December 31, 2023 were RMB2,740,974,233 and RMB596,581,987, respectively.

The transaction price for loan facilitation and post-origination services includes variable consideration in the form of default risk and prepayment risk of the borrowers. The Company estimates variable consideration using the expected value methodology, including models to estimate the loss rates, the prepayment rates, and the weighted macroeconomic forecast, which are based on past events, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts over the life of the loans. The expected value of the consideration is the product of multiplying the loan principal and the pre-agreed service fee rates, adjusted for the loss rates and the prepayment rates. The loss rates are calculated using vintage-based loss rate model, adjusted for a weighted macroeconomic forecast. The models consider (i) the historical loss experience period for the vintage-based loss rates; (ii) the historical prepayment experience period for the prepayment rates; and (iii) the weighting of multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios over the life of the loans and selected economic variables, including gross domestic product (GDP), unemployment rate and other macro-economic variables.

We identified the assessment of variable consideration related to the loan facilitation and post-origination services revenues as a critical audit matter. A high degree of audit effort, including specialized skills and knowledge, and subjective and complex auditor judgment was involved in the assessment of the expected value methodology, including the models used to estimate the vintage-based loss rates, prepayment rates and weighted macroeconomic forecast. In addition, we evaluated the weighting of multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios and selected economic variables.

The following are the primary procedures we performed to address this critical audit matter. We evaluated the design and tested the operating effectiveness of certain internal controls related to the Company's measurement of the variable consideration related to the loan facilitation and post-origination services revenues, including controls over the:

- development of the expected value methodology
- development of the models used to estimate the vintage-based loss rates, prepayment rates, and weighted macroeconomic forecast
- identification and determination of the weighting of multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios and economic variables.

We evaluated the Company's process to develop the variable consideration related to the loan facilitation and post-origination services revenues by (1) evaluating the expected value methodology for compliance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles; (2) testing certain sources of data, factors, and assumptions, including prepayment rates, the Company used and considered the relevance and reliability of such data, factors and assumptions; and (3) inspecting contractual documents to determine if all arrangement terms that may have impacted revenue recognition were identified and properly considered. In addition, we involved credit risk professionals with specialized skill and knowledge, who assisted in:

- assessing the conceptual soundness of the models used to estimate the vintage-based loss rates and weighted macroeconomic forecast by inspecting the models' documentation to determine whether the models are suitable for their intended use
- assessing the weighting of multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios and the selection of the economic variables by comparing them to the Company's business environment and relevant industry practices.

As discussed in Notes 2(m) and 2(h) to the consolidated financial statements, the allowance for credit losses evaluated on a collective basis related to loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans (the collective ACL) was RMB188,719,449 as of December 31, 2023, which represent loans generated from the microcredit business and loans facilitated through the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships. The Company establishes the collective ACL by applying a current expected credit losses methodology, which is based on past events, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts over the life of the loans. The collective ACL is measured based on loans that share similar risk characteristics and includes both quantitative and qualitative components. The collective ACL for loans generated from the microcredit business is calculated using vintage-based loss rate and macroeconomic forecast scenario models, and is the product of multiplying the Company's estimates of vintage-based loss rates and individual loan level exposure at default (EAD) on an undiscounted basis, adjusted for a weighted macroeconomic forecast. The collective ACL for loans facilitated through the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships is calculated using probability of default (PD) determined by external credit ratings of financial institutional cooperators, loss given default (LGD), and macroeconomic forecast scenario models, and is the product of multiplying the PD, LGD, and individual loan level EAD on an undiscounted basis, adjusted for a weighted macroeconomic forecast. The models for the collective ACL consider (i) the historical loss experience period for the vintage-based loss rates; (ii) external credit ratings of financial institutional cooperators used to determine the PD; and (iii) the weighting of multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios over the life of the loans and selected economic variables, including gross domestic product (GDP), unemployment rate and other macro-economic variables that were determined to be the most relevant to the credit losses. The qualitative component of the collective ACL represents the Company's judgment of additional considerations to account for internal and external risk factors that are not adequately measured in the quantitative component of the collective ACL, including consideration of idiosyncratic risk factors or other relevant factors.

We identified the assessment of the collective ACL as a critical audit matter. A high degree of audit effort, including specialized skills and knowledge, and subjective and complex auditor judgment was involved in the assessment of the collective ACL due to significant measurement uncertainty. Specifically, the assessment encompassed the evaluation of the collective ACL methodology, including the models used to estimate the vintage-based loss rates, PD, and weighted macroeconomic forecast. In addition, we evaluated the weighting of multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios and selected economic variables.

The following are the primary procedures we performed to address this critical audit matter. We evaluated the design and tested the operating effectiveness of certain internal controls related to the Company's measurement of the collective ACL, including controls over the:

- development of the collective ACL methodology
- development of the models used to estimate the vintage-based loss rates, PD, and weighted macroeconomic forecast
- identification and determination of the weighting of multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios and economic variables.

We evaluated the Company's process to develop the collective ACL by testing certain sources of data, factors, and assumptions the Company used and considered the relevance and reliability of such data, factors and assumptions. In addition, we involved credit risk professionals with specialized skill and knowledge, who assisted in:

- evaluating the collective ACL methodology for compliance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles
- assessing the conceptual soundness of the models used to estimate the vintage-based loss rates, PD and weighted macroeconomic forecast by inspecting the models' documentation to determine whether the models are suitable for their intended use

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

FOR THE YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2021, 2022 AND 2023

1. Organization and principal activities

X Financial (the “Company” or “X Financial”) is an exempted company incorporated with limited liabilities in the Cayman Islands under the laws of the Cayman Islands on January 5, 2015. The Company, its subsidiaries and its variable interest entities (collectively referred to as the “Group”) provides personal finance services in the People’s Republic of China (“PRC”) by connecting borrowers and investors through a proprietary internet platform.

The Group began the operations through Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong Financial Information Service Co., Ltd. (“Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong”), which was founded in March 2014 in the Chinese Mainland by Mr. Tang, Chief Executive Officer and Mr. Zhu (the “Founders”) who collectively held more than 50% of the equity holdings.

During the period of 2015 to 2016, the Founders also established a number of special purpose vehicles (“SPVs”) to carry out personal finance business in the Chinese Mainland. At the formation date of each SPV, Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong entered into a series of contractual agreements with the SPV and its nominal shareholder(s) include Shareholders’ Voting Rights Proxy Agreements, Exclusive Call Option Agreements, Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreements, and Equity Pledge Agreements, through which Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong (1) has power to direct the activities that most significantly affects the economic performance of the SPV and (2) can receive the economic benefits of the SPVs that could be significant to the SPV. Accordingly, Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong is the primary beneficiary of the SPVs.

On January 5, 2015, X Financial was incorporated in the Cayman Islands by the Founders and one other individual. The Founders collectively held more than 50% of the equity holdings of X Financial. Further, Mr. Zhu designated all of his shareholder rights to Mr. Tang through a proxy agreement. As such, Mr. Tang effectively was the controlling shareholder of the Company since its incorporation.

On August 7, 2015, the Company completed its equity financing by issuing 38,095,238 ordinary shares to an unrelated third-party investor at a consideration of US$60,000,000. In conjunction with the equity financing, the Company also issued an additional 40,000,000 ordinary shares to Mr. Yue Tang. Mr. Tang remained as the effective controlling shareholder.

In order to raise capital through its initial public offering (“IPO”) in the United States, the Group undertook a series of transactions since late 2016 with X Financial being proposed as the listing entity (“Reorganization”):

As Chinese Mainland laws and regulations prohibit and restrict foreign ownership of internet value-added businesses, the Company established a wholly-owned foreign invested subsidiary in the Chinese Mainland, Xiaoying (Beijing) Information Technology Co., Ltd. (“Beijing WFOE”) on October 28, 2015. The existing contractual agreements with the SPVs and SPVs’ shareholders held by Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong were assigned to Beijing WFOE.

On October 19, 2016, Shenzhen Xiaoying Technology Co., Ltd. (“Shenzhen Xiaoying”) was incorporated in the Chinese Mainland by the same shareholders of the Company with identical shareholdings. In December 2016, Shenzhen Xiaoying acquired Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong for nominal consideration and Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong became the wholly-owned subsidiary of Shenzhen Xiaoying. As both Shenzhen Xiaoying and Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong were controlled by Mr. Tang at the time, the transaction was a reorganization under common control.

X Financial, through its Chinese Mainland subsidiary, Beijing WFOE, entered into a series of contractual arrangements with Shenzhen Xiaoying, Beijing Ying Zhong Tong Rongxun Technology Service Co., Ltd. (“Beijing Ying Zhong Tong”) in December 2017, and Shenzhen Xintang Information Consulting Co., Ltd. (“Shenzhen Xintang”, previously named “Shenzhen Tangren Financing Guarantee Co., Ltd.”) in December 2016 and the shareholders of these entities respectively. Shenzhen Xiaoying, Beijing Ying Zhong Tong, Shenzhen Xintang and the SPVs are collectively referred to as “VIEs”. The series of contractual agreements included Shareholders’ Voting Rights Proxy Agreements, Spouse Consent Agreement, Exclusive Call Option Agreements, Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreements, and Equity Pledge Agreements. The Group believed that these contractual agreements would enable Beijing WFOE to (1) have power to direct the activities that most significantly affects the economic performance of the new VIEs and (2) receive the economic benefits of the VIEs that could be significant to the new VIEs. Accordingly, the Group is the primary beneficiary of the VIEs through Beijing WFOE.

In conjunction with the Reorganization, the Group completed equity financing of RMB1 billion in June 2017. This round of equity financing was initially conducted by increasing registered capital of Shenzhen Xiaoying by 9 existing and new investors. Subsequently, X Financial issued additional shares to the affiliates of the same shareholders of this round of equity financing such that the shareholder ownership in X Financial mirrored those in Shenzhen Xiaoying.

The Group considered the Reorganization as a reorganization of entities under common control. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements have been prepared using historical cost basis as if the Reorganization had occurred at the beginning of the first period presented.

During December 2017, Beijing WFOE acquired two subsidiaries from Shenzhen Xiaoying at cost. During February and March 2018, one of the Group’s wholly-owned subsidiaries Shenzhen Xiaoying Puhui Technology Co., Ltd. (“Shenzhen Puhui”) acquired four subsidiaries from one of the VIE entities Shenzhen Ying Zhong Tong at cost. During 2018, predominantly all of the SPVs under Shenzhen Xiaoying had been transferred to Shenzhen Xiaoying Puhui Technology Co., Ltd. These transactions represented a reorganization of entities under common control as they were already within the consolidated Group, with no impact to the consolidated financials.

During September 2018, the Group completed an initial public offering of 11,763,478 American depositary shares (“ADSs”) at an initial offering price of US$9.50 which included the ADSs sold upon the exercise of the over-allotment option granted to the underwriters, representing 23,526,956 Class A ordinary shares.

On May 31, 2021, Shenzhen Xiaoying Microcredit Co., Ltd. (“Xiaoying Microcredit”) was incorporated in the Chinese Mainland with online microcredit business operating license by Shenzhen Xiaoying. Shenzhen Xiaoying had completed the capital contributions of RMB1 billion to Xiaoying Microcredit by the end of November, 2021.

On May 20, 2022, Tianjin Yuexin Financing Guarantee Co., Ltd. (“Tianjin Yuexin”) was incorporated in the Chinese Mainland with financing guarantee license by Shenzhen Puhui. Shenzhen Puhui had completed the capital contributions of RMB50 million to Tianjin Yuexin in 2022. By the end of December 2023, the registered capital of Tianjin Yuexin was increased to RMB1 billion.

Shenzhen Xintang did not renew its financing guarantee license in 2022. The Group settled the remaining business of Shenzhen Xintang in the first quarter of 2023. And Shenzhen Xintang (VIE) no longer guarantees any loan products. By the end of December 2023, the registered capital of Shenzhen Xintang was decreased to RMB 1 million.

As of December 31, 2023, the Company’s principal subsidiaries, VIEs and subsidiaries of the VIEs are as follows:

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of Presentation and Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”).

(b) Principles of Consolidation

Variable interest entity

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company, its wholly-owned subsidiaries, and consolidated VIEs. All intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated.

The Company, through its wholly-owned foreign invested subsidiary, Beijing WFOE in the Chinese Mainland, entered into a series of contractual arrangements (“VIE agreements”) with Shenzhen Xiaoying, Beijing Ying Zhong Tong, and Shenzhen Xintang (collectively known as “the VIEs”) and their respective shareholders that enable the Company to (1) have power to direct the activities that most significantly affects the economic performance of the VIEs, and (2) receive the economic benefits of the VIEs that could be significant to the VIEs.

Despite the lack of technical majority ownership, there exists a parent-subsidary relationship between Beijing WFOE and the VIEs through the aforementioned agreements with the nominee shareholders of the VIEs. The following is a summary of the VIE agreements:

(1) Shareholders' Voting Rights Proxy Agreement:

Pursuant to the voting rights proxy agreements signed between the VIEs' nominee shareholders and Beijing WFOE, each nominee shareholder irrevocably appointed Beijing WFOE as its attorney-in-fact to exercise on each shareholder's behalf and all rights that each shareholder has in respect of its equity interest in the VIEs (including but not limited to executing the exclusive right to the voting rights and the right to appoint directors and executive officers of the VIEs). The nominee shareholders cannot revoke the authorization and entrustment as long as the nominee shareholders remain a shareholder of the VIEs. For the arrangements among Beijing WFOE, each of the VIEs, and their shareholders, the power of attorney will remain in force for ten years. Unless a thirty-day notice is given by Beijing WFOE, this agreement shall be automatically renewed for another one year upon its expiration. The arrangement among Beijing WFOE and its shareholder does not specify its effective term.

(2) Spouse Consent Agreement

Under the spouse consent agreement, each signing spouse acknowledges that the shares of the VIEs held by the relevant shareholder of the VIEs are the personal assets of such shareholder and not jointly owned by the couple. Each signing spouse also unconditionally and irrevocably gives up his or her rights to such shares and any associated economic rights or interests to which he or she may be entitled pursuant to applicable laws and undertakes not to make any assertion of rights to such shares and the underlying assets. Each signing spouse agrees that he or she will not carry out in any circumstances any conduct that are contradictory to the contractual arrangements and this consent agreement.

(3) Executive Call Option Agreement:

Pursuant to the exclusive call option agreement entered into between the VIEs' nominee shareholders and Beijing WFOE, the nominee shareholders irrevocably granted Beijing WFOE a call option to request the nominee shareholders to transfer or sell any part or all of its equity interests in the VIEs, to Beijing WFOE, or their designees. The purchase price of the equity interests in the VIEs shall be equal to the minimum price required by Chinese Mainland law. Without Beijing WFOE's prior written consent, the VIEs and its nominee shareholders shall not amend its articles of association, increase or decrease the registered capital, sell or otherwise dispose of its assets or beneficial interest, issue any additional equity or right to receive equity, provide any loans, distribute dividends in any form, etc. For the agreements among Beijing WFOE, each of the VIEs, and their shareholders, these arrangements will remain effective for ten years. Unless notified by Beijing WFOE, the parties to these agreements shall extend the term of these agreements for another ten years. The agreement among Beijing WFOE and its shareholder does not specify its effective term.

(4) Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement:

Pursuant to the exclusive business cooperation agreement entered into by Beijing WFOE and the VIEs, Beijing WFOE provides exclusive technical support and consulting services in return for fees based on 100% of the VIE's total consolidated profit, which is adjustable at the sole discretion of Beijing WFOE. Without Beijing WFOE's consent, the VIEs cannot procure services from any third party or enter into similar service arrangements with any other third party, except for those from Beijing WFOE. For the agreements between Beijing WFOE and each of the VIEs, unless Beijing WFOE terminates these agreements in advance, these agreements will remain effective for ten years. Unless agreed by both parties in writing, this agreement shall be automatically renewed for another ten years upon its expiration.

(5) Equity Pledge Agreement

Each nominee shareholder of the VIEs has also entered into an equity pledge agreement with Beijing WFOE, pursuant to which each shareholder pledged his/her interest in Beijing WFOE to guarantee the performance of obligations of Beijing WFOE and its shareholders under the exclusive business cooperation agreement, exclusive call option agreement, and shareholders' voting rights proxy agreement. If the VIEs or any of the nominee shareholder breaches its contractual obligations, Beijing WFOE will be entitled to certain rights and interests regarding the pledged equity interests including the right to dispose the pledged equity interests. None of the nominee shareholders shall, without the prior written consent of Beijing WFOE, assign or transfer to any third party, create or cause any security interest and any liability in whatsoever form to be created on, all or any part of the equity interests it holds in the VIEs. This agreement is not terminated until all of the agreements under the shareholders' voting rights proxy agreement, exclusive call option agreement and the exclusive business cooperation agreement are fully performed.

The irrevocable power of attorney has conveyed all shareholder rights held by the VIEs' shareholders to Beijing WFOE or any person designated by Beijing WFOE, including the right to appoint executive directors of the VIEs to conduct day to day management of the VIEs' businesses, and to approve significant transactions of the VIEs. In addition, the exclusive call option agreement provides Beijing WFOE with a substantive kick-out right of the VIEs shareholders through an exclusive option to purchase all or any part of the shareholders' equity interest in the VIEs. In addition, through the exclusive business cooperation agreement, Beijing WFOE demonstrates its ability and intention to continue to exercise the ability to absorb substantially all of the profits and all of the expected losses of the VIEs. The equity pledge agreements further secure the obligations of the shareholders of the VIEs under the above agreements.

Based on these contractual arrangements, the Company consolidates the VIEs in accordance with SEC Regulation S-X Rule 3A-02 and Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") topic 810 ("ASC 810"), Consolidation.

Uncertainties in the Chinese Mainland legal system could limit the Company's ability to enforce the contractual arrangements. If the legal structure and contractual arrangements were found to be in violation of Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, the Chinese Mainland government could:

- revoke the Group's and operating licenses;
- levy fines on the Group;
- confiscate any of the Group's income that they deem to be obtained through illegal operations;
- shut down the Group's services;
- discontinue or restrict the Group's operations in China;
- impose conditions or requirements with which the Group may not be able to comply;
- require the Group to change corporate structure and contractual arrangements;
- restrict or prohibit the use of the proceeds from overseas offerings to finance the Group's Chinese Mainland consolidated VIEs' business and operations; and
- take other regulatory or enforcement actions that could be harmful to the Group's business.

Consolidated Trusts

As part of the Group's efforts to develop new product offerings for investors and institutional funding partners, the Group establishes a business relationship with certain trusts which were administered by third-party trust companies. The trusts are set up to invest solely in the loans facilitated by the Group on its platform to provide returns to the beneficiaries of the trusts through interest payments made by the borrowers. The trusts are cooperated with financial institutional cooperators who provide credit insurance/financial guarantee services to protect funding providers against default for both the principal and interest. Both direct model and intermediary model are adopted for these trusts. Under direct model, loans are originated from trusts to borrowers while under intermediary model, the Group typically provides credit to the borrowers through an intermediary first and then transfers the loans to the trusts, which issue beneficial interests to the investors and institutional funding partners. The Group determines to consolidate these trusts as the Group is the primary beneficiary, due to the following reasons: 1) the Group has the power to direct the operating activities of the trusts; 2) the Group absorbs or enjoys the potential residual losses or returns of these trusts. Under intermediary model, the transfer of loans to the Consolidated Trusts are not eligible for sale accounting because the trust is consolidated and the loan transfer is considered an intercompany transaction.

For Consolidated Trusts founded before December 31, 2021, the Group elected to apply fair value option to the loans (at the date of origination) and liabilities due to investors. That is, the loans are continued to be recorded on the Group's consolidated balance sheets as loans held for investment under "Loans at fair value" and the proceeds received from the investors are recorded as trust liabilities under "Payable to investors at fair value".

For Consolidated Trusts founded from January 1, 2022, the Group elected not to apply fair value option but instead apply amortized cost method to the loans (at the date of origination) and liabilities due to investors or institutional funding partners, to improve the understandability and relevance of financial information. That is, the loans are continued to be recorded on the Group's consolidated balance sheets as loans held for investment under "Loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans, net", which is net of allowance of credit loss, and the proceeds received from the investors or institutional funding partners are recorded as trust liabilities under "Payable to investors and institutional funding partners at amortized cost".

During 2022 and 2023, certain of the subsidiaries of the Group funded RMB81,200,000 and RMB115,900,000 to loan products facilitated on the Group's platform through third-party trust companies. The trusts are consolidated by the Group and the underlying loans are recorded on the Group's consolidated balance sheets as loans held for investment under "Loans at fair value" or "Loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans, net".

Consolidated Partnerships

The Group continues developing the partnership business model, where the Group and certain trusts jointly established several limited partnership enterprises, or LPs, to invest solely in the loans facilitated by the Group on its platform to provide returns to partners of the LPs through interest payments made by the borrowers. The Consolidated Partnerships are cooperated with financial institutional cooperators who provide credit insurance/financial guarantee services to protect funding providers against default for both the principal and interest. Intermediary model is adopted for the Consolidated Partnerships, the Group typically provides credit to the borrowers through an intermediary first and then transfers the loans to the LPs. The Group determines to consolidate these LPs as the Group is the primary beneficiary, due to the following reasons: 1) the Group has the power to direct the operating activities of the LPs; 2) the Group absorbs or enjoys the potential residual losses or returns of these LPs. The transfer of loans to the Consolidated Partnerships are not eligible for sale accounting because the LP is consolidated and the loan transfer is considered an intercompany transaction. The Group further applies amortized cost to the loans and liabilities to trust partners in its consolidated financial statements. That is, the loans are recorded on the Group's consolidated balance sheets under "Loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans, net" and the proceeds received from the trust partners are recorded as LP liabilities under "Payable to investors and institutional funding partners at amortized cost".

During 2022 and 2023, one of the subsidiaries of the Group funded RMB146,245,430 and RMB231,346,839 to loan products facilitated on the Group's platform through the limited partnership enterprises. The LPs are consolidated by the Group and the underlying loans are recorded on the Group's consolidated balance sheets under "Loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans, net".

The VIEs and Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships contributed 38%, 38% and 31% of the Group's consolidated revenue for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023, respectively. As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, the VIEs and Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships accounted for an aggregate of 57% and 57% of the consolidated total assets, and 77% and 71% of the consolidated total liabilities.

There are no terms in any arrangements, considering both explicit arrangements and implicit variable interests that require the Company or its subsidiaries to provide financial support to the VIEs and Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships. However, if the VIEs were ever to need financial support, the Group may, at its option and subject to statutory limits and restrictions, provide financial support to its VIEs through loans to the shareholders of the VIEs or entrustment loans to the VIEs.

The Group believes that there are no assets held in the VIEs that can be used only to settle obligations of the VIEs, except for registered capital and the Chinese Mainland statutory reserves. As the VIEs are incorporated as limited liability companies under the Company Law of the PRC, creditors of the VIEs do not have recourse to the general credit of the Company for any of the liabilities of the VIEs. Relevant Chinese Mainland laws and regulations restrict the VIEs from transferring a portion of their net assets, equivalent to the balance of its statutory reserve and its share capital, to the Company in the form of loans and advances or cash dividends. Please refer to Note 17 for disclosure of restricted net assets.

(c) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expense during the reporting period. Actual results could differ materially from such estimates. Significant accounting estimates reflected in the Group's consolidated financial statements include share-based compensation, allowance for credit losses of accounts receivables and contract assets, deposits to institutional cooperators, prepaid expenses and other current assets, loans receivables from Xiaoying Housing Loans and loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans, provision for contingent guarantee liabilities, allocation of considerations under revenue arrangements with various performance obligations, variable considerations of revenue recognition, valuation allowance for deferred tax assets, unrecognized tax benefits, the indefinite reinvestment assertion, fair value of financial guarantee derivatives, guarantee liabilities and financial investments, loans at fair value and payable to investors at fair value, impairment of long-term investments and financial investments.

(d) Revenue recognition

The Group provides services as an online marketplace connecting borrowers and investors or institutional funding partners. Revenue is the transaction price the Group expects to be entitled to in exchange for the promised services in a contract in the ordinary course of the Group's activities and is recorded net of value-added tax ("VAT"). The services to be accounted for include loan facilitation service, post-origination service (e.g., cash processing and collection services) and financial guarantee service.

The major product offered by the Group is Xiaoying Credit Loan, which mainly consists of Xiaoying Card Loan, Xiaoying Preferred Loan and other unsecured loan products that the Group introduce from time to time. The major products offered by the Group before 2021 also include Xiaoying Revolving Loan which mainly consists of Yaoqianhua (previously named as Xiaoying Wallet). The Group ceased facilitation of Xiaoying Preferred Loan in 2019, and ceased facilitation of Xiaoying Revolving Loan in 2020.

The Group provides services primarily through the use of two business models. The first business model ("Direct Model") involves the Group matching borrowers with investors or institutional funding partners who directly funds the credit drawdowns to the borrowers. The Group has determined that it is not the legal lender or borrower in the loan origination and repayment process, but acting as an intermediary to bring the lender and the borrower together. Therefore, the Group does not record the loans receivable or payable arising from the loans facilitated between the investors or institutional funding partners and borrowers on its platform.

The second business model ("Intermediary Model") involves the Group initially providing credit to borrowers through an intermediary and subsequently selling the loans including all of the creditor rights in the loans to external investors or institutional funding partners on its platform within a short period of time.

Loans facilitated by the Group typically have a term of less than 1 year. For each loan facilitated either through the Direct Model or Intermediary Model, the Group charges a service fee (i) from the borrower indirectly through one of the Group's VIEs, Shenzhen Xintang, or (ii) from the borrower indirectly through external financing guarantee company, or (iii) from institutional funding partner directly. No application fee is charged to borrowers or investors or institutional funding partners.

For the loans the Group is entitled to the full service fee regardless of whether the borrowers choose to early repay or not, the Group has the unconditional right to the consideration.

For the loans facilitated that the Group collected service fees indirectly through Shenzhen Xintang, when borrowers who have the option of early repayment and upon termination, they do not have the obligation to pay the remaining monthly service fees, the Group's right to consideration for the service fees of facilitation service is conditional on whether or not the borrowers repay in advance. At contract inception, the Group determines the consideration based on historical experiences as well as the credit due diligence performed on each borrower prior to loan origination.

For the loans facilitated that the Group collected service fee indirectly through external financing guarantee company or directly from institutional funding partner, the Group's transaction price includes variable consideration in the form of default risk of the borrowers and prepayment risk of the borrowers. The Group determines the consideration based on historical experiences as well as the credit due diligence performed on each borrower prior to loan origination.

The Group provides guarantee which is directly provided to or indirectly provided through financial institutional cooperators to investors or institutional funding partners on certain loan products via its consolidated entities. The Group is compensated for this reimbursement from the contractual service fees collected from the borrowers. If a borrower defaults, the Group makes its best efforts to collect the default loan. The Group directly makes payment to the defaulted principal and interest to investors or indirectly makes payment to investors or institutional funding partners through institutional cooperators, and deemed the guarantee as a guarantee service to the investors or institutional funding partners and recognizes a stand ready obligation for its guarantee exposure in accordance with ASC Topic 460, Guarantees which requires the guarantee to be measured initially at fair value based on the stand-ready obligation.

For certain loan products that the Group facilitate in the past that are repaid in installments by borrowers, borrowers are required to enter into guarantee agreements with the Group to pay the guarantee fee at a pre-agreed rate while at the same time, the Group entered into a series of arrangements with various financial institutional cooperators and negotiate the upper limit (the "Cap") of Shenzhen Xintang (VIE)'s compensation obligation prospectively with these financial institutional cooperators based on the expected loss rate. Upon borrower's default, financial institutional cooperators reimburse the full loan principal and interest to the investors or institutional funding partner first, and has the right to recourse to both the borrower and the Group, and the Group's contractual obligation is at any time it limited to the Cap which is the lower of (1) total amount of guarantee fees contractually required to be collected from the borrowers for such loans facilitated during the current period on an aggregated basis, and (2) a certain percentage of the total principal of the loans facilitated stated in an annualized manner, as pre-agreed with financial institutional cooperators (the "Rate"). The contractual guarantee fees in (1) is not influenced by default or early repayment of borrowers. The Group has no obligation or intention to compensate financial institutional cooperators for any losses in excess of the contractual obligation. The Rate will be negotiated prospectively at each quarter between the two parties based on the expected loss rate. The actual loss in excess of the Cap is absorbed by financial institutional cooperators. Financial institutional cooperators ultimately bear substantially all of the credit risk. The Group's exposure in this arrangement is limited to the default and prepayment risk in relation to the guarantee fee when the Group cannot collect the guarantee fee under the agreement with the borrower on an individual basis but is still obligated to compensate financial institutional cooperators up to the Cap on a pool basis. The Group evaluated the guarantee arrangement pursuant to ASC Topic 815, and concluded that the arrangement meets the definition of a derivative and that it is not eligible for the guarantee scope exception. Therefore, the guarantee is recognized as a derivative liability/asset at fair value and is not accounted for pursuant to ASC Topic 460 or 450. See accounting policy for financial guarantee derivative.

Direct Model

The Group has adopted ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606) and all subsequent ASUs that modified ASC 606.

The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. To achieve that core principle, the Group applies the following steps:

- Step 1: Identify the contract (s) with a customer
- Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract
- Step 3: Determine the transaction price

- Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract
- Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

The Group determines its customers to be both the borrowers and the investors or institutional funding partners. The Group considers the loan facilitation service and post-origination service as two separate performance obligations under ASC 606, as these two deliverables are distinct in that customers can benefit from each service on its own and the Group's promises to deliver the services are separately identifiable from each other in the contract. While the post-origination service is within the scope of ASC Topic 860, the ASC Topic 606 revenue recognition model is applied due to the lack of definitive guidance in ASC Topic 860.

The Group determines the total transaction price to be the service fees chargeable from the borrowers indirectly through one of the VIEs, Shenzhen Xintang, or external financing guarantee companies or from certain institutional funding partners directly, including the guarantee fees charged by the Group under the separate guarantee agreement with the borrowers for certain type of Xiaoying Card Loans. The transaction price for loan facilitation and post-origination services includes variable consideration in the form of default risk and prepayment risk of the borrowers. The Group estimates variable consideration for these contracts using the expected value methodology, including models to estimate the loss rates, the prepayment rates, and the weighted macroeconomic forecast, which are based on past events, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts over the life of the loans. The expected value of the consideration is the product of multiplying the loan principal and the pre-agreed service fee rates, adjusted for the loss rates and the prepayment rates. The loss rates are calculated using vintage-based loss rate model, adjusted for a weighted macroeconomic forecast. The models consider the historical loss experience period for the vintage-based loss rates, the historical prepayment experience period for the prepayment rates and the weighting of multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios over the life of the loans and selected economic variables, including gross domestic product (GDP), unemployment rate and other macro-economic variables. The transaction price is allocated amongst the financial guarantee service, if any, and two performance obligations.

The Group first allocates the transaction price to the financial guarantee, if any, that is recognized in accordance with ASC Topic 815, which requires the guarantee to be measured initially and subsequently at fair value. Then the remaining considerations are allocated to the loan facilitation services and post-origination services using their relative standalone selling prices consistent with the guidance in ASC 606. The Group does not have observable standalone selling price information for the loan facilitation services or post-origination services because it does not provide loan facilitation services or post-origination services on a standalone basis. There is no direct observable standalone selling price for similar services in the market that is reasonably available to the Group. As a result, the estimation of standalone selling price involves significant judgment. The Group uses an expected cost plus margin approach to estimate the standalone selling prices of loan facilitation services and post origination services as the basis of revenue allocation. In estimating its standalone selling price for the loan facilitation services and post-origination services, the Group considers the cost incurred to deliver such services, profit margin for similar arrangements, customer demand, effect of competitors on the Group's services, and other market factors.

For each type of service, the Group recognizes revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies the service/performance obligation by transferring a promised good or service (that is, an asset) to a customer. Revenues from loan facilitation are recognized at the time a loan is originated between the borrower and the investor or institutional funding partner and the principal loan balance is transferred to the borrower, at which time the facilitation service is considered completed. Revenues from post-origination services are recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the underlying loans as the services are provided. The collection of service fees is not conditional on the provision of subsequent post-origination services.

Intermediary Model

The Group cooperates with several microcredit companies who use their own funds to provide credit to borrowers first; the Group provide facilitation and post-origination services for these loans and receive service fee from borrowers. These microcredit companies transfer their rights as creditors shortly to SPVs controlled by the Group at the price of the carrying amount of the outstanding loan principal balance and accumulated accrued interest not paid by the borrowers as of the day on which the creditor's rights are legally transferred to SPVs. The SPVs usually further transfer their creditor's rights to third party investors or institutional funding partners in a short period at the price of the carrying amount of the outstanding loan principal balance and the accumulated accrued interest not paid by the borrowers as of the day on which the creditor's rights are legally transferred to investors or institutional funding partners. The Group continues the operations through the Intermediary Model with funding from unrelated third-party trust companies to the extent permitted under applicable laws and regulations.

The loans are initially recorded on the consolidated balance sheet as loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans. These loans carry the same insurance/ guarantee agreement with external financial institutional cooperators as loans facilitated under the Direct Model, which is attached to the loan and transfers along with the loan. The Group also charges service fees in the same manner as loans facilitated under the Direct Model. The Group accounts the relevant interest and service fees received from the borrowers as the financing income and the fee charged by the microcredit companies which is proportionate to the loans facilitated as the origination and servicing cost in its consolidated financial statements.

Intermediary Model—Trust Model

The transfer of loans to institutional funding partners under the Intermediary Model often involves transferring the loans to a trust formed and operated by unrelated third-party trust companies. The Group consolidates such trusts under the VIE model (see accounting policy on “Consolidated Trusts”). Loans transferred to Consolidated Trusts do not qualify for sales accounting as the transfer is to a consolidated subsidiary.

Before December 31, 2021, the Group elected to apply fair value option to these loans at the date of origination. The loans are recorded as “Loans at fair value” in the consolidated balance sheets.

From January 1, 2022, the Group elected to apply amortized cost method to the loans of newly formed Consolidated Trusts at the date of origination. For loan assets measured at amortized cost, they are recorded as “Loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans, net”.

Under both methods, the Group recognizes as revenue under “Financing income” the service fees and interests charged to the borrowers over the lifetime of the loans using effective interest method.

Intermediary Model—Partnership Model

The transfer of loans to institutional funding partners under the Intermediary Model involves transferring the loans to a limited partnership enterprise, or LP, formed and operated by unrelated third-party trust companies and the Group. The Group consolidates such partnerships under the VIE model (see accounting policy on “Consolidated Partnerships”). The Group elects to measure these loans at amortized cost at the time of origination. Loans transferred to Consolidated Partnerships do not qualify for sales accounting as the transfer is to a consolidated subsidiary. The loans are recorded as “Loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans, net” in the consolidated balance sheets. The Group recognizes as revenue under “Financing income” the service fees and interests charged to the borrowers over the lifetime of the loans using effective interest method.

Disaggregation of revenues

All of the Group's revenue for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023 were generated from the PRC. As the remaining duration of the Group's performance obligations of the contracts is one year or less, the Group elects to apply the exemption of disclosing the aggregate amount of transaction price allocated to the performance obligations at the end of 31 December, 2021, 2022 and 2023. The following table illustrates the disaggregation of revenue by product the Group offered in 2021, 2022 and 2023:

(1) Primarily consists of referral service fees for introducing borrowers to other platforms, technology service fees received for providing assistant technology development services and penalty fees for loan late payment.

Contract balances

The Group did not enter into contracts with customers that were greater than one year for substantially all products for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023. For the loans the Group is entitled to the full service fee regardless of whether the borrowers choose to early repay or not, the Group has the unconditional right to the consideration and an accounts receivable is recorded. For the loans facilitated with borrowers who have the option of early repayment and upon termination they do not have the obligation to pay the remaining monthly service fees, the Group's right to consideration for the service fees of facilitation service is conditional on whether or not the borrowers repay in advance. In these instances, the Group records a corresponding contract asset when recognizing revenue from loan facilitation service. The contract asset will not be reclassified to a receivable given that the right to invoice and the payment is due by the end of the credit periods. Revenue for these loan products are recognized when the collection of consideration becomes probable.

Remaining unsatisfied performance obligations as of December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023 pertained to post-origination service in the amount of RMB113,840,873, RMB224,461,482 and RMB287,607,599 (US$40,508,683), respectively. All remaining unsatisfied performance obligations would be recognized as revenue in the subsequent year.

Financing income consists primarily the financing fees the Group charges for the loans facilitated through the Consolidated Trusts and Consolidated Partnerships, including interest income and service fees generated from providing loan facilitation and post-origination services to the investors and institutional funding partners of the Consolidated Trusts and Consolidated Partnerships, and are recorded as revenue over the life of the underlying financing using the effective interest method.

Financing income also includes financing fees, including interest income and service fee, from loans receivables from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans that have not yet been transferred to external investors or institutional funding partners or have been transferred but such transaction does not qualify for sale accounting under the Intermediary Model.

Starting from 2021, financing income also includes interest income generated from providing loans by the Group's own fund from microcredit business, and are recorded as revenue over the life of the underlying financing using the effective interest method. The Group maintains the right to terminate the contract in advance based on the credit due diligence performed on each borrower. The remaining installments of interest would be recognized on non-accrual status after the contract terminated.

Other revenue

Other revenue primarily includes referral service fees for introducing borrowers to other platforms, technology service fees received for providing assistant technology development services and penalty fees for loan late payment. The referral service fees for introducing borrowers to other platforms are recognized when the obligation is fulfilled and is confirmed by the other platforms. The technology service fees are recognized when the assistant technology development services to third parties provided. The penalty fees, which are fees paid to the Group, will be received as a certain percentage of past due amounts in the case of late payments. Penalty fees are contingency-based variable considerations and constrained by the occurrence of delinquency. They are recognized when the uncertainty associated with the variability is resolved, that is, when the underlying event occurs.

(e) Sales and transfers of financial instruments

Sales and transfers of financial instruments are accounted under authoritative guidance for the transfers and servicing of financial assets and extinguishment of liabilities. Specifically, a transfer of a financial asset, a group of financial assets, or a participating interest in a financial asset is accounted for as a sale only if all the following conditions are met:

1. The financial assets are isolated from the transferor and its consolidated affiliates as well as its creditors;
2. The transferee or beneficial interest holders have the right to pledge or exchange the transferred financial assets; and
3. The transferor, its consolidated affiliates included in the financial statements being presented, or its agents do not maintain effective control of the transferred asset. A transferor's effective control over the transferred financial assets includes, but is not limited to, any of the following:

- a. An agreement that both entitles and obligates the transferor to repurchase or redeem the transferred financial assets before their maturity.
- b. An agreement, other than through a cleanup call that provides the transferor with both of the following: (i) The unilateral ability to cause the holder to return specific financial assets. (ii) A more-than-trivial benefit attributable to that ability; and
- c. An agreement that permits the transferee to require the transferor to repurchase the transferred financial assets at a price that is so favorable to the transferee that it is probable that the transferee will require the transferor to repurchase them.

Under the Intermediary Model, the Group, through its intermediary, facilitates credits to borrowers and subsequently transfers the loans (including the creditor rights) to third party investors or institutional funding partners at face value within a short period of time.

When the loan (including the creditor rights) is transferred, the transferee becomes the direct counterparty to the borrower and the legal record holder of the loan upon transfer. The transfer is accounted for as a sale, when (1) the transferred loans are considered legally isolated from the assets of the Group and its creditors even in the bankruptcies under the Chinese Mainland laws and regulations, (2) the investors or institutional funding partners (transferees) can freely pledge or exchange the transferred loans, and (3) the Group does not maintain effective control over the transferred loans. When a transfer does not qualify for sale accounting, e.g. when the Group sells loans with recourse to the Group, the transferred financial asset remains in the statement of financial position and a financial liability is recognized for any consideration received.

For Xiaoying Housing Loans facilitated through the Intermediary Model, borrowers are required to pledge properties to one of the Group's consolidated VIE entities (other than the intermediary or the SPV conducting the facilitation and transfer of the loan) as collateral for the guarantee that the Group is providing to a financial institutional cooperator against borrower's default. It is a separate arrangement with different counterparties from the loan provided by the Group. While the loan (including creditor's rights) is transferred to third party investors or institutional funding partners, the lien remains under the Group's name and in security for the Group agreeing to provide the guarantee to a financial institutional cooperator. The holding of the lien does not affect the creditor's right in the loan being fully transferred. Provided all aforementioned conditions under sales accounting are met, the transfer of such loans with collateral are accounted for as a sale. The Group ceased facilitation of Xiaoying Housing Loan in 2019.

(f) Foreign currency translation

The functional currency of X Financial is in US dollars ("US$"). The functional currency of the Group's subsidiaries and VIEs in the Chinese Mainland is Renminbi ("RMB"). The determination of the respective functional currency is based on the criteria stated in ASC 830, Foreign Currency Matters. The Group also uses RMB as its reporting currency. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency are translated into the functional currency at the rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. Transactions in currencies other than the functional currency are measured and recorded in the functional currency at the exchange rate prevailing on the transaction date. Translation gains and losses are recognized in the statements of comprehensive income (loss).

The Company with functional currency of US$ translates its operating results and financial positions into RMB, the Group's reporting currency. Assets and liabilities are translated using the exchange rates in effect on the balance sheet date. Equity amounts are translated at historical exchange rates. Revenues, expenses, gains and losses are translated using the average rates for the year. Translation adjustments are reported as cumulative translation adjustments and are shown as a separate component in the statements of comprehensive income (loss).

(g) Guarantee liabilities

The Group has guarantee service which is directly provided to or indirectly provided through financial institutional cooperators to investors or institutional funding partners. If a borrower defaults, the Group makes its best efforts to collect the default loan. The Group directly or indirectly makes payment to the defaulted principal and interest to investors or institutional funding partners.

Prior to September 2017, substantially all of the loans facilitated by the Group's platform are insured by a financial institutional cooperator. The financial institutional cooperator initially reimbursed the loan principal and interest to the investor or institutional funding partner upon the borrower's default. In order to maintain stable business relationship with the financial institutional cooperator, although not contractually obligated, the Group at its sole discretion compensated the financial institutional cooperator for substantially all loan principal and interest default but not subsequently collected. The Group deemed the guarantee as a guarantee service recognizes a stand ready obligation for its guarantee exposure in accordance with ASC Topic 460. The relative business has been ceased in 2020 with no outstanding balance of guarantee liabilities as of December 2021 and 2022, and only follow-up collections remains.

From September 2017, the Group revised the arrangement with the financial institutional cooperator and the Group no longer records any guarantee liabilities in accordance with ASC Topic 460, and records financial guarantee derivatives in accordance with ASC 815. See accounting policy of revenue recognition and financial guarantee derivatives.

During 2023, the Group started the financing guarantee business through one of the subsidiaries of the Group that holds the financing guarantee license and built a new business model that collaborates with external financing guarantee companies to provide joint guarantee services, on a pro-rata basis, to institutional funding partners. Under this business model, the Group has the contractual obligation to pay the defaulted principal and interest to institutional funding partners and no obligation to pay to the external financing guarantee company. The Group recognizes a stand ready obligation for its guarantee exposure in accordance with ASC Topic 460, Guarantees which requires the guarantee to be measured initially at fair value based on the stand-ready obligation.

Guarantee service provided prior to September 2017

At the inception of each loan, the Group recognizes the guarantee liability at fair value in accordance with ASC 460-10, which incorporates the expectation of potential future payments under the guarantee and takes into both non-contingent and contingent aspects of the guarantee. Subsequent to the loan's inception, the guarantee liability is composed of two components: (i) ASC Topic 460 component; and (ii) ASC Topic 450 component. The liability recorded based on ASC Topic 460 is determined on a loan by loan basis and it is reduced when the Group is released from the underlying risk, i.e. as the loan is repaid by the borrower or when the investor or institutional funding partner is compensated in the event of a default. This component is a stand-ready obligation which is not subject to the probable threshold used to record a contingent obligation. When the Group is released from the stand-ready liability upon expiration of the underlying loan, the Group records a corresponding amount as "Other revenue" in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. The other component is a contingent liability determined based on probable loss considering the actual historical performance and current conditions, representing the obligation to make future payouts under the guarantee liability in excess of the stand-ready liability, measured using the guidance in ASC Topic 450. The ASC Topic 450 contingent component is determined on a collective basis and loans with similar risk characteristics are pooled into cohorts for purposes of measuring incurred losses. The ASC 450 contingent component is recognized as part of operating expenses in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. At all times the recognized liability (including the stand-ready liability and contingent liability) is at least equal to the probable estimated losses of the guarantee portfolio.

The Group measures its guarantee liabilities at inception at fair value based on the Group's expected payouts and also incorporating a markup margin. As the Group's guarantee liabilities are not traded in an active market with readily observable prices, the Group applies a discounted cash flow methodology to measure the fair value of guarantee liabilities. The impact of credit losses is also considered by applying discounted cash flow method for the subsequent measurement of guarantee liabilities, based on the consideration of reasonable and supportable forecasts of future economic conditions. The significant unobservable inputs used include expected future payout and discount rate. The expected future payouts were estimated based on expected loss rates for each product type, taking into consideration of historical loss experiences for both contingent and noncontingent elements. The expected future payouts take into account missed payments initially compensated by the financial institutional cooperator within two business days from borrowers' payment due date. The expected collection rate of defaulted loans incorporates the proceeds from liquidation of underlying collateral that would be expected to cover the payouts under the guarantee and was based on the average historical collection rate of the Group's products. These inputs in isolation can cause significant increases or decreases in fair value. Increase in the expected net loss rates can significantly increase the fair value of guarantee liabilities; conversely a decrease in the expected net loss rates can significantly decrease the fair value of guarantee liabilities. The discount rate applied discounted cash flow methodology to present value the projected cash flows which is based on market rates. The Group also estimated the markup margin by looking at several comparable business models. The approximate term of the guarantee service correlates directly with the term of the loan product.

At initial recognition, deferred guarantee income is recorded at the fair value of the guarantee contract. Deferred guarantee income represents the stand ready component of the guarantee contracts that are determined in accordance with ASC Topic 460. The Group apply practical expedient and measures its guarantee service at inception at fair value equal to the total amount of guarantee service fees contractually required to be collected, since the guarantee contract is independently issued in a standalone arm's-length transaction with an unrelated party. Subsequent to initial recognition, deferred guarantee income is released systematically as "Guarantee income" in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income when the Group is released from the underlying risk. Contingent component represents the expected lifetime credit losses of the guarantee contract that are determined in accordance with ASC Topic 326, which are initially recorded separate from and in addition to deferred guarantee income at the amount equal to the expected lifetime credit losses of the underlying loans covered by the guarantee service. The expected credit losses is calculated using vintage-based loss rate and macroeconomic forecast scenario models, and is the product of multiplying the estimates of vintage-based loss rates and the individual level exposure at default on an undiscounted basis, adjusted for a weighted macroeconomic forecast. The models consider the historical loss experience period for the vintage-based loss rates, the historical prepayment experience period for the prepayment rates and the weighted multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios over the life of the loans and selected economic variables, including gross domestic product (GDP), unemployment rate and other macro-economic variables. The contingent component is determined on a collective basis and loans share similar risk characteristics and includes both quantitative and qualitative components, and adjusted each period for changes in expected lifetime credit losses. The initial recognition and adjustments made to guarantee liabilities are recorded as "provision for contingent guarantee liabilities" in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

(h) Financial guarantee derivatives

Starting from September 2017, for newly facilitated Xiaoying Credit Loans and Xiaoying Revolving Loans, the Group entered into a series of arrangements with various financial institutional cooperators in which it has agreed that the Group's exposure is limited to the contractual guarantee fee that the Group cannot collect under the agreement from the borrower as a result of default or prepayment but are still obligated to compensate those financial institutional cooperators based on the contractual guarantee fee up to the pre-agreed cap. The relative business has been ceased in 2023. See accounting policy in Revenue Recognition. The financial guarantee is accounted for as a derivative under ASC 815 because the financial guarantee scope exemption in ASC 815-10-15-58 is not met. The derivative is remeasured at each reporting period. The change in fair value of the derivative is recorded as a change in fair value of financial guarantee derivatives in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income(loss). The derivative is increased by the guarantee fees collected from the borrowers upon receipt as the Group expects all the fees to be ultimately paid to those financial institutional cooperators. When the Group settles the guarantee through performance of the guarantee by making payments to those financial institutional cooperators, the Company records a corresponding deduction to the derivative.

The Group uses the discounted cash flow model to value these financing guarantee derivatives at inception and subsequent valuation dates. This discounted cash flow model incorporates assumptions such as the expected delinquency rates, prepayment rate and discount rate. The expected delinquency rate and prepayment rate is estimated by taking into consideration of historical loss experiences. The discount rate is determined based on the market rates. The Group considers that the impact of discount rate to the fair value of financial guarantee derivatives is immaterial.

(i) Fair value

Fair value is the price that would be received from selling an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. When determining the fair value measurements for assets and liabilities required or permitted to be recorded at fair value, the Group considers the principal or most advantageous market in which it would transact and it considers assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability.

Authoritative literature provides a fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels. The level in the hierarchy within which the fair value measurement in its entirety falls is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement as follows:

- Level 1—inputs are based upon unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities traded in active markets.

- Level 2—inputs are based upon quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active and model-based valuation techniques for which all significant assumptions are observable in the market or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.
- Level 3—inputs are generally unobservable and typically reflect management’s estimates of assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Most fair value is therefore determined using model-based techniques that include option pricing models, discounted cash flow models, and similar techniques.

(j) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents primarily consist of cash on hand and cash in bank which are highly liquid and insignificant risk of changes in value. As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, cash equivalents were comprised of term deposits in banks and three-month U.S. treasury bills. All cash and cash equivalents are unrestricted as to withdrawal and use.

(k) Restricted Cash

Restricted cash consists primarily of cash held by the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships through segregated bank accounts which can only be used by the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships to specified activities as stipulated in the Consolidated Trust or Partnership agreements. Cash in the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships is not available to fund the general liquidity needs of the Group.

Restricted cash also includes cash security deposits set aside in banks. Restriction on the use of such cash and the interest earned thereon is imposed by the banks.

Tianjin Yuexin entered into deposit arrangements with institutional funding partners to pay deposits in accordance with an agreed payment schedule. The Group establishes an allowance for credit losses based on the credit risk of institutional funding partners determined by external credit ratings and adjusted for a weighted macroeconomic forecast.

(l) Accounts receivable and contract assets, net

Accounts receivable and contract assets consist of accounts receivable and contract assets from the facilitation and post-origination service in relation to loans facilitated under both Direct and Intermediary Models, from financing income generated from Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships and Xiaoying Microcredit, from guarantee income generated under a new business model of financing guarantee business, and from other revenue which mainly including referral service fees. Contract assets represent the Group’s right to consideration in exchange for facilitation services that the Company has transferred to the customer before payment is due. The Group only recognizes accounts receivable and contract assets to the extent that the Group believes it is probable that they will collect substantially all of the consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for the services transferred to the customer the payment is due by the end of the credit periods. The general life time of accounts receivable and contract assets lasts no more than 12 months.

Accounts receivable and contract assets from facilitation service and financing income is stated at the historical carrying amount net of write-offs and allowance for credit losses. The Group establishes an allowance for credit losses in accordance with ASC 326 based on estimates, historical experience of net loss rates, current economic conditions, reasonable and supportable forecasts of future economic conditions and other factors surrounding the credit risk of customers. The profile of the borrowers is similar under each product therefore the Group applies a consistent credit risk management framework to the entire portfolio of borrowers under each product. The Group also constantly monitors the financial condition and evaluates the credit quality of certain institutional funding partners and external financing guarantee companies from which the Group’s service fees are collected directly or indirectly. For individual counterparty where there is an observable indicator of loss, an individually evaluated allowance for credit losses is provided. The Group evaluates and adjusts its allowance for credit losses for accounts receivable and contract assets on a quarterly basis or more often as necessary. Uncollectible accounts receivable or contract assets are charged off when a settlement is reached for an amount that is less than the outstanding historical balance or when accounts receivable or contract assets are deemed uncollectible.

Loans receivables from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans are stated at the historical carrying amount net of write-offs and allowance for credit losses. The Group establishes an allowance for credit losses in accordance with ASC 326 based on estimates, historical experience of net vintage-based loss rates, current economic conditions, reasonable and supportable forecasts of future economic conditions and other factors surrounding the credit risk of borrowers. The profile of the borrowers is similar under each product therefore the Group applies a consistent credit risk management framework to the entire portfolio of borrowers under each product. The Group evaluates and adjusts its allowance for credit losses for loans receivables on a quarterly basis or more often as necessary. (n) Loans and payable to investors at fair value of Consolidated Trusts

For Consolidated Trusts founded before December 31, 2021, the Group elected to apply the fair value option for the loan assets and liabilities of the Consolidated Trusts on an individual basis at initial recognition, which is irrevocable throughout the existing period of each Consolidated Trust. For the Consolidated Trusts founded after January 1, 2022, the Group elected to apply amortized cost method to the loan assets and liabilities of newly formed Consolidated Trusts.

For loan assets and liabilities measured at fair value, the Group uses a discounted cash flow valuation methodology by discounting the estimated future net cash flows using an appropriate discount rate. The future net cash flows are estimated based on contractual cash flows, taking into consideration of estimated loss rate and prepayment rate of the loans, and the pre-determined rate of the Group’s guarantee exposure for certain products. They are recorded as “Loans at fair value” and “Payable to investors at fair value” in the consolidated balance sheet. Changes in fair value of loans and payable to investors are reported net as recorded in “Fair value adjustments related to Consolidated Trusts” in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. See Note 3 for further disclosure on financial instruments of the Consolidated Trusts for which the fair value option has been elected.

(o) Loan receivable from Xiaoying Housing Loans, net

The Group directly or indirectly guarantees on borrowers’ defaults to the investors of Xiaoying Housing Loan products and obtains a collateral right from the borrowers for such guarantees. The collaterals include apartments, houses and properties, which can fully cover the underlying loan principal and interest. Upon default of the loan, the Group compensates the investor or institutional funding partners for defaulted loan principal and interest and obtains the creditor’s right of the underlying loan. The payout amount in relation to the original guarantee provision provided at loan inception was recorded as a deduction of guarantee liability, reflected in net payouts in the guarantee liabilities rollforward. The remaining payout amount in relation to the acquisition of the creditor’s right of the underlying loan is recorded as loan receivable upon payment of compensation in “Loan receivable from Xiaoying Housing Loans” in the consolidated balance sheets as the collection cycle typically will be more than one year. No loan receivables are recorded at loan inception.

Loan receivable from Xiaoying Housing Loans is recorded based on the present value of the expected amount to be collected from the exercise of the collateral right. Given the deterioration of the credit related to those loans upon acquisition, the Group determined that those loans are in non-accrual status and should only recognize related service and penalty fees upon cash received in other revenues.

The outstanding balance of loan receivable from Xiaoying Housing Loans were RMB10,061,258 and RMB8,656,846 (US$1,219,291) as of December 31, 2022 and 2023, respectively. The contractually required payments that are receivable for loans acquired during 2022 and 2023 were nil and nil, respectively. The outstanding undiscounted balance including the principal, interest, fees, penalties under Xiaoying Housing Loans receivable were RMB154,623,985 and RMB170,563,345 (US$24,023,345), as of December 31, 2022 and 2023, respectively. The guarantee related to the default of the outstanding balance of Xiaoying Housing Loan were all settled in 2020.

Allowance for credit losses for loan receivable is established through periodic charges to the provision for loan receivable when the Group believes that the future collection of defaulted loan principal and interest is unlikely. Allowance for credit losses for loan receivables from Xiaoying Housing loans is also recognized when the fair value is below the original recorded present value of the expected amount to be collected. In order to accelerate the collection process, the Group transferred the creditor rights of certain defaulted loans as well as the underlying collateral right to third party companies at a discount in 2020 and 2021. The discounted amount was recorded as an allowance for credit losses for loan receivables which represent the amount that the Group expects not able to collect from the proceedings. In addition, the Group also recorded an allowance for credit losses for the remaining outstanding loans not transferred benchmarked to the discounted amount. The Group also institutes proceedings to collect the payout amount from collaterals. Uncollectible loan receivable from Xiaoying Housing Loans is charged off when a settlement is reached for an amount that is less than the outstanding historical balance or when loan receivables are deemed uncollectible.

(p) Financial investments

The Group invested in several Venture Capital funds (“VC funds”) in the year 2022 and 2023. These investments are in the legal form of limited partnership or zero coupon convertible note.

For partnership investments, unless the fair value option under ASC 825 is elected, the Group uses equity method to account for these investments under ASC 323, which means these investments are initially recorded at cost and subsequently adjusted for the proportionated share of income or loss, impairment as well as contributions made or distributions received. However, for the case that virtually no influence was exerted by the Group in the partnership agreement, fair value measurement is applied under ASC 321. For VC funds investment measured under ASC 321, fair value measurement is applied except for the case that readily determinable fair value is not available thus the Group measures them alternatively at cost minus impairment, plus or minus observable price changes from orderly transactions of identical or similar investments of the same issuer.

For the investment in the legal form of zero coupon convertible note, it is in substance a prepaid forward contract that entitles the Group to obtain shares of the VC fund in the future, and because no readily determinable fair value is available, the Group measures the investment at cost minus impairment, plus or minus observable price changes from orderly transactions of identical or similar investments of the same issuer under ASC 321.

The Group reviews VC funds investment for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is measured based on the excess of the carrying amount of an investment over its estimated fair value.

The Group invested in several U.S. Treasury bill with original maturities over three months and wealth management products. Given its intention and abilities, the Group account these investments under available for sale model.

(q) Deposits to institutional cooperators, net

Starting from November 2019, the Group enter into a series of deposit arrangements with financing institutional cooperators, such as insurance company and financing guarantee company. The Group is required to pay deposits to those financial institutional cooperators monthly or in accordance with an agreed payment schedule. The amount of deposit is separately agreed with each institutional cooperator, usually calculated by multiplying the outstanding loan balance on the reconciliation date by an agreed percent rate (“the standard amount “). The agreed percent rate may be adjusted from time to time. If the balance of the deposits exceeds the standard amount or supplementary payment of deposit is needed, the financial institutional cooperators shall refund the excess part to the Group or the Group shall make supplementary payment of deposit in accordance with an agreed payment schedule.

Deposits to institutional cooperators is stated at the historical carrying amount net of write-offs and allowance for credit losses. The Group establishes an allowance for credit losses based on estimates, the current and expected probability of default, insurance premium/guarantee fee, the historical pay-out amounts, the outstanding loan balances, the forecasted loan facilitation amounts and the credit risk of institutional cooperators. The Group evaluates and adjusts its allowance for credit losses for deposits to institutional cooperators on a quarterly basis or more often as necessary. Deposits to institutional cooperators are charged off when deposits are deemed uncollectible. Deposits to institutional cooperators are recorded as current assets because the term of the underlying loan assets was 12 months or less. As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, all deposits are refundable and none of them passed the original due date.

(r) Property and equipment, net

Computer and transmission equipment	3 years
Furniture and office equipment	5 years
Motor vehicles	4 years
Leasehold improvements	Over the shorter of the lease term or expected useful lives

Gains and losses from the disposal are included in “Other income (loss), net”.

(s) Intangible assets

Intangible assets with finite lives represent domain name and purchased computer software. These intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of the respective asset, which varies from 1 to 10 years.

Intangible assets with an indefinite useful life represent the insurance broker license purchased during 2018 and insurance sale on line license authorized in 2019, See Note 7. Intangible assets with an indefinite life is not amortized and is tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that it might be impaired.

(t) Impairment of long-lived assets

Long-lived assets are evaluated for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. When these events occur, the Group evaluates the impairment for the long-lived assets by comparing the carrying amounts of the assets to an estimate of future undiscounted cash flow attributable to theses assets. If the sum of the future undiscounted cash flows is less than the carrying amounts of the assets, the Group recognizes an impairment loss based on the excess of the carrying amounts of the assets over the fair value of the assets. Meanwhile, annual impairment testing is required for goodwill and intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life.

(u) Long-term investments

The Group accounts for long-term investments using equity method of accounting as the Group has the ability to exercise significant influence over investments. As part of this evaluation, the Group considers the participating and protective rights in the investments as well as its legal form.

The Group applies the equity method of accounting for the long-term investments when the Group has the ability to significantly influence the operations or financial activities of the investee. The Group records the investments at cost and subsequently adjusts the carrying amount each period for share of the earnings or losses of the investee and other adjustments required by the equity method of accounting. Dividends received from the equity method investments are recorded as reductions in the cost of such investments. The group elects cumulative earnings approach for classifying the distributions received from equity method investments.

Long-term investments are evaluated for impairment when facts or circumstances indicate that the fair value of the long-term investments is less than its carrying value. An impairment is recognized when a decline in fair value is determined to be other-than-temporary. The Group reviews several factors to determine whether a loss is other-than-temporary. These factors include, but are not limited to, the: (i) nature of the investment; (ii) cause and duration of the impairment; (iii) extent to which fair value is less than cost; (iv) financial condition and near term prospects of the investments; and (v) ability to hold the security for a period of time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery in fair value. As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, long-term investments of the Group consist of three equity investments of Chinese Mainland private companies, respectively.

As part of the arrangements, the selected companies also provide credit enhancements on the loans facilitated to the borrowers referred by them and are required to pay a certain amount of cash as deposit to the Group, from which the Group is entitled to deduct if they fail to compensate the defaulted loans on a timely basis. Any remaining balance of the deposit is released upon expiry of the co-operation agreements or newly signed settlement agreements. As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, the outstanding balance of the deposit that the Group received from Fintech and other financial companies were RMB19,700,235 and RMB19,700,235 (US$2,774,720) respectively.

Current taxes are recognized for in accordance with the laws of the relevant taxing authorities.

The Company's income tax expense includes Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong income taxes plus the recognition of Chinese Mainland taxes on undistributed earnings of Beijing WFOE not considered to be indefinitely reinvested.

Deferred taxes are provided using the asset and liability method, which requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the financial statements or tax return. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the differences between the financial statement carrying amount and the tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse. Deferred tax assets are then evaluated to determine the extent to which they are more likely than not to be realized. In making such a determination, management considers all positive and negative evidence, including future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences and projected future taxable income exclusive of reversing temporary differences and carryforwards. Deferred tax assets are then reduced by a valuation allowance to the amount, in the opinion of management, that is more likely than not to be realized.

The Group accounts for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in the consolidated financial statements by applying a two-step process to determine the amount of the benefit to be recognized. First, each the tax position must be evaluated to determine the likelihood that it will be sustained upon external examination by the taxing authorities. If a tax position is deemed more-likely-than-not to be sustained (defined as a likelihood of more than fifty percent of being sustained upon an examination, based on the technical merits of the tax position), the tax position is then assessed to determine the amount of benefits to recognize in the consolidated financial statements. The amount of the benefits that may be recognized is the largest amount that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon settlement. Interest and penalties on income taxes are classified as a component of income taxes.

(aa) Value added taxes ("VAT")

The Group is subject to VAT at the rate of 6% and 13% given that they are classified as general tax payers and at the rate of 3% as certain Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships of the Group are classified as small-scale tax payers. VAT is reported as a deduction to revenue when incurred and amounted to RMB228,029,948, RMB234,931,501, and RMB301,613,913(US$42,481,431) for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023, respectively. Entities that are VAT general taxpayers are allowed to offset qualified input VAT paid to suppliers against their output VAT liabilities. Net VAT balance between input VAT and output VAT is recorded in the line item of accrued expense and other liabilities on the consolidated balance sheets.

(ab) Segment information

The Group uses management approach to determine operation segment. The management approach considers the internal organization and reporting used by the Group's chief operating decision maker ("CODM") for making decisions, allocation of resource and assessing performance.

The Group's CODM has been identified as the Chief Executive Officer who reviews the consolidated results of operations when making decisions about allocating resources and assessing performance of the Group. The Group operates and manages its business as a single segment.

All of the Group's revenue for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023 were generated from the Chinese Mainland. As the Group generates all of its revenues in the PRC, no geographical segments are presented.

(ac) Treasury shares

The Group accounts for treasury shares using the cost method. Under this method, the cost incurred to purchase the shares is recorded in the treasury shares account in the consolidated balance sheets. In the event that treasury shares are transferred to Employee Stock Ownership Plans ("ESOP"), the Company recognized the amount in addition paid-in capital. The treasury shares account includes 41,199,374 and 35,564,336 ordinary shares as of December 31, 2022 and 2023, respectively, which will be canceled or held as treasury shares.

(ad) Leases

The Group adopted ASU No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842) (“ASU 2016-02”) from January 1, 2019 by using the modified retrospective method and did not restate the comparable periods. The Group has elected the package of practical expedients, which allows the Group not to reassess (1) whether any expired or existing contracts as of the adoption date are or contain a lease, (2) lease classification for any expired or existing leases as of the adoption date and (3) initial direct costs for any expired or existing leases as of the adoption date. The Group also elected the practical expedient not to separate lease and non-lease components of contracts. Lastly, the Group elected the short-term lease exemption for all contracts with lease terms of 12 months or less.

The Group determines if an arrangement is a lease or contains a lease at inception. Right-of-use (“ROU”) assets and liabilities are recognized at lease commencement date based on the present value of remaining lease payments over the lease terms. As most of the Group’s leases do not provide an implicit rate, the Group estimates its incremental borrowing rate based on the information available at the commencement date in determining the present value of lease payments. The incremental borrowing rate is estimated to approximate the interest rate on a collateralized basis with similar terms and payments, and in economic environments where the leased asset is located. The Group’s leases often include options to extend lease terms and such extended terms are included in lease terms when the Group is reasonably certain to exercise those options. Lease terms also include periods covered by options to terminate the leases when the Group is reasonably certain not to exercise those options. Lease expense is recorded on a straight-line basis over the lease term. For operating leases, ROU assets were recorded as “Other non-current assets”, and the current and non-current portions of the lease liabilities were recorded as “Accrued expenses and other current liabilities” and “Other non-current liabilities” in the consolidated balance sheets. The Group does not have any finance leases for the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023.

As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, the Group recognized ROU assets of RMB62,688,248 and RMB50,628,099 (US$7,130,819), and total lease liabilities of RMB62,497,742 and RMB50,423,551 (US$7,102,009), including current portion of RMB11,304,693 and RMB12,852,494 (US$1,810,236).

The Group’s operating leases mainly related to office facilities. As of December 31, 2023, the weighted average remaining lease term was 3.86 years and the weighted average discount rate was 6.2% for the Group’s operating leases.

	As of December 31, 2023
	RMB	US$
Cash payments for operating leases	16,693,739	2,351,264
ROU assets obtained in exchange for operating lease liabilities	1,117,223	157,358

Total future lease payments	57,144,872	8,048,687
Less: Imputed interest	6,721,321	946,678
Total lease liability balance	50,423,551	7,102,009

As of December 31, 2023, additional operating leases that have not yet commenced were immaterial.

(ae) Net income (loss) per share

Basic income (loss) per share is computed by dividing net income (loss) attributable to the holders of ordinary shares by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year. Diluted income (loss) per share is calculated by dividing net income (loss) attributable to the holders of ordinary shares as adjusted for the effect of dilutive ordinary share equivalents, if any, by the weighted average number of ordinary shares and dilutive ordinary share equivalents outstanding during the period. Ordinary share equivalents of stock options are calculated using the treasury stock method. However, ordinary share equivalents are not included in the denominator of the diluted earnings per share calculation when inclusion of such shares would be anti-dilutive, such as in a period in which a net loss is recorded.

(af) Share-based compensation

Share-based payment transactions with employees and directors, such as stock options and restricted stocks, are measured based on the grant date fair value of the awards in accordance with ASC 718, Compensation-Stock Compensation, with the resulting expense generally recognized on a straight-line basis in the consolidated statements of income over the period during which the employee is required to perform service in exchange for the award.

(ag) Certain risks and concentrations

Financial instruments that potentially expose the Group to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash, restricted cash, financial investments, accounts receivable and contract assets, deposits to institutional cooperators, loans receivables and loans at fair value.

The Group's investment policy requires cash and restricted cash to be placed with high-quality financial institutions and to limit the amount of credit risk from any one issuer. The Group regularly evaluates the credit standing of the counterparties or financial institutions.

Financial investments that potentially subject the Group to market risk mainly consist of investments in VC funds. The Group limits its exposure to market risks associated with financial investments by regularly conducting post-investment management of the funds.

Accounts receivable and contract assets are typically unsecured and are derived from revenue earned from customers in the PRC. The risk with respect to accounts receivable and contract assets is mitigated through the Group's consistent credit risk management framework to the entire portfolio of borrowers under each product. The Group also constantly monitors the financial condition and evaluates the credit quality of certain institutional funding partners and external financing guarantee companies from which the Group's service fees are collected.

Deposits to institutional cooperators are placed with financial institutional cooperators. The Group regularly monitors the financial condition and evaluates the credit quality of each institutional cooperator.

Credit of loans receivables and loans at fair value is controlled by the application of credit approval, limit and monitoring procedures.

No investor or institutional funding partner represented greater than 10% or more of the total net revenues for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023 .

The Company manages current payment risk of financial guarantee derivative through a self-developed risk management model. The rating scale of risk management model takes into account factors such as identity characteristics, credit history, payment overdue history, payment capacity, behavioral characteristics and online social network activity.

(ah) Allowance for credit losses

In June 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued ASU No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments—Credit Losses (Topic 326). The ASU introduced a new credit loss methodology, the current expected credit losses (“CECL”) methodology, which requires earlier recognition of credit losses while also providing additional disclosure about credit risk. The Group adopted the ASU as of January 1, 2020, which resulted in an increase in the Group’s Allowance for credit losses (“ACL”) and a decrease to opening Retained earnings, net of deferred income taxes, at January 1, 2020. The financial guarantees provided for the Group’s off - balance sheet loans accounted for under ASC 460 are in the scope of ASC 326 and subject to the CECL methodology.

The CECL methodology utilizes a lifetime “expected credit loss” measurement objective for the recognition of credit losses for loans, receivables, contract assets and other financial assets measured at amortized cost at the time the financial asset is originated or acquired. The ACL is measured based on the financial assets that share similar risk characteristics and includes both quantitative and qualitative components, and adjusted each period for changes in expected lifetime credit losses. The Group establishes the CECL methodology, which is based on past events, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts over the life of the financial assets.

For the Group’s accounts receivable and contract assets, loans receivable and certain off-balance sheet credit exposures, such as financial guarantees not accounted for as derivatives, generated from microcredit business and financing guarantee business, the ACL for these financial assets is driven by the default risk of underlying loans. The ACL is calculated using vintage-based loss rate and macroeconomic forecast scenario models, and is the product of multiplying the estimates of vintage-based loss rates and the individual level exposure at default on an undiscounted basis, adjusted for a weighted macroeconomic forecast. The model to estimate the loss rates considers the historical loss experience period for the vintage-based loss rates.

For the Group's accounts receivable and contract assets generated from the loans facilitated that the Group collected indirectly through external financing guarantee company or directly from institutional funding partner, loans receivables for loans facilitated through the Consolidated Trusts and Partnerships that protected by financial institutional cooperators with credit insurance/financial guarantee services provided, deposits to financial institutional cooperators and certain financial assets, the ACL for these financial assets is mainly driven by the credit risk of financial institutional cooperators or institutional funding partners. The ACL is calculated using probability of default, loss given default and macroeconomic forecast scenario models, and is the product of multiplying the probability of default determined by the external credit ratings of financial institutional cooperators or institutional funding partners, loss given default and individual loan level exposure at default on an undiscounted basis, and adjusted for a weighted macroeconomic forecast.

For the Group's other financial assets, the ACL is mainly determined to be the amount of probable incurred credit losses based on historical experience and other factors surrounding the credit risk of the counterparty. For individual counterparty where there is an observable indicator of loss, an individually evaluated allowance for credit losses is provided.

Under the CECL methodology, macroeconomic forecast scenario model is also applied to the ACL for a weighted macroeconomic forecast adjustment. The Group develops the macroeconomic forecast scenario model by establishing the weighted multiple macroeconomic forecast scenarios over the life of the loans and a pool of selected economic variables, including gross domestic product (GDP), unemployment rate and other macro-economic variables that were determined to be the most relevant to the credit losses. The CECL methodology's impact on expected credit losses, among other things, reflects the Group's view of the current state of the economy, forecasted macroeconomic conditions and the Group's portfolios.

The qualitative component of the CECL methodology represents the Group's judgment of additional considerations to account for internal and external risk factors that are not adequately measured in the quantitative component, including consideration of idiosyncratic risk factors or other relevant factors.

The Group's ACL consists of provision for accounts receivable and contract assets, provision for loans receivable from Xiaoying Credit Loans and other loans, provision for contingent guarantee liabilities, provision for credit losses on deposits to institutional cooperators and provision of credit losses for other financial assets. The net increase to the ACL amounted to RMB139.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2023 reflected the combined effect mainly of (i) an increase in guarantee liability arising from financing guarantee business operated by a subsidiary which holds the financing guarantee license and commenced the financing guarantee business in 2023, (ii) an increase in loans receivable held by the Group as a result of the increase in the total loan amount facilitated and originated this year, (iii) an increase of in weighted average vintage-based loss rates from 5.10% in 2022 to 8.97% in 2023 for loans receivable generated from microcredit business due to the challenge from slow recovery of China's macroeconomy and the intensification of competition in the industry, and (iv) partially net-off by a decrease in accounts receivable and contract assets generated from business of Shenzhen Xintang as the Group settled the remaining business in the first quarter of 2023.

(ai) Recent accounting pronouncements

The FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2023-07 Segment Reporting—Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures (Topic 280) in November, 2023. which will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. The standard improves reportable segment disclosure requirements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses.

The FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2023-06 Disclosure Improvements—Codification Amendments in Response to the SEC’s Disclosure Update and Simplification Initiative in October, 2023. The standard modifies the disclosure or presentation requirements of a variety of Topics in the Codification. As the Group is required to comply with the SEC’s existing disclosure requirements, the effective date for each amendment will be the effective date of the removal of the disclosure requirement from Regulation S-X or Regulation S-K, with early adoption prohibited.

The FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2023-09 Income Taxes—Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures (Topic 740) in December, 2023, which will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. The standard requires disaggregated information about a reporting entity’s effective tax rate reconciliation as well as information on income taxes paid.

The Group is currently evaluating the impact of these recent accounting pronouncements on the consolidated financial statements.

(aj) Translation into United States Dollars

The financial statements of the Group are stated in RMB. Translations of amounts from RMB into United States dollars are solely for the convenience of the reader and were calculated at the rate of US$1.00 = RMB7.0999, on December 29, 2023, as set forth in H.10 statistical release of the Federal Reserve Board. The translation is not intended to imply that the RMB amounts could have been, or could be, converted, realized or settled into United States dollars at that rate on December 31, 2023, or at any other rate.

The Group uses the discounted cash flow model to value the financial guarantee derivatives. Net cumulative expected loss rates represent expected loss rate and prepayment rate at inception, as significant unobservable inputs applied in the discounted cash flow model, which ranged from 5.19% to 10.48% and nil for the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023, respectively.

Note:

(1) Amount represents estimated payment to financial institutional cooperators which is the aggregated amount of guarantee fees, which would be the amount of loan principal multiplied by annualized guarantee fee ratio. The obligation is not influenced by default and early repayment of borrowers.

(2) Amount represents estimated guarantee service fees to be collected for loans newly facilitated during each vintage period according to the guarantee service agreement with the borrowers, net of estimated defaults and prepayments.

(3) Amount represents the subsequent adjustment to update the estimated net guarantee service fees to be collected for all outstanding loans as a result of changes in estimated default or prepayment rates.

(4) Amount represents the compensation payable to financial institutional cooperators. See Note.11 Accrued expenses and other current liabilities.

The change in fair value of financial guarantee derivative primarily relates the Group's estimated exposure in relation to the loans newly facilitated during the corresponding period, as the Group is obligated to compensate financial institutional cooperators under the guarantee arrangement based on the contractual guarantee fees charged to borrowers across the entire portfolio subject to a pre-agreed Cap rather than the actual guarantee fees collected from the borrowers. The change in fair value amount equals to the sum of (i) the portion of amounts obligated to pay to financial institutional cooperators that are not expected to be collected from the borrowers due to the estimated default or prepayment and (ii) fair value gain realized as a result of the release of guarantee obligations. The derivative is increased by the guarantee fees collected from the borrowers upon receipt as the Group expects all the fees to be ultimately paid to financial institutional cooperators. When the payments are made to financial institutional cooperators, the derivative is reduced by the corresponding amount. The total loan products related to guarantee derivatives facilitated during the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2023 were RMB2,167,354,119 and nil, respectively.

As of December 31, 2021, financial guarantee derivatives related to certain financial institutional cooperators has an asset position of RMB11,816,799 respectively, primarily due to the time lag between the payments to those financial institutional cooperators and the collection of monthly guarantee service fees from borrowers. As of December 31, 2021, the cumulative monthly guarantee service fees collected from borrowers was less than the cumulative amount paid to those financial institutional cooperators. However, the total amount paid to those financial institutional cooperators was still within the pre-agreed Cap. The excess had been expected to be fully collected from the borrowers during the remaining term of the underlying loans. As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, financial guarantee derivatives related to certain financial institutional cooperators has a liability position of and RMB107,890,394 and nil. As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, the maximum potential undiscounted future payment the Group would be required to make is RMB94,183,515 and nil which also reflects the maximum potential payment to financial institutional cooperators based on the pre-agreed Cap.

The Group has elected the fair value option for the loan assets and liabilities of the Consolidated Trusts that formed before December 31, 2021, which otherwise would not have been carried at fair value. Such election is irrevocable and is applied to financial instruments on an individual basis at initial recognition.

As the Group's loans and payable to investors in the Consolidated Trusts do not trade in an active market with readily observable prices, the Group uses significant unobservable inputs to measure the fair value of these assets and liabilities. Financial instruments are categorized in the Level 3 valuation hierarchy based on the significance of unobservable factors in the overall fair value measurement. At December 31, 2022 and 2023, the discounted cash flow methodology is used to estimate the fair value of loans and payables to investors.

As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, there were no differences between the amount at which these VC funds were carried and the amount of the underlying equities in net assets.

During the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023, the Group invested in two VC funds, in the form of partnership and zero coupon convertible note. These VC funds were measured at cost minus impairment because readily determinable fair value is not available. Other than impairment, there was no any upward adjustment, redemption nor disposal of investment of the VC funds. And the Group did not become aware of any observable price changes accounted for.

The table below summarizes investments measured at cost minus impairment, plus or minus observable price changes from orderly transactions of identical or similar investments of the same issuer as of December 31, 2022 and 2023:

During the year ended December 31, 2023, the Group entered into a withdrawal letter to withdraw all of its limited partnership interest from the VC fund and, subsequently, entered into a switch request agreement to reinvest its net withdrawal proceeds to another VC fund in form of partnership. The transactions did not result in cash receipts or cash payments. During the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023, the Group recognised fair value with respect to RMB9,525,822 of adverse change and RMB6,497,518 (US$915,156) of favorable change respectively as “Income (loss) from financial investments” in consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

financial investments accounted under AFS model

During the year ended December 31, 2023, the Group invested RMB55,401,446 (US$7,803,130) of U.S. Treasury bill with original maturities over three months, and RMB350,000,000 (US$49,296,469) of wealth management products which is no fixed term and redeemable on demand and in which other than insignificant risk of underlying assets was incorporated, consigned by banks. Given its intention and abilities, the Group accounts these investments under available-for-sale model. The Group measure wealth management product in accordance with statements provided by the bank due to lack of quoted prices on an active market. As of December 31, 2023, no allowance for credit losses was recognized for the investments in wealth management products since fair value is greater than amortized cost. As of December 31, 2023, no allowance for credit losses was recognized for the investments in US Treasury securities since the quoted price of US Treasury securities does not show a downward trend subsequently till the date of the most recent statement of financial position. Also, the unrealized loss recognized for US Treasury securities was immaterial and, thus, the Group decided not to record in profit or loss.

The Group recognized realized gains of US Treasury securities as “Interest income (expenses), net” in consolidated statements of comprehensive income and, for the investments accounted under AFS, recognized unrealized gains or losses as “Income from financial investments” in other comprehensive income.

(“Jiangxi Ruijing”), a Chinese Mainland based asset management company through a nominee arrangement where the Group obtained all shareholder rights associated with the 15% equity holdings through contractual agreements with the nominal shareholder. 13. Related party balances and transactions

In 2019, the Group purchased earnings rights of two loans from Jiangxi Ruijing. The considerations paid amounted to RMB100,000,000 and RMB280,000,000, respectively, which equal to the principal amounts of the underlying loans. In 2020, earnings right of the former loan had been fully repaid. Earnings right of the latter loan had been partially repaid by RMB20,000,000 and RMB160,000,000 in 2020 and 2021, respectively, and the remaining RMB100,000,000 had been fully repaid in January 2022. In 2021, the Group entered into agreements with a financing guarantee company, which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Group's equity investee obtained in 2020 and disposed in 2022. Following the disposal, it no longer constitutes a related party to the Group. This financing guarantee company provides guarantee service for an identified portfolio of loans the Group facilitated and charges borrowers a guarantee fee, a portion of which will be subsequently paid to the Group as the service fee for the intermediary service the Group provided. During the year of 2021 and 2022, this financing guarantee company provided guarantee service for 5.9% and 29.6% of the total loans the Group facilitated and provided. The Group recognized total net revenue of RMB78,801,582 and RMB542,719,679 during the years of 2021 and 2022 in connection with the service fees of facilitation service for loans that covered by this financing guarantee company. As of December 31, 2021 and 2022, accounts receivable and contract assets balance amounted to RMB66,761,250 and RMB313,992,225, respectively.

The Group believes that the terms of the transactions with the related parties are comparable to the terms of arm's-length transactions with third parties.

14. Income taxes

Cayman Islands

X Financial is a company incorporated in the Cayman Islands. Under the current laws of the Cayman Islands, the Company is not subject to tax on either income or capital gain.

Hong Kong

Under the current Hong Kong Inland Revenue Ordinance, YZT (HK) Limited and YX (HK) Limited, subsidiaries of the Group located in Hong Kong, are subject to 16.5% income tax on their taxable income generated from operations in Hong Kong. No income tax expenses for these entities have been recognized in the consolidated financial statements as they have no assessable income for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023.

Chinese Mainland

Under the Law of the PRC on Enterprise Income Tax (the "EIT Law"), the Company's subsidiaries, VIEs and subsidiaries of the VIEs established in the Chinese Mainland are subject to an income tax rate of 25% for the years presented. One of the subsidiaries of the Group in Shenzhen was a qualified enterprise eligible to enjoy the preferential income tax rate of 15% from 2020 to 2022 and renewed its qualification until 2025. One VIE and one subsidiary of the Group operated in a specific preferential tax jurisdiction and were thereby eligible to be levied at the reduced income tax rate of 15% from 2020 to 2025 and from 2023 to 2025, respectively.

Uncertainties exist with respect to how the current income tax law in the Chinese Mainland applies to the Group's overall operations, and more specifically, with regard to its tax residency status. The EIT Law includes a provision specifying that legal entities organized outside of the Chinese Mainland will be considered residents for Chinese Income Tax purposes if the place of effective management or control is within the Chinese Mainland. The implementation rules to the EIT Law provide that non-resident legal entities will be considered Chinese Mainland residents if substantial and overall management and control over the manufacturing and business operations, personnel, accounting and properties, occurs within the Chinese Mainland. Despite the present uncertainties resulting from the limited Chinese Mainland tax guidance on the issue, the Group does not believe that the legal entities organized outside of the Chinese Mainland within the Group should be treated as residents for EIT Law purposes and, therefore, has not recorded an unrecognized tax benefit for this tax position. If the Chinese Mainland tax authorities subsequently determine that the Company and its subsidiaries registered outside the Chinese Mainland should be deemed resident enterprises, the Company and its subsidiaries registered outside the Chinese Mainland will be subject to Chinese Mainland income taxes, at a statutory income tax rate of 25%.

According to PRC Administration of the Levy and Collection of Taxes Law, the statute of limitations is three years if an underpayment of taxes is due to computational errors made by the taxpayer or withholding agent. The statute of limitations will be extended five years under special circumstances, which are not clearly defined (but an underpayment of tax liability exceeding RMB0.1 million is specifically listed as a special circumstance). In the case of a related party transaction, the statute of limitations is ten years. There is no statute of limitations in the case of tax evasion. Tax years from 2015 to the current years for the Group's Chinese Mainland subsidiaries are subject to examination of the Chinese Mainland tax authorities.

The Company operates through its subsidiaries, VIEs and subsidiaries of the VIEs. The valuation allowance is considered on an individual entity basis.

As of December 31, 2022 and 2023, the Company had operating loss carryforwards of RMB221,205,324 and RMB227,566,693 (US$32,052,098) respectively from its subsidiaries, VIEs and subsidiaries of the VIEs registered in the Chinese Mainland. The net operating loss carryforwards will expire in years 2024 to 2028, if not utilized.

The tax benefit, net of valuation allowance, recognized during the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2023 due to the generation of net operating losses carryforwards that can be carried forward to future years amounted to RMB805,389 and RMB883,214 (US$124,398), respectively. The tax benefit realized during the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023 from the utilization of carryforwards where the related deferred tax asset was offset by a valuation allowance amounted to RMB3,927,259 and RMB4,876,301 (US$686,813) respectively.

The tax benefit, net of valuation allowance, recognized during the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2023 due to generation of advertising and market related expenses carryforwards amounting to nil and RMB8,239,531 (US$1,160,514), respectively.

During the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2023, the Company recognized a deferred tax expense of RMB101,490,352 and RMB11,432,693 (US$1,160,261) respectively for changes in a valuation allowance as a result of a change in judgment about the ability of a subsidiary to utilize a beginning-of-the-year deferred tax asset in future years.

The Group assesses the available positive and negative evidence to estimate if sufficient future taxable income will be generated to use the existing deferred tax assets. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon its ability to generate sufficient future taxable income within the carryforward periods provided for in the tax law and during the periods in which the temporary differences become deductible. When assessing the realization of deferred tax assets, the Group has considered possible sources of taxable income including (i) future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences, (ii) future taxable income exclusive of reversing temporary differences and carryforwards, including consideration of specific known trends of profits expected to be reflected within the industry, (iii) taxable income in prior carryback years and (iv) tax-planning strategies. On the basis of this evaluation, as of December 31, 2022 and 2023 a valuation allowance of RMB214,884,582 and RMB226,317,275 (US$31,876,121) was recorded respectively to reduce the deferred tax assets to the amount that is not more likely than not to be realized. The amount of the deferred tax assets considered realizable, however, could be adjusted if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward period are reduced or increased or if objective negative evidence in the form of cumulative losses is no longer present and additional weight is given to subjective evidence such as the Group's projections for growth.

In accordance with the EIT Law, dividends, which arise from profits of foreign invested enterprises ("FIEs"), are subject to a 10% withholding income tax. In addition, under tax treaty between the Chinese Mainland and Hong Kong, if the foreign investor is incorporated in Hong Kong and qualifies as the beneficial owner, the applicable withholding tax rate is reduced to 5%, if the investor holds at least 25% in the FIE. A deferred tax liability should be recognized for the undistributed profits of Chinese Mainland subsidiaries unless the Company has sufficient evidence to demonstrate that the undistributed dividends will be reinvested and the remittance of the dividends will be postponed indefinitely.

The Group constantly assesses its intent to reinvest the offshore earnings. As of December 31, 2023, the Group no longer intended to reinvest certain undistributed earnings of the FIEs that have been previously taxed in the Chinese Mainland, while for the remainder of the undistributed earnings, the Group intended to indefinitely reinvest. The Group has recorded a deferred tax liability of RMB16,500,000 (US$2,323,976) associated with the earnings that intend to repatriate in the future. The Group paid withholding tax of RMB7,959,727 (US$1,121,104) on distributed earnings during the year. For the earnings the Group intended to indefinitely reinvest, no deferred tax liabilities for withholding taxes have been recorded.

Undistributed earnings of FIEs that are considered to be indefinitely invested amounted to RMB3,070,106,819 on December 31, 2022 and RMB3,761,829,057 (US$529,842,541) on December 31, 2023. All undistributed earnings are still subject to certain taxes upon repatriation, primarily where withholding taxes apply. The related unrecognized deferred tax liabilities were RMB307,010,682 and RMB376,182,906 (US$52,984,254) at a 10% tax rate.

SCHEDULE I—NOTES TO CONDENSED FINANCIAL INFORMATION OF PARENT COMPANY

1. Schedule I has been provided pursuant to the requirements of Rule 12-04 and 5-04(c) of Regulation S-X, which require condensed financial information as to the financial position, changes in financial position and results of operations of a parent company as of the same date and for the same period for which audited consolidated financial statements have been presented when the restricted net assets of consolidated subsidiaries exceed 25 percent of consolidated net assets as of the end of the most recently completed fiscal year.

2. The condensed financial information has been prepared using the same accounting policies as set out in the consolidated financial statements except that the equity method has been used to account for investments in its subsidiaries and VIEs. For the parent company, the Company records its investments in subsidiaries and VIEs under the equity method of accounting as prescribed in ASC 323, Investments—Equity Method and Joint Ventures. Such investments are presented on the Condensed Balance Sheet as “Investments in subsidiaries and VIEs” and the subsidiaries and VIEs’ profit or loss as “Equity in profit (loss) of subsidiaries and VIEs” on the Condensed Statements of Comprehensive Income (loss). NOW, THEREFORE, the Parties, upon friendly negotiation, hereby agree as follows:

Article 1 Purchase and Sale of Equity

- 1.1. Grant of Option. The Existing Shareholders hereby irrevocably grant to the WFOE an exclusive and irrevocable option whereby the WFOE shall be entitled to purchase or designate any person or persons (“Designee”) to purchase from the Existing Shareholders at any time, to the extent permitted by the PRC laws, all or part of the equity held by the Existing Shareholders in the Domestic Company following the exercise steps determined by the WFOE at its own discretion and per the price set forth in Article 1.3 hereof (“Call Option”). I. SUMMARY OF POLICY CONCERNING TRADING IN COMPANY SECURITIES

It is the policy of X Financial and its subsidiaries and consolidated affiliated entities (collectively, the “Company”) that it will, without exception, comply with all applicable laws and regulations in conducting its business. Each employee, each executive officer and each director is expected to abide by this policy. When carrying out Company business, employees, executive officers and directors must avoid any activity that violates applicable laws or regulations. In order to avoid even an appearance of impropriety, the Company’s directors, officers and certain other employees are subject to pre-approval requirements and other limitations on their ability to enter into transactions involving the Company’s securities. Although these limitations do not apply to transactions pursuant to written plans for trading securities that comply with Rule 10b5-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Exchange Act”), the entry into, amendment or termination of any such written trading plan is subject to pre-approval requirements and other limitations.

II. THE USE OF INSIDE INFORMATION IN CONNECTION WITH TRADING IN SECURITIES

A. General Rule.

The U.S. securities laws regulate the sale and purchase of securities in the interest of protecting the investing public. U.S. securities laws give the Company, its officers and directors, and other employees the responsibility to ensure that information about the Company is not used unlawfully in the purchase and sale of securities.

All employees, executive officers and directors should pay particularly close attention to the laws against trading on “inside” information. These laws are based upon the belief that all persons trading in a company’s securities should have equal access to all “material” information about that company. Information is considered to be “material” if its disclosure would be reasonably likely to affect (1) an investor’s decision to buy or sell the securities of the company to which the information relates, or (2) the market price of that company’s securities. While it is not possible to identify in advance all information that will be deemed to be material, some examples of such information would include the following: earnings; financial results or projections; dividend actions; mergers and acquisitions; capital raising and borrowing activities; major dispositions; major new customers, projects or products; significant advances in product development; new technologies; major personnel changes in management or change in control; expansion into new markets; unusual gains or losses in major operations; major litigation or legal proceedings; granting of stock options; and major sales and marketing changes. When doubt exists, the information should be presumed to be material. If you are unsure whether information of which you are aware is inside information, you should consult with the Company’s Chief Financial Officer. No individuals other than specifically authorized personnel may release material information to the public or respond to inquiries from the media, analysts or others. If you are contacted by the media or by a research analyst seeking information about the Company and if you have not been expressly authorized by the Company’s Chief Financial Officer to provide information to the media or to analysts, you should refer the call to the Chief Financial Officer. On occasion, it may be necessary for legitimate business reasons to disclose inside information to outside persons. Such persons might include investment bankers, lawyers, auditors or other companies seeking to engage in a potential transaction with the Company. In such circumstances, the information should not be conveyed until an express understanding has been reached that such information is not to be used for trading purposes and may not be further disclosed other than for legitimate business reasons. For example, if an employee, an executive officer or a director of a company knows material non-public financial information, that employee, executive officer or director is prohibited from buying or selling shares in the company until the information has been disclosed to the public. This is because the employee, executive officer or director knows information that will probably cause the share price to change, and it would be unfair for the employee or director to have an advantage (knowledge that the share price will change) that the rest of the investing public does not have. In fact, it is more than unfair; it is considered to be fraudulent and illegal. Civil and criminal penalties for this kind of activity are severe.

The general rule can be stated as follows: It is a violation of federal securities laws for any person to buy or sell securities if he or she is in possession of material inside information. Information is material if there is a substantial likelihood that a reasonable investor would consider it important in making an investment decision. It is inside information if it has not been publicly disclosed in a manner making it available to investors generally on a broad-based non-exclusionary basis. Furthermore, it is illegal for any person in possession of material inside information to provide other people with such information or to recommend that they buy or sell the securities. (This is called “tipping”). In that case, they may both be held liable.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”), the stock exchanges and plaintiffs’ lawyers focus on uncovering insider trading. A breach of the insider trading laws could expose the insider to criminal fines up to three times the profits earned and imprisonment up to ten years, in addition to civil penalties (up to three times of the profits earned), and injunctive actions. In addition, punitive damages may be imposed under applicable state laws. Securities laws also subject controlling persons to civil penalties for illegal insider trading by employees, including employees located outside the United States. Controlling persons include directors, officers, and supervisors. These persons may be subject to fines up to the greater of $1,000,000 or three times profit (or loss avoided) by the insider trader.

Inside information does not belong to the individual directors, officers or other employees who may handle it or otherwise become knowledgeable about it. It is an asset of the Company. For any person to use such information for personal benefit or to disclose it to others outside the Company violates the Company’s interests. More particularly, in connection with trading in the Company’s securities, it is a fraud against members of the investing public and against the Company.

All directors, executive officers and employees of the Company must observe these policies at all times. Your failure to do so will be grounds for internal disciplinary action, up to and including termination of your employment or directorship.

B. Who Does the Policy Apply To?

The prohibition against trading on inside information applies to directors, officers and all other employees, and to other people who gain access to that information. The prohibition applies to both domestic and international employees of the Company and its subsidiaries. Because of their access to confidential information on a regular basis, Company policy subjects its directors and certain employees (the “Window Group”) to additional restrictions on trading in Company securities. The restrictions for the Window Group are discussed in Section F below. In addition, directors and certain employees with inside knowledge of material information may be subject to ad hoc restrictions on trading from time to time.

C. Other Companies' Stock.

Employees, executive officers and directors who learn material information about suppliers, customers, or competitors through their work at the Company, should keep it confidential and not buy or sell stock in such companies until the information becomes public. Employees, executive officers and directors should not give tips about such stock.

D. Hedging and Derivatives.

Employees, executive officers and directors are prohibited from engaging in any hedging transactions (including transactions involving options, puts, calls, prepaid variable forward contracts, equity swaps, collars and exchange funds or other derivatives) that are designed to hedge or speculate on any change in the market value of the Company's equity securities.

Trading in options or other derivatives is generally highly speculative and very risky. People who buy options are betting that the stock price will move rapidly. For that reason, when a person trades in options in his or her employer's stock, it will arouse suspicion in the eyes of the SEC that the person was trading on the basis of inside information, particularly where the trading occurs before a company announcement or major event. It is difficult for an employee, executive officer or director to prove that he or she did not know about the announcement or event.

If the SEC or the NYSE were to notice active options trading by one or more employees, executive officers or directors of the Company prior to an announcement, they would investigate. Such an investigation could be embarrassing to the Company (as well as expensive), and could result in severe penalties and expense for the persons involved. For all of these reasons, the Company prohibits its employees, executive officers and directors from trading in options or other derivatives involving the Company's stock. This policy does not pertain to employee stock options granted by the Company. Employee stock options cannot be traded.

E. Pledging of Securities, Margin Accounts.

Pledged securities may be sold by the pledgee without the pledgor's consent under certain conditions. For example, securities held in a margin account may be sold by a broker without the customer's consent if the customer fails to meet a margin call. Because such a sale may occur at a time when an employee, executive officer or a director has material inside information or is otherwise not permitted to trade in Company securities, the Company prohibits employees, executive officers and directors from pledging Company securities in any circumstance, including by purchasing Company securities on margin or holding Company securities in a margin account.

F. General Guidelines.

The following guidelines should be followed in order to ensure compliance with applicable antifraud laws and with the Company's policies:

1. Nondisclosure. Material inside information must not be disclosed to anyone, except to persons within the Company whose positions require them to know it. Tipping refers to the transmission of inside information from an insider to another person. Sometimes this involves a deliberate conspiracy in which the tipper passes on information in exchange for a portion of the "tippee's" illegal trading profits. Even if there is no expectation of profit, however, a tipper can have liability if he or she has reason to know that the information may be misused. Tipping inside information to another person is like putting your life in that person's hands. So the safest choice is: Don't tip.

2. Trading in Company Securities. No employee, executive officer or director should place a purchase or sale order, or recommend that another person place a purchase or sale order in the Company's securities when he or she has knowledge of material information concerning the Company that has not been disclosed to the public. This includes orders for purchases and sales of stock and convertible securities, including engaging in any "short sales" of the Company's securities. The exercise of employee stock options is not subject to this policy. However, stock that was acquired upon exercise of a stock option will be treated like any other stock, and may not be sold by an employee who is in possession of material inside information. Any employee, executive officer or director who possesses material inside information should wait until the start of the third business day after the information has been publicly released before trading.

3. Avoid Speculation. Investing in the Company's common stock provides an opportunity to share in the future growth of the Company. But investment in the Company and sharing in the growth of the Company does not mean short range speculation based on fluctuations in the market. Such activities put the personal gain of the employee, executive officer or director in conflict with the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. Although this policy does not mean that employees, executive officers or directors may never sell shares, the Company encourages employees, executive officers and directors to avoid frequent trading in Company stock. Speculating in Company stock is not part of the Company culture.

4. Trading in Other Securities. No employee, executive officer or director should place a purchase or sale order, or recommend that another person place a purchase or sale order, in the securities of another corporation (such as a supplier, an acquisition target or a competitor), if the employee, executive officer or director learns in the course of his or her employment confidential information about the other corporation that is likely to affect the value of those securities. For example, it would be a violation of the securities laws if an employee, executive officer or director learned through Company sources that the Company intended to purchase assets from a company, and then placed an order to buy or sell stock in that other company because of the likely increase or decrease in the value of its securities.

5. Restrictions on the Window Group. The Window Group consists of (i) directors, executive officers and vice presidents of the Company and their assistants and household members, (ii) subset of employees in the financial reporting, business development or legal groups and (iii) such other persons as may be designated from time to time and informed of such status by the Company's Chief Financial Officer and general counsel or an officer with similar duties and responsibilities of the Company (the "General Counsel"). The Window Group is subject to the following restrictions on trading in Company securities:

- trading is permitted from the start of the third business day following the release of the Company's quarterly and annual earnings until the 16th calendar day of the last month of the then current fiscal quarter (the "Window"), subject to the restrictions below;
- all trades are subject to prior review;

- The Window Group must submit a request for approval in a form set forth in Annex B hereto from the Company's Chief Financial Officer and General Counsel before making any trade in Company Securities; requests for approval of trades by the Chief Financial Officer and General Counsel should be submitted to the Chief Executive Officer;
- no trading is permitted outside the Window except for reasons of exceptional personal hardship and subject to prior review by the Chief Financial Officer and General Counsel; provided that, if one of these individuals wishes to trade outside the Window, it shall be subject to prior review by the other; and
- individuals in the Window Group are also subject to the general restrictions on all employees.

Note that at times Chief Financial Officer and the General Counsel may determine that no trades may occur even during the Window when clearance is requested. No reasons may be provided and the closing of the Window itself may constitute material inside information that should not be communicated.

The foregoing Window Group restrictions do not apply to transactions pursuant to written plans for trading securities that comply with Rule 10b5-1 under the Exchange Act ("10b5-1 Plans") described in Annex A hereto. However, Window Group members may not enter into, amend or terminate a 10b5-1 Plan relating to Company securities without the prior approval of Chief Financial Officer and the General Counsel, which will only be given during a Window period.

The Company from time to time may also impose an ad hoc trading freeze on all officers, directors, and other members of the Window Group due to significant unannounced corporate developments. These trading freezes may vary in length.

Executive officers, directors or any other member of the Window Group must promptly report to the Chief Financial Officer and General Counsel any transaction in any of the Company's securities by his or her or any of their respective assistants or family members other than transactions made pursuant to an approved 10b5-1 Plan (as defined below).

IN SUMMARY, EVERY EMPLOYEE OF THE COMPANY IS SUBJECT TO TRADING RESTRICTIONS WHEN IN POSSESSION OF INSIDE INFORMATION REGARDING THE COMPANY. IN ADDITION, OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, AND OTHER MEMBERS OF THE WINDOW GROUP ARE SUBJECT TO PARAGRAPH 5 ABOVE RESTRICTING THEIR TRADING TO WINDOW PERIODS AND REQUIRING PRE-CLEARANCE.

YOU MUST PROMPTLY REPORT TO THE CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER AND THE GENERAL COUNSEL ANY TRADING IN THE COMPANY'S SECURITIES BY ANYONE OR DISCLOSURE OF INSIDE INFORMATION BY COMPANY PERSONNEL THAT YOU HAVE REASON TO BELIEVE MAY VIOLATE THIS POLICY OR THE SECURITIES LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

G. Applicability of U.S. Securities Laws to International Transactions.

All employees of the Company' and its subsidiaries are subject to the restrictions on trading in Company securities and the securities of other companies. The U.S. securities laws may be applicable to the securities of the Company's subsidiaries or affiliates, even if they are located outside the United States. Transactions involving securities of PRC subsidiaries or affiliates should be carefully reviewed by counsel for compliance not only with applicable PRC law but also for possible application of U.S. securities laws.

III. OTHER LIMITATIONS ON SECURITIES TRANSACTIONS

A. Public Resales – Rule 144.

The U.S. Securities Act (the “Securities Act”) requires every person who offers or sells a security to register such transaction with the SEC unless an exemption from registration is available. Rule 144 under the Securities Act is the exemption typically relied upon for (i) public resales by any person of “restricted securities” (i.e., unregistered securities acquired in a private offering or sale) and (ii) public resales by directors, officers and other control persons of a company (known as “affiliates”) of any of the Company’s securities, whether restricted or unrestricted.

The exemption in Rule 144 may only be relied upon if certain conditions are met. These conditions vary based upon whether the Company has been subject to the SEC’s reporting requirements for 90 days (and is therefore a “reporting company” for purposes of the rule) and whether the person seeking to sell the securities is an affiliate or not.

1. Holding Period. Restricted securities issued by a reporting company (i.e., a company that has been subject to the SEC’s reporting requirements for at least 90 days) must be held and fully paid for a period of six months prior to their sale. Restricted securities issued by a non-reporting company are subject to a one-year holding period. The holding period requirement does not apply to securities held by affiliates that were acquired either in the open market or in a public offering of securities registered under the Securities Act. Generally, if the seller acquired the securities from someone other than the Company or an affiliate of the Company, the holding period of the person from whom the seller acquired such securities can be “tacked” to the seller’s holding period in determining if the holding period has been satisfied.

2. Current Public Information. Current information about the Company must be publicly available before the sale can be made. The Company’s periodic reports filed with the SEC ordinarily satisfy this requirement. If the seller is not an affiliate of the Company issuing the securities (and has not been an affiliate for at least three months) and one year has passed since the securities were acquired from the issuer or an affiliate of the issuer (whichever is later), the seller can sell the securities without regard to the current public information requirement.

Rule 144 also imposes the following additional conditions on sales by persons who are “affiliates.” A person or entity is considered an “affiliate,” and therefore subject to these additional conditions, if it is currently an affiliate or has been an affiliate within the previous three months:

3. Volume Limitations. The amount of debt securities which can be sold by an affiliate during any three-month period cannot exceed 10% of a tranche (or class when the securities are non-participatory preferred stock), together with all sales of securities of the same tranche sold for the account of the affiliate. The amount of equity securities that can be sold by an affiliate during any three-month period cannot exceed the greater of (i) one percent of the outstanding shares of the class or (ii) the average weekly reported trading volume for shares of the class during the four calendar weeks preceding the time the order to sell is received by the broker or executed directly with a market maker.

4. Manner of Sale. Equity securities held by affiliates must be sold in unsolicited brokers' transactions, directly to a market-maker or in riskless principal transactions.

5. Notice of Sale. An affiliate seller must file a notice of the proposed sale with the SEC at the time the order to sell is placed with the broker, unless the amount to be sold neither exceeds 5,000 shares nor involves sale proceeds greater than $50,000. See "Filing Requirements".

Bona fide gifts are not deemed to involve sales of shares for purposes of Rule 144, so they can be made at any time without limitation on the amount of the gift. Donees who receive restricted securities from an affiliate generally will be subject to the same restrictions under Rule 144 that would have applied to the donor, depending on the circumstances.

B. Private Resales.

Directors and officers also may sell securities in a private transaction without registration. Although there is no statutory provision or SEC rule expressly dealing with private sales, the general view is that such sales can safely be made by affiliates if the party acquiring the securities understands he is acquiring restricted securities that must be held for at least six months (if issued by a reporting company that meets the current public information requirements) or one-year (if issued by a non-reporting company) before the securities will be eligible for resale to the public under Rule 144. Private resales raise certain documentation and other issues and must be reviewed in advance by the Company's General Counsel.

C. Restrictions on Purchases of Company Securities.

In order to prevent market manipulation, the SEC adopted Regulation M under the U.S. Exchange Act. Regulation M generally restricts the Company or any of its affiliates from buying Company stock, including as part of a share buyback program, in the open market during certain periods while a distribution, such as a public offering, is taking place. You should consult with the Company's General Counsel, if you desire to make purchases of Company stock during any period that the Company is making conducting an offering or buying shares from the public.

D. Filing Requirements.

1. Schedule 13D and 13G. Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act requires the filing of a statement on Schedule 13D (or on Schedule 13G, in certain limited circumstances) by any person or group which acquires beneficial ownership of more than five percent of a class of equity securities registered under the Exchange Act. The threshold for reporting is met if the stock owned, when coupled with the amount of stock subject to options exercisable within 60 days, exceeds the five percent limit.

A report on Schedule 13D is required to be filed with the SEC and submitted to the Company within ten days after the reporting threshold is reached. If a material change occurs in the facts set forth in the Schedule 13D, such as an increase or decrease of one percent or more in the percentage of stock beneficially owned, an amendment disclosing the change must be filed promptly. A decrease in beneficial ownership to less than five percent is per se material and must be reported.

A limited category of persons (such as banks, broker-dealers and insurance companies) may file on Schedule 13G, which is a much abbreviated version of Schedule 13D, as long as the securities were acquired in the ordinary course of business and not with the purpose or effect of changing or influencing the control of the issuer. A report on Schedule 13G is required to be filed with the SEC and submitted to the Company within 45 days after the end of the calendar year in which the reporting threshold is reached.

A person is deemed the beneficial owner of securities for purposes of Section 13(d) if such person has or shares voting power (i.e., the power to vote or direct the voting of the securities) or dispositive power (i.e., the power to sell or direct the sale of the securities). A person filing a Schedule 13D or 13G may disclaim beneficial ownership of any securities attributed to him or her if he or she believes there is a reasonable basis for doing so.

2. Form 144. As described above under the discussion of Rule 144, an affiliate seller relying on Rule 144 must file a notice of proposed sale with the SEC at the time the order to sell is placed with the broker unless the amount to be sold during any three-month period neither exceeds 5,000 shares nor involves sale proceeds greater than $50,000.

Overview of 10b5-1 Plans

Under Rule 10b5-1, large stockholders, directors, officers and other insiders who regularly possess material nonpublic information (MNPI) but who nonetheless wish to buy or sell stock may establish an affirmative defense to an illegal insider trading charge by adopting a written plan to buy or sell at a time when they are not in possession of MNPI. A 10b5-1 plan typically takes the form of a contract between the insider and his or her broker.

The plan must be entered into at a time when the insider has no MNPI about the company or its securities (even if no trades will occur until after the release of the MNPI). The plan must:

1. specify the amount, price (which may include a limit price) and specific dates of purchases or sales; or
2. include a formula or similar method for determining amount, price and date; or
3. give the broker the exclusive right to determine whether, how and when to make purchases and sales, as long as the broker does so without being aware of MNPI at the time the trades are made.

Under the first two alternatives, the 10b5-1 plan cannot give the broker any discretion as to trade dates. As a result, a plan that requests the broker to sell 1,000 shares per week would have to meet the requirements under the third alternative. On the other hand, under the second alternative, the date may be specified by indicating that trades should be made on any date on which the limit price is hit. The affirmative defense is only available if the trade is in fact made pursuant to the preset terms of the 10b5-1 plan (unless the terms are revised at a time when the insider is not aware of any MNPI and could therefore enter into a new plan). Trades are deemed not to have been made pursuant to the plan if the insider later enters into or alters a corresponding or hedging transaction or position with respect to the securities covered by the plan (although hedging transactions could be part of the plan itself).

Guidelines for 10b5-1 Plans

When can a plan be adopted or amended? Because Rule 10b5-1 prohibits an insider from adopting or amending a plan while in possession of MNPI, allegations of insider trading despite the existence of a 10b5-1 plan are likely to focus on what was known at the time of plan adoption or amendment. It is recommended that companies permit an executive to adopt or amend a 10b5-1 plan only when the executive can otherwise buy or sell securities under the company's insider trading policy, such as during an open window immediately after the announcement of quarterly earnings.

Should a plan impose a waiting period before trading can begin? Because an insider cannot have MNPI when a plan is adopted or amended, Rule 10b5-1 does not require the plan to include a waiting period before trading can begin. And importantly, including a waiting period (even a lengthy delay) will not correct the fatal flaw of adopting or amending a plan while in possession of MNPI. Many companies, however, require 10b5-1 plans to include a waiting period as a matter of risk management, in order to decrease the likelihood of the scrutiny that can occur when an executive's trading activity suddenly commences before material news is announced.

Practice varies as to length (anywhere from 10 days to the next open window), although the rationale for including a waiting period is usually stronger when the period is long enough to be able to say that any information currently in the insider's possession should either be stale or public by the time trading commences. This has no bearing on the effectiveness of a 10b5-1 plan, but a longer delay can, as a matter of optics, help an insider demonstrate that he or she was not motivated to make trades by nonpublic information available at the time of plan adoption or amendment.

Should adoption of a plan be announced publicly? Generally speaking, there is no requirement to publicly disclose the adoption, amendment or termination of a 10b5-1 plan, although in some cases public announcement may be advisable due to the identity of the insider, the magnitude of the plan, or other special factors. That said, announcing the adoption of a 10b5-1 plan may be a useful way to head off future public relations issues, since announcing a plan's adoption prepares the market and should help investors understand the reasons for insider sales when trades are later reported. If a company decides to announce the adoption of a 10b5-1 plan, we do not generally recommend disclosing plan details, other than, perhaps, the aggregate number of shares involved; this is to diminish the ability of market professionals to front-run the insider's transactions. It is unusual to announce the suspension or termination of a plan.

What else should we consider when amending or modifying a plan? As noted above, an insider may only modify or amend a 10b5-1 plan when he or she is not in possession of MNPI. Even if an insider is not in possession of MNPI at the time of amendment, a pattern of amending or modifying one's plan raises the question of whether the insider is using the plan as a legitimate tool to diversify his or her risk exposure and monetize assets, or as a way to opportunistically step in and out of the market. Because Rule 10b5-1 provides an affirmative defense but not a safe harbor, insiders and their companies should be aware that the effectiveness of the affirmative defense could be diminished by a pattern of plan amendments and modifications.

Can a plan be terminated or suspended? Unlike amending a plan, a 10b5-1 plan may legally be terminated before its predetermined end date even though the insider is in possession of MNPI (although some brokers' forms prohibit this as a contractual matter). Because plan sales shortly before the announcement of bad news can generate unwanted attention, an insider may decide to terminate a plan in the face of an impending negative announcement, even though as a technical matter the affirmative defense would be expected to cover the sales. On the other hand, terminating a selling plan before an impending positive announcement may raise the suspicion that the insider is using Rule 10b5-1 as a way to opportunistically time the market, thereby risking the likelihood that his or her future use of the affirmative defense will be successful.

It is generally suggested that plan terminations initiated by an insider take place during an open window, absent special circumstances and approval by the general counsel. It may also make sense for the general counsel to have the ability, but not the responsibility, to terminate the plan. Plans should also allow for mandatory suspension if legally required, for example due to Regulation M or tax reasons.

How long should a plan last? In order to minimize the need for early termination, the term of the plan should be carefully weighed at the outset. An optimal plan term will be long enough to distance the insider, and any current knowledge that he or she may have, from a particular trade but short enough that it will not require termination should the insider's financial planning strategies change. A short "one-off" 10b5-1 plan can appear to be timed to take advantage of MNPI. On the other hand, the longer the plan term, the greater the likelihood that it will need to be modified or terminated. Most plans tend to have a term of six months to two years.

Should the company pre-clear or review an executive's plan? It is generally recommended that the company pre-clear or review a proposed 10b5-1 plan, which may provide assurance that the plan complies with best practices. Certain companies disallow the third type of plan (one that gives the broker the right to determine whether, how and when to make purchases) in order to avoid the evidentiary difficulty associated with proving that the executive did not communicate with the broker with respect to trades under the plan. While this is not required, this is a prudent option to consider.

In addition to requiring a 10b-5 plan to be pre-approved by the Company, other limits that are sometimes considered are whether to set a maximum percentage of holdings that can be subject to a 10b5-1 plan, and rules for setting price floors.
